Centennial Lodge Hears Swainson

By MAXINE CALHOUN

CLINTON — A reception for Circuit Judge and Mrs. John B. Swainson and Grand Lodge officers was held at the Community Center, Saturday, preceding the Centennial Banquet of the Clinton Lodge 175 F. & A. M., in the high school.

Senior deacon and Mrs. John Truesdale were hosts for the reception.

Grand Lodge officers present were Robert A. Hockstad, deputy grand master; Ivan E. Addis, senior grand warden; Charles Solmo, grand marshal; Raymond A. McPhee, grand tiler; and the officers of the Clinton Lodge.

Judge Swainson, former Governor of Michigan, entertained an audience of 250 guests with a chronicle of historic changes in Michigan from 1866 when the Clinton Lodge was formed until 1966.

"To be a 100-year organization is proof that it is a good and valid organization," he praised the Clinton Lodge.

He recounted how Michigan became a state, how in 1866, immigration to Michigan was encouraged for the first time by Governor Henry H. Crockwell.

FROM THE early days when mining was the main industry and the only public school was in Detroit, Michigan's population has multiplied ten times and its education and industrial growth has gained world-wide attention.

"The past is prologue to the future, and citizens in 2066 will also be meeting together to handle the situations that arise — just as the citizens of 1966 are doing," he concluded.

Charles Spence, chaplain, gave the invocation.

Worshipful master, Roger Waltz, gave the welcome and introduced the distinguished guests who had come from 15 Michigan cities and Toledo.

The For-Tune Tellers of Manchester entertained with barbershop harmony.

A plaque to commemorate the occasion was presented to Mr. Swainson by Mr. Waltz.

THE BANQUET decorations of floral centerpieces and the square and compass were arranged by the members of the Golden Rod Chapter, Order of Eastern Star.

The dinner was served by the Methodist WSCS.

From the modest beginnings of 23 charter members, Clinton Lodge has now grown to 206 members. Twenty-seven are life members, 13 are 50-year members, and one, 60-year member. There have been a total of 654 members.

The first man raised a Master Mason in Clinton Lodge was Austin Alvord, September 30, 1865.

Clinton Village Council Votes Salary Increase

CLINTON — Salary increases were voted by the village council at a special meeting last Wednesday.

Retroactive to April 2, the raises will amount to 35 cents hourly increase to the maintenance superintendent; 15 cents hourly increase to all regularly hourly rated personnel; a ten-cent hourly increase to part time hourly personnel and $25 monthly increase to office salaried personnel.

A pension plan for village employes was adopted as presented by Gabriel-Roeder, Smith and Associates.

A study will be made of the cost of a traffic light at the intersection of Franklin and Tecumseh Streets, where school children cross.

A professional representative of the River Raisin Corporation gave preliminary information for the subdivision to be located east of Clinton. A plat map will be available soon, he said.

The council voted unanimously to retain the Clinton Memorial Park on W. Michigan Ave. only as a Memorial Park, not to be used commercially.

The portion of the park recently acquired from the New York Central Railroad Company will be seeded to grass in the near future.

Migrant Group Is Represented

BRITTON — A representative from the Michigan Migrant Opportunity Incorporated, attended the regular Board of Education meeting last Wednesday evening and explained the migrant re-education program.

He requested the use of several rooms for their adult and children educational program in August. Permission was granted by the board.

Financial matters occupied much of the meeting time. The tentative budget for the fiscal year of 1966-67 was presented by Superintendent William Saxton, with the cost of running the school system for the year estimated at $300,000. The board approved the tentative budget.

Bills for the month amounted to $5,494.71, and were voted paid. Half of this amount was for new equipment for the school, and the school will be partially reimbursed through the Federal Aid to Education program.

The board received several bids for a new 60-passenger bus chassis, and accepted the bid from International Motors. The total cost for chassis and body will be $6,529.

The bus will be delivered in August and will replace Bus No. Three.

In addition, the board passed a resolution thanking the school administration and faculty for the many hours spent gathering material and preparing reports for the recent self-study of the curriculum.

Through their efforts the school has been re-accredited by the University of Michigan.

You may save $6 to $8 per acre with Dow Anhydrous Ammonia: lowest cost nitrogen in the field.

The reason is, anhydrous ammonia gives you far more nitrogen per pound than any other nitrogen fertilizer. Which means it takes far less Dow Anhydrous Ammonia to do the job than it does with any other form of nitrogen fertilizer.

If you're planting corn on corn, it will take 150 to 200 pounds of nitrogen per acre to decay the old stalks and still have the nitrogen you need for high yields. Supply this nitrogen with Dow Anhydrous Ammonia and you may save as much as $6 to $8 an acre. And boost crop yield quality and feed grain protein content while you do it. It's so long-lasting, one application is all you need. See us today for details. And save some money for a change.

Candidate Has Praise for Romney

"The Republican Party in Michigan is the party of progress," State Representative Marvin L. Esch and candidate for U. S. Congress told the Washtenaw County Young Republican County Convention last week.

"In the past four years, a real 'role reversal' has taken place — and the governor and Republican members of the legislature have accepted the leadership of moving Michigan forward on realistic, responsible programs:—traffic safety, governmental reorganization, strengthening local governments, support for education and mental health, tax reform.

"Perhaps the most startling aspect of all is the contract between Michigan and Washington. In our state, under Gov. Romney, we have recognized our problems and have moved ahead with financially sound solutions thru properly designated channels, all the while trying to bring order out of chaos through governmental reorganization.

"Meanwhile in Washington, under President Johnson, we have seen 'reorganization for chaos' through one politically expedient new program after another," he said.

Will Beautify Postal Boxes

Seventeen million postal customers' mailboxes will be the target of a Post Office Department nationwide beautification drive [illegible] Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien said today.

Mailbox Improvement Week will be held May 16-21, to promote the best possible appearance for about 10 million mailboxes on rural routes and seven million others on city residential curbline delivery routes, the Postmaster General announced.

More than 1.8 million miles along the nation's highways are dotted with the rural mail receptacles, served by approximately 32,000 rural carriers, Mr. O'Brien noted.

Mailbox Improvement Week has been observed annually in the past by the Post Office Department with the cooperation of postmasters' organizations and the National Rural Letter Carriers Association.

Mr. O'Brien commended many customers who have painted their mail receptacles in decorative colors and provided ornamentation such as iron-work representations of dogs and other animals. Many have plants and flowers surrounding the box, he noted.

In addition to providing better appearance, Mailbox Improvement Week is designed to encourage repair of boxes that do not protect the mail against weather, he said.

Adrian College Players Present Play 'Camelot'

ADRIAN — King Arthur and the Knights of the Round Table will come alive on the Adrian College campus May 11-14, when the Adrian College Players present their next production, "Camelot."

The lavish musical hit by Alan Jay Lerner and Frederick Loewe, will be presented in Dawson Auditorium. The May 11 performance is for invited high school and junior high school audiences only.

Jeff Wagner of Brecksville, O., will be seen as the medieval King Arthur. Beautiful Queen Guenevere is to be portrayed by Marta Stromberg of Cleveland, O.

This Round Table harbors a famous triangle, at the third corner of which stands that most noble of knights and dashing of men, Sir Lancelot, as portrayed by Dave Marsett, also of Cleveland.

Musical accompaniment will be provided by the Adrian College Orchestra under the direction of Art Jones.

Women Athletic Teachers Needed

ANN ARBOR — A chronic need for women physical education instructors exists in the nation today, say two members of the physical education department of The University of Michigan.

Assistant professors Shirley Howard and Evelyn Schurr explain that although there has been a substantial need for more women entering the field about the last 10 years, the problem has increased steadily.

"To give some idea of the need," says Dr. Howard, "the Placement Bureau at the University reported more than 1,100 requests for women physical education teachers at the elementary and secondary levels."

"We had only 26 applicants for those positions," he said.

Some indication of why there are not enough women entering the field, says Dr. Schurr, is the rigorous undergraduate training program women must complete for certification.

Contrary to popular belief, she points out, physical education majors do not spend four years "playing games." Women do have "physical education activities" as part of their studies, but they are in addition to other subjects.

"In science alone," says Dr. Schurr, "students must take such courses as zoology, psychology, anatomy, physiology, and kinesiology to gain a basic knowledge of the mechanism of the body."

Women physical education teachers need not have exceptional athletic ability, say the two U-M staff members, but rather an ability to teach the various skills to their students.

Gladys Wiedman Injuries Critical

CLINTON — Mrs. Gladys Wiedman, 63, of Warner Rd., Saline, was critically injured at 10 a.m. Saturday, when the car she was driving skidded off US 12 just west of Willow Rd. and hit a tree on the opposite side of the highway.

Garden Club Plans Park Development

"Trimming and Pruning Throughout the Garden" was the information given to the Little Garden Club by Ollie Musch, owner of the Tecumseh Greenhouses.

He particularly stressed that there is a proper time of year for pruning each different plant and a good gardening book should be consulted.

Landscaping and developing of the Adams Park was discussed with no definite plans made at present. The Little Garden Club will do this project to fulfill the purpose of a garden club in beautifying its community. Funds are, however, lacking.

The Club now has a full enrollment of 25 members.

May 19 members will go to Kalamazoo to tour the Kalamazoo Nature Center. They will be called regarding time, lunch plans, etc. Roll will be taken for the tour.

The annual meeting of the Federated Garden Clubs will be held at Boyne Highlands, Harbor Springs, June 14-15. The group plans to send at least two delegates and was chosen to present a display.

Dessert was served by the hostess, Mrs. Orrie Gilbert, assisted by Mrs. Stanley Cook and Mrs. Robert Murray.

Methodists To Receive 8 Youths

Eight youth, comprising the confirmation class of the First Methodist Church, will be received into membership this Sunday morning during the 10 a.m. service.

The members include Craig Davis, James Hale, Robin Hatch, Charles Holmes, Michael Meads, Larry Mauer, Andrea Ocamb and Donald Porteous, Jr.

These youth have completed a course of study which began last September under the leadership of the Rev. Donald C. Porteous, pastor.

Both group and individual attention was given to the history and doctrine of the Methodist Church.

In keeping with this focus on youth, Rev. Mr. Porteous will speak on "You and Your Call".

Science Church Plans to Study Defeating Sin

The spiritual basis for overcoming sin will be taken up at Christian Science church services, Sunday.

"Behold, what manner of love the Father hath bestowed upon us, that we should be called the sons of God: . . . . Whosoever abideth in him sinneth not."

These verses from I John will be included among the opening readings in the Bible Lesson on "Everlasting Punishment."

OUR RISE AS A MANUFACTURER BEGAN WITH...

BAKING POWDER!

How come?
Young George Hartford thought the price of baking powder was too high.

So he hired a chemist, made his own... the very best... and sold it at an unheard of low price.

That was in the 1880's.
That was the first step in developing what today is a long and respected line of manufactured products.

And every one is produced with just one thought.
To give you the very best for the least amount of money.

Can you be sure they're the very best?
We guarantee it...without question.

Are A&P Brands a good reason for shopping A&P?
They're one of many.

VOICE of THE HERALD

Let's Consider Downtown

Every now and again, the subject of downtown planning comes up.

The other day, Earl Roe, who flies an airplane when he isn't barbering, offered to pilot Herald assistant editor Dick Carver for a plane ride over the city to take some pictures.

One of Dick's photos (reprinted at right) shows Chicago Blvd. in the business area. It looks much as it did 10 years ago, 20 years ago — even 50.

WE HASTEN to add that this refers only to the traffic and parking pattern, not to some of the stores, which have been greatly beautified and improved, especially in the last five years.

Our concern is over the flow of cars and trucks, which grows greater by the month.

Is Tecumseh's Master Plan for the downtown area dead?

If not, it's in a state of limbo.

The Plan portrayed a dramatic change in the main business blocks, with portions of Chicago Blvd. transformed into a mall and one-way traffic patterns set up along Logan and Pottawatamie Sts., carrying vehicles around the central business section.

When first unveiled, the idea drew violent opposition from many property owners along Logan and Pottawatamie, plus some storemen.

These business folks seemed to want traffic thundering by their front doors, forgetting the fact thata only a small percentage ever stops and its intensity gives fits to customers who try to weave through the mess getting downtown.

The only prospects for this situation is that it will get worse.

The thinking behind the Master Plan — which could gradually go into effect one segment at a time — would in essence weld downtown stores into a shopping center, with plenty of parking on city lots behind business places.

Eventually, rear entrances would become as attractive and used as the front doors.

As this transformation would become a reality, so would free-off-street parking.

Something is going to have to be done one of these days. Couldn't we begin an orderly plan for a transistion now, instead of doing a hash job in five years (or sooner) when downtown business is faced with a panic-button situation, say, a sleek, out-county shopping center?

Teen Steps into Emergency

We've always contended that the big majority of teen agers around our town are a responsible bunch, not a collection of slobs as adults often want to class them.

Ever so often, something happens which proves our point.

Take last week, when electrical power in most of Lenawee County failed. That meant the traffic signal at the Four Corners wasn't functioning — but cars were still zipping along on both Chicago Blvd. and Evans St.

So who should step forward and bring order into this potentially dangerous situation? A 15-year-old boy did.

Gary Flanders, a sophomore at Tecumseh High School, working at his parents' music store, quickly sized up the problem, then unhesitatingly hustled out into the street and begun directing traffic.

He continued at the task until a patrol car arrived and an officer took over the duty.

Bob Vanderkelen of Toledo, relief pharmacist at Ken-Ray Drug, saw the incident and told The Herald about it. He commented that here was a sudden emergency and a teen ager had responded admirably.

Our Readers Write

Democrat Berates City for 'Goof'

TO THE EDITORS

I read, with some consternation and amazement, of the magnitude of the city council meeting of April 16, 1966. I realize that the reading and filing of the reports of the various city departments; of the reading and filing of miscellaneous communications; of the extending of sewer and water mains; of seal coating a street; of special assessments for curb and gutter; and so on, are of utmost importance in the operation of our fair city. So, also, is the upholding of the integrity and dignity of the city's citizenry.

I refer to the lack of an official welcome to our two duly-elected representatives to the Congress in Washington when they appeared at our Community Center last Monday evening. Of course, they were not treated to the wining and dining by members of our community as their predecessor was accustomed to when he visited our area, but they seemed to enjoy the coffee and doughnuts offered them just the same.

As an item of interest, Mr. Vivian is the representative of five counties of our state with some 435,000 inhabitants while Mr. Hart is one of the two senators of the state.

In the light of world affairs as they are today, their jobs have become so important that they not only command national attention, but international scrutiny as well. Yet, no official notice was taken of their visit to our small city. Surely, at least one of the council members could have been delegated to welcome these men officially in view of the austerity of their positions.

No wonder that the mayor of Niles refuses to come to Tecumseh!

Sincerely,
Wallace B. Whiting
106 W. Pottawatamie St.

P. S. A gentle slap on the wrist, with an eight-foot ruler, to T.R. for failing to recognize the lack of protocol in our community!

Seeks Help

TO THE EDITORS:

I am writing to you in hope you may help me and many others.

I intend to start a Parents Without Partners Chapter in Lenawee County. This Chapter will be a member of the national organization of New York City.

Its purpose is to bring parents with children together and have activities for them, also to bring leading individuals, for instance, lawyers, psychologists and ministers into PWP and give helpful talks and have group discussions.

I have contacted Arnet Cole of Lenawee County Dept. of Social Welware and he is in favor of this chapter-to-be, for there is a great need for it.

Would you like to know other single parents? — To talk over common problems, to develop a fuller life for yourself and your children through group discussions. I should like to hear from you.

Thank you.

Cordially,

It's Kresge

TO THE EDITORS:

With reference to your Long and Short column, I notice in the last paragraph of your write-up of Dr. Maddy, you refer to "vast Kellogg Auditorium." Is this correct or should it be "Kresge Auditorium"?

I have not been to Interlochen for years and my memory may be wrong. Any enlightenment you can give me on this subject would be appreciated.

At this time I want to commend you on your write-up on Dr. Maddy.

Respectfully,
Thos. W. Coleman, Sr.

Editor's note — You're correct, it's Kresge.

How Come?

TO THE EDITORS:

Why must the city run Brown St. into N. Evans at such an angle that if a person is coming south and desires to go west on Brown St. he will have to turn back in order to make the corner?

The writer suggest leaving approximately 18 feet of the present roadway as an access to Brown St. for people coming from the north.

Then take the island that would be left and donate it to the Garden clubs to raise flowers in the center, which would beautify our city.

William E. Davis

Cube Cooled

TO THE EDITORS:

I had to give my daughter a bath in one inch of boiling hot water, cooled by ice cubes. This was necessitated because the water was turned off in the afternoon and I was unable to clear it of rust by bathtime. Therein lies another problem, having to run the water for an extended length of time at our own expense.

I just think it's terrible that some one couldn't come around and tell us the water would be turned off. I understand the need for turning off the water but this is the second day that we are caught unprepared.

Mothers with small babies don't appreciate this and neither do I.

Disturbed and Dirty Citizen.

AERIAL VIEW OF DOWNTOWN — Looking west along Chicago Blvd., there is Oneida St. at the bottom of the picture. The building at the right with "Tecumseh 2" on the roof is Vescio's Market, with the marking for planes, indicating that the airport is two miles north. Ottawa St. is the next crossroad and in the top center can be seen the Presbyterian Church steeple. Note the sharp curve in the street as it reaches the west end.

Physical Fitness of Kids

"The Physical Fitness of Tecumseh School Children" is the topic to be discussed at Tecumseh Acres PTA, Thursday, April 28, 8 p.m.

The three speakers, Henry J. Montoye, professor of physical education and research associate in epidemiology, will present his view of physical fitness as related in the President's Fitness Program.

Dr. Andy Kozar, director of Physical Education at the University of Michigan and Jack Stovall, co-ordinator of physical education of the Ann Arbor Schools, will explain the testing being done in the fourth, fifth, and sixth grades of Tecumseh Schools; integrating the results of the fitness of these children with the Tecumseh Health Survey.

Also on hand will be the local Physical Education teachers, Mrs. Sally Corley and Doug Simmons. Questions will be welcomed after the general discussion.

Immediately following will be a short business meeting, with election of officers. Refreshments will be served.

Room visitation will be held from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m., and the public is invited to attend.

Shall we take care of the unpleasant subject first?

Certain things are inevitable, one will always follow the other. For example, soon after the arrival of Spring's first warm sunny weather will come the bright blossoms of early daffodils and hyacinths.

What a happy day that is!

Another example, soon after the arrival of Spring's warm sunny weather will come boys lugging B-B guns.

What an unhappy sight this is!

It happens every year and unfortunately this Spring was no exception. It was during vacation that we looked out and saw the two boys, who were really old enough to know better, heading for the creek and obviously looking for something.

The B-B guns they carried left little doubt as to what they were looking for or why.

Certainly kids should enjoy their vacation and their after-school hours as well. And on these marvelous Spring days what is more enjoyable than being outside?

However, having fun should not involve shooting at birds and squirrels. Such killing or wounding is senseless and cruel.

It is also illegal! We checked with the Police Department and discharging firearms within the city limits is strictly against the law.

Yes, B-B guns are considered firearms.

We encourage birds and squirrels to come into our yard; by providing food, water and shelter and we have successfully built a large and varied group.

We have not invited the birds and the squirrels to come to our feeders and run into a barrage of B-B shots. So please boys, remember that guns are not welcome here where Logan Street meets Evans Creek.

Actually B-B guns are dangerous and should be handled with care. We have seen such carelessness. Not only are our birds and squirrels in danger, but the way the boys were pointing their guns at each other, it is lucky there were not some 'human casualties'.

If kids must have these guns, it would be wise for parents to know where and how they are being used.

Please remember that it is illegal to shoot them within the city limits.

And now shall we get on to a more pleasant subject. Isn't it fun to receive mail? Letters from friends and relatives are always exciting.

It is so nice to hear the latest news, what who is doing and why. Often Uncle Sam's Mail is the only way we keep in touch with those who are far away.

Our dear Tecumseh Herald has been responsible for my receiving other letters though and they too are exciting. Each week Heralds are sent to many, many places and we have been more than pleased with the number of bird watchers they reach. Bird watchers who are kind enough to write letters.

From California come interesting clippings about bird happenings there. Tampa Tony brings us up to date on Florida.

His accounts of the huge flocks of ducks on the bay, the disasterous cold spells this winter and the mysterious little brown birds who stripped the red berries from their pepper bushes are just three of his items which make lively reading.

By the way, we have hopes of meeting Tampa Tony some day. He does have a nephew living in town and, of course, his name just has to be Tecumseh Tom.

So it is that to sum up we will ask, "Leave those B-B guns at home!" and, "Please keep those cards and letters rolling in!"— and that's it from the police desk and mail bag.

NEXT WEEK: BUSY, BUSY MORNINGS

28 Pages — Ten Cents

Long and Short

By TOM RIORDAN

Smoke and flames poured from the upstairs window of a frame home on Murray Dr. one recent Monday afternoon.

The distraught housewife stood on the front porch as the first fire truck wheeled into the yard, a volunteer leaped out of the cab and rushed up to her.

"How many children do you have and where are they?"

"Three at home. They're all with neighbors."

With that, the firemen clamped on a smoke mask and bounded upstairs to find out where the blaze was centered.

In a matter of seconds, water played on a corner of the bedroom ceiling, quickly distiinguishing the fire.

Once again, the crack Tecumseh department had completed a run with professional dispatch.

The volunteers opening query wasn't idle conversation. He was trained to make certain first of all that no one has been trapped. Human life must have top priorty, then property.

During daylight hours it takes an average of 1½ minutes from the time the sirens ring for the first truck to be rolling out of the station. At night, the time is longer, about five minutes.

Chief Wallace MacGeorge says on a day-time call, 13 to 14 men will check in within about 60 seconds. Most work in the downtown area.

GREAT TEAMWORK is a forte of the city's 22 firemen. And if you'd like to join the department, your name will have to go on a waiting list. A rare opening comes when someone resigns — and this seldom happens.

Not when there are fellows like Cecil "Baldy" Alderdyce, who during 17 of which he was chief, is in his 27th year. Or mayor, Harold Easton, who has almost 20 years as a volunteer.

New candidates are elected by department members, needing a two-thirds majority vote, then be on probation the first year, followed with another ballot at the end of 12 months.

There is on-the-job training, plus certain formal instruction. Right now, firemen are taking an intensive first aid course, which runs in two-hour weekly sessions for six weeks. Instructing it is Lloyd Kohard of the Maumee Valley Rescue Association.

About every four years, firemen take an 18-hour University of Michigan Fire Extension Service course, with a teacher lecturing six straight nights on new technical and developments.

The city pays firemen $2.50 a call, or at an hourly rate of the same figure if the call-out last longer than 60 minutes. So, it isn't the money that attracts the fellows — especially when danger lurks everywhere during emergencies they must battle.

Our department covers the city and township of Tecumseh, plus being on call to help when needed in Raisin, Franklin and Macon townships and six sections of Adrian Township, for which annual guarantees of from $600, based on number of calls, are charged.

There is a mutual aid pact with Clinton, Britton and Adrian departments — no charge.

BOASTING AN exceptional lineup of equipment, the Tecumseh department has:

► Two 750-gallons-per-minute pumpers.

► A 600-gallon tanker.

But topping this list is the fellows' tremendous pride.

8-Page, Color Section Salutes Hospital Week

An eight-page two-color supplement, devoted to Hospital Week, appears with this edition.

All articles in it were prepared by Mrs. Donald Young, a registered nurse and publicity chairman for the Hospital Auxiliary.

Mrs. Young spent nearly one month digging up materials and setting them into story form.

Herricks Honored

By DOROTHY GRIGG

"It is a rare thing in a city of this size that we have people so generous and so interested that the whole community has benefited from their thoughtfulness," said Mrs. Neville Hart, Herrick Memorial Hospital Auxiliary president, Thursday evening as she thanked Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Herrick for their interest as well as their donations at the banquet in their honor at the Products Workers Union Hall.

The event also honored the 25th anniversary of the Auxiliary, which began as a small group doing sewing and mending, now has 400 members volunteering their services and making money for the hospital.

"True generosity requires more of us than kindly impulse," continued Mrs. Hart as she extended sincere thanks and good wishes of the Auxiliary to the Herricks.

Mrs. Hart was introduced by Mrs. Dale Bowen, chairman of the evening.

SHE WELCOMED the 246 persons attending, introduced guests, the past presidents and the charter members of the Auxiliary and thanked Mrs. Carlos Knisely, dining room chairman.

Mrs. Hart thanked Mrs. Carlton Cook and committee for the striking centerpieces they made with the assistance of The Little Garden Club members.

Red roses in frosty white feathered arrangements in cupid vases on two hearts stressed the most recent project of the Auxiliary, the Heart Fund.

Mrs. Howard Furry, first vice-president, presented three life membership pins to "three wonderful people," Mrs. Ray Sluyter, Mrs. Herrick and Mrs. O. W. Laidlaw, whose pin was accepted by her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Robert Laidlaw.

KENNETH HERRICK, chairman of the hospital board, thanked the Auxiliary "for all the things they have done for the hospital" and with Mayor Harold Easton presented a walnut plaque to the group in recognition of 25 years of devoted work in the hospital.

Mrs. Hart received the plaque and later stated that it will be in place in the foyer of the hospital in time for National Hospital Week, May 8-14.

"The Four Dads" quartette composed of Dr. Carlton Cook, David Woods, Gene Earling and Gordon Comfort sang.

Sketches of the services and equipment provided by the Auxiliary, done by Mrs. John Howell, were hung on both walls.

Mrs. Bowen read a message from Gertrude Spaulding, first administrator at the hospital, who sent sincere congratulations to the Auxiliary for its outstanding service, as well as a contribution for the latest project.

Mrs. Robert King, Jr., had charge of publicity for the event, Mrs. Ralph Dabe, tickets; Mrs. Richard Purkey, invitations and Mrs. J. H. Rohweder and Mrs. W. E. Macbeth, the program booklets.

D. EUGENE SIBERY, executive director of the Greater Detroit Area Hospital Council, Inc., was the keynote speaker on the topic, "Changes in My Crystal Ball."

A hospital administrator for 16 years, he said that the group that he had most appreciated over the years is the hospital auxiliary, volunteers who give freely of their time.

"I want to commend you for your past activities and say that you have a great role to play in the future. All these many things you have accomplished have been done without a single tax dollar going into it," he noted.

Mr. Sibry read a humorous poem on the one thing that doesn't change, the hospital gown.

In his remarks, Mr. Sibery stated that the name, R. W. Herrick, is always associated with philanthropy.

"Medicare is the greatest social legislation that has been passed for some time, but it's the law of the land as of July 1, 1966. It calls for hospital care for those over 65.

"Regardless of what you or I think, medicare is here. It emphasizes government intervention more and more," continued the administrator of the Motor City's hospitals.

"It does not mean that socialized medicine is inevitable, but the legislation has been adopted

Wrecked Cars at Gas Station Concern Council

Two ordinances were passed by Council Monday night, following the third and final reading.

One pertains to taxicab chauffer's license and another to foul and offensive premises were approved.

Several councilmen questioned whether the foul and offensive ordinance included commercial establishments, specifically Ed's Standard Service.

It was pointed out that the station has numerous wrecked cars on the property and they're a disgrace to the area.

Attorney James Beardsley said this particular ordinance was meant for residential properties only.

Council asked Police Chief Murell Clark to contact the station about moving the wrecked vehicles.

Test Idea Here

A resolution in favor of juvenile protective service for Tecumseh was approved by Council Monday night.

Mrs. H. H. Hanna of the Juvenile Division for Probate Court recommended the service, which would be the first in Lenawee County.

Councilmen were told that the pilot program was planned for Tecumseh because she felt cooperation could be obtained.

Mrs. Hanna, wife of Tecumseh's late and former mayor, said a citizens committee would be organized and assistance would also be sought from the schools.

Supt. James McDowell said some use of the basement of the Board of Education office could be utilized, according to Mrs. Hanna.

Purpose of the program is to curb juvenile delinquency and help the youngsters before they have court records.

Date of Meeting Moved to May 17

Because of Mayor's Exchange Day, the next regular session of Council was swiched from May 16 to May 17.

Mayor Dean A. Recknagel of Roosevelt Park will visit Tecumseh May 18. Mayor Harold Easton and possibly two or three councilmen will visit the Muskegon suburb on May 16.

Committee Delays Vote

Confusion was the rule rather than the exception Wednesday afternoon at the County Courthouse when the Tax Allocation Board sat down to divy up the winter tax.

John Keller, supervisor, representing the county, explained the county budget and asked for 5½ mills

The board finally asked that an audit of county funds be made before deciding how much money the county gets and the schools receive.

The audit is to be prepared before the next meeting, May 12.

Dr. William Hewes, Adrian physician and member of the Adrian school board, cited surpluses in county funds and sought explanations.

Questions and answers flew, befuddling the picture.

The Adrian doctor — who had cited county surpluses in excess of $1 million — told Mr. Keller that he would "hate to see the county go in the hole."

Supt. James McDowell, spokesman for county superintendents, told the board that last year was the first time the schools had ever received additional monies from the county since he had been Tecumseh superintendent.

He told the board that county surpluses for taking over the airport for example, in lieu of providing the schools with monies for education, was not fair.

The local school head also said that if the county takes the mill, then the county should go to an 18-mill limitation. Dr. Hewes agreed.

TECUMSEH IS NOT the only local school faced with problems if the Tax Allocation Board gives the county an extra mill.

Supt. William Saxton of Britton says officials there have planned on the mill in making out their budget. If the supervisors get the mill, Britton will lose $8,307, Tecumseh, $41,000.

Mr. Saxton says the schools could probably make ends meet if the county takes only one-half mill and state aid is increased. Otherwise, Britton could finish the 1966-67 term in the red.

Last month, the Britton board hiked the base pay on teaching salaries from $4,900 to $5,200, and the annual increment from $150 to $175.

Tecumseh teachers are seeking a pay hike to $5,300 base.

Officials are asking voters here for four mills for two years to help cover the costs.

Crash Kills Four

BRITTON — Four were killed Tuesday morning in an accident at the corner of Dennison and Milwaukee Rd., seven miles northeast of this village.

A pick-up truck and auto met in the intersection, sliding into a field.

Mrs. Margie Eyler, 9314 Hiser Rd. and two of her children, Richard, 13, and Lorie, 13 months, were in the car and Arthur Thomas Rutter of Jackman Rd. and his son, Thomas Arthur Rutter, were in the pickup truck.

The truck rolled over approximately five times, but Monroe County sheriff's officers did not determine who was driving it.

All occupants of the car were thrown out.

Thomas Rutter, only survivor, was taken to Herrick Memorial Hospital and then transferred to St. Joseph's in Ann Arbor.

GERALD EYLER, husband of the deceased Mrs. Eyler, is an employee of Tecumseh Products Co. and so is Paul Rutter, son of Arthur Rutter, deceased.

Services for the Eyler family will be held Friday at 2 p.m. at the Rea Methodist Church with arrangements made by the Buhl Funeral Home in Dundee.

Burial will be in the Azalia Cemetery.

Mr. Rutter was taken to the Farnham Funeral Home in Temperance.

Patrolman Says He'll Be Leaving

Tecumseh Police Department, already short-handed, may lose another patrolman.

Jerry Anderson has informed Chief Murell Clark that he plans to quit prior to July 1 and seek other employment.

Patrolmen are known to be seeking a hike in pay and more officers in the department. Several have quit for more money in recent months.

Shortages in the department have become critical at times. With only one officer at the dispatcher's desk and one patroling the city's streets, is has occasionally become necessary to leave the dispatcher's desk without anyone to take and relay messages.

Some citizens have reported that it has taken as long as two hours for the police to answer complaints or calls for assistance. These delays have resulted when the department has just two men working.

Doesn't that Northern High situation grab you? Now the students have set a deadline for the administration to cure all academic ills. Just a bunch of well-adjusted teens (backed up by a few designing adults.) Wonder what Dr. Samuel Brownell will give 'em next?

Over Brooklyn way, the name of the paper is The Exponent, and we wonder how come Editor Holly Rothfuss hasn't made any snide remarks about us lately.

If you cry easily, don't see "The Sound of Music." Or maybe you should go and take an extra hanky. A moving, vibrant story, tremendous music and excellent acting, with Julie Andrews magnificent.

Julie Parrish (nee Joyce Wilbar of Tecumseh) has hit it big in the movies. She'll co-star in "Hawaiian Paradise" with Frankie Avalon, Fabian and Annette.

Both are being released in June and she'll be making a whirlwind tour of the country, including Detroit, promoting "Fireball" along with young Mr. Avalon.

Julie's brother, Jim Wilbar, instead of making the Tecumseh High senior trip, breezed out to the coast to watch the final shooting of "Fireball."

Herrick Memorial Hospital Auxiliary will host the Southwest District fall meeting of the Michigan Association of Hospital Auxiliaries along with the Bixby Hospital Auxiliary. The invitation was recently accepted. Mrs. James Robideau attended the spring meeting in Jackson with Mrs. Neville Hart.

Students of Tipton School surprised their principal, Mrs. Al Tonneberger, with a giant May Basket Tuesday. Containing cookies, pop corn, cake, candy, jelly and gifts, it was presented during an assembly by sixth grade girls. Through moist eyes, Mrs. Tonneberger, who retires next month, said, "Children, this is a basket full of love."

Would the Rusty Diaper Citizen, who penned us a letter, please identify herself so we can run the note.

In the haste of getting this week's special section for Hospital Week on and off the press, we neglected to note that the photos of the medical staff were taken by Dixon Studios, Reginald Dixon, impresario. Also, Dr. Larry Burch, is a member of the current staff, not having been on hand at the time of the picture-taking of the current staff.

After making a trip up the Nile, via color slides last week, Jeff Hale, the littlest of the Carl Hale family, rushed home for a crucial family powwow. A decision was being made on the location for this summer's family vacation. Jeff informed his teacher, Mrs. Raymond Puffer of Patterson School's second grade, "I want to vote for Egypt."

Douglas Rader's name was inadvertently omitted from the list of new members joining theFirst Baptist Church.

This one is identified, but it was flying. Mrs. Douglas McDowell, 317 N. Union St., reports seeing a large deer, minus antlers, come from behind Patterson School and go behind the homes on the west side of the street. Something must have frightened it behind the residence of Dr. and Mrs. Richard Dustin because it sprinted behind the school and disappeared into the wooded area there.

Cubs To Watch Tigers

"Mother Nature's Backyard" was the theme for the Pack 4 meeting Monday at St. Elizabeth's School.

After group singing, Den 3 presented a skit on Smokey the Bear. A monthly calendar was given by Den 6. Den 1 held a staff "rassle" while Den 12 displayed things they had made. Den 8 presented a nature charade.

Den 14 told of the martin bird and Den 9 held a show and tell program.

FRANK STANLEY received a silver arrow under Wolf. Jack Myers received Lion badge, gold and silver arrow under Lion.

Tom Tilton and Randy Baker were presented with assistant denner stripes.

Bob Lawson and Randy Baker received denner stripes, Bob Lawson a silver arrow under Wolf.

Den 9 took the attendance award for 87% present. Service pins were presented to all the Cub Scouts.

The next Pack meeting will be held May 23 at 7:30 p.m. at St. Elizabeth's.

Roundtable will be May 5 at 7:30 p.m. in the Adrian Goodwill Industries.

ANNUAL BIG league ball game will be May 14 at Tiger Stadium. Cubs are to meet at St. Elizabeths at 10:30 a.m.

Drivers are needed and volunteers can contact Wendell Disbrow, 423-4642. Cubs are asked to bring a sack lunch, their own beverage and no more than $1.

Den 9 retired the flags.

Mr. Disbrow adjourned the meeting with a serious word on the laws that govern people's lives and make the community a more pleasant place in which to live.

HERRICKS

at the Federal level and now we must see to it that it is implemented.

"People on the bureaucratic level are taking it at face value so that nothing shall be construed to interfere with private practices," said Mr. Sibery.

IT WAS quite apparent that the speaker was not in favor of the medicare legislation. He said that Michigan has been fortunate to have been penetrated by Blue Cross, commercial insurance and the Kerr-Mills act so that patients who have needed care have had adequate coverage, far superior to that of medicare and he urged the audience to tell people to be hesitant about giving up the coverage they have.

Mr. Sibery highly praised the city for the long term care unit next to the hospital and prophecied that it would get even more use in the future.

He said that Tecumseh is the exception rather than the rule in having the Herrick Nursing Home.

"You are very progressive here," commented the speaker after mentioning the doctor facilities so close to the hospital.

HE SAID THAT he thinks many more doctors will be combining facilities and services. He thinks that in the future there will be fewer and larger hospitals providing better care than to "fragmentize care in the future." They will be looked up to as Community Health Centers.

Doctors have a difficult task and can expect to have long waiting lists unless they discourage hospital care for those who could be cared for elsewhere.

"We must use facilities to the best possible advantage. The changes brought about by medicare will affect all of us. The public will look more and more to the hospital for care."

"Don't wait for the Federal government. They know it has to work out and they will see to it that it does," warned Mr. Sibery.

"The public wants the best hospital care and yet they complain it costs too much. You can't have your cake and eat it too. We are going to have major area shortages of nurses, medical technologists and X-ray technicians. We will need organized home care and care for mental health including a part for a major social problem, the alcoholic."

"SKILLED PEOPLE will not be available and we will need to use the services of the Auxiliarians, those who work from the heart and want to do it."

"Administration and the board will depend on the auxiliary to take the lead from the administration and implement services, using a new method for personalized service for the patients."

Mr. Sibery concluded his address saying, "If we don't adjust to change we can never fulfill the responsibility of providing the right health care for every citizen of the area."

WILL PLAY LEAD — Dame Judith Anderson will star in the 1966 Ypsilanti Greek Theatre Festival production of "Oresteia". Considered the greatest tragic actress in the English-speaking world, Dame Judith will be expanding her impressive repertory of classical parts. Her work in Ypsilanti will mark the first collaboration between two towering figures in world classical drama. Dame Judith and Alexis Solomos, artistic director of the Greek Theatre. A native of Australia, Judith Anderson is best known to American and British audiences for her performances as Queen Gertrude to John Gielgud's "Hamlet", her Lady Macbeth to Sir Lawrence Olivier's "Macbeth" and Maurice Evans' "Macbeth", her filming of Lady Macbeth for American television with Maurice Evans, for which she won an Emmy award.

Hudson FFA Takes Land Judging First

Hudson FFA edged Sand Creek, Tecumseh and Onsted in the annual land judging event in Lenawee County.

Art Snyder's farm, just west of Adrian on US 223, was host for the four vocational agriculture schools participating. The Lenawee Soil Conservation District sponsors the contest as a means of good land use and appreciation.

Land judging requires close attention to such characteristics as surface formation, soil factors, degree of erosion, steepness and length of slope and drainage.

Attorney Is Elected Chairman

A Detroit attorney, William Reagan, was elected chairman of the Siena Heights College Lay Advisory Board Monday.

Dr. Daniel Sarapo of Adrian was selected vice-chairman and Ben Duguid, new college director of public relations, secretary.

John Daly, vice-president of Hoover Ball and Bearing and Dr. Donita Sullivan of University Hospital in Ann Arbor, were welcomed to the board as new members.

You Told Us

By DOROTHY GRIGG
Herald Society Editor

Mothers despise mud on the rug, late sleepers, dirty windows, children that sass, smelly cigars, clothes on the floor and rainy wash days. They hate war.

They love dandeloons in a grubby little fist, tiny angels that nestle in their arms, noisy little boys, the fragrance of fresh bread, gentle pats and kisses.

Nobody can cram so much work in a 16-hour day or so many articles in a small purse.

The richest of us are those who can wear a red carnation on Mother's Day.

Mother Milosh will celebrate her 90th birthday anniversary May 12. Her children, George, Walter, Harold and Merlow Milosh, will greet her at the Baker Nursing Home, 7030 Blood Rd., operated by Mrs. Willis Baker.

Mrs. Clarence Keller has returned to her home after spending a week at Herrick Memorial Hospital suffering from bronchial pneumonia to be greeted by her great-granddaughter, Melanie Wolf.

Mrs. Don Young has returned home after several days in Muskegon, where she was called by the serious illness of her father.

Mr. and Mrs. Fay VanValkenburg were in East Lansing Sunday to visit their daughter-in-law, Mrs. Gerald Van Valkenburg, and children, Kiya and Todd, who left Wednesday to join their husband and father in Chile.

Mrs. Herbert Munger, home from Florida where she spent the winter, accompanied the Vans to Lansing and also to Brighton where they were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Waldron.

Mrs. Munger and the Fay VanValkenburgs stopped in Ann Arbor en route home to visit Mrs. Ernest VanValkenburg, whose husband is spending two weeks in London, England seeking engineers for Bendix Research Corp.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Gilman were house guests of Mrs. Leonard Daykin over the weekend en route from Fort Pierce, Fla. to their home in Montpelier, Ohio. Mrs. Gilman thanked The Herald for excellent service saying that they didn't miss a single issue all winter and it arrived on Saturday most of the time, sometimes on Monday.

Mrs. Morris Cornell, Mrs. Forest Barrett of Britton, Mrs. Floyd Odell, and Mrs. John Norcross of Clinton attended the Michigan School Food Service Association workshop in Lansing last Thursday through Saturday.

Donna Rudd flew to Chicago to visit her twin brother, Hospital Apprentice Donald Rudd at Great Lakes Naval Training Center.

Miss Rudd and her brother saw Phyllis Diller at the Palmer House Saturday and toured the Great Lakes base where Donald attends Medical Corps School.

Donna and Donald are the twin children of Mr. and Mrs. Paul R. Rudd, 506 Parkway Court.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Pieper have returned from a two-month vacation in Fort Lauderdale and Cape Canaveral, Fla.

Get 32nd Degree

Two Tecumseh Masons were among a class of 450 to receive the 32nd Degree in Scottish Rite of Freemasonry over the weekend in Detroit.

They are Harold D. Hicks, 714 S. Union St. and James H. Tonneberger, 9995 Newburg Hwy.

Congressman Gerald R. Ford, House Minority Leader, told an overflow audience of some 1,500 Masons at the Scottish Rite of Freemasonry's 259th reunion banquet Saturday evening that there are two basic issues in American government — the restoring of proper balance between the three branches of the federal government and a rebirth of strength and vigor in the state and local governments.

Principal benevolence of Scottish Rite is the financing of an intensive research into the cause and cure of mental illness. Since the program was inaugurated years ago, more than $4,000,000 has been contributed by Scottish Rite members in the 15-state Northern Jurisdiction.

Congressman Ford of Grand Rapids, a 33rd Degree Mason, warned that "there is danger in an excessively powerful central government, although many Americans seem to have lost sight of that fact." The wise men who laid the foundation of our political system gave strength to each of the three branches of federal government in a system of checks and balances. They gave the states a dual sovereignty in relation to the federal establishment."

GOVERNOR ROMNEY REPORTS

Michigan could be plunged into a major financial crisis if the legislature persists in its current reckless spending course.

Midway through the 1966 Legislative session, preliminary actions in both houses of the legislature would increase my budget recommendations for next year by approximately $75 million and would give Michigan its first billion dollar budget — at least $1,020,000,000.

This proposed increase is in addition to my recommended increase of $126.6 million and would result in a total increase of over $200 million in a single year.

If such a budget were ever adopted, our entire surplus would be wiped out. Michigan would be millions in the red (which is unconstitutional), and we would be put in a position of deficit spending by as much as $142 million for the 1966-67 budget year.

This would further set the stage for a deficit of close to a quarter of a billion dollars for 1967-68.

For a legislature which has consistently refused to face squarely the issue of state revenue inequities and future needs even to consider spending actions now which would lead to deficit and crisis is the height of irresponsibility.

Nor should the future financial needs of the people of Michigan be met by more "patchwork taxation." The state's entire tax structure needs reform. To date there has been no indication that the Democratic leaders of this legislature are any more ready to undertake tax reform now than they were last fall when they refused even to consider a bipartisan program developed by representatives of both political parties.

IT DOESN'T take ability or test anyone's capacity to spend a lot of money, particularly the public's. The real test of capacity is to spend wisely — to spend within the limits of sound financial policy, and to make the most of what is spent.

These are qualities that count both inside and outside the public arena.

I am hopeful that, like last year, more common sense will prevail by the time the budget bills are finalized and sent to my desk. I am not wedded to every proposal just as it stands in my budget. I realize that there is a certain amount of give and take in the months of work that result in a state budget for an entire year.

But I have no intention of seeing our more than three years of hard work to return fiscal sanity to state government tossed into the ashcan.

Fortunately, budget totals in the house of origin can seldom be considered final action; generally they are reduced. Fortunately, there are legislators from both sides of the aisle who are concerned about the reckless size of these tentative budget totals.

But to avoid financial difficulty, they will need strong public support in bringing the final budget back to a sound basis.

BROWN STREET PROJECT — Hoping to eliminate a dangerous traffic situation, the city is currently putting a curve into the eastern end of Brown St., as it empties into N. Evans St.

Coupled with the widening of N. Evans St., the problem of congestion at the A & P corner may be licked — at least City Manager Cal Zorn hopes so.

Alfalfa Weevil Coming from Ohio

Michigan farmers in counties near Ohio are warned to look out for alfalfa weevil in fields this summer.

Dr. Al Dowdy, Extension entomologist at Michigan State University, said the weevil had spread northward in Ohio to all but the northern tier of counties.

Farmers should be on the lookout for the small, green larvae with a light stripe down its back, feeding in numbers on alfalfa. The weevil larvae measure up to ⅜ inch long and have a black head and are without legs. Often they assume a curved "C" appearance.

Suspicious specimans can be sent to the MSU entomology department for identification.

Motorist Finds 'Pack of Trouble'

Weldon L. Scott, 42, Britton, found a pack of trouble while driving his car in Tecumseh last week.

Sunday, he sideswiped an auto driven by Robert W. Messer, 20, of 123½ S. Ottawa St. He was charged with failure to have his car under control and for leaving the scene of an accident.

Later in the day, Scott rammed into the rear of a car operated by John C. Banner of Toledo, knocking the Ohio vehicle into the rear of an auto driven by Malcolm Kought of Milan.

Police then cited him again for failure to have his car under control, plus drunk driving.

IN OTHER accidents the past week, a resume is:

April 27 — Lester C. Oliver, 31, Elizabethton, Tenn., was charged with failure to yield the right of way after a mishap at the intersection of S. Maumee St. and E. Pottawatamie with Helen K. Scott, 19, Monroe.

April 27 — Police checked a minor accident in the Tecumseh Products parking lot involving Gerald K. Dunn, 54, of 403 W. Brown St., and Devon F. Bearer, Jr., 19, Adrian.

April 27 — Lawrence L. Holdridge, 50, of 201 S. Democrat, changed lanes on W. Chicago Blvd., and resulted in an accident with Nancy Lee Beland, 22, of 111 Wildwood Circle. No citations were issued.

May 1 — Donald Vincent, 26, Ridgeway, was cited after a mishap with John R. Miller, 18, Petersburg, on E. Chicago Blvd. He was charged with leaving the scene of accident after scraping the car driven by Miller.

Curb and Gutter, Sidewalks Oked

Installation of curb and gutter and sidewalk on N. Ottawa St., between Shawnee and Evans Sts., and a sanitary sewer on N. Evans St. were approved by Council Monday night.

There were no objections at either of the two public hearings, although William Hotrum, 203 E. Shawnee St., questioned Council about the measurements of his property adjoining N. Ottawa.

Young Wins Pair of Firsts

Swamped in the annual Tecumseh Relays Saturday, the Indians bowed again Tuesday afternoon to Adrian, 63-46, despite taking seven firsts in the 13-event meet.

Tecumseh finished fifth in the Relays with 28 points, just five behind second-place Milan. Willow Run captured Saturday's meet easily with 71 points.

Coach Tom Fagan's track team is young and it never showed so clearly as it did Tuesday against the Maples.

While the Indians may take their share of lickings this spring, a strong club is predicted for the next couple of years.

Winning points against Adrian for Tecumseh were:

Shot put — Joe Vargo (1st), Lee Hannibal (3rd).

Broad jump — Roger Young (3rd).

High jump — Steve Dalton (3rd).

Pole vault — Dan Dewey (1st), Jim Collins (3rd).

Mile — Jim Biscupski (3rd).

120-yard high hurdles — Hannibal (1st), Randy Robinson (3rd).

440 — Lendall Millheim (2nd).

100 — Young (1st), Jim Morse (3rd).

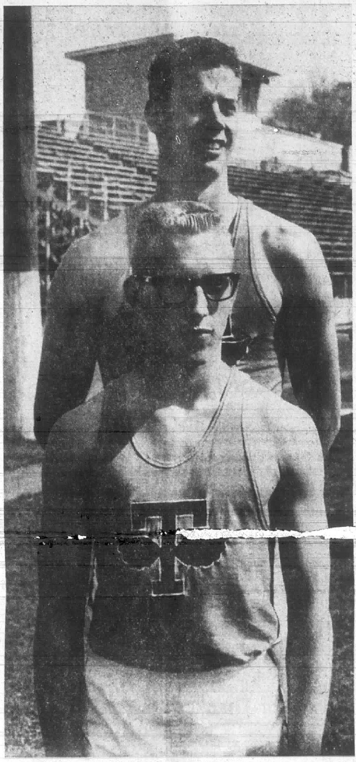
180-yard low hurdles — Hannibal (1st), Gus Bishop (3rd).

220 — Young (1st).

Tecumseh's 880-relay team also captured a first.

About half of Tecumseh's point winners against the Maples were tallied by sophomores, and one freshman, Dalton.

GETS CHANCE — Rugged Don Baird, one-time Tecumseh Indian star and now a Michigan State University freshman, should see action as a line-backer in the annual Green and White spring game Saturday afternoon.



HERALD PHOTO BY DICK CARVER

AMONG THS WINNERS — Rangy Lee Hannibal and short Roger Young were among the standouts for Coach Tom Fagan's trackmen in the Adrian meet, which the Maples won.

Patty's Bike Is Well Used

By DOROTHY GRIGG

While home on furlough from Liberia, West Africa, the Rev. James Barnard of Olivet made Tecumseh one of his stops for a brief time Saturday.

Bringing with him a little creature from the African jungle, a chimpanzee, which has long been a pet of the Barnard family, the pastor renewed acquaintances with the Rev. Harold Speer, pastor of the Assembly of God Church here.

It was one of the Rev. Spear's congregation, Patty Beaubien, who gave the African minister a new bicycle, which she had earned in a Herald subscription drive to take back to West Africa with him.

This happened in May of 1963, when the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Beaubien was only six years old.

A native evangelist, David Johnson, made good use of the bicycle according to the Rev. Barnard.

David was an illiterate when he came to the Bible School, headed by the Rev. Barnard. Training ministers is the purpose of the school and Mr. Barnard said that David is especially adept at the missionary work and the pastor counts the young African among his most loyal friends.

THE BICYCLE has had extensive use as David visited his parishioners over the rough terrain of the Firestone plantation.

It is considered a most valuable asset in Liberia, where semi-skilled wages are 60c per day. It would be almost as valuable as a car is in the United States.

The Rev. Barnard was originally from Alpena and attended the Olivet Nazarene College.

Methodist missionary Gerald Janousek, also in Liberia with his family, visited Mr. Barnard.

Both men are graduates of the same colleges and both are Michiganders.

Kids Get Baskets of Goodies

"Homemaker's Arithmetic" was the lesson given by Mrs. Carl Kottke for the meeting of the Raisin Center Extension Study Group Monday evening.

Mrs. David Rickaby was the hostess.

Guests were Mrs. Dorothy Smith and Mrs. Mary Morton, special education teachers from Michener School. They presented each member with two potholders made by their pupils.

The group finished making May baskets, which were filled with popcorn and candy, then given to students.

The Mystery Gift was won by Mrs. Ruford Anderson.

$36,791 Going To Libraries

LANSING — Allocations totaling $4 million for library resources, instructional materials and textbooks to be used in 4,448 public and nonpublic schools in Michigan have been made by the State Department of Education.

Acting State Supt. of Public Instruction Alexander J. Kloster said $3.4 million will go to 3,627 public schools that have 1,911,257 students and 83,884 teachers and other professional personnel.

The remaining $630,000 will go to 861 non-public schools that have 350,096 students and 12,023 teachers and other professionals.

The funds, available under provisions of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act passed by Congress last year, are allocated on a per capita and need basis.

Lenawee County public schools will receive $36,791 and non-public schools are getting $3,884.

Takes 3 Tries

By CAROL HOWELL

There is nothing like Michigan's exchange of mayors, in which more than 350 cities and villages take part. It's been an annual event during Michigan Week for the past 13 years.

"Through the exchange Michigan towns, large and small, have become better acquainted, and that's what we're after," says N. G. Damoose, city manager of Battle Creek and state chairman of this year's exchange.

"By now several thousand mayors, village presidents and other city and village officials have traveled from one part of the state to another, telling the story of their own areas and learning more about the resources, facilities, people and problems of other communities."

HOWEVER, TECUMSEH has had some trouble arranging this year's exchange. Because of schedule conflicts the first two selected pairings could not be made.

Last week, at a third drawing the town of Roosevelt Park was picked as Tecumseh's match and arrangements were completed for an exchange of visits by city officials.

Mayor Harold Easton will be honored May 16 in Roosevelt Park and Wednesday, May 18, Roosevelt Park Mayor Dean A. Recknagel will be feted here.

After meeting officials at an informal reception, Mayor Recknagel and his party will tour local business and industry, schools and public facilities

They will ride down Chicago Blvd in the Rotary Club's Safety Check Parade that afternoon and Mayor Recknagel will crown the pageant's queen in [illegible] ceremonies. In the evening they will be guests of honor at the Mayor's Exchange Banquet at St. Elizabeth School.

DR. ROBERT MURRAY will emcee the after-dinner program and guest speaker will be Raymond McConnell, captain in charge of the intelligence and security section of the Michigan State Police, whose topic will be "Organized Crime".

Banquet accommodations are available for some 200 people. The public is invited. Ticket information may be obtained from Mrs. Thomas Morgan, 423-2462.

The Mayor's Exchange Banquet is one of Tecumseh's biggest Michigan Week events and the local committee hopes that a capacity crowd will turn out to meet Mayor Recknagel and welcome him to the city.

School Board Filing Time Runs Short

BRITTON — Time is running short for anyone desiring to run for the Board of Education. Nominating petitions must be filed with the secretary of the board, William Bearinger, by 4 p.m. May 14.

Douglas Palmer and Martin Ivan are the two members whose terms expire this year.

Petitions are available in the high school office. Signatures of at least 20 registered school electors of the district are required for filing.

Electors are reminded that they may sign only two nominating petitions.

The annual election of Britton-Macon Area School District will be held Monday, June 13, at the school.

Mrs. Joseph Hall Posts High Score at Card Session

BRITTON — Mrs. Joseph Hall won the prize for high score when the G-8 Card Club met last Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Martin Ivan for their regular euchre session.

Prizes for most lone hands and the traveling lone hand were won by Mrs. Paul Rowlands. Mrs. Keith Halsey won the low score prize. Mrs. Hall provided the entertainment.

Mrs. Ivan served dessert and coffee to the group.

Can $300 Be Raised

BRITTON — Members and friends of Britton Bethel Baptist Church are co-operating generously in an attempt to make a life-long dream — a tour of the Holy Land — come true for Pastor Duane McNeil.

The tour is sponsored by the Grand Rapids Bible College and conducted by Dr. Leon Wood, under whom the Rev. McNeil studied Old Testament.

Dr. Wood spoke at the church April 17 and showed slides taken on his previous tours, inspiring the people to attempt the ambitious project.

The tour, of three weeks' duration, in June, includes stops in Rome, Cairo, Athens and Paris, as well as the Holy Land.

If an additional $300 comes in this week — $1,000 having already been pledged — the trip will become a reality.

Mrs. Margaret VanVorst at 423-4400 or 431-2582 will furnish detailed information.

Britton Youths Should Be Signed for Kindergarten

BRITTON — Kindergarten Pre-Registration for the 1966-67 school year will take place Thursday, May 12, 1966, in the Kindergarten room.

Parents may register their children from 8:30 a.m. till 3:30 p.m.

Kindergarten children entering school in the fall must have reached five years of age before Dec. 1, 1966.

Parents of children whose birthdays are later than Sept. 1, should give serious consideration as to whether their child is ready for school, said Supt. Bill Saxton.

Parents are invited to bring their child with them when they register. It is important that the child's birth certificate be included.

"Please register the child at this time as it will enable the school to organize the Kindergarten program for the coming year," added Mr. Saxton.

You may save $6 to $8 per acre with Dow Anhydrous Ammonia: lowest cost nitrogen in the field.

The reason is, anhydrous ammonia gives you far more nitrogen per pound than any other nitrogen fertilizer. Which means it takes far less Dow Anhydrous Ammonia to do the job than it does with any other form of nitrogen fertilizer.
If you're planting corn on corn, it will take 150 to 200 pounds of nitrogen per acre to decay the old stalks and still have the nitrogen you need for high yields. Supply this nitrogen with Dow Anhydrous Ammonia and you may save as much as $6 to $8 an acre. And boost crop yield quality and feed grain protein content while you do it. It's so long-lasting, one application is all you need. See us today for details. And save some money for a change.

DOLLAR and SENSE FARMING®

A SHORTER FINISHING PERIOD pays for many cattle feeders. Recent Missouri trials indicate that various grades of cattle on feed 150 to 157 days were less efficient in converting feed to lean meat or boneless retail cuts. They also showed little grade improvement compared to those on feed 80 to 87 days. The finishing ration fed in these tests was 75% shelled corn, 20% alfalfa-brome hay, and 5% soybean oil meal with vitamin A.

HIGH-GRAIN FEEDING for dairy cows can increase income providing they are fed according to their capacity. New Jersey DHIA summaries show that cows fed 3,500 pounds of grain produced 10,047 pounds of milk for an income over feed cost of $236 per cow. Those fed $5,300 pounds of grain produced 14,822 pounds of milk and returned $394.

FERTILITY FOR SORGHUM - SUDAN HYBRIDS is important. Because of their high potential growth, fertilizer recommendations are about the same as for corn. Rates vary, but figure 20 to 30 pounds of actual N per acre at planting and 50 more after each harvest if three harvests are made. If two harvests are made, disk 50 pounds of N into the seedbed and apply 50 more after the first harvest in addition to the starter.

DEFLECTOR SHIELDS for hay crushers, flail mowers and some windrowers can save a raking operation and valuable leaves. Adjust shields to leave a windrow just wide enough for the baler or chopper to handle easily. A tight windrow will dry much more slowly.

Toledo Museum Offering 'Tour' of New England

An armchair "tour" of the great buildings, monuments and museums of the New England states will begin at the Toledo Museum of Art with the special lecture course, "Treasures of New England" Thursday, April 28 at 7:30 p.m.

The "tour", illustrated with slides, will take participants to the major points of interest in Maine, Vermont, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Connecticut and Rhode Island.

Prepared for both those planning their summer vacation and the adventurous stay-at-home, the series will be conducted by native New Englander and Art Museum Intern, John Keefe.

The class, open to all students and adults, will "visit" the famous landmarks and museums of Boston, see the magnificent homes in Newport and cover the many other historical buildings and monuments found in New England.

"Treasures of New England" will meet every Thursday from 7:30 p.m. to 9 p.m. for four weeks at the Art Museum.

Registration for the class can be made during the first meeting on April 28 or by calling the Museum at 255-8000. Cost of the four-week program is $7.50 per person or $11 for husband and wife.

Navy Offers 2-Year Deal to Volunteer

The war in Viet Nam has prompted the Navy to resort to a volunteer program which has not been used since World War II.

In a high priority drive to attract skilled construction workers to serve in the famed Seabees, or, construction battalions, the Navy will permit qualified workers, 17 to 40 years of age, to enlist at the petty officer level and bypass the normal nine week's basic recruit training.

Enlistments will be for a minimum of two years — half the normal length of other Navy enlistments.

MAYOR HAROLD EASTON AND POSTMASTER JACK METCALF PLACE SIGN ON TRUCK

Boost Merchant Marines

Mayor Harold Easton, Postmaster Jack Metcalf and others in Tecumseh will join with the President of the United States and other dignitaries across the country in honoring the American Merchant Marine, May 23.

City mail trucks will proclaim the coming honor day throughout the month of May, through the use of a poster.

The poster shows a large cargo ship flying the American flag and carries this year's slogan, "American Ships Chart America's Future."

May 22 is annually proclaimed by the President as "National Maritime Day" to publicly recognize the importance of the American Merchant Marine, its ships and the men who sail them. The date commemorates the sailing of the first transoceanic steamship, the SS SAVANAH, in 1819.

Because May 22 falls on a Sunday this year, the President has requested that citizens observe National Maritime Day, Monday, May 23, by flying the flag and through appropriate ceremonies.

Mayor Easton noted that 'the American Merchant Marine plays a vital role in the development of our economy and in support of our national security. Exporting is necessary to sell surplus agricultural commodities and industrial products, while imports supply raw materials for most of our basic industries as well as for the satisfaction of consumer demands."

Lenawee County Republicans Meet

The Lenawee County Republican Executive Committee met April 20 at the Big Boy Restaurant in Adrian to plan for the November election.

The Committee encouraged members to have nominating petitions signed for Governor Romney, Congressman Robert Griffin and for local delegates to the Lenawee County Convention.

Tecumseh Republicans met Monday to firm up a May 18 rally at the Community Center, with several high-ranking Republican office-holders expected to be on tap.

Invited to attend are Congressman Gerald Ford and Robert Griffin, Lt. Gov. Robert Milliken, State Senator Gilbert Bursely, State Representative Marvin Esch and Rollo Conlin.

Nominating petitions are available at The Herald and at the law offices of Beardsley, Conklin and Forsthoefel, 102 N. Maumee St.

BIG RAPIDS — Three residents of Tecumseh were among the more than 700 Ferris State College students who were named to the Dean's Honor List for academic excellence during the past quarter, Dr. Robert L. Huxol, vice-president for instruction, has announced.

To be named to the Dean's Honor List a student must maintain at least a B average while carrying a full academic load.

The students were Susan K. Leighton, freshman in the school of Pharmacy and daughter of Mrs. Margaret Hoekstra; Jack D. Five departments of the State Government, Senator Bursley explained, will be represented by their Directors or designated deputies on a program describing to local government officials, civic groups, school organizations and interested citizens how these departments are organized and how they serve the Washtenaw County area as well as the State as a whole.

Hold Meeting

A meeting of the Lenawee County Community Action Committee will be held at the Michigan Employment office, 410 E. Maumee St., Adrian, May 4 at 8 p.m.

The engagement of Brenda Palmer to Barry Branham is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Palmer, 8542 Centennial Rd. Mr. Branham is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Anderson Branham, 7585 Pennington Rd. Miss Palmer and Mr. Branham are 1965 graduates of Britton-Macon High School. She is attending Cleary College. Mr. Branham is employed at Universal Die Casting in Saline.

Warn Children

Emphasizing that child molesting incidents increase in spring and summer when children are outdoors more, State Police Sgt. arl Anderson, commander of the Clinton post, advised parents to caution youngsters about possible danger from strangers.

In a seasonal reminder on this problem Sgt. Anderson said the State Police last year received 547 complaints of sex offenses, which included incidents of child molesting with most occurring in warm weather months.

Similar incidents are reported to other police departments and many, usually because of an unwarranted fear of publicity, are not reported at all.

MOLESTING dangers can best be thwarted by cooperation of parents, children, school authorities and police, the sergeant said, through initial responsibility falls heaviest upon parents and children.

Parents should set guidelines of outdoor activity for their children, explain the importance of such rules and see that they are followed.

Sergeant Anderson made these recommendations:

- ► Children should not accept offers for walks or rides from strangers nor should they go with any person unless the parents approve.
- ► Youngsters should reject bribes of candy, money or gifts and report such offers to parents, teachers or police.
- ► Parents should know where their children are outdoors and children should make no important change of area without notifying parents.
- ► Children should have companions at play, going to or from school, movies or other approved places or when running errands because a child alone may too easily become a molester's victim.
- ► Youngsters should be told not to loiter at public rest rooms, isolated places or vacant buildings which can be high danger areas.
- ► Parents should report any molesting incident to police because this can help check the menace. Names of youngsters involved in such incidents are not made public, except where warranted in cases of abduction and murder.

You may save $6 to $8 per acre with Dow Anhydrous Ammonia: lowest cost nitrogen in the field.

The reason is, anhydrous ammonia gives you far more nitrogen per pound than any other nitrogen fertilizer. Which means it takes far less Dow Anhydrous Ammonia to do the job than it does with any other form of nitrogen fertilizer.
If you're planting corn on corn, it will take 150 to 200 pounds of nitrogen per acre to decay the old stalks and still have the nitrogen you need for high yields. Supply this nitrogen with Dow Anhydrous Ammonia and you may save as much as $6 to $8 an acre. And boost crop yield quality and feed grain protein content while you do it. It's so long-lasting, one application is all you need.
See us today for details. And save some money for a change.

WHO, ME?

Lori Egli (above) was mystified by her ex-hubby, played by Dr. Bob Murray, as the camera snapped during the Friday performance of "Mary, Mary," the Tecumseh Players' final production of the season. Charming and witty, Mrs. Egli delighted the audiences during the show's eight performances. At right — Dick Boyd accepts a health tonic from Ingrid Von Kaler, who was the rejected fiance when Bob and Lori decided to get back together in the final scene and call off the divorce.

State Gears Up for Big Week

The 13th Annual Michigan Week, climax of year-long education and promotion activities by an army of volunteers selling Michigan to itself and to the world, starts its runs from Sunday, May 15.

From crossroads to metropolitan banquet hall, the state will resound with programs designed to echo around the globe, giving repeated proof of the week's theme: "Michigan — Dynamic in World Progress."

The observance is intended to involve, directly or indirectly, all of the state's eight million residents and countless others in all parts of the world.

At the head of it all as general chairman of Michigan Week is Paul L. Penfield, advertising director of Detroit Edison Co.

Posters large and small, counter cards, tent cards, window stickers, lapel buttons and restaurant place mats are repeating the story of Michigan Week, only state celebration of its kind anywhere.

ACHIEVEMENT awards, school programs, dedications, business and industry meetings and a host of special events have been organized to give recognition in one way or another to the state's progress and the people who are making it possible.

The massive program within the state is designed to better inform people of Michigan about their own state, thus making them better salesmen for Michigan wherever they go.

Out of state, across the nation and into free lands of the world, the story of Michigan goes to spread the word of Michigan products, recreation and cultural advantages, services and people.

Each day of Michigan Week has a special designation, purpose and program.

Starting as always on the third Sunday in May, Michigan Week opens with Spiritual Foundations Day, when special recognition is given to the part religion has played in history and development of the state.

At noon Sunday, bells of churches everywhere in Michigan will be joined in a giant bell-ringing ceremony. At that moment, hundreds of thousands gathered in churches of their choice will join in a moment of prayer of thanksgiving for Michigan's many blessings.

Monday is Our Government Day, when the role of government in the lives of all Michigan citizens receives special attention. The spotlight then is on government at all levels, local, county, state and national.

This is the day for the traditional exchange of mayors and village presidents to help spread the knowledge of one community about another in the state.

Our Heritage Day on Tuesday is set aside for in-depth attention to the proud history and heritage of the state in general and each community specifically. Events of the day will recall early Indian settlement, the exploration work of French and English, the historic actions of early leaders as they laid the foundations for the Michigan of today.

WEDNESDAY is Our Livelihood Day, with concentration on the way each family earns its living. Each community will take stock of its own industry, business, agriculture, resorts and institutions which provide a livelihood for its people.

Across the state hundreds of programs will be held and doors of many businesses and industries will swing open for visitors to view the work being performed in Michigan's vital economic complex.

On Thursday, Education Day will be dedicated to the schools, colleges, universities and special training institutions, both private and public, and to the students, teachers and other personnel who comprise them.

Hospitality Day on Friday focuses attention on Michigan's hospitality with a campaign starting on Hospitality Day this year to make Michigan known as the friendliest place on earth.

Concentration will be on expressing community friendliness to the people who visit Michigan on business, for an education or to enjoy its recreational activities.

Climax of Michigan Week comes on Saturday, Our Youth Day. Keynote for hundreds of special events on this day is the community and state future which lies ahead for today's youth.

Programs on that day are being planned to involve active participation by hundreds of thousands of the state's young people as their organizations receive the state's own special salute.

Improvements Cost $10,000

CLINTON — Recent improvements in the Smith-Kimball Community Center are expected to greatly increase its usefulness to the community.

At a cost of about $10,000, a caretaker's apartment has been installed at rear of the kitchen area, and the kitchen in the center has been completely remodeled and many storage cupboards built in.

Built in 1840 by Jira Payne, one of Clinton's early settlers, it was purchased by John Smith in 1862 and remained in the same family for 93 years until 1955 when Mr. Smith's granddaughter, Mrs. L. W. Kimball, presented it to the community.

THE HOME was called, by Professor Emeritus Emil Lorch of the University of Michigan, a director of the Historical Society of Michigan, a most distinctive mansion. The portico is one of the most monumental in Michigan.

The four pillars in front, two Doric, and two Ionic, were handhewn wood cut from whitewood trees at the back of the lot.

The spacious downstairs rooms are especially well suited to informal receptions and is used regularly by the Golden Age Club and the Woman's Club for meetings. The second floor features a large meeting room which extends completely across the front width of the building.

THE BUILDING is maintained by a two mill tax levied in the village and administered by the Village Council and Community Center Board. Fees are charged for the use of the building.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Werth have recently been employed as caretakers for the building and moved into the new apartment last week.

At present one kindergarten class meets each morning in one room of the center.

The tree-shaded lawn and well-preserved mansion are a unique reminder of Clinton's historic past and a tribute to the village's determination to provide for the future in a changing society.

Caretaker Moves Into Apartment

CLINTON — Mr. and Mrs. Harry Werth have moved into the caretaker's apartment at the Smith-Kimball Community Center.

With the installation of full-time maintenance and supervision, greater use of the building is expected.

Reservations for use of the Center are to be made just as before — at the village office and the rental deposits shall be made as heretofore.

Rules for use of the Center were amended as follows:

► Any non-profit Clinton organization or service club shall be permitted to use the Community Center without cost except for the $10 deposit.

► If any small group wishes to rent a room, for which a $2 fee is charged and no room is available at that time except the large upstairs room and that is not in use, the group may be permitted to use that room for the $2 fee.

The cost of the caretaker's apartment and the kitchen improvements, approximately $10,000 have been paid in full.

New Students Ride School Bus for First Time

CLINTON — Fifty-two kindergarten enrollees enjoyed a sample ride on a school bus last Tuesday, while their parents were attending the pre-school orientation program at the elementary school.

Paul Keith drove the bus.

Elementary principal, Donald Quick, emphasized the importance of home-school cooperation.

The County Health Nurse, Mrs. Lester Wolf, spoke on the health program in the school and the forms that must be signed by a physician before a child may enter kindergarten in the fall.

Mrs. George Heimerdinger, a kindergarten teacher, described the objectives for the first year in school. The other kindergarten teacher, Mrs. Herbert Dillon, was absent due to illness.

When the children returned from the bus ride, they were shown about the kindergarten room by high school cadet teachers, Bemie Truesdale and Mary Ann Woodward, who led them in several games.

Parents who were unable to attend the registration program may enroll their children at the elementary building by bringing in their child's birth certificate before June 7.

School Board Also Seeks Site Fund

CLINTON — A four-mill operation levy for Clinton Schools will appear on the June 13 ballot, the board decided last week.

Voters will also be asked to approve establishment of a two-mill building and site sinking fund.

The State Equalized Valuation of the Clinton District has increased $1,669,055 over last year.

Clinton is presently operating under a 3½-mill debt retirement levy. The board decided that due to the increased district valuation, the debt retirement millage could be reduced to 2½-mills.

The following comparison between the 1965-66 (present school year tax levy and the projected 1966-67 tax levy is presented:

	1965-'66	1966-'67
Allocated Operational Millage	11.22	11.22
Extra Voted Operational Millage	2.00	4.00
Debt Retirement	3.50	2.50
Building and Site Sinking Fund	——	2.00

These comparative figures indicate that with the exception of the newly-requested building and site sinking fund, the operational plus debt retirement millage would increase by only one mill.

The extra voted operational millage will be based upon a three-year approval period. The building and site sinking fund will be requested for a two-year period.

TWO POSITIONS for four-year terms on the school board are to be filled at the June 13 election. The term of Charles Knight is expiring, also the unexpired term of Charles Straight, which was filled by appointment of Lester Proctor.

The deadline is May 15 for filing petitions for nomination to these two trustee positions. Petitions may be obtained at the school office.

Superintendent Richard Wegner stated, "Any action of the voters at the June 13 election to establish a building and site fund or raise millage might become null and void in the event of the passage of the school reorganization plan which is to be voted upon later in the summer."

Accident Victim Remains Critical

CLINTON — Mrs. Gladys Wiedman of Saline remains in critical condition in St. Joseph Hospital at Ann Arbor.

She received fractures to the skull, collar bones, ribs and internal injuries April 23, when her car hit a tree east of Clinton on US-12.

A former Clinton resident, Mrs. Wiedman is the daughter of Elmer Johnston.

2 Scouts Presented Life Badges

CLINTON — John Busch and James Blumhardt were presented Life Scout Badges at the Court of Awards meeting of Boy Scouts Troop 5 last week.

The boys were pinned by their mothers, Mrs. Joseph Busch and Mrs. Herbert Blumhardt.

John also received cooking and camping merit badges. James received his camping badge.

Awards were presented to:

► Bruce Handy, First Class badge.

► Mrs. Donald Handy received a miniature First Class pin.

Scout Leader, Lawrence Gunn and Assistant Scout Leader, Ray Williams accompanied the boys on an overnight campout Friday.

EMERGENCY IN THE PYRENEES by Ann Bridge. A thrilling adventure tale interwoven with all the glorious sights of the Pyrenees, and the picturesque way of life of the people in the region.

WIND FROM THE CAROLINAS by Robert Wilder. Set against the exotic background of the Bahama Islands and drawing upon their stormy history over a period of almost 10 years, this is the story of wealthy, aristocratic families from Georgia, the Carolinas, and Virginia who established new dynasties in the friendly climate of the Bahamas, where England offered them huge grants of land.

THE ARTIST by Jan de Hartog. Joost Jensen's story begins at the turn of the century in Holland and takes us into the life, simple and dramatic, of that now vanished time. It also takes us into the life of boyhood which is, of course, far from vanished.

THE LANSING REPORT

FROM senator GIL BURSLEY

Legislation proposed — legislation discussed — legislation introduced — even legislation passed by a committee or by one house of the legislature, is still not the law of the State of Michigan.

Each bill must be passed by both Senate and House in exactly the same form and signed by the Governor before it becomes law.

Much of what you read as proposed legislation will fall by the wayside. Only 20% of the bills introduced will ever become law. And many of those that caught headlines because of their controversial or newsworthy aspects will never be seriously considered.

This is sometimes confusing to the reader but it is a traditional part of our parliamentary system. The various steps a bill must pass through constitute a system of checks and balances.

Public exposure to suggested legislation and public discussion and reactions are of great help in forming the end product.

Let's see how this all works out dollarwise. The Governor proposed a general fund budget this year of $944,000,000. This is a $124,000,000 increase over the previous approved budget.

Yet spending bills floating around the Legislature at some stage of the game in the past couple of weeks could have upped the Governor's budget by another $119,000,000. This would be excessive and would jeopardize the fiscal solvency of the State.

We on the Senate Appropriations Committee well realize this.

CONSEQUENTLY the major budget bills under consideration by the Senate were cut back to only $8,000,000 more than the Governor's budget and were passed by the Senate in this form, last Friday. Another $18,000,000 of miscellaneous spending bills are being acted on by the Senate this week and I am sure will be substantially reduced.

If the Governor chooses to veto any budget items as excessive, he will have my full support.

The House of Representatives has been taking parallel action. Generally the House has been more liberal in spending this year, but the two bodies must eventually come together with a responsible budget acceptable to the Governor.

VOICE of THE HERALD

There Goes That Mill

Education in Lenawee County is expected to take it on the chin again this week when the Tax Allocation Board meets.

A likely decision, giving the county an extra mill by taking it away from the schools, is apparent.

Supervisors — not all, but some — have talked for nearly a year about getting back the mill given to the schools last May. The board is "stacked" against the schools.

Does the county need this mill?

Draw your own conclusions.

According to the financial statement released last October to the supervisors, one of many items is worth quoting:

Surplus $1,356,066.43

The county has approximately $1 million in certificates of deposits at four county banks. This amount is derived from 38 county funds.

Our county government also has enough operating capital to withdraw $126,000 from the general fund and place it in a building fund, which now is an estimated $250,000.

On Dec. 31, 1965, final day of the county's fiscal year, the general fund still had a balance of $153,647.62, according to Willis Moore, county treasurer.

Our conclusion is that the county has more than enough to operate on. Robbing the schools of a mill should warrant an investigation.

Exactly how much the supervisors have stashed away is difficult to determine. We know that it's excessive.

Meanwhile, the schools suffer, and the Tecumseh schools will be $41,000 poorer if the mill is granted by the Tax Allocation Board.

Meat of a Promotion

> ......A new study by Harvard Medical School puts a heavy share of the blame on mechanical failure, but it puts an even heavier burden on compulsory inspections. Mechanical failure is a minor cause in new cars, or in cars licensed in states with inspection laws, the doctors found. It's only a major factor in states — such as Michigan — which have no inspections.
> — The Detroit Free Press

These few lines speak volumes.

They come at a time when Tecumseh sponsors of the annual Vehicle Safety Check are making preparations for the 1966 event.

A lot of hoopla accompanies the yearly promotion, the better to focus attention on the vital need for cars and trucks to be in A-1 condition mechanically at all times.

But the meat of things is the check lane, here trained people looks over and tests brakes, lights, exhaust systems, windshield wipers — all potential causes of accidents, if not running properly.

A lot of men spent many hours to put on the annual Safety Check and guys like Chuck Butler, one-time Ford dealer, deserve considerable credit of continued efforts over the years.

Chuck sparked the deal from the beginning and car agencies have already been strong boosters of the Safety-Check. Being so close to the business of automobiles, they are eager to do all they can to help trim those deadly highway slaughter statistics.

But no matter how much work and planning goes into Safety-Check, in the final analysis, the finger points at each vehicle owner. If folks pass up the chance to have a free safety examination, the whole thing is a bust as far as their vehicles are concerned.

Watch the parade, vote for baby king and queen candidates, cheer the teen-age royalty in the line of march.

But for goodness sake, have your car checked.

Helms Urges Use of Theme

Theme for the 13th annual Michigan Week, May 15-21, is "Michigan — Dynamic in World Progress".

Dyke Helms, Tecumseh chairman, called for mass use of this theme by business, industry and local residents.

There are numerous ways in which the people of Tecumseh can help tell Michigan's story everywhere.

Suggested adaptions include imprinting the message on letters and envelopes, printed materials and advertising matter; highlighting it on posters, etc.; using it as a basis for programs in schools and organizations and arranging displays and exhibits for store windows, lobbies and other public places.

"Everywhere in the state, local officials, business and organization leaders and school administrators are being urged to plan significant programs carrying out the theme," Mr. Helms said.

He pointed out that its use is not limited to the period of Michigan Week, but should be extended throughout the year.

Our Readers Write

TO THE EDITORS:

We are now in the midst of "Be Kind to Animals Week." The kindest thing one can do for his pet is to identify him with a name tag or collar.

Then if the animal is lost he can easily be returned to his owner. A county or city license, or a Rabies identification tag are excellent means of identification.

Very soon one of our leading jewelers will have engraved tags available and it is hoped that everyone in Tecumseh with a dog will get one of these if they do not have other tags mentioned above.

Through My Window

BUSY, BUSY MORNINGS

A fellow cold weather hater once remarked that he might enjoy skiing if only it could be done some time other than during the winter. Well, I feel that way about mornings. The sunrise, the freshness, the activity—morning is a wonderful time, if only it didn't come so early in the day.

These mornings the action is especially interesting, but my, it is hard to see all that goes on with only one eye open. No, it truly isn't that bad — both eyes usually open at about the same time.

And, anyway, I have been waking up better just lately — the birds make so much noise and the sun comes up so nice and bright that really, who can sleep?

JUST HOW much my daily "struggle-to-consciousness" is improving was exemplified the other day. Even before the drapes were opened I knew that one new phase of Spring had been entered.

The noise I heard could only be one thing. It was a drumming, a rapid tapping, almost a pneumatic hammer-type of thing.

A flicker or a woodpecker had to be banging away on the roof of the covered feeder. Sure enough, when Mom opened the drapes there he was.

A big, handsome hairy woodpecker, resplendent in his bright suit of black and white and skull cap of red, was perched on the feeder roof. The message came through loud and clear, "Spring is here . . . this is my territory . . . where is my girl friend!"

A SHORT WHILE later we looked out just in time to see Clara's black squirrel scrambling up the trunk of the mulberry tree. More excitement.

In fact, we were so taken by surprise that neither Elizabeth or I noticed much except that it was a black squirrel. Was it pretty, how big, how black, what about actions? Next time we shall try to observe as well as look.

We were just so excited that details went unnoticed and yet, his visit was not totally unexpected. We had been looking for him since Clara reported that he was staying in her walnut tree.

It is fun to have something new and yet this character's disposition may leave something to be desired. He is so belligerent and antagonistic that Clara calls him Cassius Clay. Hope we will have something additional to report later about the black squirrel situation.

MORE EARLY morning happenings occurred the next day. As Mom whisked the drapes open, her cry of exclamation was the mixture of surprise and excitement which bespeaks of something new.

While she and Dad flew my bed down to in front of the window, it was explained that a pair of mallards were in the creek just this side of M & D's bridge.

Oh, how lovely they were. She was a soft blend of brown and white, but, of course, his coloring was almost breathtakingly beautiful.

The sun was high enough so that its rays had just peeked over the creek bank and reached the water. As they touched the drake's head, it was sheer magic — his head and neck were the brightest, shiniest, most highly-polished shade of glittering iridescent green imaginable.

His narrow white collar looked freshly laundered and when he turned towards us — wow! The cravat he wore below his snowy collar and which extended well down on the front of his breast was a soft-looking rich russet.

WE WERE ALL absolutely spellbound as this handsome pair dabbled along the creek's edge, swimming from side to side and nibbling breakfast as they went along.

When the two had drifted out of our sight, we called Dorothy to alert her about the exciting visitors. Fortunately she had already spied them.

So it is that, as I keep telling myself and hard though it may be, it does pay to wake up early because these are busy, busy mornings.

Residents Invited To Tour Hospital

When the Community Hospital of Tecumseh first began its service in 1938, open house was held each year on National Hospital Day, May 12, birthday anniversary of Florence Nightingale, internationally-famous for her contribution to the development of nursing and the improvement of hospital standards.

As the years passed, Hospital Week was established, being celebrated this year May 8-14.

In observance of this week, coffee will be available in the lobby of the hospital for everyone visiting, with compliments of the hospital Auxiliary. All week, new mothers will be given miniature corsages.

On May 14, tours will be conducted by Candy Stripers and Future Nurses, beginning in the new X-ray department, laboratory department, pharmacy, emergency rooms and the resuscitation equipment.

These tours will be conducted from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. Staff members are going to be present in the various departments to explain and answer any questions. This will also be an opportunity for the people of the community to meet the new hospital superintendent and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. William Groover, who will be introduced to the visitors.

Following the tours, refreshments will be served on the court in back of the hospital, or should the weatherman be uncooperative, they will be offered in the dining room.

Great Day for City – October 6, 1937

By MARIE YOUNG

A hospital for Tecumseh was the fulfillment of a dream, which be- n many years before. The neighboring town of Adrian had a modern spital accessible for use by the Tecumseh doctors and people.

However, there were 12 miles between the two towns and on occasion, spite a cement road and rapid means of transportation, the driving time ld spell the difference between saving and losing a life in an emergency.

A number of plans were considered from time to time to solve this spital problem. One solution considered seriously was the purchase and nodeling of an older large residence dwelling and turning it into a hos- al, but this plan did not materialize.

IN SEPTEMBER OF 1934, a small industrial concern moved to Te- nseh from Hillsdale, calling itself in its new location, Tecumseh Products npany.

The company had been troubled by certain handicaps and the offi- s having faith in their product felt if given a fighting chance in another nmunity their firm could make good.

They cast about for a new location and Tecumseh accepted the chal- ge. Businessmen raised $5,000 to transfer the company and establish it e. Men of all classes labored to put the old Brewer building into shape.

Faith of the officers of the Tecumseh Products and the people of Te- nseh was soon justified. Under the leadership of President Ray W. Her- k and his loyal associates, the company progressed and expanded.

Today it ranks as the largest independent manufacturer of refrigera- n compressors in the world.

THE SUPPORT and cooperation which Tecumseh gave Mr. Herrick l his company was never forgotten and he often wondered what he might to express his gratitude and help the community.

While shaving one morning, the idea suddenly came to him that what cumseh needed more than anything else was a hospital. Ways and means bring the idea to pass turned over and over in his mind for several days.

Erecting and equipping a modern hospital would be no small task. A v nights later, which was on a Thursday early in August of 1937, Mr. Her- k had an attack of insomnia. He got up, smoked and decided that an ort must be made to secure a hospital.

THE NEXT DAY Mr. Herrick called into his office 22 citizens, some ogressive by nature, others more conservative. They represented a bal- ced cross-section of public opinion. Mr. Herrick expressed to them his oughts on the need of a hospital in Tecumseh.

One of the men present, the late Dr. Harry H. Hammel, leaped to his t with joy. This had long been a cherished dream of his and he knew at it would mean to the community. Practically everyone else agreed h the suggestion, but three or four were skeptical about the cost.

Receiving from these men approval of the hospital idea,, Mr. Herrick en laid before them his proposal:

He had estimated that the building and equipment would cost ap- oximately $38,000. Tecumseh Products and several citizens would con- bute all but $10,000 which would have to be raised from the community large. With such a start, those present felt that the dream of a hospital Tecumseh could become a reality.

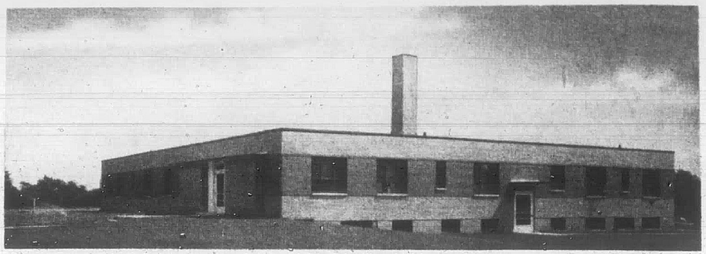
966 — NURSE MRS. HOWARD MORRIS HEADS FOR ROOM IN SOUTH WING



1938 — A HOSPITAL IS BORN IN TECUMSEH, THANKS TO CIVIC EFFORTS

These men, like the larger group which elected them, represented all shades of public opinion. Mr. Herrick, as pointed out, was president of the Tecumseh Products Company.

Mr. Belding was a funeral director of long standing in Tecumseh and a member of the board of the United Savings Bank. Dr. Hammel was an outstanding physician and surgeon with more than 20 years practice in the community.

Mr. Satterthwaite was manager of the Hayden Fuel & Supply Co., another old established business. Mr. Butler owned and operated the local Ford sales and service garage and was comparatively new in the community.

Mr. Rogers owned Tecumseh Steam Laundry, another well-known establishment, also was on the United Saving Bank board.

Mr. Schneider had a number of business interests, but his main occupation was managing the local branch of the Personal Finance Corporation and he, too, was a member of the bank board.

THE BOARD CALLED itself the Tecumseh Hospital Association and was incorporated under that name. Its purpose was purely temporary. It was to build the hospital and as soon as that task was completed, the hospital was to be turned over, debt-free, to the public and the corporation would be dissolved.

This board then selected its officers as follows:

President—Ray W. Herrick
Secretary—H. H. Hanna
Treasurer—Lester Rogers
Assistant treasurer—John R. Thompson

Mr. Hanna was in the real estate and insurance business, and Mr. Thompson was cashier and manager of the United Savings Bank. These two men were not members of the board, but they were valuable assets to it in an advisory capacity, as well as in the discharge of their assigned duties.

ON SEPTEMBER 30, 1937, the Commerce Club of Tecumseh sponsored a general meeting in the American Legion Hall to which all the business and professional men of the town were invited.

Mr. Herrick presided and the hospital idea was announced to the general public for the first time. The need of a hospital in Tecumseh was discussed.

Then he told about the organization and incorporation of the Tecumseh Hospital Association, what its job would be if the money could be raised to make up the balance needed.

Emphasis was constantly placed upon the fact that despite the large contribution of his company and certain individuals, this was to be strictly a community project.

Construction would begin just as soon as sufficient funds had been pledged to cover the entire cost. In conclusion, Mr. Herrick declared that while it would be contrary to the experience of the majority of hospitals, he felt a hospital of this sort, besides rendering the best of service, could be operated on a self-supporting basis, thus not become a burden to taxpayers.

A general discussion then ensued with unanimous approval of the whole program. A call for volunteer pledges was made and all but a few thousand dollars of the necessary total was pledged. It was felt that this could be raised by public subscription.

A NUMBER OF men volunteered and they were organized into two committees, one to approach farmers and the other the people of the village. The farmers' committee included Perry M. Hayden, L. H. Titley, B. B. Turnbull, Fay Whelan, A. W. Porter, C. W. Bailey, A. E. Norquay, Bert Ousterhout and C. W. Gilman.

The village committee was composed of F. C. Hanna, Curtiss Ashley, Charles O. Butler, Cleo Sallows, Dr. Ralph Helzerman, D. J. Carson, Lester Rogers and Leon F. Rosacrans.

The chairman then appointed a Hospital Building Committee to include R. H. Moore, Perry C. Satterthwaite, Glenn L. Tingley, Charles A. Seitz and H. W. Truesdale.

A Hospital Equipment Committee was appointed consisting of local physicians and dentists, H. H. Hammel, R. G. M. Marsh, P. B. Hardy, H. H. Loveland, William J. Penman, Arthur Brown and Ferris Hodge. Before adjournment a motion was made to meet the next week.

ON THE EVENING of Oct. 6, 1937, one week later, the second general meeting of all the men of the town, sponsored by the Commerce Club, was again held in the American Legion Hall.

Much to the joy and satisfaction of everyone, the fund-raising committees reported sufficient pledges to assure the success of the hospital project.

And thus many heads working together, many hands, fortitude, enthusiasm and faith attained a victorious goal in this worthwhile venture.

$220,000 Nursing Home Opened in 1963

A gift to the community from the Ray W. Herricks, the 25-patient Herrick Nursing Home was dedicated Dec. 2, 1963. It is connected to to the hospital proper by an enclosed corridor, with the area between this facility and the hospital's south wing being ideal for convalescents (see photo below) who wish to get some fresh air and soak up some summer sunshine. Landscaping was done as part of the Hospital Auxiliary and Garden Club project.

Hospital Personnel

To keep such a facility as the Herrick Memorial Hospital functioning at peak efficiency takes competent administration, hard work and cooperation on the part of all concerned with and employed at the institution.

William Groover is the present superintendent, and Mrs. Norma Moll is director of nurses. Those employed in the various categories which keep it running smoothly include:

Office personnel—8 full-time, 4 part-time
Housekeeping—8
Dietary and Kitchen—18 full-time, 7 part-time
Maintenance—4
Nurses—55 (some of whom are part-time)
Aides and orderlies—45
Laundry—7
Pharmacy—1
Laboratory—4 full-time, 2 part-time
X-ray—3
Medical Records—3 full-time, 1 part-time

Also under the direction of the hospital is the Nursing Home, which employs 25 people.

All these people are dedicated to the task of assisting the medical staff care for their patients in the best possible manner.

Building of Hospital and Ad

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

When Opened in 1938, There Was Room for 18 Adults, 3

By MARIE YOUNG

Location for the Community Hospital of Tecumseh, selected by the Board of Trustees, was a five and one-half-acre lot on the southeast corner of Wyandotte and Pottawatamie Sts. Situated there, the hospital would be accessible and at the same time remote from the noise and distractions of traffic and factories.

On making inquiry to find out if this land could be bought and at what price, it was discovered that Henry Ford was the owner. Negotiations were started for its purchase which terminated in Mr. Ford presenting the land as an outright gift.

Ray Boyer of Detroit was retained both as architect and builder. Construction began Oct. 19, 1937.

THE HOSPITAL WAS PLANNED and built with an eye to the future. Tecumseh was a rapidly-growing community, and the plans at the outset made provision for enlargement, should the growth continue.

The building was L-shaped, constructed entirely of brick, cement and steel, which made it strong, durable and fire-proof. Additions could readily be made to one or both ends without disrupting the original part.

While the original hospital was planned to accommodate 18 adults, three children and eight infants, the emergency room, operating room, X-ray room and obstetrical room installations were designed to take care of a 50-bed hospital. All of these things clearly show the painstaking care given by the various committees and individual members.

The hospital was to be plain, but useful, convenient, safe, comfortable and practical. Frills were sacrificed in the interest of economy, but no expense was spared in the elements affecting the hospital's efficiency and service.

WHEN THE FIRST PATIENT was admitted on May 30, 1938, the hospital was comprised of patient's quarters, reception room, hallways, office, kitchen, nurses' dining room, store room, boiler room, operating room, emergency room, doctor's dressing room, delivery room, sterilizing room, X-ray room and chart room.

The patients' quarters consisted of a men's ward, women's ward, maternity ward, nursery, children's ward, four private rooms and two semi-private rooms. These were all built generous in size so that extra beds could be placed in them if necessary.

For instance, the wards planned to accommodate five patients would actually handle six without crowding. Likewise, the private rooms could hold two beds each. Without decreasing comfort or efficiency, it was found that one bathroom connecting two private rooms would adequately take care of two private rooms, thus reducing plumbing costs.

Foresight and careful planning were also shown in the installation of a twin, low-pressure, coal-burning, stoker-fed furnace system to heat the hospital. Each boiler and stoker could easily heat the hospital alone, and together could handle a building much larger than the original hospital.

However, the twin installation was really a safety measure so that if one operating plant broke down, the other could be started immediately.

ON MAY [illegible] 1938, A FORMAL presentation of the hospital to the officials of the Village of Tecumseh was made without any indebtedness whatever. The Tecumseh Hospital Association had successfully completed its work and was dissolved.

A Board of Directors of the Tecumseh Hospital was appointed by the Village Council consisting of five members, one member appointed each year for a five-year term. This Board of Directors governs the policies of the hospital and employs the superintendent. Gertrude E. Spaulding was employed as superintendent in October, 1938.

It soon became apparent that the hospital had not been built large enough. The village provided funds for an addition by means of a $25,000 bond issue.

In January, 1941, the new facilities were opened giving the hospital a capacity of 37 beds and 16 bassinets, larger delivery rooms, a new nursery, a larger, well-ventilated kitchen where Gertrude Baker was in charge of the kitchen, serving from 1938 to 1959.

DURING ITS YEARS OF SERVICE many hands have helped to make a successful operation. From the medical staff, the nurses, bookkeeping staff, kitchen staff, lab and X-ray staff to the maintenance personnel, everyone's job was essential to keep the works going.

Four classes of Red Cross nurses' aides were trained in Tecumseh, the first being in December, 1942. Fifty-four ladies completed the course and 11,310½ hours of service were given in the four years it served.

They trained under the direction of Elizabeth Blohn, assisted by Mrs. G. A. Rathbun and Mrs. F. K. Smith, co-chairmen of the nurses' aide group. All work was volunteer and unpaid and the local corps worked entirely at the Tecumseh Hospital.

The Red Cross Nurses' Aides faithfully assisted trained nurses in care of patients during the war emergency and scarcity of nurses. It was officially disbanded in June, 1946.

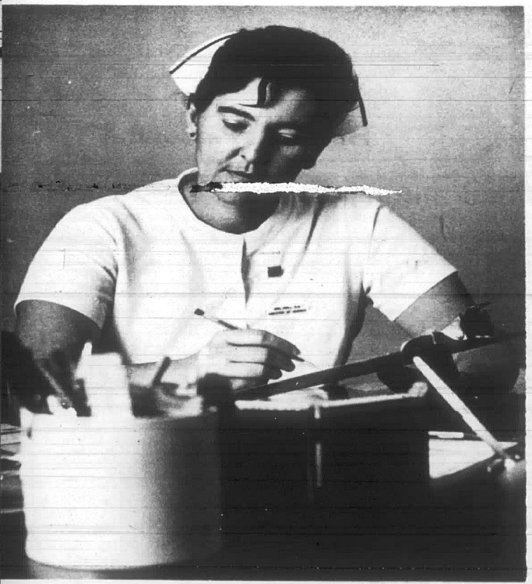
ALSO DURING THE WAR years, the hospital had Senior Cadet Nurses who affiliated at the hospital for three-month periods. Because of crowded conditions, a visiting nurse program was set up by the hospital to provide nursing care in the home enabling patients to leave the hospital earlier or for those who desired to remain at home.



Mrs. Lavern Moll is chief of hospital nurses.

Mrs. Ray Williams watches over surgical patients in the intensive-care, 10-bed recovery room, which adjoins the operating rooms.

The service was charged by the visit and paid by the patient to the hospital.

When the nurse was not busy making visitations her services would be used within the hospital. A Red Cross Home Nursing course was also offered and taught during the 1950's, and Gray Ladies trained and served in hospital under direction of Red Cross in 1956.

In June, 1948, a new auxiliary electrical unit was installed at the hospital. It was after a winter sleet storm that the hospital board decided the hospital should be self-sufficient insofar as producing electricity in an emergency.

The auxiliary power unit was completely automatic and would cut into the hospital lines when the regular current cut out, was capable of furnishing power for an indefinite period.

It is worthy to note here that the auxiliary unit was declared responsible for saving the lives of two 2-pound babies in the incubators on June 27, 1948, when there was a power break, just a few days after the auxiliary unit was installed.

ON AUGUST 16, 1951, A THIRD ADDITION was formally opened to the public enlarging the hospital to care for 55 bed patients, not including the nursery. This new addition was entirely the gift of Mr. and Mrs. Ray W. Herrick in honor of the memory of Mr. Herrick's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Herrick.

The new addition was a one-story structure and included 10 rooms, some of which were two-bed rooms, a nurses' station, utility room and solarium. The basement of the new wing was to be utilized for storage. This annex made the hospital the second largest hospital in Lenawee County.

At this time the Board of Trustees under the chairmanship of E. M. Campbell recommended, and the village council approved, that the name of the hospital be changed from Tecumseh Hospital to Herrick Memorial Hospital, which automatically changed the name of the Ladies' Auxiliary correspondingly.

THE CONTINUED GROWTH OF TECUMSEH and the surrounding areas contributed to the need for larger facilities which were made possible through an anonymous gift. Following the best possible advice, the new facilities were planned for service facilities large enough to cover even further expansion if that became necessary. The addition would increase the hospital to 76-bed capacity, plus an increase in bassinets.

The new addition was a two-story section. The first floor included maternity beds, nurseries, utility rooms for the unit, and a new in-patient lobby and business office area. The second floor includes operating rooms, adjacent utility area, floor, office, locker rooms for the nurses and physicians working on that floor, two delivery rooms, labor rooms, and a central supply and sterilizing area.

In addition the boiler room was placed in a separate building on the south side. The official dedication of this addition was held on Jan. 14, 1954, and an open house was held on the following Sunday with more than 900 persons attending.

DURING THESE BUSY AND ACTIVE years about the local hospital, two men loved and respected by the whole community passed away. In 1951, Dr. P. B. Hardy, dean of the physicians in Lenawee County and a practicing doctor for more than 58 years, died in Herrick Memorial Hospital following an extended illness.

Then in 1953, Dr. Harry H. Hammel died suddenly at the hospital of a heart attack. It was under his direction that the hospital was increased in size and became one of outstanding importance in the county after the financial gift of Ray W. Herrick in memory of his parents.

In 1955 Clarence Gilman, president of the hospital board announced the resignation of Miss Spaulding as superintendent effective May 1 of that year. Orrie Gilbert was employed to fill this position, which he held until his resignation this spring, when William Groover was employed and is the present superintendent.

In 1957, Herrick Memorial Hospital was placed on the accreditation list of the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals. The placement on this list meant that the hospital had submitted to a survey of its facilities and its patient care. It constituted a badge of recognition which the hospital could display to the community to prove it conformed to high standards of patient care.

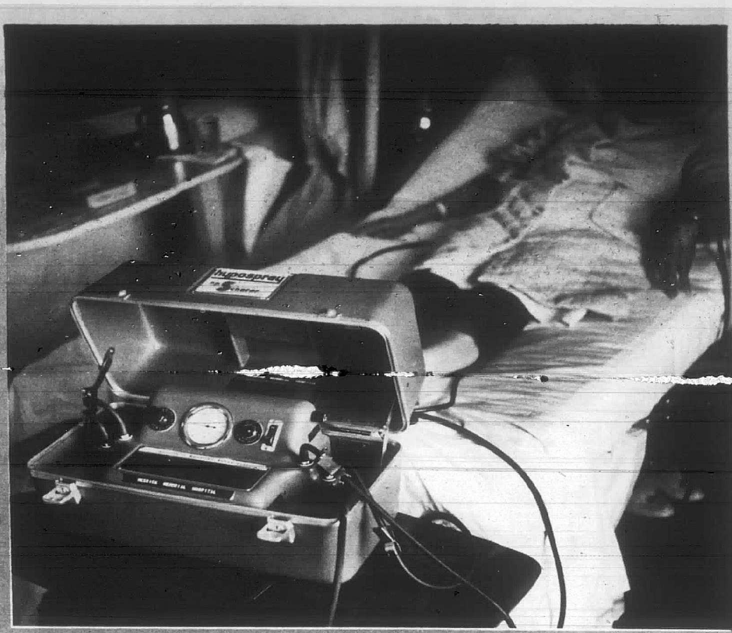
GROUND-BREAKING FOR THE FOURTH addition to the hospital took place in 1957. The addition increased the bed capacity to nearly 100. A basement and two-story wing was added to the south side of the building.

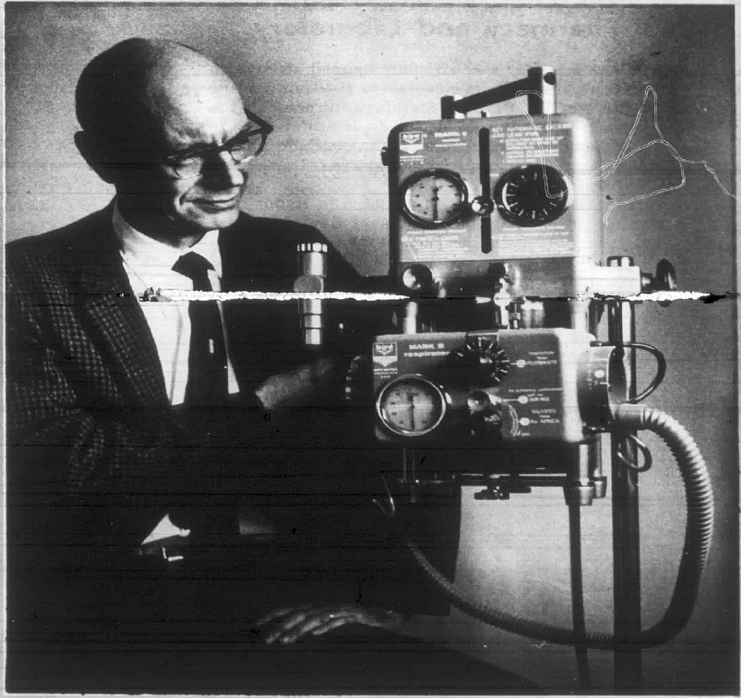
Some of the main changes which took place with this addition involved moving of the dining room and kitchen to the new basement; all the maternity rooms and the nursery were moved to the second floor adjoining the delivery and labor rooms and the former maternity section was remodeled for surgical patients and the nursery for pediatrics. Dedication and open house for this new addition were held in May, 1948.

The present addition and remodeling that has just been completed added rooms to the wing on the south side of the hospital, expanded X-ray facilities, emergency facilities, pharmacy and laboratory space.



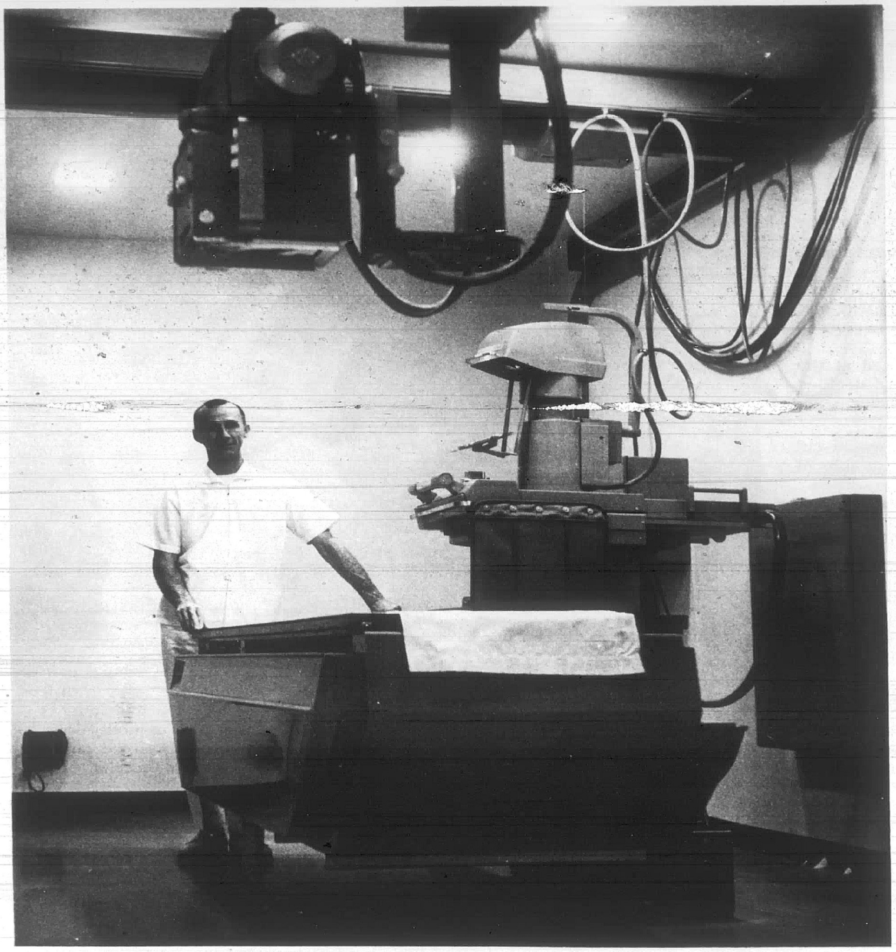
This automatic rotating tourniquet for treatment of acute heart failures is part of the $12,000 in equipment purchased for the hospital by the Auxiliary. With four blood pressure cuffs attached to the patient's arms and legs, the tourniquet conserves circulating blood during dire emergencies. The total array of modern cardio-respiratory equipment donated by the Auxiliary will include a two-bed care unit for heart and breathing emergencies, giving Herrick Memorial Hospital one of the most modern facilities for care of heart attack cases.

Automatic Equipment Guards Lives of Those Seriously Ill



New Herrick Memorial Hospital Administrator William R. Groover examines another recent addition to the lineup of equipment, a mobile Bird respirator used in surgery and also available to go into patient rooms for up-to-date treatment of many chronic respiratory diseases.

New X-Ray Department Is Opened



Ogland Lay with one of the hospital's recently-installed $32,000 X-ray units.

The late Dr. H. H. Hammel really began the first X-ray department at Tecumseh Hospital in 1938, with office nurse, Mary Louise Leighton Futscher, operating the machine until the latter part of 1946.

In September of 1946 a 35 milliampere x-ray machine was loaned to the hospital by Dr. M. R. Blanden, and at this time Ogland Lay was employed both as X-ray and laboratory technician.

In February, 1948, a full x-ray department was installed at a cost of about $5,000.

Drs. Myron Means, Murray Goodrich and William Peck of Toledo were engaged to supervise the X-ray work. Mr. Lay was assisted by Alice Sherman Williams, R. N., in both X-ray and lab.

In 1949, Dr. Donald A. Parker assumed responsibilities as radiologist and continues in this capacity.

In 1955, a standard portable was given to the hospital by the H. H. Hammel family. In the same year Ray W. Herrick gave a gift of $60,000 to equip the X-ray department with a new 300 milliampere X-ray machine and a 250 Maxitron X-ray therapy unit. In 1965, a new portable was purchased to replace the original portable.

In the fall of 1965, construction was begun on a new X-ray department, which has just been completed. Equipment consists of two 300 milliampere machines with image amplification and with ceiling suspended tubes for wider range of use, each costing approximately $32,000.

A completely new darkroom was constructed, including a stainless $12,000 automatic X-ray processor.

Present technologists under the direction of Dr. Parker are Mr. Lay and Mrs. Catherine Choske, R. T.

Pharmacy and Laboratory

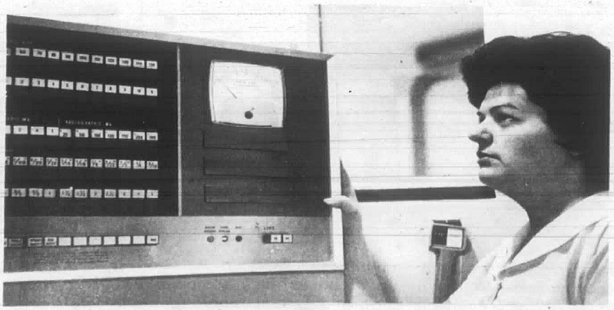
A laboratory was officially opened at Herrick Memorial Hospital in November, 1946, under the direction of Dr. Bernard Steinberg, director of the Research Laboratories at Toledo Hospital.

Ogland Lay was named technician and during the first full year of operation in 1947, there were 5,602 tests completed.

In 1956, Dr. H. C. Bryant of Ann Arbor took over as pathologist and director of the laboratory. Those employed in the laboratory at present are Stuart Jhung, Brenda Erwin, Marilyn Kughn and Caroline Renschler and part-time employee Laura Jenson.

Last year approximately 50,000 tests were performed.

The first hospital pharmacist was named in 1959 and at present LaMoyne Rost handles this responsibility. Approximately 15,000 prescriptions are filled per year at the hospital.



Mrs. Richard Reel, X-ray secretary, studies control board.

Mrs. George Choske checks X-ray film developed by $10,000 automatic processor.

Police Situation Grows Worse, Sgt. Skinner Tells Council

By JIM LINCOLN

Clerk Naomi Sallows polled councilmen five times Monday night before the 1966-67 budget was approved.

It was that kind of evening.

The special session, a public hearing for adoption of the budget, was dominated by pleas from the police department for more money and more help.

Gene Skinner, sergeant in the local department, was spokesman and bargaining agent for the police, who were eventually turned down by Council on all counts.

Tecumseh's police department is now expected to join a labor union, an affiliate of the AFL-CIO, in another effort to increase salaries and employment for one more patrolman.

Sgt. Skinner reviewed police problems for the city officials, pointing out that the dispatcher's desk on the third shift, 11 p.m. to 7 a.m., is sometimes left unattended due to lack of help.

He said residents seeking police aid during this time

Long and Short

By TOM RIORDAN

An untold element of heroism regarding the Riga tragedy is reported for the first time in The Blissfield Advance this week.

The story was uncovered by Alys Saxton, assistant editor.

Two volunteer firemen, one from Riga and the other from Blissfield, donned masks and both went into the cistern, knowing it was filled with lethal gas, to remove bodies of victims.

Ned Salsbury, a Riga farmer and member of that town's department, went in first, bringing up his chief, Clyde A. Filter.

Following Mr. Salsbury's descent, James Hueter of Blissfield went down and brought out the body of Jesse E. Bowman.

At this point, Dr. Gordon Shannon, a Blissfield physician, conferred with Mr. Hueter, "Jim, don't you think it's hydrogen sulfide?"

An industrial engineer for General Tire Co. in Toledo, Mr. Heuter has run tests on plastics with various chemical substances. He replied he was sure it was.

With this, Dr. Shannon ordered that no more men could go into the cistern and other bodies had to be recovered with grappling hooks.

The deadly gas can kill in 30 seconds.

"If there are any nominations for heroism, they should go to these two firemen," Dr. Shannon told Mrs. Saxton. "Both knew they were dealing with lethal gas."

INCIDENTALLY, Alys found herself chief of staff for this issue in the absence of her boss, Duane DeLoach, who is honeymooning this week.

Duane and Rosemary Cummins of Marquette exchanged vows there Saturday and will be returning to Blissfield this weekend.

The new Mrs. DeLoach, who has been on the Northern Michigan University staff, is completing work on her doctorate at the University of Michigan.

No Rush for School Board Race

Unless there's a last-minute rush for petitions, there will be race for seats on the Tecumseh School Board next month.

Incumbents Orville Bishop and Dr. Donald Phelan are running for the two four-year term seats, and Graham Fleming is seeking a one-year post.

Present board member Robert H. Moore is not running.

Petitions are available at the Board of Education office and must be filed by 4 p.m. Saturday.

POLICE SITUATION

would be unable to contact the department, let alone obtain services of an officer.

In a recent incident, Sgt. Skinner said, the department was two hours late in answering a gun complaint in the west end of town.

Tecumseh has two officers and no dispatcher working the third trick. About two weeks ago, a patrolman on this shift stopped three men in a car just outside the city limits and had to call for help.

Sgt. Skinner said he had to leave the department office and assist the other patrolman.

Police Chief Murell Clark substantiated Skinner's remarks and told officials they've needed more patrolmen for two or three years.

Sgt. Skinner asked Council for a happy medium in setting wages, saying the budget salaries are not sufficient to employ another officer and not enough to keep some of the present officers from leaving.

Last week, a veteran officer announced his intentions to leave.

"Sweepers and common laborers make more than a dispatcher," according to Sgt. Skinner. The city's present pay for a dispatcher will be $64 a week.

UNDER THE new budget, a cadet or new officer will start out at $96 a week with a tops of $105. After he's made patrolman status, he will earn $110 to $125 for a 44-hour week.

Sergeants will get $129 to $132 a week. All of these salaries are about $4 a week less than asked by the police.

If the police proposal had been accepted, it would have cost the city about $8,400, of which $7,000 would have been necessary to hire a patrolman, pay his salary, send him to police schools and set aside a $75 clothing allowance.

Councilman George McCombs moved that the police proposal be accepted and costs spread over the budget. He and Dr. Carlton Cook voted for the proposal, all others against it.

RAY PUFFER then moved that the city retain the salary schedule under the budget plan and employ another patrolman. This motion passed with Mr. McCombs and Mayor Harold Easton dissenting.

A motion to adopt the budget as amended then drew a unanimous "no" vote.

After returning from a brief executive session, Dr. Carlton Cook moved to reconsider the motion to employ another patrolman. All voted "yes".

Councilman Cook then moved that the budget be adopted as prepared by the city manager. All voted "yes", except Mr. Puffer.

Sgt. Skinner then told officials that the department would join a union in the near future, and be back to bargain again.

"Wish you hadn't said that, Gene, it's like a threat," remarked Mayor Easton.

Sgt. Skinner replied, "It's no threat, we have no other alternative."

IT WAS apparent during the hassle, that Council did not want to raise millage beyond 11.6 although the city can go to 15 mills without a vote of the people.

The 1966-67 budget is based on 11.6 mills, and the police proposal would have cost about .4 mill. The budget allows for an approximate wage increase of about 10% for all city employees, including the police.

You Told Us

By DOROTHY GRIGG
Herald Society Editor

It's OK to break records of some kind, but is it really worthwhile to freeze us all to death, just to have the coldest, cold ever recorded in May?

Foolish folk like the Griggs have already lost their early plantings, some aspargus has blackened and turned to rubber and the poor fruit men are having an awful time of it.

Bill German spent all of Monday night smudging and spraying his peach trees, in full bloom, with water.

For peaches it is the most critical time, but the apples are in the pre-pink stage with few blossoms so they probably haven't been hurt yet.

Dear, dear weatherman, please warm it up a bit.

Varieties in Music

The air in the Tecumseh High School gym was electrified with music such as "Mississippi Suite", "Selections by Mancini", Cole Porter's "Begin the Beguine", "Oasis", "Design for Autumn", and the concert march by Sousa, "University".

Capacity crowds both Friday and Saturday nights enjoyed the two-hour program in a night club atmosphere, seated at tables decorated with Maypoles.

BAND BOOSTER parents and girls from the Cadet Band served food and soft drinks to the audience as they watched and listened.

The program was under the stage direction of Doug Hall, who was also the master of ceremonies.

The audience enjoyed the well-rehearsed "Rock Heads", a chorus line of young men and a light-toed quartet of girls doing the dance of the Grecian Urn. Both dances had to be seen to be believed.

A group of prisoners (escapes from the Band) had their moment of truth and laughter.

Instrumentalists included the clarinet solo, Sherree Harper and Debbie Miller, flute duet and vocalist, and Jeanette Mannino, clarinet solo.

MUCH CREDIT goes to the various decorating and planning committees, which involved almost everyone in the 95-piece band.

Doug concluded the Saturday program with an auction of cakes and pies, a sense of humor and a fine profit.

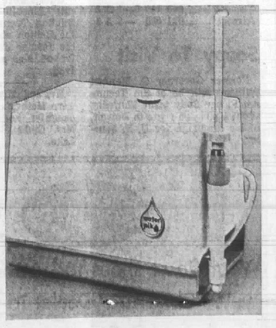
WATER PIK
the great new aid to dental health



HOW DOES WATER PIK HELP YOU KEEP YOUR TEETH CLEAN? Years of research have resulted in a new and higher standard of regular personal dental care . . . Water Pik is like no other dental aid for use in the home. It does two very important things (1) through the use of a searching, pulsating jet stream of water, removes virtually all of the residual debris from the mouth (2) and the stimulating pulsation of the jet stream on the gum tissues, Water Pik effects circulation and contributes to the maintenance of firm and healthy gums.

WATER PIK WORKS! The jet of pulsating water — 20 surges to each second — loosens and washes out even impacted debris. The adjustable jet stream is quite apparent every time, even after brushing your teeth . . . it will still wash out of your mouth and into the sink an unbelievable amount of debris. There are many other features of Water Pik . . . a new family aid for dental care.

The petitions, addressed to either Morris A. Rosenthall, John Herring or John Keller, read:

"I feel that careful consideration be given to any change made in millage taken from the schools in Lenawee County. Our children are a more important asset to our county than an airport, Medicare center, new courthouse or building surpluses.

"The children of Lenawee County need your continued support of their schools to receive an adequate education."

Portable Classrooms

Classes are being held in the two new mobile class rooms located just east of the Lenawee Institute.

The building, completely self contained, was ordered in June of 1965, but the Panel Fab Co. of Miami, Fla., which makes the portable school rooms, was not able to make delivery until March of this year.

In three weeks time after delivery, the building was ready for use and children and teachers moved in at Easter time.

Carpeting, probably the first in a regular classroom in Lenawee County, is a feature of the new facilities. It has a delightful softening effect on the bright, cheery rooms with windows on both sides.

Norval Bovee said that a study is being made of the electric heat and also a comparison of the carpeting to tile. The building is two steel skins put together with corrugated material between to offer rigid support and insulation, three inches on the sides and six on the ceiling. Pictured above is Mrs. Robert Tuttle with her fourth grade. Mrs. Bernita Sanders' third grade room occupies the other room.

Everyone Take Part

Everywhere in Michigan these days, people are talking and living the glories of their state.

May 15-21 is Michigan Week.

Committees, schools and groups of all kinds have been planning the events and activities that will take place during this 13th annual state celebration, whose main purpose is to focus attention on the greatness of Michigan and its individual communities.

The theme this year is "Michigan—Dynamic in World Progress."

Every citizen is expected to take part in Michigan Week, wherever he is and in any way that comes naturally — using the occasion to learn more about the state, its people and places and to join in selling the advantages of Michigan

More and more Michigan Week is being observed in neighborhoods and in homes.

This year families have been urged by the state chairman, Paul Penfield, Detroit advertising executive, to have one important meal during the week made up entirely of Michigan foods.

Every church is expected to observe Spiritual Foundations Day Sunday with recognition of the early history of the church and the part which the faith it represents has played in the development of Michigan.

► Monday — Our Government Day

► Tuesday—Our Heritage Day

► Wednesday — Our Livelihood Day

Newest Business in City Is Haute Couture Salon

By MAXINE CALHOUN

Two designing young men, Evel Garrido, a native of Spain, and Bill Dean Heimerdinger of Clinton, will launch a new mecca for fashionable women, Exclusives EvelDean (pronounced Aveldayon)

To open May 23 and 24, the shop is located over Don's Beef Buffet.

The talented pair will custom design original fashions.

The world of haute couture may, at first, seem incongruous in a moderate-sized midwest community, yet great interest has already been generated in the budding enterprise.

Evel and Bill's diligent search for authentic antiques has resulted in a decor of Spanish Moorish artistically arranged in the spacious second-floor rooms.

The original natural oak floors are bathed in light from the ceiling-high domed windows. High-backed red velvet chairs, a massive black carved chest and period lamps are arranged against the walls of natural red brick and interspersed with large fresh foliage plants.

A LARGE FITTING room is luxuriously carpeted in deep blue, and wallpapered in ivory patterned velvet on silk, with furniture completing the rococo decor of the Louis XV period.

Ask to be measured for a gown —and milady may be startled to hear, "Hips—100!"

Trained in Europe, the couturiers figure all measurements in centimeters, in the European manner, then Bill meticulously fashions a paper pattern from the intricate sketch prepared by designer Evel.

Pieces of delicate fabrics, laces and handsome woolens, imported from Europe line the storage room near Bill's domain—the cutting and sewing room.

It is there the sketch is translated into reality, a beautifully fitting gown—the only one like it in the world. This simple elegance may be had at Exclusives EvelDean — at a price from $80 up.

Few, if any, haute couture houses in the United States will offer such designer service. Most New York designers later retail copies throughout the country.

Often bringing a beautiful length of fabric, obtained while traveling in a distant land, their clients began to come from Chicago, Detroit, Dearborn, Ann Arbor, Toledo, Owosso, Adrian, Tecumseh and Clinton.

THE SAGA of how these two debonair bachelors traveled half way across the world to meet in Germany—then to come to America—just on a visit, and to be swept into such an unusual vocation reads like Jules Verne's "Around the World in 80 Days."

Evel Garrido, 31, was born in Castilla, Spain. An only child, he grew up and attended school and college in Barcelona.

As a youngster, Evel demonstrated his natural artistic ability. His illustrations were published in a children's book while he was only 14 years old.

His father, owner of a contracting firm in Spain, wished Evel to become an architect. After the first year in college, Evel had other ideas and no longer liked the choice of architecture for a career. To avoid further disagreement with his father, young Garrido left home.

While completing his college education, Evel worked in a beauty school and soon supported himself as a hair stylist. Among his clients was the Princess Soroya of Iran.

At this time, he did some free-lance designing in two fashion salons in Barcelona.

The divergent paths of Evel and Bill crossed in Munich some three years later — where Evel had gone to live and work as a hair stylist.

RED-HAIRED Bill Dean Heimerdinger, 30, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Heimerdinger of Clinton.

Raised with four brothers and three sisters on a dairy farm, Bill displayed evidence of his musical ability while still a boy. He learned to play the violin by ear and was sought after as a vocal soloist in the Congregational Church.

While his brothers were settling onto farms in the area, Bill kept saying he didn't plan to be a farmer.

When he graduated from Clinton High school, he declared confidently, "I'll never work at anything I don't enjoy doing!"

"Just wait—you'll see—." Bill's family mused, while he went blithely off for a look at job possibilities in Florida.

He promptly landed a spot in a resort hotel in Miami and was soon teaching dancing in an Arthur Murray Studio.

This was a gay life—and a good one—until Uncle Sam beckoned, and he went off to the army.

Trained as a radio operator, Bill was stationed for 18 months with the army in Munich, where he was asked to teach dancing to American dependents at the base.

WITH ONLY one brief visit home, Bill remained in Germany for 3½ years after his tour of duty was completed.

Bill's partner for modern and ballroom dancing, Miss Elin Aarthun, introduced him to her hair stylist, Evel Garrido, and they soon became good friends.

While touring in an army musical, Bill met Tam Devere, with whom he studied Spanish dancing. Joined by Evel, the trio danced in many night clubs in Germany, Italy and Austria.

When the trio needed dance costumes, they designed and made their own.

At Evel's urging, Bill studied cutting and sewing at the School of Arts in Munich for two years.

Wishing to learn another method of women's tailoring, Bill and Evel went to live with Evel's parents, Senor and Senora De-Garrido in Spain. At the end of six months training in Barcelona, Bill earned a diploma of honor, which entitled him to give instruction in the Barta system of cutting.

BEFORE DECIDING how and where, in Europe, to put their combined skills to use they decided to visit the Heimerdingers in Michigan.

Arriving in December 1964, they were soon caught up in the whirl of small town social affairs.

Bill was asked to direct the choirs in his home church. He was appalled at the awkwardness of the dances which American youth were doing, so Bill began to teach young people in Clinton and Tecumseh how to have fun dancing gracefully.

Meanwhile the Spanish visitor was becoming acquainted with American customs and learning to adapt his school boy English to the American idiom.

With a knowledge of four other languages—Spanish, French, Italian and German—Evel has found English a fairly easy language to learn.

But Evel had only a visitor's visa, which forbid him to accept employment.

To fill the time he offered to help Bill with the choreography for the Clinton Band show in 1965 and, as these things will—it quickly mushroomed into quite a stage production involving rather elaborate costumes for the dance chorus.

The enterprising pair offered to design and cut the costumes to be sewn by mothers of the girl dancers.

Their skillful handling of the tricky flounced skirts and off-the-shoulder gowns awed the more cautious home-style seamstresses, who worked on them and word of their talent spread.

FOLLOWING their beautifully-staged Spanish dance performance at the Clinton Alumni banquet last spring, they were in demand at the Tecumseh Country Club.

Friends began to beseige the novice couturiers to make something for them. One wanted a frock for her daughter's graduation reception, another asked for a white suit to wear on a visit to Hawaii.

When Bill Hannas of Tecumseh began to plan their daughter Linda's wedding, they decided that the mother of the bride and Mrs. Don Smith, hostess for the reception at the Country Club, would wear long gowns designed by Evel and Dean.

JUST WHEN it seemed there was a demand for their talent right here in the U. S., Evel's visitor's visa was due to expire—in August.

Evel's new American friends hurried to sign petitions, while others sought legal advice, to help him to stay in the United States.

They enlisted the aid of Congressman Weston Vivian to help speed the passage through Congress of an amendment to the immigration law, which would allow immigrants to come to the U. S. without regard for quotas for each country.

Meanwhile, Congressman Vivian was preparing a private bill to Congress specifically to allow Evel Garrido to remain here.

For now, he has a visa that permits him to stay and work until that private bill is acted upon in Congress, perhaps, a year or two. The new immigration act passed by Congress last October will go into effect in 1968 and it may provide a solution to Evel's problem.

He wants to remain in America and to become a U. S. citizen.

WHILE GETTING the new business established this winter, Evel Garrido has been engaged as a hair stylist in the exclusive "Anthony's on the Hill" salon in Grosse Pointe Farms.

Designer Evel declares, "Many fashions today make women look ridiculous—like clowns, especially when the overweight girl and often the mature woman wears her hemline above the knee."

About the controversial hemline, he said, "I don't think designers have the right to set any certain length of hemline to an extreme—each woman must wear what is best for her figure."

It is satisfying to create and help bring out this beauty—not destroy it. In herself, woman is beauty."

Describing his designs, he said, "Simplicity in lines, impeccable cut, and above all, the proper design for the woman's figure and character."

He concluded his remarks by quoting the directness of Nina Ricci, haute couture salons, Genevieve Antoine Dariaux, who said, "Elegance is a privilege of age."

WHEN EVEL said he liked most to design "night gowns" his American partner hastened to make the correction, "He means evening gowns!"

They have a definite flair for suits with a hint of the Spanish detail, versatile daytime costumes, and would like to try their hand at wedding gowns.

The public is invited to attend the open house at Exclusives EvelDean, Monday and Tuesday, May 23 and 24 from 11 a.m. to 9 p.m.

Watch It Boaters

Early season boaters are advised by the State Police to double precautions against upsets and other type of water accidents because of an increased exposure threat.

Experience has shown that cool spring weather appreciably lessens survival chances for boating accident victims even if lifesaving devices are worn.

Boaters are urged to match motor horsepower to boat size, to avoid overloading boats, to watch for sudden changes in weather and heed storm warning information and to follow all boat safety rules.

The caution was coupled with a report that the State Police underwater recovery squad is now up to full strength of 40 for the 1966 water activity season.

These men are assigned to 29 posts throughout the state. Assistance in water accidents can be obtained by notifying any State Police post or other law enforcement agency.

The State Police divers are all certified American Red Cross water safety instructors. Each is fully equipped for underwater searches, including lights.

For assignments under special conditions the department has available amphibious trucks based at East Lansing headquarters and Brighton.

Michigan's water accidents in 1965 took the lives of 245 persons and injured 235 others.

FISHER BODY FROM AIR — If you were a bird, flying at about 500 feet, some warm spring morning, this is how the Fisher Body plant along Occidental Hwy. would appear to you.

Tipton Family Making Pond

Several members of the Lenawee County Soil Conservation District are converting waste lands on their farms into improved wildlife areas and attractive home recreational spots while also improving rural beauty.

These landowners are receiving technical and engineering assistance from the Soil Conservation Service.

In some cases, there is cost-sharing through the Agricultural Conservation Program of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

Warren Phillips of Blissfield has an unproductive deep sandy bank along the Hill drain and an odd area along the Raisin river subject to flooding.

He is converting these areas to wildlife refuge areas by planting several hundred feet of Autumn Olive and other shrub hedgerows along with scattered groups of pine.

MR. AND MRS. Harry Travis of Tipton have a small mosquito-infested woodland swamp near their house that has been the source of much discomfort, as well as being unsightly.

They will excavate a deep water fish and swimming pond on the site. The area around will be cleared of undesirable brush and replanted to planned groups of shrubs and trees to provide more suitable wildlife cover and food to improve the natural beauty of the area.

FR. PAUL HICKEY has a huge gully through the middle of his 40-acre farm east of Hudson. He plans to construct an earth dam across this gully to create a 2.1 acre deepwater pond for fish and wildlife.

John Alten of Medina Township had a tile draining a low area accidentally plugged several years ago.

A 3.5-acre shallow lake was formed that soon was a regular stopping place for ducks and geese. They are also planting shrubs and small groups of spruce and pine.

DONALD MEYERS, northeast of Adrian, has a small springy marsh that he plans to excavate and develop into a fish pond and picnic area.

Information on similar developments on your lands and assistance available can be obtained from the Soil Conservation Service, 103 Federal Building, in Adrian.

You may save $6 to $8 per acre with Dow Anhydrous Ammonia: lowest cost nitrogen in the field.

The reason is, anhydrous ammonia gives you far more nitrogen per pound than any other nitrogen fertilizer. Which means it takes far less Dow ANHYDROUS AMMONIA to do the job than it does with any other form of nitrogen fertilizer.

If you're planting corn on corn, it will take 150 to 200 pounds of nitrogen per acre to decay the old stalks and still have the nitrogen you need for high yields. Supply this nitrogen with Dow ANHYDROUS AMMONIA and you may save as much as $6 to $8 an acre. And boost crop yield quality and feed grain protein content while you do it. It's so long-lasting, one application is all you need. See us today for details. And save some money for a change.

WHEREAS this Council deems certain prospective action of the Michigan State Legislature to be of extreme concern as being measures which infringe upon the right of Home Rule Cities to govern themselves: and

WHEREAS the centralization of political power is considered by this Council to be the greatest threat to individual freedom present in the United States today, whether such centralization be in the Federal Government or in the State Government and this Council deeming it an absolute basic premise to good government — and free government — that legislative prerogatives be confined to the lowest possible political level consistent with efficient administration and over all efficacy; and

WHEREAS a number of proposed measures before the Michigan Legislature seeks to impose State Control upon certain of such prerogatives of city government and for which there seems no valid reason for State infringement.

NOW, THEREFORE, THE CITY OF TECUMSEH RESOLVES:

1. That House Bills 3364 (Term of Mayor), 3547 (Public Meetings), 2643 (Police-Fire Integration), 3485 (Standardized Procedures), 3182 (Police-Fire Parity) and 2869 and 3354 (Compulsory Arbitration) are officially deemed pernicious prospective legislation and contrary both to the concept of free government as to the continued maintenance of Home Rule.

2. That the Clerk be instructed to forward a copy of this Resolution to: State Senator Gilbert E. Bursley, State Senator Haskell L. Nichols and State Representative Rollo O. Conlin and Governor George Romney, with the request that each of such persons advise this Council immediately of his position with reference to such proposed legislation; and with the invitation to each that this Municipality will entertain with pleasure any program suggested by any of such persons which will tend to delegate to Home Rule cities those functions which have been usurped by the State in the past.

AYES: Unanimous.

NAYS: None.

RESOLUTION DECLARED ADOPTED.

Motion Burns and seconded Cook to adjourn the meeting. Motion carried unanimously.

Harold Easton, Mayor.
Naomi Sallows, Clerk.

GOVERNOR ROMNEY REPORTS

There has been a shift in the mood of the college and university students in recent years. If there ever was an "age of apathy" on the campus, it has been replaced by an "age of activism." More and more college students are showing that they want to get involved, directly, in the problems of the world around them.

Often, this new activism contains a large element of frustration. Too often, students who want to change the world and have a direct personal impact on the world's problems feel overwhelmed by the sheer size of the "system" and the complexity of the problems.

Too often, they feel ananymous and insignificant. Too often, they thrash around aimlessly in one noisy protest after another, rejecting everything, and contributing little or nothing to the solution of problems.

EVEN SOME of the quiet ones — the students who don't join the marches and never get arrested — have fallen victim to the same sense of powerlessness.

They know something's wrong — they sense a vacuum of meaning in their lives and the lives of others — but they don't see any way out.

All this is symptomatic of a deeper problem. Too many vital decisions in our society, and the power to make them, are becoming farther and farther removed from the people and their direct control.

In my lifetime, for example, I have seen the federal government moving in, taking over, and wiping out local and private control by the people. When individuals lose command over their own destinies, progress slows and opportunity declines. When concentrated power grows, individual aimlessness increases.

IN MY OPINION, we don't have to worry in the future about having enough government. We're going to have plenty of government.

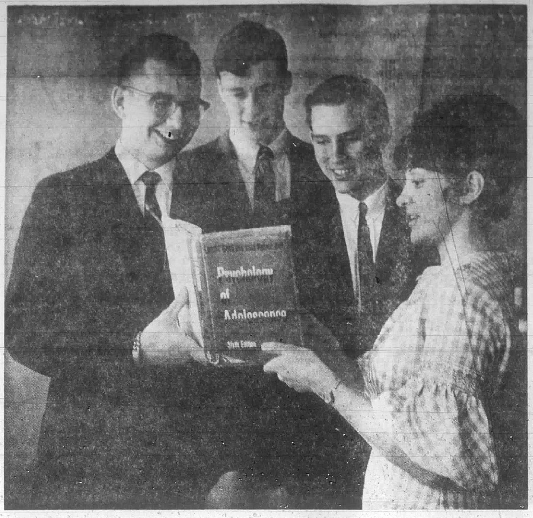
But we do have to worry about whether we're going to have enough personal responsibility, family responsibility, and private institutional responsibility — the primary forces that built our state and nation.

I believe that the gravest threats to the future of our country are decline in religious conviction, decline in moral character, decline in responsible citizenship, and deterioration of family life.

If we're ever going to overcome our mounting human and social problems, we must call on the total resources of the people. A program which relies solely or even primarily on government and money will fail.

But a program that uses every tool we have — private, voluntary, cooperative, governmental, federal, state, and local — cannot fail, because it will be a people's program and not just a governmental program.

This is the challenge in our state as we work together for total Michigan Progress.



SPEAK IN COLLEGE PANEL — Four Tecumseh High School seniors were a part of a teenage panel at Siena Heights College last Thursday. Steve Hollar, Tim Dickinson, Terry Lawson and Janis Reed gave the teenagers' side of moral and religious development to a class of education seniors and graduate students.

LBJ Views Proposed Site for Atomic Lab

President Lyndon B. Johnson had a brief aerial look at Michigan's proposed site for the Atomic Energy Commission's proposed atomic particle accelerator laboratory last week.

As Air Force One, the Presidential plane, lifted off from Detroit Metropolitan Airport, Congressman Weston Vivian pointed out to the President the location of the Northfield Township site, praised the site's scientific qualifications and restress Michigan's interest in having the accelerator locate here.

Rep. Vivian and other members of the Michigan Congressional delegation accompanied the President on the special flight from Washington to attend funeral services for the late Senator Patrick V. McNamara.

'Husbands Are Human'

A play, "Husbands Are Human", was presented for the Friendly and Welcome Classes of the Friends Church May 5 with Mrs. Perry Hayden in charge of drama night.

The cast of characters was:

Lita Clark, bride-elect — Mrs. Leland Fogelsong

Mrs. Clark, her mother — Mrs. Clarence Brock

Mrs. Thatcher — Mrs. Lillian Hoagland

Mrs. Shute — Mrs. Hayden

Mrs. Downey — Mrs. Thomas Hamilton, members of a sewing club.

Hazel Hughes — Mrs. Roland Mohr

Blanche Palmer — Mrs. Clyde Bailey, making a survey.

The bride-elect witnessed a survey of likes and dislikes of husbands and nearly gave up the idea of getting married, but finally concluded that she had found the perfect man.

FORTY-FIVE attended the meeting and program with the meeting and program with the Friendly Class entertaining Welcome members.

Mrs. Roland Mohr presented devotions and read an appropriate poem about "Mother" and scripture.

Naomi Sallows conducted the business session. Mabel Lockwood ,teacher of the Welcome Class, presented several recorded musical selections, including an Ernie Ford one to which the group sang.

Flower decorated cup cakes and spring colored Jellos were served at a yellow covered table, centered with spring flowers and yellow and pink lighted tapers.

MAY BASKETS filled with candies and nuts were presented to the guests.

Mrs. Oscar Meads and Mrs. Jennie Slater served tea and coffee.

Mrs. Kate Love, oldest mother and member of the class, was presented with a corsage.

Mrs. Sallows and Miss Lockwood were the hostesses.

Youngsters To Perform in Program

"Be My Disciples" will be the theme of the annual Children's Day program to be held during the morning worship service Sunday at the Methodist Church.

Children from the nursery through the sixth grade will participate in addition to the Junior choir under the direction of Barbara Wood.

Harry Stanifer, church school superintendent, states that the youngsters will be directed by their grade class teachers.

Following the program a refreshment hour will be held in the social room of the church, sponsored by the Senior High Methodist Youth Fellowship.

Adults Tell How Beliefs Effect Works

Senior High Youth Fellowship of the Methodist Church recently completed two panels on the subject of Christian vocations.

The first panel consisted of Pat Meadows, president of the United Savings Bank; R. C. Crippen, a research chemist with the Stauffer Chemical Co.; and Mrs. Donald Rodehaver, a public school teacher.

The second week, the panel members included David Criss, funeral director at Proctor's Funeral Home, and the Rev. Robert Ward, pastor of the Adrian Methodist Church.

Each guest was asked to state briefly what his job involved and how his own personal Christian beliefs offected his work.

Following this the youth were given the opportunity of asking questions.

The Rev. Donald Porteous moderated the discussion. Mrs. William M. Steele, Jr., is the adult sponsor of the group.

WHO SPEAKS FOR THE NEGRO by Robert Penn Warren. Mr. Warren traveled thousands of miles and spent many days in Mississippi, Louisiana, Tennessee, Georgia, and North Carolina, and in such northern cities as New York, Philadelphia, and Cleveland, holding extensive informal conversations with Negro leaders, known and unknown, young and old, who had no advance briefing on the topics of discussion. The talks were recorded on tape and their most significant parts are reproduced here verbatim.

Sir Edmund Hillary tells of the Himalayan Schoolhouse Expedition and the assaults on two great unclimbed peaks in this dramatic and often amusing story of a fulfilment of a promise to repay the Sherpas with schools, water systems and medical aid. His book is called SCHOOLHOUSE IN THE CLOUDS and is illustrated with many colorful photographs.

Hebb Leading Batting Attack

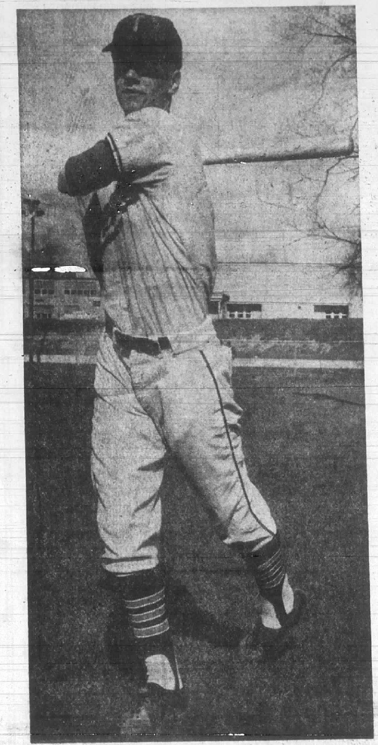
Batting at a torrid .531 clip, Dean Hebb is fast earning a reputation as Tecumseh High School's finest baseball player.

The junior center fielder has been a consistent performer and in last weekend's action, paced the Indians to three Huron League victories.

THS topped Milan, 7-4, Friday in extra innings with Hebb getting three hits, including a double, and driving in three runs.

On Saturday, Coach Carl Hale's lads swept a twin-bill from Grosse Ile, 13-10, and 7-6.

In the opener, Dean cracked out a pair of singles. Following a lunch break, he came back with a long home run over the centerfielder's head and a triple to lead the attack.



HERALD PHOTO BY TOM RIORDAN

DEAN HEBB — Having great year at plate

Besides his hitting prowess, Dean has been Coach Hale's No. 1 relief pitcher, working the eighth and ninth frames in the Milan win, then going the last inning in the opener at Grosse Ile.

Coach Hale had Dean hurl the entire second tilt and he struck out eight, while issuing two walks.

Against Milan, the Big Reds matched Tecumseh through eight innings, then THS exploded for a trio of runs in the ninth.

Al Vallad walked, Buddie Work singled and then Bob Cunningham drew a pass. Henry Mensing shot a sharp single to center scoring Vallad and Work, then Hebb doubled, bringing in Cunningham.

IN THE first GI game, Scott Edwards started on the mound and was going well until the sixth inning when he lost control Sheldon Pease took over, but couldn't get the ball over and Hebb was waved in to stifle Grosse Ile.

Henry Mensing collected three singles to pace the batting attack.

In the nightcap, Jim Mobley, who had a pair of singles, scored the winning run, after he got one of his hits, followed by three straight walks.

Hebb's season hitting mark as of Monday showed 17 for 32, including four doubles, a triple and two home runs.

"He has real good wrists, swings easy and is able to pull the ball," his coach says.

THE MENTOR also praises the husky lad's throwing arm and his fielding ability. When third baseman Jim Mobley missed the Milan game because of a sore throat, Hebb played that position.

The Indians are now 4 and 3 in league action and 7 and 3 overall. Flat Rock plays here Friday afternoon.

Adrian College Offers 'Camelot'

ADRIAN — One of the most elaborate spring musicals yet presented by Adrian College runs Thursday through Saturday, as the Adrian College Players present Lerner and Loewe's "Camelot."

The Broadway hit will include musical numbers by a 30-piece orchestra under the direction of Art Jones, 5 sets provided thru the assistance of the Art Department.

There will be dancing numbers by the Modern Dance troup headed by Mrs. Barbara Ellison and the largest cast of players ever directed by Glen Harbaugh of the Theatre Department.

"CAMELOT" is Lerner and Loewe's last play before the immensely popular "My Fair Lady" and includes several top numbers of its own.

They include "If Ever I Would Leave You," "What Do The Simple Folk Do," "Camelot," and others.

It was the late President Kennedy's favorite musical and concerns itself with the triangle of King Arthur, Lady Guenevere and Sir Lancelot around the Round Table in the days of knighthood.

All seats are reserved. Tickets can be obtained for $1 at Jim Green's or Berndt Jewelers in Adrian, at the Adrian College business office, or at the door.

The program begins at 8 p.m., with a Wednesday night preview for high school students.

Arrangement of Seating Novel

An unusual seating arrangement emphasized the theme of the general meeting of the Woman's Society of Christian Service last week at the Methodist Church.

Members of the Society were seated on the circular edge of the compass which was taped out on the floor in yellow and white.

Each of the eight standard compass points represented one direction of challenge for the members on the subject, "Where the Women Are."

REPRESENTING these points were:

► The Church — Mrs. Carlton Cushing

► The Chart — Bertha LaPointe

► The Change — Mrs. Raymond Nichols

► The Community — Mrs. Lynn Noble

► The Christian — Mrs. Paul Hadsell

► The Citizen — Mrs. W. N. Winfield

► The Commission — Mrs. Harry Farley

► The Challenge — Mrs. William Steele.

Following the program, Mrs. Carroll Sprague conducted the business session, which included reports from the district and conference meetings and the annual reports of all the officers.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Carl Hale, Mrs. James Bedford and Mrs. Winfield.

Council Session Changed to Tues.

Council, which usually meets the first and third Mondays of each month, will gather next Tuesday evening instead.

Mayor Harold Easton and other city officials will be in Roosevelt Park Monday for the annual Mayor's Exchange Day.

Residents Don't Like Junk Setup

TIPTON — Bills were read and payment approved at the May 3 Franklin Township Board session.

George Sackett and Ernest Helwig appeared to complain about a junk dealer operating on neighborhood property.

Walter Frazier, County Surveyor, presented a plot of Kettemen's Cove at Evans Lake containing 15 lots and asked the same be approved. After a brief study the plot was approved by the board.

Rene Donut of Dundee was granted a permit to sell doughnuts and rolls in the township for the remainder of the calender year.

Melburne Smith, chairman of the zoning board, discussed some of the zoning problems.

Dale Cook, building inspector, reported the sale of four buildings and one trailer permit.

TIPTON SCHOOL NOTES

FIRST GRADE

We probably should title our news as "Hospital Report" as Mr. and Mrs. Bailey are patients in Bixby Hospital in Adrian. They have pneumonia.

Mrs. Bailey expected to be released this week. Mrs. John Surratt is teaching her class until she returns.

On the happier side of the news the Fishers have a new baby colt and the Hunt family is going to get 100 baby chicks.

SECOND GRADE

We are all very sorry that our teacher, Mrs. Al Tonneberger is sick and in the hospital. We hope she will be back to school soon.

We made decorated cards to give our mothers for Mother's Day.

THIRD GRADE

We wrote letters to Mrs. Tonneberger and made planters for Mothers Day. We glued macaroni onto a tin can and then sprayed it with gold paint.

Some children planted flower seeds and others bought plants for them. We are looking forward to our trip to the Toledo zoo next week.

FOURTH GRADE

The fourth grade visited the Exhibit Museum in Ann Arbor Friday. We saw a live gila monster. This was the only living animal in the museum.

This animal is poisonous, but it is not dangerous. This is because it moves so slowly.

We saw fossil vertebrae of a Mastodon from Owosso and other flesh-eating and plant-eating dinosaurs.

The Indian exhibits were interesting because they showed ways the Indians lived in different regions.

We saw a drop of pond water which had been put under a microscope and enlarged hundreds of times.

We were shown many different constellations that we can see in the sky during the month of May, when we visited the Planetarium.

FIFTH GRADE

Our former fifth grade student teacher, Miss Fuller came to visit us and plans to come back soon. We are also working on conservation charts.

We are going to Greenfield Village on our field trip May 25.

LBJ Ignores Own Advice

Eight Tecumsehites were among 150 who attended a special Republican fund raising meeting in Ann Arbor Thursday to hear former New York Governor Thomas E. Dewey.

Among those attending were Hugh Walter, Mrs. Raymond Platt, Mrs. Ned Baldwin, Mrs. Yale Kerby, Mrs. Robert Murray, Mrs. Fay Whelan and Arthur J. Collingsworth.

GOVERNOR DEWEY, twice unsuccessful candidate for the presidency, returned to Ann Arbor where he had once been a student at the University of Michigan.

He cited recent rises in wholesale prices and the consumer price index as ominous signs of a serious inflationary trend.

Noting that while the government urged consumers to curb spending, it continued to spend without restraint. He asked how the people could have faith in a government which fails to follow its own advice.

Touching on the Vietnam problem, he referred to a number of examples of grave mismanagement including the shipping bottlenecks at the Saigon harbor, shortages of strategic supplies and the wasteful repurchase of war surplus materials.

COPIES OF The Herald were circulated before the meeting as part of a public relations effort by the Tecumseh delegation.

Guests at the dinner were invited to attend the Tecumseh Republican meeting scheduled for May 18 at 8 p.m. at Tecumseh Community Center.

The Vehicle Safety Check parade and the Mayor's Exchange program will also be held earlier in the evening.

Among those expected to attend are Congressman Robert Griffin, Republican candidate for the U. S. Senate, Lieutenant Governor William G. Milliken, former Congressman George Meader, State Senator Gil Bursley and State Representative Marvin Esch.

The junior play, "Arsenic and Old Lace," was well received by all who viewed it last Thursday and Friday evenings in the gym.

Everyone was surprised at the intricate and different scenery and varied lighting.

Many of those in the audience felt that "Arsenic" was the best high school production that Britton has had in recent years.

The actors and crews put in a lot of time and effort to make the show a success and the general concensus around the school and community was that the play was a complete one.

Election week activities for the student body began Monday morning with petitions issued to students wishing to run for class or Student Council offices.

Thursday is set aside for campaigning and Friday, an assembly will be held at which each candidate will speak.

Delay and confusion at the beginning of the new school year, due to voting, will now be eliminated.

3 Plants Presented to Moms

You may save $6 to $8 per acre with Dow Anhydrous Ammonia: lowest cost nitrogen in the field.

The reason is, anhydrous ammonia gives you far more nitrogen per pound than any other nitrogen fertilizer. Which means it takes far less Dow ANHYDROUS AMMONIA to do the job than it does with any other form of nitrogen fertilizer.
If you're planting corn on corn, it will take 150 to 200 pounds of nitrogen per acre to decay the old stalks and still have the nitrogen you need for high yields. Supply this nitrogen with Dow ANHYDROUS AMMONIA and you may save as much as $6 to $8 an acre. And boost crop yield quality and feed grain protein content while you do it. It's so long-lasting, one application is all you need. See us today for details. And save some money for a change.

why does the fish in Cap'n John's frozen fish dinners taste fresh-cooked?

Because you cook the fish.
It takes no longer than heating pre-cooked frozen fish...only 20 minutes.

You see, we're sort of fanatics about fresh fish flavor.
So we refuse to pre-cook the fish.

Here's what we do:
We dip the fillet in milk batter.
Bread it. Top it with butter.
We blanch the peas.
Partly cook the potatoes.
So everything's done at once (in only 20 minutes)
when you cook it.

The result.
A fish dinner that tastes like the fish is fresh-cooked.
It should. Because it is.

One important tip.
Be sure the oven is really pre-heated to 400°F.

Are our Cap'n John's Frozen Fish Dinners
a good reason for shopping A&P?
They're one of many.

VOICE of THE HERALD

A Thought About Trees

If you're a regular reader of our column, "Touch of the Past," you noted last week two mentions — one from 1876 and another in 1936 — of mass tree plantings in town.

We think maybe it's about time for another one.

In recent years a lot of beautiful old Tecumseh trees have met the chain-saw fate, most of these being elms ravished with Dutch Elm disease.

To a lot of folks, every time a stately tree is felled, there's a tug in their hearts. Of course, some people couldn't care less.

To tree lovers, one of the most heartening stories developing in recent weeks is an incident at Hidden Lake Gardens, where the trees number in the thousands.

When the beautiful new $250,000 reception-orientation was staked out, naturally some trees and shrubs had to go. A few feet from the southeast corner, two red oaks were endangered by construction. Probably, at 99% of jobs like this, these would have been destroyed and forgotten.

But they weren't. An unusual planter was built around the oaks, preserving one more spot of beauty.

That's how valuable the creations of God are to the famed 507-acre gardens. And, really, they're just as valuable to our city.

Look what the planting of trees and shrubs has done for the hospital and nursing home.

How about a tree planting bee for the city?

TO THE EDITORS

Our group, The Lenawee Area Planning, Improvement, and Development Association, favors abandonment of the plan to construct a new US-223 freeway across Lenawee County along an entirely new route for the following reasons:

1—Lenawee currently has no Master Plan and it will be several years before one is ready.

2 — The recent Automobile Club survey of traffic needs here found no necessity for a freeway.

3 — The proposed freeway would permanently remove from the tax rolls over a thousand acres of land in the County

4 — The proposed freeway would result in the premature and unwise urbanization of thousands of acres of rich land in the eastern half of the County, land that should remain agricultural until such time as man has learned to feed himself without the use of land on which to grow food.

5 — The proposed freeway would defile the scenic beauty of the River Raisin Valley before any workable plan for its future development as a recreational area has been implemented.

6 — There is no need for such a freeway now or in the forseeable future. There is an urgent need for improvement in the present road system, and that is where the tax dollars for roads should be spent in this County, thereby benefiting all the citizens, not just a small minority.

THE LENAWEE Area Planning, Improvement, and Development Association also favors the establishment in eastern, southeastern, and southern Lenawee of Official Agricultural Preserves, privately owned and set aside by the county or state as safe from urbanization for as long as is needed.

We feel that Lenawee must act now to preserve its most prized natural resource, its fertile land, to help feed the coming hungry generations. We ask your support in urging the Board of Supervisors to act in support of the above goals.

Nature has been especially kind to the people of Lenawee, and now it is time for the people of Lenawee to be kind to Nature.

Yours truly,
Edwin C. Kerr, M. D.
President, The Lenawee Area Planning, Improvement and Development Association

TO THE EDITORS:

My father was born in Raisin Township over 88 years ago and lived there till he was 22. His parents and sisters are buried in your cemetery.

His only relative in Tecumseh is his sister's son, Arthur Eaton, 5695 E. Monroe Rd.

Dad always maintained an interest in your locality and subscribed to your paper right up to the present.

The son of James and Sarah Norris, he lived on a farm which is now the site of the Fisher Body plant. This farm belonged to his parents and was left to him upon his father's death. He sold it some years before General Motors bought the land.

Incidentally, in your April 28 [illegible] notice the obituary [illegible] Gertrude Van Vleet, which mentions the earlier death of a brother, Roy. My father knew him.

Thank you for taking note of the enclosed in any way you see fit.

Sincerely,
Marie J. Norris,

MARTINS AND MOUNTAINS

Several weeks ago, a most interesting little newspaper came our way. I just wish I knew to whom I should extend a most sincere thank-you.

Titled The Purple Martin Capital News, it contained 24 pages of, quite naturally, martin-type news. Facts and figures and pictures till you wouldn't believe there could be so many.

This town has really gone all out for these blue-black members of the swallow family.

Griggsville — by the way, any family connection there, Dorothy? — calls itself the Purple Martin Capital of the Nation. And speaking of martin houses, in their town square they have a skyscraper — 40 feet high, it has 504 apartments.

QUITE A contrast to the hollowed-out gourds which the Indians used to hang out. It seems that attracting martins is not new —from early accounts we know that the Indians recognized the value of these birds as pest control agents.

Just how effective are they in keeping the insect population in check? Well, these birds eat their own weight in insects every day.

They have a special fondness for mosquitoes and a single bird may eat as many as 2,000 per day. Wow — that is a lot of bites and scratching. In addition to mosquitoes, they consume huge quantities of flies.

UNDER CAREFUL observation, one martin was seen to eat 400 flies in one day. Whoever did the counting then came up with the statistic that a colony of 24 families would gobble down about 2 million flies per month.

Wouldn't it seem that a campaign to attract martins might be a good way to get rid of those nasty little flying and biting bugs? Martin houses might work better than insect sprays.

Of course, martins are almost "a thing" with us. Several years ago some friends gave me, as a happy birthday present, a most beautiful martin house.

Although we do not have the ideal location, it would seem that an extremely attractive home would over-rule a not-quite-perfect environment. So far, though, we have had no mosquito eaters in residence.

ONE POINT that the newspaper from Griggsville made over and over again I question a bit. Their claim is that the best way to keep martin houses for martins only is to:

1—Have the house set high on a pole

2—Make sure the apartment doors are the proper size, and

3—Be sure that the house is a light and bright color.

Starlings and sparrows are supposedly discouraged by these three things. Aluminum houses are reported excellent in that they afford a bright exterior, a clean interior and extremely good ventilation.

WELL, OUR sparrows must be illiterate. They don't seem to know that our aluminum house —which is set on a high pole, is bright and has the proper size openings — is not for them.

Every year sparrows raise families in our martin house and the miserable starlings try to do the same thing. Darn it, I wish they would read the articles which say they shouldn't do such things.

Hope springs eternal, though, so perhaps this will be the spring that the rightful tenants will find their way to our martin house.

BY THE TIME this article is printed, we three Duncans will have seen many busy and bustling martin communities. At least if past experience holds true, we will have driven through many towns and passed many farms which sport occupied martin apartment houses. Oh, Marda, what a long and sneaky way to announce that it is vacation time.

It is, though, and by today we should be well on our way towards Colorado. After a visit, already we know is going to be too short, with Marjorie and Doctor, and a few drives up into the gorgeous Rocky Mountains, our route heads south towards New Mexico.

In the Taos-Santa Fe area we are hoping to discover some good scenery plus a few old missions.

So it is that for the next few weeks Mom, Dad and I will be enjoying Marshs and Missions, Martins and Mountains.

See you later!

Long and Short

By TOM RIORDAN

One of these days, there might be an improvement in the court house, but unfortunately that time seems far off, too far.

So we've apparently got to dig in and become accustomed to taking a beating.

We seem fated to have our business put into the hands of the John Kellers, the George Kunzes and their cronies, the guys who have had a strangle hold on Lenawee County government since the Year One.

Can anyone remember when John wasn't sheperding county finances. And, by the way, how many supervisors have any idea what the story is on county cash?

Who loses? The average resident, you and me.

Take a look at the way the County Tax Allocation gave us the gouge this week on that school deal — grabbing off .8 mill.

The .8 goes to the county, for continued salting away as county government sits on a surplus of more than $1 million.

Ever hear of a school system with a million bucks gathering interest in the bank? Not quite, brother, and you never will.

School districts — in probably 90% of the state — live a hand-to-mouth existence, fighting for every dime as if they'd close without it — and maybe they would.

LAST YEAR, after a great deal of pressure, the Allocation Board gave one extra mill in deference to school districts around the county. Now, they are taking back .8 of it.

This is all part of the 15-mill limitation law and perhaps a word of explanation is needed on how it works and how a handful of men can dictate the fate — or ill-fate — of our schools.

Winter property taxes make up the 15-mill kitty, which is cut up annually by the Allocation Board.

Off the top goes up to one mill for townships.

Next comes a slice for the county.

Whatever is left goes for education.

Last year, for instance, it ended up with Tecumseh schools getting approximately 10.3 mills in the city and 9.3 in townships they serve. This time around it will be about 9.5 and 8.5 mills.

On top of this, the Tecumseh District is facing a four-mill vote for more operational money and these kind of elections get tighter and tighter. The last time we had a similar issue, the thing passed by a mere four votes.

Property owners have become dissenchanted about carrying the major share of school and governmental financing.

Tragically, the coming vote could be analyzed, if approved, as ending up with three mills for the schools and one mill for the county to help build a greater surplus.

EVEN MORE heart-rending is the fact that Tecumseh Schools desperately need the fresh cash. Out Britton way the situation is probably more critical, with the loss of the .8 mill lopping nearly $6,500 from its already next-to-the-vest budget.

Should Tecumseh's four-mill issue fail, services will have to be drastically slashed, salary increases jettisoned.

The scholastic situation is just one factor, in the big picture, but of great value because it helps focus attention on the way the court house is in the grasp of a few old-liners.

County Takes Back .8 Mill

By JIM LINCOLN

Lenawee County's Tax Allocation Board took .8 mill from the schools Monday afternoon and added it to the county's operating millage — hiking the Board of Supervisor's rate from 4.5 mills to 5.3 mills.

The vote as expected — was 4-2, with Dr. William Hewes and Milton Porter, county superintendent, objecting to the county's increase.

John Keller, supervisor from Jasper, dominated the discussion prior to the voting, citing plans and projects for the county. He moved that the county's millage be set at 5.3 mills. His motion was quickly supported by Willis Moore, county treasurer.

Dr. Hewes pointed out that the county has a general fund balance of $153,000 at the end of its fiscal year, Dec. 31, 1965, and other monies available for the fund, increasing its potential to approximately $340,000.

This amount did not include $126,000 taken out of the general fund last fall and placed in a building fund.

It also did not include balances in other funds — monies taken from the general fund — which accounts for $950,000 in certificates of deposits.

Mr. Porter pleaded with Mr. Keller to meet the schools half way, pointing out that eight out of nine schools will be forced to borrow money.

MR. KELLER refused to budge and asked the county school head, chairman of the Tax Allocation Board, to poll the board's members.

Two members joining Keller and Moore for the county were Morris Rosenthal and John Herring, both Adrian businessmen.

After the vote, the board set the preliminary rate for the schools at 8.5 mills, with a scheduled public hearing for next Thursday afternoon at 1:30. Dr. Hewes voted against the school rate.

It was also agreed that the board would review the school budgets at that time, although the millage rate had already been set.

Vandals Smash 19 Windows

The well house is located west of S. Union St., just north of Patterson St.

Friday, May 13, turned out to be a fine day for the Austin Partridges.

In observance of their 30th wedding anniversary, their children's families and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mel Partridge, surprised the couple for an ice cream and cake party in the evening.

Others attending were Mr. and Mrs. Allan Barrett and six children, Arnold Partridge, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Partridge and two children and Mr. and Mrs. Mickey Partridge.

It was also the anniversary of Mrs. Austin Partridge's birthday.

DEVIL THREATENS — The Devil, Bob Lenheiser, left; Daniel Webster, Jeff Long; Jebez Stone, Kingsley Dunn; and Mary Stone, Marcia Lord. "The Devil and Daniel Webster" is one of three plays to be presented by the Tecumseh High School Speech Class, Tuesday and Wednesday at 8 p.m., in the Speech Room. Mark Renfro, Speech Instructor, is the director. Proceeds from the event will go to next year's speech class for forensics and debates. Photo by Bill Whiting.

These Won't Be Unidentified

Reports of unidentified flying objects may be common throughout southwest Michigan during the next two or thre weeks, according to a Michigan Department of Agriculture official.

Strange balloons, low-flying aircraft and a flashing light hovering over the treetops are used in association with the 750,000-acre aerial treatment for suppression of a plant pest, the cereal leaf beetle.

Bathtub-size balloons called "kytoons" will be lifted above treetops to guide the low-flying torpedo bombers in their 450-feet-wide spraying swaths. The balloons, filled with helium, will be continually moved by hauling them down onto trucks.

A BOOM-MOUNTED flashing beason is another gadget likely to start UFO rumors. Shipped up from the U. S. Department of Agriculture's special equipment section in Maryland, it rises under hydraulic pressure from the bed of a truck.

Within seconds from braking the truck to a standstill, the brilliant white flasher may be seen for miles. It stands suspended upon a slim, extendable aluminum pole. The truck carries a special gasoline generator for power.

Homing in on the kytoons and flashing beacon will be the converted 1,900-horsepower navy bombers, carrying the spray chemical, malathion. Skimming at treetop level at speeds up to 200 miles an hour, they need the help of a 50-man ground crew to keep them on the beam.

Much of the flying will be done very early in the morning, as well as at dusk. Winds then are generally lower, making for better spray conditions.

Weather permitting, spraying will go on during daylight hours until areas in 10 southwestern Michigan counties have been treated. This may take until mid-May or later, officials predict.

Peacocks Raise Alarm

If you don't have a watch dog, you might try peacocks.

Frontier City owner, Ivan Hunt, was glad he had six of the handsome birds on hand at 5 a.m. Monday.

A commotion by the watchful peacocks led watchman Mac Southwell to the fenced enclosure where 60 deer are kept by the resort park.

A wandering dog had begun to chase up and down and bark, which was frightening the deer and could have been disasterous if the dog had gotten into the pen.

Spring work to get Frontier City ready for the tourist season has been hampered by the frequent rains.

Mr. Hunt reports that the paddlewheel boat had been pulled on shore for painting.

When three days of rain ended last week, the boat was standing in deep water while still on shore.

Jerry Barton Named to Board

Jerry Barton was appointed to the Library Board Monday night by the School Board.

He succeeds Dr. Harold Ocamb, who resigned.

Chicken Basket Being Improved

Mrs. Vera Makowsky is making extensive improvements at the restaurant she recently purchased.

She is specializing in broasted chicken and has appropriately named her enterprise, The Chicken Basket.

It was formerly The Dairy Delight and is located at 306 N. Evans St.

Carry-out orders or delivery will be available for fish and shrimp as well as the chicken.

Brown St. Changed

City officials approved a minor change in plans for the intersection of Brown St. and N. Evans St. at Tuesday night's Council session.

It was decided to make an island on Brown St. This strip was created when Brown St. was curved to intersect N. Evans opposite Herrick Park Dr.

Motorists traveling south on Evans St., will be able to make a right turn on to the old section of Brown St., which will be narrowed and made one-way west.

Officials expect to complete work at the intersection within the next week or two.

Flowers, Branches Decorate

"Winnie-the-Pooh" was the theme of the Mother-Daughter banquet last week in the First Methodist Church.

Decorations of bark, branches, spring flowers, bird cages and novelty animals graced each table through the efforts of Mrs. Raymond Nichols and Mrs. Gerald Rendel.

Mrs. Murray Day was the featured speaker and she selected several Milnay poems to add to the theme.

Mrs. Day also told a "Just So Story" and the biblical story of Jericho. Included in her presentation were several vocal selections.

Mrs. Robert Bagdon sang "M-O-T-H-E-R", "Sound of Music" and "Climb Every Mountain" during the several toasts given to mothers by Andrea Ocamb and to daughters by Mrs. Donald Purkey. Helen Bendes accompanied Mrs. Bagdon.

Mrs. Robert Bonner was the mistress of ceremonies with Mrs. Carlos Jones giving the invocation and the benediction.

Hostesses for the evening were members of the Mable Lawrence circle under the direction of Mrs. Duane Steele. Men of the church helped with the serving.

Swiss Visitors in Tipton

Mr. and Mrs. Hans Reusser of Stessisburg and Ernest Spycher of Langeburck, arrived Thursday at Detroit Metropolitan Airport.

They'll spend two weeks visiting Mr. and Mrs. Wilhelm Spycher and family, Mrs. Rosa Spycher and other relatives in the area.

Mrs. Reusser and Mr. Spycher are cousins of Wilhelm Spycher.

Saturday they visited in Sand Creek and Clayton and on Sunday they toured the Toledo Zoo.

PTA Honors 2 Who Retire

FAY KEMPF
Drove for 20 years

MRS. CLIFFORD ADAMS
Behind wheel 18 years

Retiring school bus drivers Mrs. Clifford Adams and Fay Kempf were honored at the family night meeting of the Ridgeway-Macon PTA May 10.

A silver tray was presented to Mrs. Adams and a silver pen knife to Mr. Kempf.

Mrs. Adams has driven for 18 years and Mr. Kempf for 20.

A cake, inscribed with name and years of service, was served to each.

Many guests remembered riding buses driven by Mrs. Adams and Mr. Kempf over the past 20 years.

William Brown and Norval Bovee explained the coming 4-mill vote and how the money, if approved, would be utilized.

Following discussion, a Musical Talent Show was presented by Ridgeway and Macon School students.

Ridgeway fifth and sixth grade bands offered numbers under the direction of Donald Johnson, then under the baton of Miles Cowdrey.

Fourth graders provided square dancing entertainment under the direction of Mrs. Bruce Corley.

The youngsters sang several selections, directed by Mrs. Paul Brammingham.

Refreshments were served by the second and third grade mothers.

3-Day Bazaar

Grosse Pointe Village's second annual International Festival will appeal to all the five senses at once, as the three-day program of displays, open-air shops, music and traditional national dances opens May 19.

Three lucky visitors will go home with prizes of vacation trips for two—a weekend cruise, an "on-the-town" weekend, or a week's stay at a Canadian vacation lodge.

CLINTON — Four youths were injured slightly in a collision Tuesday afternoon on US-12 at Matthews Hwy.

Ronald Lee Walker, 17, of Clinton stopped to make a left turn onto Matthews Hwy. and was struck from behind by a car driven by Linda Ray Blatchford, 19, of Clinton.

Connie Harrison, 18, of Clinton, a passenger in the Blatchford car was taken to Herrick Memorial Hospital for treatment of cuts on the head.

Richard Baker, 15, of Evans Trail, Tipton, a passenger in the Walker car and both drivers received minor injuries.

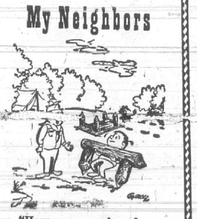
Clinton State Police issued a summons to Miss Harrison for violating the basic speed law.

49-Year-Old Man Injured

Daniel Linn, 49, of Ridge Hwy. Ridgeway was admitted to Herrick Memorial Hospital with injuries received in an accident early Tuesday morning on Rogers Hwy. near Kopke Rd.

Mr. Linn was a passenger in a pickup truck driven by his son, David L. Linn, 26, of the same address. David Linn was treated for minor injuries at the hospital and released.

The truck jerked out of control and ran into a ditch, David Linn told Sheriff patrol officers investigating the mishap.



"How come you're always re-arranging the furniture?"

Pvt. Carl H. Bower has completed advanced artillery training as a cannoneer at the Army Artillery and Missile School at Fort Sill, Okla. Pvt. Bower, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Bower, 4346 Ridge Hwy., is a 1964 graduate of Tecumseh High School and entered the army in December of 1965. He completed basic training at Fort Knox, Ky. Bower left Tuesday for Korea.

Scott Edwards Hurls 1-Hitter, but Bows 2-0 to Blissfield

The Tecumseh pitcher turned in his most brilliant performance, but Blissfield captured the game, 2-0.

Only one ball was hit to the outfield by the Royals and the lone base blow was a topped rolled that just got by Edwards and hardly reached shortstop Dave Kennel.

Tecumseh had the bases loaded in the fourth when Henry Mensing walked, then after a strikeout to Dean Hebb, Sheldon Pease singled, followed with a sharp single to center by Bob Cunningham.

Bob's blow took one skip into the Blissfield center fielder's hands, too fast to allow Mensing to head for home. The rally died when Blissfield's Tom Pavelka fanned Al Vallad.

Both Pavelka and Edwards got five batters on strikes, Tom walked three and Scott four. Each had one hit batsman.

The loss put Tecumseh Huron League record at 5 and 5, leaving the Indians out of the championship race.

IN ACTION last week, THS drubbed Flat Rock, 9-1, as Dean Hebb pitched a three-hitter and struck out eight.

Pease nailed two singles and drove in three runs. Hebb, Cunningham, Valled and Edwards all contributed one-ply blows.

Now completed in league play, the Indians have four more contests:

Dundee, here, Thursday.
At Bedford, Friday.
Bedford, here, May 27.
At Adrian, June 1.

News from the Tecumseh Library

New books ready for you to borrow at your Public Library:

THE EAGLE KING by Henry Treece; a novel based on the ancient legend of Oedipus, King of Thebes.

THE BRIGHT FEATHERS by John Culp. Like the country itself, the dangerous Oklahoma Territory of the 1870's, three cowhands are young, spirited and wide open to experience. Their 600-mile journey home after a cattle drive to Kansas is a blend of suspenseful adventures spiced with little-known details of Western America.

HEATHEN VALLEY by Romulus Linney. When Bishop Ames first laid eyes on William Stanrs, itinerant worker, drunkard and defeated tramp, the Bishop thought that he was looking at the reincarnation of his father. It was this extraordinary resemblance that brought the two men together; thereafter their lives were as closely joined as though they were brothers.

TIO by Patric Wall. This is a funny and extremely ingenious novel about what happens when people of very high intelligence set themselves up as an action group outside the law.

PILLOW FIGHT by Nicholas Monsarrat. Marriage in our time, set in Barbados.

THE EDGE by Shirley Mezvinsky; the story of an emotionally-torn woman told from a woman's viewpoint.

OVER THE GATE by Miss Read. The author takes us again to her beloved Fairacre and shares with us Mrs. Pringle's tyranny, the school children's exuberance, and the fellowship of old and new friends of the village.

VALLEY OF THE DOLLS by Jacqueline Susann.

TV Test on Tuesday

LANSING — How is your driving "IQ" these days?

Before you answer, you may wish to test yourself against the experts and your peers — Michigan's nearly 4½ million other licensed drivers — in the second annual safe driver program, "The National Drivers' Test" on Tuesday, May 24.

The Michigan State Safety Commission through long-time chairman Secretary of State James M. Hare is urging every Michigan driver to take the test and watch the show on CBS television.

"Screening of this important program is a prelude to Michigan's most dangerous driving time, the summer months ushered in by the Memorial Day holiday weekend.

"We don't want a repetition of the more than 2,100 deaths recorded in Michigan last year along with the 155,000 persons who were injured and the more than 310,000 reported accidents," Mr. Hare said.

"But if we don't consciously try to improve our driving performances, we're headed for an even worse record and likely the worst accident year in driving history."

THE NEW TEST will also be useful to persons in a family who do not drive, says Mr. Hare. The non-driving wife can learn maintenance pointers which can help her in keeping the family car in good operating condition. Youngsters of pre-driving age can pick up pointers that would be helpful to them when they start to drive.

More key areas of driving and maintenance will be covered than in the first program last year, which was one of the most successful programs in television history," he noted.

CBS will again use two top newsmen as commentators, Walter Cronkite and Mike Wallace, who handled last year's show.

'Adopted' Son in Philippines Thanks Hamiltons

Mr. and Mrs. John Hamilton, former Tecumsehites, now living in Lansing, have received a letter from their "adopted" son through the Foster Parents' Plan.

"My dear Foster Parents, the items we received last Feb. 2 were three gantas of rice, one T-shirt, one bottle multi-vitamins and 31.20 ($8)," wrote 12-year-old-boy, Jesus C. Sebastian, that the Hamiltons have cared for the past four years and five months.

Nora B. Golez, the social worker for Robert W. Sage, the Plan's director in the Philippines, writes that Jesus and his siblings all benefit from the monthly assistance contributed by the Hamilton family.

"They have better meals and their school needs are provided," wrote Mrs. Golez.

The Hamiltons have received much satisfaction from the adoption of the boy and suggest that others might like to undertake such a project.

Since alfalfa makes its own nitrogen, figure on a rate of 30 pounds of phosphorous (P2O5) and 120 pounds of potassium (K2O) per acre in the absence of a soil test. Otherwise apply according to recommendations. On grass-legume mixtures, apply 60 pounds each per acre of N, P, and K.

FEED SOWS AND GILTS 4 to 5 pounds daily per head of a 14% protein ration during the pregestation period, but hike the level to 6 to 8 pounds three to six weeks before breeding. After breeding, drop the rate back again to 4 to 5 pounds and continue for 11 weeks or the last few weeks before farrowing. Then feed 6 to 8 pounds until farrowing when sow receives full feed until pigs are weaned.

FAT CATTLE should be moved to market when ready, especially on any price bulge. Don't hold your cattle to a heavier weight for better prices. Price slump will likely continue into early summer. Markets are expected to slip to $25 or a little under on Choice cattle. Weight levels are running slightly above a year ago and could drive prices lower than expected.

WORK NEVER ENDS — Bob Glascock, a veteran Tecumseh School District maintenance man, proves that old adage that the chores around school buildings never end. The camera caught Bob as he was resetting a door lock at Sutton School last week.

1,000 Years Per Inch

Nature knows no compromise. She tolerates no abuse of her resources, including her soil and water. Exploiting her natural resources is at the expense of life itself.

Man first announced his defiance of Nature's law of the land when his plow scalped off her sod blanket and his axe laid low the forest. Nature was quick to retaliate and the land was truly at the mercy of the elements. Winds carried away topsoil and water ran unchecked leaving barren eroded soil in its wake.

Man has learned that he cannot control the elements, but he can temper their effect. By observing sound soil and water conservation practices he can use his land in harmony with Nature.

It takes Nature up to 1,000 years to create one inch of precious topsoil. Once lost, it can be replaced only through time and suitable climatic conditions.

The Lenawee Soil Conservation District promotes proper land use and encourages the use of conservation practices which will maintain the soil's productive life.

With technical assistance of the Soil Conservation Service, the District is equipped to provide landowners with methods of combating soil depletion.

SOME SOIL and water-saving techniques are:

- ► Using cover crops to keep the the soil protected during periods when it would otherwise lay idle.
- ► Tree planting to nail down unstable soil, improve wildlife habitat and hold moisture.
- ► Installing grassed waterways which enable excess water to leave fields without carrying the soil away.
- ► Employing minimum tillage practices to reduce soil compaction and increase the infiltration rate of the water.

If you would like to use your land the conservation way, see the Lenawee SCD Director in your area or contact the SCS office at 103 Federal Bldg., Adrian.

12 Delegates To Attend Convention

"Off to Canada" is the summer call for the Tecumseh Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses, who will be leaving shortly for their district convention to be held at Toronto Canada.

Richard Krebs, presiding minister of the congregation, said that a delegation of 12 from here will attend this international gathering June 22-26.

"We are expecting an attendance of over 50.000 from the Great Lake States of United States and Ontario," Mr. Krebs explained.

"THE CONVENTION is called 'God's Sons of Liberty' District Assembly." Explaining this unusual title Mr. Krebs stated: "True liberty means living inside God's principles of freedom as outlined in the Bible.

"Our purpose as Jehovah's Witnesses is to reaffirm, by this public demonstration, our faith in the Bible principles of moral cleanliness, family solidarity, chastity and parental discipline to control juveniles instead of the permissive practices that have made delinquency a major national problem."

An interesting feature of the convention will be a mass baptism of over 800, who will be immersed in water.

TEEN TALK

— By DEBBIE EARLING —

The student body voted to adopt an amendment to the Student Council Constitution that provides a new policy for the election of student representatives.

It reads:

"That two council members for the forthcoming year be elected from the four incumbent members on the Council from each class. In the case that any of these four members is unable to run vacancies will be filled from the floor by any student who has had one years experience on the council. From these four, two shall be elected.

"A second election for Student Council will be held in which the third and fourth members are elected. Nominations will be open from the floor. No experience will be required, but the two candidates not elected in the first election may be nominated.

"This typ of election will be held beginning with Student Council elections for the 1967-68 school year."

Before the amendment was taken to the student body the Council had ratified it. The amendment was vetoed by Principal Mr. Hart on the grounds that it was undemocratic because the student body, who was directly concerned, had not been consulted and given a chance to voice an opinion.

The procedure taken by the Council to pass the amendment was not, however, unconstitutional. The Constitution as it stands does not mention student body participation concerning steps taken on any amendment.

In collaboration with Mr. Hart and advisor Don Brazee, the Council decided to present the amendment to the student body (excluding the seniors since it would not affect them) and allow them to vote on it. Only 61 students among the 672 who voted, were against the amendment.

The Council also voted to organize a reviewing committee that will discuss an outline for a new and more effective constitution. The committee will be composed of two council members from each class and two non-council members elected by each class.

Copies of the present constitution may be obtained from any Student Council representative.

If a paint-spattered, sweet-talking teen-ager armed with desperation approaches your door scavenging torn sheets, worn-out clothes cardboard, or wood, or cast-away furniture don't be alarmed. The speech class is on the prowl looking for production materials to aid in the presentation of three one-act plays.

"The Lottery", adapted from the suspense story by Shirley Jackson; "The Trysting Place", a situation comedy by Booth Tarkington; and "The Devil and Daniel Webster", the infamous story by Stephen Vincent Benet, will be presented May 24 and 25 at 8 p.m. in Room 38.

Admission is 75c per person.

The proceeds will be donated to next year's speech class to help finance the expenses of forensic, debating and drama activities.

Whose Business?

Clinton Village Council went on record at a recent meeting as being opposed to Michigan House Bill No. 3547, which would require that any meeting of any governing body supported wholly or in part by public funds, or expending public funds, except grand juries, to be "public meetings."

We didn't know that in this democratic society we had to pass a law to permit an employer to be present at a meeting of the board transacting his business!

If the public is not the employer of each government body, who is? Whose business is being transacted?

Colorful Pictures of Mexico Shown

CLINTON — Mexico, where flowers grow in profusion everywhere, was described with colorful slides by Mrs. John Hoelzer for the meeting Wednesday which completed the season for the Clinton Woman's Club.

Mrs. Hoelzer and her sister, Mrs. Burdette Custer of Osseo, Ind., accompanied a group of 16 Indiana Girl Scouts on a trip to the Girl Scout International Cabana near Mexico City last summer.

Women are not allowed to wear shorts or slacks on the street in Mexico City. While sight-seeing there, they were impressed with the elaborate cathedrals and the shops in which beautiful handicrafts could be purchased inexpensively.

She saw no beggars except in border towns. Because of the high altitude, there were no flies or mosquitoes.

Cactus is now grown as a profitable crop since the natives make needles and thread as well as parchment paper from the plants.

Bouquets of Japanese quince, a gift of Mrs. Ralph Hadley, decorated the tables for the cooperative luncheon which preceded the meeting in the community center.

Mrs. Clara Connor was a guest.

Mrs. Daniel Reilly, vice-president, presided in the absence of the president.

Mrs. Katherine Kehoe and Mrs. Linn Weaver were made honorary members for their long and outstanding service to the club.

The club cooperated with the Golden Age Club in observing Michigan Week Heritage Day Tuesday entertaining and serving refreshments in the Community Center to all senior citizens.

New officers will be installed when the club meets again Oct. 12.

Board Seeks Needed Rooms from Churches

CLINTON — Board of education members last week discussed the issuing of attendance certificates for those students who cannot meet graduation requirements.

A certificate is being made up by the Welch Diploma Co., which will be examined later by the board.

Discussing the number of extra rooms that would be needed for the 1966-67 school year, Supt. Richard Wegner reported that temporary rooms might be available for a one or two-year period in the Episcopal and Methodist Churches.

Boardmen decided to ask the churches to rent room facilities.

A PAIR of four-year terms will be open for election at the school election June 13.

Other issues:

► Increasing tax rate limitation by four mills for a period of three years, 1966, 1967 and 1968, for operating purposes.

► Increasing tax rate limitation and levying two mills for a period of two years, 1966 and 1967, to create a building and site sinking fund to be used for the purchase of school sites and construction or repair of present buildings.

In order for a building and site sinking fund to be established, the electorate must vote "yes" on each of two issues that will be on the ballot.

MRS. JOHN R. MAY

Carol Lowe Marries John May

Carol Ann Lowe and John Robert May spoke their wedding vows Saturday in a double ring ceremony performed by the Rev. Frank W. Hawthorne at St. Peter's Episcopal Church.

A pillow vase of white gladioli and yellow Fuji chrysanthemums centered the altar and huckleberry greens and satin bows marked the family pews.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Robert North Lowe, 310 W. Chicago Blvd. and Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. May of Dearborn Heights.

THE RADIANT bride wore a gown of white silk organza fashioned with scoop neckline, three quarter sleeves, an empire bodice and A-line skirt. Alencon lace and pearls trimmed the front of her gown and lace edged the Watteau train.

A cluster of tiny roses accented with lace and pearls held her veil of illusion in place and she carried a crescent arrangement of cymbidium orchids and stephanotis.

Her only jewelry was a heart-shaped pendant centered with pearls, gift of the groom.

Barbara Harris of Brooklyn was maid of honor in a floor-length gown of yellow nylon with scoop neckline, elbow length sleeves and bell skirt. Venice lace accented the empire waistline and back of the skirt and ribbon clusters of maize organza secured the bouffant veil to her hair.

She carried a single white glamellia outlined with green satin leaves and showers of small glamellias in a cascade bouquet.

KATHARINE LOWE, sister of the bride, and Cynthia May, sister of the groom, were the bridesmaids, attired as the maid of honor.

Robert Kingon of Lansing, was best man and the 175 guests were seated by Jon Wetherbee of Adrian, Lynn Dotson of Perrysberg, Ohio and Jerry Cohen of Adrian.

A buffet supper was served at the parish hall where yellow gladioli, carnations, Fuji chrysanthemums and stephanotis were used to enhance the yellow taffeta covered bride's table and punch tables.

Elizabeth Lowe, sister of the bride, registered the guests, and Mrs. Edward Hill, Beverly Inbody, Mrs. David Rowland and Mrs. Thomas Walker assisted with the serving.

The bride attended W. A. Foote Memorial Hospital School of Nursing and Jackson Junior College. She is employed as a laboratory technician at Stauffer Chemical Co., Sutton Rd.

HER HUSBAND is a 1963 graduate of Adrian College and affiliated with Tau Kappa Epsilon. He is employed by Stauffer Chemical Co. at Weston as a chemist.

The couple will live at 4070 Monroe Rd., Tipton, following a two-week trip to Florida and Nassau.

The rehearsal dinner was given by the groom's parents at the Elk's Club, Adrian.

Turkey Rated Tops

Kiwanis Club members learned about Turkey last week.

Telling of that nation's progress and showing color slides taken there was retired Brig. Gen. Robert Aloe of Ann Arbor.

"Turkey," he said, "is one of our most staunch and valuable allies. It has made a transformation from a backward custom-bound country in 1921, to a modern westernized one today."

"Under the leadership of Mustafa Kemal Ataturk, who saw the need of change if Turkey was to survive, had the courage and ability to see his country modernized, though he resorted to violent and unorthodox methods, the speaker noted.

HE BEGAN by sending promising young students to the great universities of western Europe for a liberal education for return to implement the "Turkey for the Turks" concept which is still the motto today

He faced an almost impossible task because his people's culture, customs and institutions had been virtually unchanged through many centuries of Ottoman rule. Turkey is Moslem and when Ataturk felt that religious customs must be changed, he changed them, too.

EVERYONE was forced to adopt a family name. Women were forbidden to wear veils. The red fez, universally worn by men, was banned. Those who didn't remove it had it removed — often along with their head.

The capitol was removed from Istanbul and a new one established at Ankara in the central part of the country.

'Reduce Spending'

Nine families of the Lake Ridge Farm Bureau discussed Medicare at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hintz.

Mrs. Floyd Barrett reports on other matters discussed which brought out the fact "that some of our government officials would like to casually lay the blame of a possible inflation on the American farmer."

Members suggested that "One certain way to combat inflation would be a reduction in non-essential government spending

They concluded, "Farmers are excellent producers as well as good consumers," and suggested the old adage, "Best not bite the hand that feeds you."

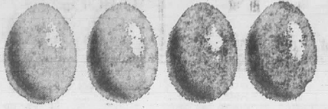
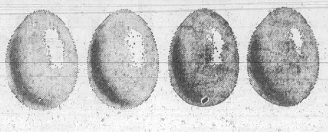
THERE ARE GRADE "A"



AND THERE ARE GRADE "A"



Not all Grade "A" eggs are alike.
To be labeled Grade "A"
eggs must meet certain minimum requirements.

There is many an egg that can be called Grade "A"
that just never could be a Sunnybrook Egg.

Sunnybrook Eggs...they're our best.
They have to be well above the minimum or they won't make the grade with us.

Break one in a pan, notice how proud the yolk sits up.
That's the sign of a good egg...a fresh egg... a Sunnybrook Egg.

Try Sunnybrook.
And if you ever find just one egg that doesn't measure up, we'll give you a dozen free.
12 for 1...that's pretty good odds.

Are Sunnybrook Eggs a good reason for shopping A&P?
They're one of many.

UNIQUE PLAQUE — Hand-carved in wood, this Wolverine Frontiersman award for Ray Herrick reads, "For distinguished achievement in field of industry and education in Michigan."

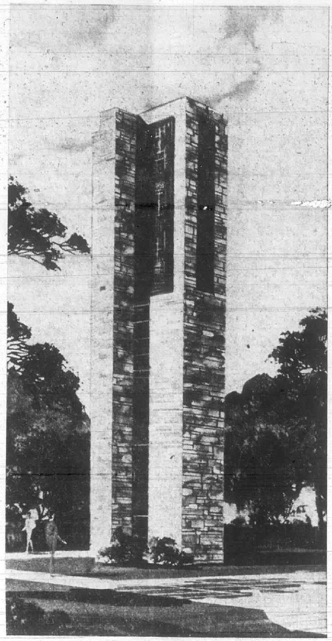
County Says 'Thanks'

Editor's note — Honors are piling up these days for Mr. Tecumseh, Ray W. Herrick, chairman of the board emeritus at Tecumseh Products Co. In a Michigan Week ceremony Monday evening in Detroit, he was named a Frontiersman, significant of the fact that he has been a modern-day pioneer in his state. Coming up Sunday afternoon will be dedication of Herrick Tower on the Adrian College campus. The Herald joins in saluting this great American.

Adrian College will say "thank you" for all of Lenawee County and many others Sunday when it dedicates the new $70,000 Carillon Tower honoring Ray W. Herrick, Tecumseh industrialist and philanthropist.

Dr. John H. Dawson, president of the college, said the 2 p.m. ceremonies at the site of the Herrick Carillon Tower will signify the gratefulness of the entire Lenawee County community for the many benefactions of Mr. Herrick.

"We have issued invitations to a number of Lenawee County organizations and persons who have benefited directly from Mr. Herrick's keen interest in humanity," the president said.



HERRICK TOWER WILL LOOK LIKE THIS

The tower is 56 feet high, will stand on the east end of the campus mall opposite the College Chapel. It is finished in Indiana limestone and contains a 61-bell Arlington Carillon. Money for the tower was provided by members of the community, other friends and alumni of the college. A recital by world-famous carillonneur John Klein will follow the dedication ceremonies.

"MR. HERRICK'S interest and generosity has been and is the major force in enabling Adrian College to move strongly forward as an educational institution," Dr. Dawson said.

"Due in great part to his financial leadership, numerous other Lenawee County persons and corporations have become generous financial contributors to the college's development program of the past decade.

"There are few persons of philanthropic concern anywhere in the nation who can match the personal concern and generous assistance Mr. Herrick has provided to innumerable persons, families, communities and institutions. This fine tower will be our community-wide thank you to Mr. Herrick," he said.

Built by the Schulmerich Carillon firm of Sellersville, Pa., it is to be played from a console located near the organ console in the College Chapel on the opposite end of the mall.

Automatic daily programs of fine music will be presented through the use of perforated plastic rolls actuating the hommers which strike the 61-tone generators.

Master Carillonneur Klein has performed at the Brussells, Seattle and New York Worlds Fairs, at the internationally famous Salzburg Music Festival in Austria, and has given recitals throughout the world, including the International Carillon Festival in Cobh, Ireland, in 1958.

VOICE of THE HERALD

How Would You Vote?

It is more important for the county to stash away funds than it is to educate our youngsters.

Any way the Tax Allocation Board wants to cut the pie, the answer is the came: county first, schools second.

This is the result of the board's meeting Monday afternoon when members voted 4-2 for the county to operate on 5.3 mills next year, an increase of .8 mill — an increase taken from the schools.

Tecumseh schools lost approximately $34,000.

But, as Supervisor John Keller from Jasper points out, "this is progress."

We — the county — will take over the Adrian airport, make it into a county airport, and operate and maintain it out of county funds. This is progress!

We will take from the general fund — $268,000 over the past two years — and have a kitty for a building fund. A new courthouse, perhaps. This is progress!

If the Supervisors want a county airport, why don't they put the proposal before the voters? If they want a new courthouse, why not let the people have a voice?

While we vote millage for the schools, the county-controlled Tax Allocation Board takes it away for county use, with or without approval of the county electorate.

Wonder what a vote of the people would decide: county airport? new courthouse? education?

Which would you vote for?

Magnificent Production

Could Alan Jay Lerner and Frederick Loewe have had a battery of Adrian College students in mind when they created "Camelot," that breath-taking musical of King Arthur's days?

After seeing Friday's performance, we're almost inclined to think so.

With the skill and stage presence of professionals, singing in a fashion to match Broadway, the Adrian "Camelot" cast gave an interpretation which can only be described as tremendous.

Stage settings and costumes were excellent.

The 21-piece orchestra did striking justice to the difficult score.

Rating special mention for their singing were Marta Stromberg of Cleveland as Guenever, Sandra Solce of Warren as Nimue, Jeff Wagner of Brecksville, Ohio, as Arthur and Dave Marsett of Cleveland as Lancelot.

Thom Watson of Cleveland, as Mordred, came across the footlights so nasty as to invite a neck-wringing from half the audience.

"Camelot" drew standing ovations from audiences which were thrilled and enchanted.

Our congratulations to the show's cast and directors Glenn L. Harbaugh, Arthur J. Jones, Barbara Ellison and Howard Pemberton.

All of which brings us to a puzzle. Why was the county daily newspaper so absent with its treatment of this magnificent presentation?

More than 3,000 people saw "Camelot" and we'd guess many of them are asking the same question.

It's interesting to note that in the Monday issue, a lengthy editorial was devoted to the subject, "Cuba's Sugar Crop Down."

Long and Short

By TOM RIORDAN

Well, at last, the color post cards of Tecumseh have arrived.

They'll be going on sale this week in various shops and stores around town.

This first batch includes eight scenes, with a bit of history noted on each. Here's the rundown:

► W. Chicago Blvd. — Historic city of 8,000, with many tree-lined streets like this, was founded in 1824. Long a wealthy farm community, Tecumseh is now an industrial center.

► St. Peter's Episcopal Church — Parish organized in 1832, one of oldest Protestant congregations in Michigan. First service in this new church was Christmas Day, 1964. Donors to original St. Peter's included Andrew Jackson, Henry Clay and Daniel Webster.

► Globe Pond — Created in 1832 when the River Raisin was dammed, at what now is M-50, to provide hydro-electric power for grinding grain in Globe Mill. In 1935, Henry Ford erected replica of original building and this is now used as Community Center.

► Chicago Blvd. Downtown — Busy business row serves city of 8,000 and rural area of nearly 100-square-miles. Tecumseh is home of world's largest manufacturer of refrigeration compressors, Tecumseh Products Co., which employ 4,000.

► Fisher Body Plant—Ground broken July 9, 1964, with production started in April 1965. Plant covers seven acres, fabricates interior trim for General Motors automobiles.

► First Presbyterian Church — On Easter Sunday, 1828, this congregation was formed. July 6, 1866, the cornerstone for the present church was laid. Its spire reaches 140-feet high and can be seen great distances from this city, named in honor of the famed Shawnee Indian Chief.

► Community Center — M-50 curves into city with Community Center, located next to Globe Pond on site of historic Globe Mill, erected in 1832.

► Veterans Monument and City Hall — Men and women of Tecumseh area who served in Armed Forces in all wars are honored by marble marker on front lawn of city hall, which was opened in March, 1958.

OK, folks, go and get 'em.

Kalamazoo Man Joins Bank Staff

Pat Meadows, president of the United Savings Bank, announced Tuesday that Earl D. Mason will be in charge of the installment loan department at the main office.

Mr. Mason has been employed by the Industrial State Bank of Kalamazoo for the past 15 years in the consumer credit department.

Arnold D. Sayler has been promoted to assistant vice-president from assistant cashier. He will head the commercial loan department. He has been with United Savings since 1959, immediately following graduation from Tecumseh High School.

In another promotion, Lincoln F. Lloyd was named assistant cashier. He is presently on leave to the army and recently was transferred to Germany.

Mr. Mason is married and has two children. The family has purchased a home on Pottawatamie St.

Teens Sell 'Ben Cat' Tags

A Tag Day to help raise $300 for final shipment of books and school supplies to Ben Cat, Vietnam is planned for Monday.

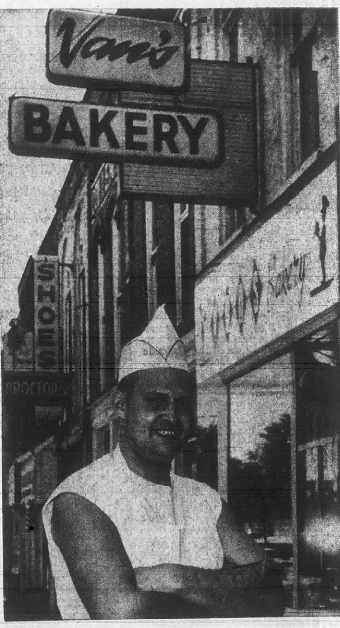
Teen-age volunteers will be downtown with canisters before and after the annual Memorial Day parade soliciting donations.

Nearly 400 slate boards and erasers fashioned by Tecumseh High School students, plus a variety of English readers have been packed and are awaiting shipment. Approximately $300 will be needed to send the materials.

Mrs. Kenenth Goldmann, who has coordinated the Ben Cat Project from its start in January, is organizing Tag Day. Young people interested in helping should contact her, 423-2347.

The drive was begun at the request of Lt. Greg Mason, a Tecumseh man whose unit is protecting Ben Cat, a city with 1,000 pupils in badly-underequipped schools.

A display of clippings and the packed boxes, which will be shipped if the needed money is raised, will appear in the corner window of Ken-Ray Drugs this weekend.



BUYS BAKERY — Leverett DeJonghe, manager of Van's Bakery Shop for the past four years, purchased the business Friday from Joe Church. The new owner has over six years at the bakery, starting there in 1960. Mr. Church, now operator of a doughnut shop in Detroit, bought the pastry shop from Don Norris, he, in turn, purchased it from Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Van Winkle, the original owners, who live at 208 E. Logan St.

IF 4-MILLS PASS

Raises Taking $115,768

By JIM LINCOLN

A breakdown for the use of the Tecumseh school's proposed four mills was released last week with salaries for school personnel receiving the largest slice.

If the four mills on June 13 is OKed, $115,768 will be used for salaries for the teachers, maintenance employees, custodians, secretaries and bus drivers.

Approximately $5,500 would be used for maintenance at West Branch elementary school and driveway improvements.

About $12,000 would go for purchase of hoods — required by law — for the welding shop program at the high school and an incinerator.

Although the four mills originally would have raised approximately $172,000, the Tax Allocation Board decision to take .8 mill, trims this total.

SEE EDITORIAL
SECTION C, PAGE 6

Instead of $172,000, the schools would actually realize about $139,000.

An increase in the school district's valuation, from $41 million to $43 million, would have provided schools with a slight increase in operating monies if the county had not taken .8 mill away.

TECUMSEH SCHOOL BOARD fears failure to pass the millage would result in a loss of approximately 20 teachers — maybe more — and near inability to hire replacements.

All area schools have given salary increases to teachers or have made plans to hike the wages. With a base salary here of $4,900, the local schools will probably be from $300 to $1,000 lower than others — if the millage fails.

Loss of teachers and insufficient funds to hire replacements will necessitate curtailment in the educational program, as there will not be enough teachers to handle present courses.

This curtailment will probably be felt in both the elementary and secondary levels, although officials will not know exactly where until after the election — and if the millage fails.

4 Gardens Being Seen by Members

Members of the Tecumseh Garden Club extend a cordial invitation to the public to attend a garden tour and flower show June 4 from 2 to 8 p.m.

Theme of the event is "Flowers to Live With," with four gardens to be viewed:

► Mrs. Neil [illegible], 501 W. Pottawatamie St.

► Mrs. Hugh Walter, 1013 Red Mill Drive

► Anne Carson, 509 E. Logan St.

Each hostess will be assisted by other members of the club. Refreshments will be served.

Leathercraft Tools Shown to 4-H Club

Lucky Clover 4-H Club members learned about basic leathercraft tools and how to hold them as they begin projects Tuesday night at a meeting at the home of William Rader.

A work session will be held May 28.

Mrs. Russell Starkey reported on the recent horse sale at the Adrian fairgrounds where 4-H Project Mothers served food.

As soon as school is out, food meetings will begin.

Anyone interested in enrolling in leathercraft or cooking projects will be welcome.

Carol Rader served refreshments.

Check 1,507

A record 1,507 cars and trucks passed through this year's expanded Safety Check lanes.

Nearly double the best previous number, 1,371 were cars and 136 trucks, reported general chairman Charlie Butler.

BESIDES THE downtown setup and those at 12 service stations and garages, lanes were established at three industries.

Fisher Body personnel examined 393 vehicles, Tecumseh Products 259 and Stauffer Chemical 110.

Mr. Butler pointed out some interesting facts turned up by checkers:

► Front seat belts are found in most new cars.

► Less than 50% had rear seat belts.

► 5% of drivers use seat belts at all times, 60% just on trips.

► Oddly enough, 26 drivers with seat belts said they never bother to use them.

MARSHA RICHARDS was selected as queen by celebrities who participated, including Dominic Conklin, general manager of Fisher Body; Charles Mackey of Stauffer Chemical; Paul Hill of Lansing and the State Safety Commission; Jerry Gilles of Detroit and Michigan Trucking Co.; Carl Powell of Flint and Auto Industries representatives.

16-Year-Old Beaten Badly

Arlo Dean Schulze, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Schulze, 907 W. Russell Rd., was beaten unconscious Saturday evening in Macon when he was attacked by five juveniles.

The victim was rushed to Herrick Hospital where it was first thought that he might lose his left eye. He suffered a broken nose in the brawl and was not released until Monday.

Mrs. Schulze says she will sign complaints, or warrants, against the youths, all Tecumseh High School students.

Young Schulze and some others were visiting the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Conway. The attack took place just outside their home. Both parents were away.

Prior to the beating, the victim was stopped in his car by the other youths on the Macon Rd. and threatened. An earlier threat had been made during a phone call.

THE 16-year-old, a varsity end and tackle on THS football team, said some of the boys had wrenches with them, and whether they were used in the beating, he isn't sure.

They left him unconscious and threatened the two Conway daughters and Sheldon Pease if they called the police. Young Pease called an ambulance and gave him oxygen at the scene.

State Police at Clinton were notified about 10:30 p.m.

20 Gallons of Paint Transforms Restaurant

Nearly 20 gallons of bright red paint has transformed The Chicken Basket into its present resplendent state at 306 N. Evans St.

Trimmed in white, it hardly resembles the former Dairy Delight.

Strategically located for patrons, especially school children, the new restaurant operated by Vera Makowsky will soon have a big broasted chicken rooster reposing on the roof.

Plans are underway to erect the chicken this weekend.

Equipment for the broasted chicken, steaks, fish, shrimp and spare ribs has already been installed.

Mrs. Makowsky supervises and does much of the cooking herself to assure that just right nutty flavor in the golden brown foods.

See Nature Center

By MARTHA BALDWIN

Little Garden Club members enjoyed an excursion to Kalamazoo for their May meeting, as guests of former member Mrs. Gene Bosche.

A visit to the Kalamazoo Nature Center was high point of the day. A 100-acre area of undisturbed meadows, marshlands, streams, ponds and woodlands, it provides superb examples of the varied plant and animal communities of southwestern Michigan.

The Interpretive Center features an unusual Sun-Rain Room, housing tons of boulders and many tropical plants illustrating former climates of the Kalamazoo area — all under an enormous glass dome.

This building also includes displays on Michigan wildlife, geology, land and water use, live animals, classrooms, laboratories, reference library, panoramic view into the beech-maple forest and a Natural History Sales Shop.

The ladies enjoyed wandering through one of the many nature trails. Luncheon was served by Mrs. Bosche at her home.

Arrangements for the day were made by Mrs. Owen Merrill and committee.

Shawnee Square Peace Pipe Goes to Meade

Third annual dinner and dance of the Shawnee Squares began Sunday at the Country House with 40 member "braves" and their "squaws."

Big Chief Don Newman, who conducted a business meeting after dinner, expressed appreciation and presented gifts to retiring officers.

Financial reports and club bylaws were distributed.

The peace pipe was smoked and passed to the new chief, Harold Meade, who introduced new officers:

First vice-presidents — Mr. and Mrs. Howard Barrett

Second vice-presidents — Mr. and Mrs. Don Wenzel

Secretary and treasurer — Mr. and Mrs. Robert Collins

Reporters — Mr. and Mrs. Ray Schlegel

The group adjourned to the Community Center for dancing with callers Glen LeFever of Toledo and Chuck Dillenbeck of Detroit.

Chuck Dillenbeck will be back Saturday to call for club square dancing at the Community Center. All western style square dancers are invited to join them.

Tipton Topics

Memorial Day Services will be held at 11 a.m. Sunday in Tipton Community Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Beauregard of Hollywood, Florida were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lamont Simmons.

Keep Sharp — and Live

Memorial Day weekend means traffic jams, with too many automobiles driven by not-always-careful drivers.

The Allstate Motor Club offers some safe driving suggestions for the highway or expressway.

- Check tires—including the spare—before leaving.
- Eat lightly, especially when on long distance trips. Too much food has a tendency to induce drowsiness.
- Know highway numbers and your favorite route before starting out.
- When going long distances, start early.
- Organize games to keep children occupied on trip. (This will lessen considerably the chatter and noise.)
- Fasten seat belts, everyone, front and back.
- Keep packages and loose objects in the trunk.
- After driving on an expressway, slow down, 30 miles an hour seems slower than it is after going 60 or 65 m.p.h.
- Check turn signals to be sure they are working.
- Drive 'ahead" by looking far down the road.
- Watch out for cars entering and leaving the road.
- Keep your eyes moving.
- Leave yourself plenty of interval ahead and air space on either side.
- Drive defensively.

'Society Of Ministers'

Should women be ministers? Jehovah's Witnesses, in recognition of the Bible precedent at Romans 16:1, feel they should.

In fact, they feel that every Christian should be a minister, regardless of sex, and have therefore been described as a "society of ministers.'

Richard Krebs Jr., presiding minister of the Tecumseh congregation, announced today that 10 women ministers from the local congregation are planning to attend the five-day training session arranged by the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society.

The dates of the assembly are June 22 through 26 at the Canadian National Exhibition Grandstand, Toronto, Ontario.

Confirmation This Sunday

Seventeen young people will be confirmed Sunday at the Gloria Dei Evangelical Lutheran Church by the pastor, the Rev. Laszlo Gero.

The boys and girls have completed two years of catethical instruction and will be admitted as adult members into the congregation, giving them the right to receive Holy Communion for the first time.

The pastor stated that one of the high spiritual moments of every year in the life of the Lutheran congregation is the hour when the Catechumens approach the Altar of God for confirmation of their Christian faith.

Card of Thanks

In loving memory of our dear husband and father, G. A. Abner, who passed away 8 years ago today, May 26, 1958.

Your gentle face and patient smile
With sadness we recall.
You had a kindly word for each
And died beloved by all.
The voice is mute and stilled the heart
That loved us well and true.
Ah, bitter was the trial to part
From one so good as you.
You are not forgotten, loved one
Nor will you ever be,
As long as life and memory lasts
We will remember you.
We miss you now, our hearts are sore
As time goes by, we miss you more.
Your loving smile, your gentle face,
No one can ever take your place.
He would not wish for sorrow
Nor would he wish for tears
But just to be remembered
By us through the years.

Sadly missed by his wife, children and grandchildren.
Mrs. G. A. Abner M26p

GET FASTER GAINS WITH BEEF CATTLE ON A CONCRETE-PAVED LOT

Purdue University researchers found that beef cattle gained up to one-third more weight when kept on concrete. Cattle struggling in the muddy test lot ate less feed, and used up energy that should have gone into meat.

A solid concrete surface saves labor, too. Feed wagons don't get bogged down. Tractor-mounted manure loaders operate efficiently in all kinds of weather. Concrete-paved lots don't require periodic filling and grading.

More manure is saved, including much of the high-nitrogen liquid portion. Manure savings alone can pay for the concrete paving in a few years.

Your local ready-mixed concrete producer can help you plan and build your feedlot. Use the coupon below for free, informative literature.

Now again the American people are being asked not to break faith, not only with those who have died for freedom but with those men presently fighting against aggression in Vietnam.

Each citizen must shoulder his responsibility to inform himself as to the right and the wrong of the situation. Certainly it would not be right for the U.S. to withdraw and leave the poor people of South Vietnam, victims of their Communist tormentors.

Twenty-seven persons were killed in 22 fatal accidents over the 78-hour period in 1965 in Michigan, one of the state's highest Memorial holiday tolls.

Highway department studies showed that travel mileage on the Memorial Day weekend in 1965 in Michigan was up about 25 per cent compared with the preceding and following weekends.

Pass days for uniformed post personnel have been cancelled Friday through Monday of the holiday weekend and detectives, where available, will be used on desk assignments to relieve uniform men for patrols.

The State Police will be assisted on the four days, May 27 through May 30, by 120 members of the Michigan National Guard who will serve as second men on two-man patrols or on point control.

Boardmen Explain Why Four Mills Are Needed

CLINTON — Board of Education members released a statement on issues to be presented to voters June 13.

"Permission is being requested to levy four mills ($4 per $1,000 of state equalized valuation on property) to supplement the allocated 11.22 mills for the purpose of operating the schools. These four mills are being requested for a period of three years.

"Voters will also be asked to grant permission to go above the tax limitation by two mills ($2 per $1,000) and to grant the board authority to actually levy these two mills for the establishment of a building and site sinking fund."

Board continues, "In order to run your schools properly we feel these tax millages are necessary in order to insure proper educational development, which will afford your children preparation geared to a fast-moving, demanding society."

State equalized valuation in the School District is currently $13,155,802. One mill of operation means $13,155.80 in actual dollars to the schools.

Estimates of the 1966-67 budget project that total expenditures will be approximately $513,000.

If the four mills for operation are approved and if the state passes House Bill 4025, which provides for additional state aid per pupil, then the district will realize enough revenue to balance the budget, boardmen explain.

RECENT improvements in the school noted by the board include:

- ► New equipment in the biology department, upgraded science courses with the addition of new textbooks and new laboratory equipment.
- ► Latest unified concepts in teaching of mathematics.
- ► Modern textbooks and teaching aids to improve instruction in language arts and social studies.
- ► New standard drafting tables.
- ► Reading improvement program to meet the needs of the educationally - deprived youngsters.
- ► Commercial department development with the aid of state advice and resources to provide a business education instructional program.

"IT IS important that the people in the Clinton District realize that educational development has only begun," boardmen state.

"The responsibility which is being placed upon your local schools to provide quality education for local students is continually increasing.

"In order to keep pace with these stringent demands and to meet the exacting education requirements of today, continual development will be necessary in all areas of instruction," they said.

SLATED FOR expansion in the 1966-67 school year will be the industrial arts and the fine arts departments, library and entire elementary curriculum.

These rooms will be needed for elementary expansion and the Board hopes space will be available on a temporary basis from local churches.

'It must be understood that this is not the long-term answer, but simply a highly practical answer for this immediate school year until the Clinton Citizens Committee and Board of Education can arrive at an intelligent course of action in the provision of future building programs," the statement concluded.

Cast Sparkles in Light Opera

By MAXINE CALHOUN

CLINTON — Light opera came to Clinton Friday and Saturday.

An ambitious production, "The Mikado", was capably staged by the members of the High School Choir, directed by Mrs. Donald Geiger.

She was assisted by student director, Gail Johnson.

The many-hued Japanese costumes, made by Susan Kirkland's committee, enhanced the performance.

Lending authenticity to the setting was the beautiful backdrop set of Mt. Fuji, painted by Kathy Callison, Betty Ebbert and Dee Dee Carleton.

A cast of 54 voices sang the difficult Gilbert and Sullivan lyrics with assurance and skill.

Chuck Wilder, as Ko-Ko, the Lord High Executioner, gave a fine performance in the tongue-in-cheek melodrama, as he sought a victim for his axe.

The petite Yum-Yum played by LuAnn Rhoades was delightfully charming as the bride-to-be with two fiances.

Brad Bihlmeyer, as Nanki-Poo, handled with ease, the difficult tenor lead.

Don Steffens, Lord High Everything, ably provided the droll humor.

Debbie Claus was suitably villainous as the scorned Katisha.

Barbara Bowman accompanied at the piano. Jerry Porter was the trumpeter.

CLINTON — Forty of Mrs. Guy Hoover's ninth grade Homemaking class and Mrs. James Meeks' Special Education group toured the Kellogg plant in Battle Creek Friday.

Gifts for Kitchen Given Bride-to-be Nancy Lee Beland

Nancy Lee Beland was feted at a kitchen bridal shower May 18 at the home of Sandra Ross.

Ten college friends played games and each guest was presented a dainty pink rosebud corsage, accented with wedding bands.

House decorations and table appointments featured pink and green, the wedding colors. A white lace parasol arranged with pink carnations and chrysanthemums was a highlight.

Miss Beland's marriage to Ross V. Renwick of Petoskey will be an event of June 18.

Car Industry Has Spent $24 Million on Safety

Automobile Club of Michigan says a rare kind word about the auto industry's highway safety efforts.

AAA announces the beginning of a $100,000 "Bring 'Em Back Alive!" safety campaign for Michigan this year.

The big four auto companies were presented "Steering Wheel" awards for their support of driver-education before 150 of Michigan's top safety workers and civic leaders at a luncheon in the Detroit Athletic Club.

In urging more attention to the positive approach to traffic safety, aimed at the driver, Auto Club President Lloyd H. Diehl, noted that only five such awards have been presented before in the Club's 50-year history.

"In the past 10 years alone, auto manufacturers have spent some $24 million in allowances to assist dealers who provided over 120,000 cars to train youngsters," Diehl said.

"This year they will loan 22,000 cars at a cost of $9 million. This is a positive attack, in cooperation with schools, police and Triple-A, on the greatest single cause of traffic accidents."

Eight things every driver should carry with him over Memorial Day.

It's spring. Relax, roll down the window, smell the fresh air. But don't overdo a good thing. Consider these suggestions from the General Motors Proving Grounds.

1. If this is your first trip since winter, make sure your car has been rechecked and prepared for summer. Have the tires checked for worn spots and cuts. Have springs and shock absorbers looked at, and don't forget wheel alignment and wheel bearings. And make sure the cooling system is ready.

2. Be careful of backseat riders. The best way to keep the kids off your neck (literally) is by giving them something more interesting to do than bothering you. A simple game to play on the seat can help. (And remember: Beware of kids bearing little lollipop sticks. Try gumdrops instead, they're soft.)

3. Door locks aren't only for keeping out people who don't belong in your car. They are equally helpful at keeping you and your family in. (And don't forget to remind your little ones how important it is to not play with door locks and handles. You can't remind them too often.)

4. All the '66 GM cars have outside rearview mirrors and seat belts. They work very well if you use them. Every test driver is asked to never start up without snapping his seat belt and pulling it down tight near the hips. And after you readjust the inside mirror, put the outside one in position, too.

5. The guy who's tailgating you is very much your problem. You're the one he'll hit if he can't stop in time. The best thing to do is to let him pass you.

6. It's a good idea to watch what you eat. Heavy, big meals on the road make you tired and sluggish. Try things like cheeseburgers and a glass of milk.

7. Grab your sunglasses. You'll need them. We've also found an extra advantage to wearing them. Your night vision is better if you've worn sunglasses during the day. (But a lot worse if you wear them at night.)

8. What you can't see at night can hurt you. During the day you often have 10,000 candlepower of sunlight. At night, your headlights might be all you have to depend on. Be sure they're operating properly before you start, and keep them clean when you're on the road. That goes for your taillights and turn signals, too.

These suggestions can help make your holidays safer and more enjoyable. They do for our test drivers.

One of the most important things we've learned about safety over the last 58 years is this:

Safe driving depends on three things. THE CAR THE ROAD AND YOU Pass it on.

THE LANSING REPORT FROM senator GIL BURSLEY

Currently in Lansing, the Legislature is finalizing budget action for state universities. I was delighted, therefore, to see a report this week that the University of Michigan's graduate school is ranked among the top 10 in the country.

Conducted by the American Council on Education the survey polled some 4,000 professors and deans.

In the 29 academic disciplines covered, Michigan finished among the top 10 a total of 20 times.

Graduate schools were rated "distinguished", "strong", "good" and "adequate plus". The University of Michigan was ranked as "distinguished" in eight departments — anthropology, botany, chemical engineering, pharmacology, philosophy, psychology, sociology and Spanish.

Harvard had the greatest number of "distinguished" departments within its university confines. It was closely followed by the University of California at Berkeley. Tied for third and fourth were Stanford and Yale.

Michigan was fifth, followed by Calif. Tech, MIT, Chicago, Princeton, Wisconsin and Columbia.

The survey confirmed assertions that academic excellence will surface where faculty salaries are high, libraries large and the flow of scholarly publications prodigious.

Savings Bond Interest Up

Dale Gardner, chairman of the U. S. Savings Bonds volunteer committee for Lenawee County, urges bond buyers to take advantage of the new higher annual limitations on holdings of E and H bonds which have been announced by the Treasury Department.

The new regulations provide that eligible purchasers may own up to $20,000 maturity value in series E bonds bought in any one calendar year and $30,000 face value in H bonds. Previous limits were $10,000 and $20,000 respectively.

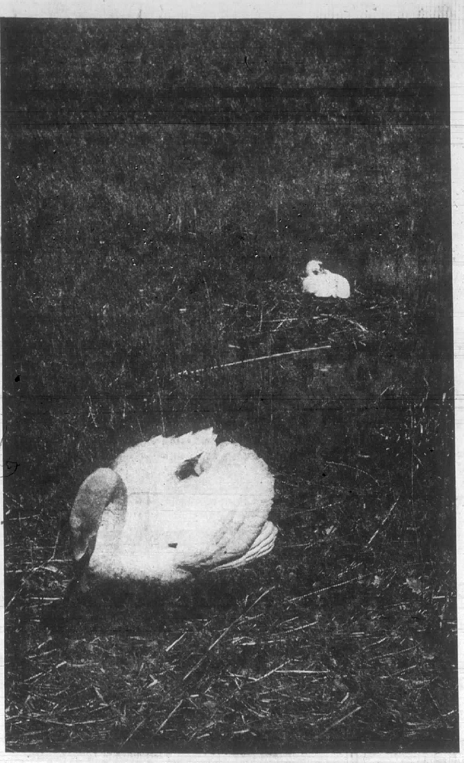
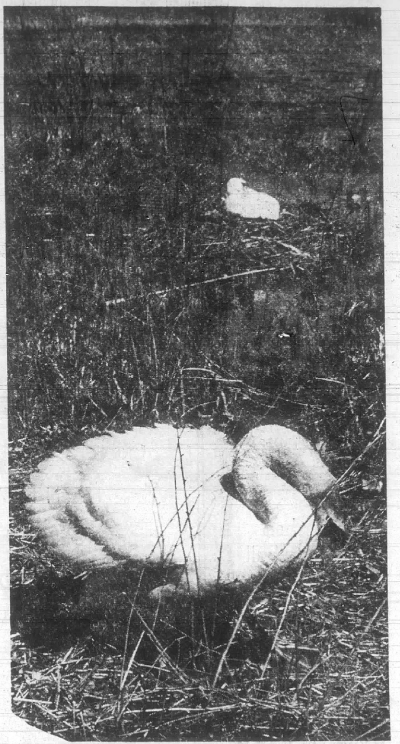
HIDDEN LAKE MATERNITY REPORT

Papa Swan Doesn't Like Company

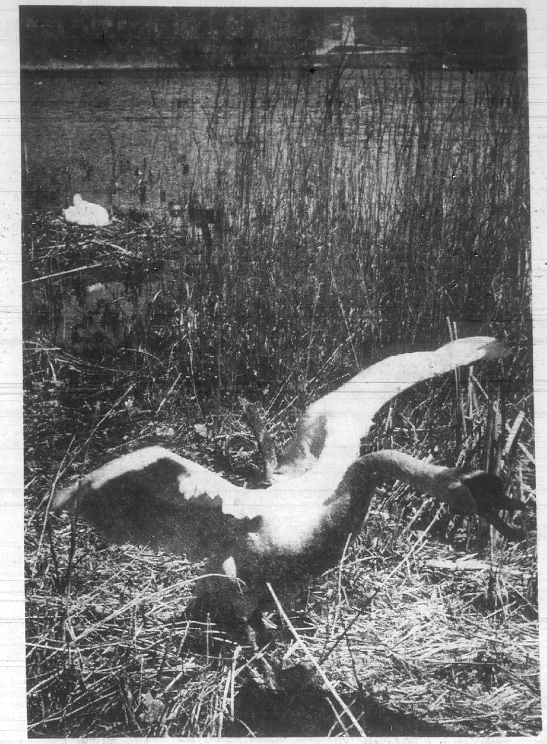
Out at Hidden Lake Gardens, there's some maternity news. The swans just had four cygnets, sighted briefly by a worker, but still kept undercover. The Herald camera was poking around prior to the births, with Dr. Fred Freeman warning that Papa Swan didn't care for any company. Sure enough, when he spied the intruder, Pop waddled out of the lake, coiled his neck and jabbed forward, beating his wings and letting out a ferocious squawk. All the while, Mama sat placidly on her nest, a chore she performed for six weeks. Folks have pinioned wings, can't leave area.



Sorry, buddie, you're not welcome.



Look, I said get moving!



Pal, you're out of there!

200 Bags Picked Up for Goodwill

About 200 bags for Goodwill Industries were picked up by both Boy Scouts and Cub Scouts of Tecumseh Troops 4 and 73, Packs 72 and 73 and Explorer Post 87.

The pick-up was carried out April 30, although many groups had brought their contributions to Goodwill throughout the previous week.

THOSE WHO visited the Goodwill plant during 'Open House" and throughout Goodwill Week, saw the handicapped people at work perhaps on the items which they had given.

They saw the reconditioned items for sale in the Goodwill Store. A production line was also seen in which the handicapped people work on various jobs sub-contracted from other industrial plants.

All of these activities provide a measure of support for the handicapped people working at Goodwill Industries.

GOODWILL drop boxes are placed in many strategic places throughout Lenawee County, particularly in parking lots of shopping areas. Discards may be placed in these boxes at any time and empty bags received from a container in the box.

"Goodwill is most grateful for all the interest shown both in the Boy Scout Drive and in the Goodwill Week," a representative said.

News from the Tecumseh Library

New books ready for you to borrow at your Public Library:

THE GARRICK YEAR by Margaret Drabble. The Garrick year is one spent by Miss Drabble's heroine in a furnished house near a theatre in a small English provincial town. Her name is Emma — an attractive, intelligent, albeit self-centered, young woman married to that most egocentric of men, an actor.

CLANDARA, a novel of love and rebellion in eighteenth-century Scotland by Evelyn Anthony.

THE LOST COLONY by Edison Marshall. Perhaps the single greatest mystery in the history of America was the vanishing into thin air of the English colony founded by Sir Walter Raleigh at Roanoke Island, off the coast of what is now North Carolina, in the year 1587. In this novel, the author offers an exciting and plausible solution.

WAR IN THE GOLDEN WEATHER by Stephen Longstreet. In the noise and confusion, the horror and pain, Will Cortland stood at Major Washington's side. Fighting against the hated French and Indian forces, Washington had put himself under the command of General Braddock, and now the stubborn English general was helping to massacre his own men by insisting they fight in strict military formation. This exciting novel is a blend of historical fact and story-telling skill.

THE ADVENTURES by Jane Hodge. A spirited young girl and her English governess find themselves thrown by the turbulent wake of Napoleon's retreat into a world of high adventure, romantic suspense and political intrigue.

THE EMPTY DAY, the first serious novel by Richard Lackridge, known for his mystery stories. It is one man's search for the answers to the questions What am I? and What have I done with my years?

Crime Syndicate Flourishes

By DOROTHY GRIGG

"Major crime has grown seven and one-half times faster than the population in the last five years," said Capt. Ray McConnell, commanding officer of the intelligence and security section of the Michigan State Police, "and I'm not talking about little things. I mean rape, robbery and murder," he added.

Speaker at the Mayor Exchange banquet May 18, Capt. McConnell was talking to 160 in St. Elizabeth School auditorium.

He said that there is a crime syndicate operating in this country, a relatively stable group with a common purpose of extending the scope of their activities wherever and whenever possible.

"You can't have a conspiracy of this kind without corrupt law enforcement officials and an apathetic public," continued Capt. McConnell.

He told of a case in Hazel Park when postal inspectors asked the State Police for help in apprehending burglars who had stolen $400,000 in postal savings stamps.

After constant surveillance, requiring 12 men working 12 hours each day, Capt. McConnell heard derogatory remarks from the crowd about the police as the criminals were arrested.

"If the police deserve these remarks, 'dirty rotten cops,' then it's time the public did something about their police and if they don't then it's time the public did something about themselves."

Returning to the crime syndicate, Capt. McConnell remarked, "No place in Michigan can you make a $2 bet without the crime syndicate getting a percentage of it — money that will buy narcotics perhaps for your kids and mine."

"This can't occur in an alert and concerned society. There is corruption among the police, courts and politicians. In a democracy, people get the type of government they deserve.

"Unless people take more action in government we may lose our way of life — democracy," concluded the speaker.

CAPTAIN McCONNELL, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. McConnell, Rogers Hwy., attended the banquet with his wife, Maxine, and their son, Steve, who consistently beats his father at golf.

Mayor Dean Recknagel of Roosevelt Park, which is located near Lake Michigan, south of Muskegon, was introduced by Dr. Robert Murray, master of ceremonies.

Mayor Recknagel said, "In Tecumseh I am most impressed with the togetherness, warm hospitality and the community pride. I have never seen a city more bubbling over with community pride."

"You people are fortunate to have such a congenial, sincere, down-to-earth mayor as Harold Easton. While he was in Roosevelt Park, he boasted and bragged about Tecumseh until I am most pleased to have the chance to come here and now I understand why he bragged as he did," complimented the exchange mayor.

He said that the largest gray iron foundry in the world is located in Roosevelt Park, also the largest bowling alley in Michigan is there.

Mayor Easton presented gifts to Mayor Recknagel, City Manager Bill Bovee and Dr. Greenberg who accompanied the mayor.

DR. MURRAY introduced city councilmen and their wives after the dinner served by members of the Teen Club.

Tables were decorated with spring flowers, candles and Indian Head decorated programs, by members of the Jaycee Auxiliary under the chairmanship of Mrs. Thomas Morgan.

The Swiss steak dinner was prepared by Mrs. Ted Golat and members of the St. Elizabeth Altar Society.

Invocation was given by the Rev. Blair Bashore.

Betty Flanders presented organ music throughout the evening. During the dinner hour frequent outbursts of song came from the diners in appreciation of her music.

Boat Mishap Fractures Skull of Girl Passenger

A boat collision on Wamplers Lake Sunday injured two girls.

Pamela Gallup, 18, of Lambertville, hurt her back and Cindy Clark, 15, of Monroe, received a possible skull fracture. Both were admitted to Herrick Memorial Hospital.

Miss Gallup was a passenger in a boat driven by Harold E. Willoughby of Lambertville. Miss Clark was riding in one driven by Margaret Ann Marks of Monroe.

The mishap occurred 100 yards north of the Hayes State Park bath house. The boats swerved back and forth to avoid each other, then turned in the same direction and collided.

'How Much Do We Care?'

Mrs. Parker Tagsold of Blissfield asked nearly 50 women attending a tea Thursday at the Ridgeway Methodist Church "How Much Do We Care?"

She said, "We want our religion at our own price, a discount."

Another provocative question asked by the speaker was, "Do you have cocktails after church here?"

She commented that on two occasions recently she had been in churches where, after some light trivia during the morning service, cocktails were served.

She commented that this is the new morality — today's religion is in a barrel rolling down a steep hill with nothing to stop it from crashing.

CONCERNED about recent comments that "God is Dead", Mrs. Tagsold said she did some reading and found that He died at the beginning of the last generation.

She challenged those attending to refute this statement. "Take a stand and tell others that God is not dead as long as He lives in your heart."

She cited statistics about the rapid rise of juvenile delinquency, saying that venereal disease among teenagers last year had increased 72%.

"These days everything is 'relative', among communists, truth is relative, also virtue and loyalty," said Mrs. Tagsold, who spends much of her time at the Lenawee Youth Center.

Mrs. Tagsold continued to challenge throughout her talk — "What did you do when the Supreme Court ruled that students no longer need to salute the American flag and that state employees are not required to take a loyalty oath — that it is an archaic law?"

SHE SAID, "So many are hiding behind the fifth amendment and the constitution."

"The precepts of Communism are to confuse, divide and weaken, according to J. Edgar Hoover of the Federal Bureau of Investigation," commented the guest.

It was not difficult for the speaker to give examples of these simple rules of Communism as seen here in America.

She spoke about the Vietnam situation, the riots, the draft card burners and other dissenters.

IN TELLING of division, she said, "Why we are even divided on whether we should go to church or not. If this keeps up whose picture do you think we will see on the walls of our churches just anytime now?"

"When will we wake up?" "Do you know that there is a group trying not only to take the three religious observances, Thanksgiving, Easter and Christmas out of the churches but also off from the calendar All they need to do to get rid of Thanksgiving is to get President Johnson not to sign his annual proclamation.

"What can one person do? God never asks us to do more than we can. I'm not suggesting that you ladies do this, but there are more than 100 persons in this country who have refused to pay their income tax because they don't approve of the way their money is being used. Suits against them are still pending."

MRS. TAGSOLD concluded her inspiring talk by quoting from Vandyke.

"Four things a man must learn to do,
"If he would make his record true.
"To think without confusion clearly,
"To act from honest motives purely,
"To love his fellowman sincerely,
"To trust in God and heaven securely."

MRS. GERTRUDE BIRDSALL and committee made arrangements for the tea with members of the United Workers Class, each setting a table and supplying a centerpiece for her own guests.

A trio composed of Mrs. Ed Bailey, Mrs. Ellsworth Robison and Mrs. Allen Bower sang, accompanied by Mrs. Fred Schroeber.

Bible Must Be in Native Languages

By KATHRYN SOMMERS

"A copy of the Holy Scriptures in a foreign language is almost as useless as a sword still in its sheath," says Mrs. Robert Beadle of Clinton.

Mrs. Beadle was featured speaker at the Mother-Daughter Banquet of the Tecumseh Friends Church last week.

More than 200 ladies enjoyed a roast beef dinner served by the men in the church basement. Table decorations featured spring flowers and lighted candles.

MRS. BEADLE, whose husband is with the Michigan State Police Post, told of her experiences with the Wycliffe Translators in the country of Ghana, Africa.

The Wycliffe group has as its objective the translation of the Bible into the dialects and languages of the world. Part of their credo is that a native better understands Holy Scripture when he can read it in his own tongue.

Mrs. Beadle showed the group several African curios and illustrated her remarks of the evening with slides of African missions.

Pre-dinner music was furnished by Mrs. Loren Avery at the organ and Mrs. Paul Brantingham on the piano.

A TRIBUTE to Mrs. Kate Love was a highlight of the evening.

Mrs. Love, who was celebrating the 91st anniversary of her birth on this date, was presented with a corsage by Mrs. Amos Wilson, president of the Ladies' Missionary Society.

Surprised and delighted, Mrs. Love said, "I think I've been allowed to live all these years to enjoy this moment."

Other program selections included group singing led by Mrs. Lee Spohr, a poem read by Mrs. William Earl and a vocal solo, "His Hands," by Mrs. Ashley Chase.

Mrs. Arnold Wilson offered a toast to the daughters and her daughter, Judy, responded with a poem dedicated to the mothers.

PAULA BRANTINGHAM and Jacqueline Pearson each drew a picture in chalk while Mrs. Brantingham played piano selections.

Kathy Hammack and Belinda Hoekstra played a flute duet.

Mrs. Clark Pearson was general chairman for the evening. Other committee chairmen were Mrs. Chester Hensen, decorations; Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Harold Righter, program; Mrs. Roy Hess, menu and the Rev. Paul Brantingham, kitchen crew.

Cornerstone Will Contain Historical Data

Cornerstone of the new Methodist Church was set in place Sunday morning.

The ceremony, led by the pastor, the Rev. Donald Porteous, attracted approximately 150 persons.

The Rev. Joseph Edwards, Ann Arbor district superintendent, and Bishop Marshall Reed, former bishop of the Detroit Conference, assisted in the ritual and litany.

As the Rev. Mr. Porteous enumerated the various items to be placed in the copper box, which is sealed in the stone, Lynn Noble, chairman of the building council, deposited them.

Setting the stone was done by Charles Hykes of Kreighoff-Lenawee and Mr. Wayne Merriman, general foreman of the project.

Special guests for the event include Mr. and Mrs. Ray Herrick, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Marr, architect; and Cecil Sauter, Industrial Electric.

Following the service, members were invited to tour the new buildings aided by floor plans given to each member.

A coffee fellowship was sponsored at the site by the members of the newly-formed Young Married Couples group.

Grant of $3,000 Goes to Project at Hidden Lake

A $3,000 grant from the Garden Club of America will finance a project at Hidden Lake Gardens.

Announcement of the award—first one in 30 years presented in the Great Lakes Legion — was made in Baltimore.

The grant will be used for planting and testing of new woody plant materials to determine adaptability to low maintenance landscapes.

Hidden Lake Gardens, a landscape arboretum in the Irish Hills, is part of Michigan State University.

In a glacial sink an outdoor laboratory will be developed where newly introduced species and varieties of woody trees and shrubs will be grown under minimal maintenance conditions.

After initial establishment, the plantation will receive no special care.

REPORTS ON those plants that thrive will prove valuable to landscape architects and park and highway planting designers as well as home gardeners.

Because the glacial sink where the plantings will take place has a wide assortment of soil types, moisture and exposures, it prevents a perfect outdoor leboratory for this project. The sink is a large bowl-shaped pothole.

After the first year, observations of transplanting adaptability, rate of growth, vigor, resistance to insects and diseases and landscape effectiveness will be made periodically.

The area will not be touched by pesticides, thus bird lovers will be able to study nesting and feeding preferences of song birds.

The presentation of the Founder's Fund Award goes through the Garden Club of Michigan.

'Madam Butterfly' Evening Gown Highlights Showing at EvelDean

Exclusives EvelDean presented original designs in a fashion show Sunday afternoon and evening for more than 100 guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hanna were hosts for cocktails preceding the evening showing in the new haute couture salon.

Mrs. Donald Cobb was commentator for the fashion show. Modeling their ensembles designed by EvelDean were Mrs. Joseph Layton, formerly of Tecumseh and now of Chicago, Mary Lou Layton and Mrs. Robert Watts of Ann Arbor, Mrs. Cobb, Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Hanna.

The show opened with the showing of four poncho ensembles, reversible Spanish capes of patterned and plain woolens with fitted skirts of each pattern to complete the ensemble.

EvelDean expects to offer by fall, a selection of the original ponchos, ready-made in a varied size range.

SOME OF THE 25 ensembles shown were:

Mrs. Hanna modeled her four-piece "Promenade" suit of brown wrap-skirt, cross-draped matching cocktail blouse and brief, flared jacket, and alternate orange blouse.

Mrs. Smith wore a herringbone checked wool reefer with a belted back and a matching slim, back-pleated skirt.

Mrs. Cobb's daytime dress of black print on red was worn with a great-coat of black wool.

Mrs. Watts modeled her grey simulated fur "Moscow" suit and matching hat.

The evening fashions modeled included Mrs. Smith's fitted pink crepe, the "Granada", accented with hand-sewn beadwork in a Moorish design.

Mrs. Layton's opera gown of black silk brocade featured a fantail at back hemline and a low-back neckline accented with a diamond brooch.

Mrs. Hanna wore a turquoise printed evening gown with a reversible printed and plain matching long evening coat.

Mrs. Watts showed a gown of champagne beige raised matelesse, with a collar of champagne mink.

CLIMAXING the show was Mrs. Layton's "Madam Butterfly" evening gown of Chinese silk shantung, imported from Puerto Rico.

The splashy Chinese print was accented by a butterfly-shaped bow at the V-back neckline. Several slits provided a fluent hemline on the sheath-slim gown.

G-M Workers Cost-of-Living Raise Is 4c

DETROIT — General Motors announced an upward revision of four cents an hour in its cost-of-living allowance to approximately 430,000 hourly-rate employees.

Effective with the pay period beginning June 6, workers will receive a total cost-of-living allowance of 16c per hour for the months of June, July and August.

More than 100,000 eligible salaried employees will receive an equivalent increase of $20 in their quarterly cost-of-living allowance.

Thus their total cost-of-living allowance for the three-month period will be $80.

Robison was arrested by Clinton State Police following a complaint by C. C. Richard, 6440 Green Rd., May 15, that someone had been fishing on his private pond.

outdoor chefs are very fussy!

Ever since the outdoor cooking fad began,
we've been catering
to the special needs of outdoor chefs.

Over the years, we've satisfied scores of thousands.
Many, many find just the steak, chops or chicken they want in our self-service meat departments.
Others have specific needs... the steak must be 2½" thick, the chops double thick and so forth.
That's no problem.
If you don't see it...just ask. We'll be happy to help you.

One other reason we're so popular with "backyard barbecuers"... the quality of our "Super-Right" Meats.
Quality so high, some meat graded U.S. Choice just isn't perfect enough to be "Super-Right" Meat.

Is this a good reason for shopping A&P? It's one of many.

VOICE of THE HERALD

A Razor-Thin Chance

There is still a razor-thin chance that the County Tax Allocation Board might change its mind.

Boardmen voted last week to give county government .8 mill, which last year had gone to education, leaving the schools holding the bag — an empty one.

But before that decision is final, there has to be a public hearing.

That's where you come in, if you feel the tax split is wrong.

The hearing will be Thursday at 1:30 p.m. in the Court House. By law the board must listen to any complaints of citizens. It's the final opportunity to voice disapproval.

Being realistic, we know the chances of the board reversing its field are slim — but history abounds with examples of impossibilities happening. Remember when Dewey snowed Truman?

If enough unhappy citizens show up and give constructive reasons why the schools should keep the .8 mill, there just might be an upset.

To The Herald, the Tax Allocation Board was dead wrong in giving the county more tax money when it sits on a surplus of funds topping the million mark — including a building fund worth $268,000.

It's interesting to note that cash for construction of a new court house has been quietly siphoned out of operating money and that's not cricket.

If certain Supervisors — and they seem to have neatly stacked the tax board in their favor — feel a new building is needed, they should go to the people with a vote.

Their sleight-of-hand tactics, now involving the taking of education money, when all county schools are operating on the brink of financial insolvency, is sheer nonsense.

Thursday's hearing is scheduled for a downstairs committee room, with a seating capacity for about 20 visitors.

If many more than that show up, the session would probably be shifted upstairs to the Probate Court, where about 300 can be accommodated.

A full court room would certainly lend itself to a fascinating afternoon.

Police Problem Won't Vanish

City Manager Cal Zorn and Council have a problem on their hands, one not apt to disappear overnight and a situation that won't vanish by being ignored.

Our police department is the finest — probably the best — Tecumseh has ever enjoyed. However, the department is shorthanded and this is not good.

The community deserves proper police protection. Citizens can't get it if we have one officer at the dispatcher's desk and another patroling, or both officers out of the department at the same time.

The Tecumseh police were given a pay hike of about 10%, effective July 1. We're not quibbling over salaries, although the police want more.

The concern here is the community and the patrolmen themselves. Every effort should be made now to see that the department is properly staffed, not after a tragedy occ[illegible] which could be traced back to a shorthanded police department.

Legislature Should Act

Compulsory inspection of vehicles — that's the answer as far as Charlie Butler is concerned.

Fast upon the completion of the record 11th annual Safety-Check program in Tecumseh and at three area industries, Charlie makes the appraisal.

Always the leading figure in the effort to make cars and trucks safe in our community, Mr. Butler is probably better qualified than anyone in southern Michigan to appraise the situation of vehicle safety.

Checkers examined 1,371 cars and 136 trucks last week, which is probably less than half of those being driven in the area. Many car owners who missed the event knew all along that their cars wouldn't pass and didn't want to go to a lot of trouble.

That's what helps bring Mr. Butler to his opinion.

Everyone should be made to pass through a check lane — everyone in Michigan.

Eleven other states have compulsory safety-check laws and they're paying dividends in fewer traffic accidents. With auto safety rebounding around the halls of Congress and appearing on front pages of metropolitan papers day after day, now might be the time for state legislators to start the ball rolling in Lansing.

Until they do, communities such as ours can count themselves lucky by having a group, like our Rotary Club, willing to sponsor a safety check year after year.

Clarifies Her Statements

TO THE EDITORS:

You won't believe me when I say that this letter will contain no gripes — just an explanation of a few remarks that I made in the meeting last Tuesday morning at Don's Grill concerning the passage of another four mills for two years for school purposes, which would cost the tax-payers a total of eight mills through 1968.

After 1968, we have no idea what will be requested, but that won't worry me as I'll be going to the moon the following year.

One young mother who was definitely annoyed with my thinking made the statement that she could not understand why I didn't want children educated (false) when my daughter got her elementary training in the Ford Schools free of charge including medical and dental care.

In answer to that, may I tell the public that the Rentschlers paid school taxes locally the same as others and, furthermore, when she attended the last two years of high school in Ann Arbor, we not only paid school taxes locally, but also paid tuition to the Ann Arbor system besides.

Therefore, I cannot see that she got any free education, but most ministers' children do, however, because church properties are not taxed. As far as our daughter's medical and dental care was concerned, she would have gotten that anyway because of her father's professional connections in those days, but not in these days, however. Times have changed.

MY OTHER remarks had to do with the hardships that additional millage places on senior citizens, keeping in mind that all pay taxes directly or indirectly; that I have a right to expect intelligent language and courteous treatment toward students and adults from teachers and all school authorities.

A "good morning" or some form of recognition when one enters a room or office never hurt anyone. One has to earn respect whether he is a child or an adult and too often the child does not have good examples to follow.

We have a right to expect educators to be educators, if education is so important.

Also, we, the taxpayers, enjoy the presence of the principals and superintendent and their wives and other authorities as special group presentations lending moral support to the performing students and their teachers.

Now, whether or not the people vote for or against the four mills in June is probably none of my business, but I know what I am going to do. I trust that all will put on their thinking caps and vote according to the dictates of their consciences without fear of any kind.

Surely the schools will receive additional money as a result of the raise in tax assessments recently.

Editor's note — Sorry, that only had to do with city taxes, not schools.)

May I close with the following quotation from the Sunshine Magazine, which expresses my sentiments very well?

"Genuine education is not found in million-dollar, deluxe, ritzy schoolhouses or higher and higher paid teachers. It is found by hungry minds out of wise books and dedicated teachers who know how to teach."

Sincerely,
Ruth Rentschler, (Mrs. T.)
311 W. Shawnee St.

OUR READERS WRITE

Please, Don't Endanger Tree, Writer Asks

TO THE EDITORS:

Attention, members of the City Council!

Sunday while attending the cornerstone laying ceremony at the site of our new Methodist Church, I noticed that the new curbs and gutters being laid on Bishop Reed Dr. have been set in such a direction as possibly resulting in the loss of the beautiful tree there.

In a community where trees in new and future areas of housing are at a premium, I would like to propose that consideration be given to the possibility of relocating the street—perhaps in a curving drive.

Not only will this enhance the beauty of the new church, but it will provide an attractive entrance to what will no doubt be an area of well-fashioned homes in the near future, considering the rapid rate at which this community is expanding.

I feel certain that I am not alone in this request. Can't something be done now before the street is completed and the cost of such a proposal would be far out of line.

Now is the time for some action on the Council's part—not a month from now when bids for the street surfacing are completed.

Sincerely,
A Concerned Methodist

Bad Doobies, Subscriber Gets Only One Part

TO THE EDITORS:

Am writing to tell you that only part of my Herald came this week and I only received six pages. It was the front section that came.

As it was a 20-page paper, I got very little of it. I called the Redford Post Office and they had no trace of it and told me to call claims department downtown.

This isn't the first time that I have received only part of the paper. I am wondering if the paper could be put together more recurely as now it is so loosely handled.

I was born in Tecumseh years ago and have had the paper a long time. Many of my relatives and friends reside in Tecumseh and I am really interested in what goes on there.

Please see what you can do about having the paper more securely wrapped.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Walter Johnson

Long and Short

By TOM RIORDAN

A fellow named Martin VanDerhoff used to jibe the newly-graduated in the early Thirties.

He was Grandpa in the stage comedy, "You Can't Take It With You," and every June he would attend commencement exercises at Columbia University.

Returning home after a diploma-passing-out session, he reported on the speeches and then his daughter asked,

"Don't the graduates say anything?"

"No, they just sit there in cap and nightgown, get their diplomas, then in 30 years wake up and say, 'Where am I?' "

That might have been the story in grandpa's days, but those times of fog-bound scholars seem to be long gone.

Today's student of higher education is off and running, pursuing a career with vigor.

Ask Neville Hart, Tecumseh High School principal.

He recently received data on 47 Class of 1965 members now attending Michigan State, University of Michigan, Northern, Western and General Motors Institute.

Holding 3.5 averages — out of a possible 4.0 — are 15% of these youngsters. Twenty-five percent rank from 3.0 to 3.4 and 46% are 2.0 or better.

That's an excellent record for freshmen, who must pass through quite an educational and social transition. In fact, it's pretty terrific for any undergraduate year.

MR. HART says that of 180 graduates last year, 80 entered college. This too is a good record, but let's hope our percentage going on to school will grow.

Young people often don't realize the mistake they make by turning their backs on higher education — when they could take advanage of it.

They do understand the dollar and when their future is charted in cash, maybe the idea would come through.

The Institute of Life Insurance has compiled the average lifetime earning powers of men with various stages of education.

If a youngster will look this over, maybe his plans for the future would be given a drastic revision.

School Years completed	Lifetime Income 1964	1949
Grade school	$219,000	$116,000
High school	303,000	165,000
College	444,000	268,000

"The steadily increasing educational attainment of the population is of particular significance in relation to personal income," the institute states.

"The latest government figures show that one man in every nine in the 18 to 68 age group is now a college graduate while substantially more than half of the entire group finished high school.

"These proportions are about twice those prevailing a quarter of a centrpy ago."

THS Wins Sports Cup

By a one-half point margin, Tecumseh High School captured the Huron League All-Sports trophy for 1965-66. The Indians didn't win a single title during the past school year, but finished high in all sports.

Four Gardens To Be Viewed on Club's Tour

Members of the Tecumseh Garden Club have made final plans for their public Garden Tour and Floral Show Saturday, 2 to 8 p.m.

With the theme "Flowers To Live With," each garden is identified in some particular manner:

- ► Mrs. Neal Pearson, 501 W. Pottawatamie St., specializes in Iris interspersed with practically all of the spring bloom-flowers.
- ► Mrs. Hugh Walter, 1013 Red Mill Dr., a lawn that typifies the best that can be obtained from excellent care.
- ► Anne Carson's 509 E. Logan St., practically everything in Fruit trees, along with a fine vegetable garden and flowers.
- ► Mrs. Paul Maves, 9103 N. Union St., is a riot of color at practically every season of the year.

Along with the gardens, members of the club will display arrangements for every spot in the house, at the four homes.

Refreshments will be served at the Carson home.

Police Check Three Wrecks

Of the three traffic accidents investigated by Tecumseh police during the past week, all were minor.

A resume is:

May 25 — Avery D. Lee, 41, of 605 Orchard Lane, was cited for failure to have his car under control when he ran into the rear of an auto driven by Helen R. Short, 45, rural Tecumseh.

May 27 — Gaylon D. Robinson, 42, of 109 W. Pottawatamie St., was charged with improper backing after a mishap with John H. Smith, 80, of 117 W. Kilbuck.

May 29 — James F. Hickok, 610 W. Chicago Blvd., repotred his car damaged while parked in front of Herrick Hospital. Other driver is unknown.

UFO Sighted Near Clinton by 5 Drivers

"It's an eerie feeling," said Mrs. Elaine Purdy, 904 Shady Lane as she told her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Schooley about a UFO that she saw Wednesday morning.

Employed at Edwards Bros. in Ann Arbor, Mrs. Purdy was returning to her home about 1:30 a.m. Wednesday morning when she noticed the object.

Along with three other cars and a truck on US-12 between Clinton and Saline, Mrs. Purdy stopped to look at the strange thing in the sky.

She counted 10 blinking lights, as well as several stationery red and green ones.

She thought first she was seeing a reflection of the moon's light on wires, but a turn in the road proved this wrong because the object was on the opposite side from the wires.

Turning off her radio and engine, she heard no sound, but after about five minutes the unidentified object went over the trees and disappeared.

JC Carnival Runs Through Sunday Night

Two bicycles will be given away as a highlight to Kid's Day at the annual Jaycee Carnival Saturday.

Action started Wednesday at Occidental Hwy. and Russell Rd. and continues through Sunday evening.

Jaycees report that with 16 rides, there's a 40% increase in mechanical fun this year.

Games of skill are on tap as well as refreshments.

Money earned by the Carnival will be used to help meet the $20,000 cost of football lights at Recreation Field.

From the Brownie pin to the gold trefoil on top, the Girl Scout float in the Memorial Day parade was a beauty. Centered with a white "bridge to Scouting," the float presented the four phases in huge handbooks made by Mrs. Avery Lee and Mrs. John Robinson.

Flanking the bridge were Brownies, Juniors, Cadets and Senior Girl Scouts in complete uniform, easily visible to the throngs on either side of the line of march.

Donald Escott repaired and painted the bridge and G & J Woodworking loaned their truck to the girls for the occasion.

THANK YOU

Mr. and Mrs. Tecumseh and Friends

It is with many regrets that I sever my relations with the wonderful folks in Tecumseh and the immediate area. For the 10 years that I owned and operated Van's Bakery Shop, I had the opportunity, not only to provide you with baked goods, but to meet many of you personally. Although I moved my residence a few years ago — now a resident of Detroit — I felt that I was still a part of the community since I continued to own the bakery. Now that the sale has been completed, I suppose these connections will gradually vanish. However, I hope to make periodic visits to Tecumseh in the future and renew old friendships. The community and townsfolks will always be remembered by my family and myself. Your continued patronage at Van's Bakery Shop will not only be appreciated by Mr. DeJonghe, but also by me. Thank you, very, very much.

The Accutron Story:
No balance wheel,
no mainspring,
no hairspring,
no tick, no tock.

Accutron® made them obsolete.

Don't even call this timepiece a watch. All the parts that make a watch fast or slow have been left out of it. Accutron time is kept by the vibrations of a tiny tuning fork which divides every second into 360 equal parts. (Your present watch divides a second into only 5 parts.) It is the only wrist timepiece guaranteed for average daily accuracy within 2 seconds. Accutron is a Bulova development. It's worth the time to you to look into Accutron.

Senator Concerned

TO THE EDITORS:

I am concerned with the size of the budget facing the State.

I think we must take steps to bring it to a fiscally-sound level approaching the recommendations of Governor Romney. I think a brief report to the people appropriate.

The essence of the budgetary process is in determining priorities. There are many worthy projects in such areas as education, health and welfare that have great merit when considered individually.

But the sum total of all such requests will exceed state resources. And there is a limit to the tax total people should be asked to bear.

The billion dollar budget now facing the State of Michigan must be brought back within reasonable range of the $944,000,000 budget suggested by Governor Romney.

The Governor's figures already include a generous increase of $125,000,000. Legislative action now in process adds another $80,000,000 creating a total budget of $1,020,000,000.

This amount of spending guarantees a fiscal crisis for next year.

It will certainly require added taxes, but it provides no assurance of tax reform. The inequities in our present tax structures and the unfair impact of property taxes might be only compounded.

At this point the Senate should start cutting down on House bills which total almost $60,000,000 more than the Governor's recommendations. And the House should cut down on Senate bills which exceed the Romney budget by some $20,000,000.

My motion killed the pay raise in 1965 but I voted for it in 1966 since I had committed myself to support the recommendations of the Governor's commission on Legislative comenpsation. The fiscal integrity of Michigan has higher priority, however. I therefore support the elimination of any proposal for a legislative pay raise.

I WOULD LIKE to see the Senate's modest increases for higher education retained. I think the Governor will accept them.

I also feel that the Senate's cut of $300,000 from the Governor's proposed increase for public libraries should be restored.

I hope the House and Senate can agree on compromise figures on some of the major bills so that we will pull the budget well back below the billion dollar mark and into an area acceptable to Governor Romney's budget advisors.

If we are prudent with the new budget the surplus will carry us into the following year without any fiscal crises. Soundly-conceived tax reform can then be considered without the threat of "panic" legislation and the fiscal integrity of Michigan preserved.

Sincerely,
Gilbert E. Bursley
State Senator.

Speech Class Members Happy with $142 Profit

TO THE EDITORS:

The Speech Class at Tecumseh High netted $142.50 from the three one-act plays it presented May 24 and 25. The plays were well attended and enjoyed by the actors as well as the audience.

Each student appeared on stage as well as behind the stage. Since the entire project was executed by the speech class without funds or debts it would seem natural that certain thank-yous are in order.

Several firms were very cordial and cooperative in giving the young thespians extensive help. The Speech Class wuld like to thank those firms:

► Corrugated Box
► Moore Lumber Co.
► The Salvation Army
► St. Peter's Episcopal Church
► Hite's Hardware.

Many other stores and individuals also aided in the effort. To them the Speech Class says, "Thank You."

Due to the success of these plays, it is highly conceivable that next year's speech students will realize debate and forensics as well as more plays for public enjoyment.

Moms Figure 4 Mills Come Out 6^c a Day

TO THE EDITORS:

The phrase "Our Public School System" is so common to all of us that the words slip glibly from our tongues. But, specifically, what is meant?

It means an elementary or secondary school maintained by the local government authority. Maintained? That is "to support, sustain, or uphold . . . To bear the expense of."

By whom? Not by one person, not by a small group of people — but by the local governmental authority; namely, the voting, tax-paying community.

QUITE intentional the above is leading into the subject of the proposed millage being sought by our elected school board. Millage and taxes are distasteful subjects.

But, these subjects must be faced. They must be understood. They must be evaluated.

After countless hours of study, research and discussion the School Board recommends that four mills are needed to sustain our educational program in Tecumseh.

Why???

► To assure our students of having the best teachers available
► To offer our students the best scholastic program available
► To provide for and maintain the best facilities available.

TEACHERS: Let's be realistic. Teachers are professional people who compete for financial benefits as do all other wage earners. They cannot support their families and homes on dedication. They, too, pay taxes. The incentive to bring well-qualified personnel into our schools begins with an attractive salary offer.

Would we accept a position for $1,000 less in Tecumseh than we could sign a comparable contract in another city for $1,000 more? This hiring dilemma is an ever-present handicap for our administration.

STUDENTS: Last year 42% of the graduating class enrolled in institutions of higher learning. These students need a complete and comprehensive program for college success.

And what about the other 58% of the class? These students need an effective vocational program to prepare them for their pursuits. Such needs can be fulfilled only if money is available.

MAINTENANCE: We know our personal properties need constant attention and repair. The same is true of our school facilities.

In the past, the Board has been most conservative in allocating dollars for this purpose. However, some major repairs and improvements are mandatory now.

For example, the Department of Health insists that a ventilating system be installed for the safety and well-being of the 960 students in the high school building. (Ventilating hoods must be placed in the shop's welding department to prevent fumes from re-entering the entire building.)

THE SCHOOL Board must stretch each dollar to pay for the above services. But there are other areas of expense such as transportation, operation of plant, administration, fixed charges and capital outlay.

The Board has stated that the proposed four-mill levy, expiring in December of 1967, will meet the above needs.

Forgetting the term 'mills", what additional money can we as Tecumseh roperty owners expect to pay?

If the cash value of our home is $10,000, we will pay less than forty cents a week!! That amount breaks down to less than six cents a day!!!

We, as parents of elementary school children, believe this to be an economically sound investment in the future of our schools.

We will vote "YES" on the June 13th ballot. We urge you to do the same.

Sincerely,
Two Solicitous Mothers.

Report on Alfonso

TO THE EDITORS:

I wonder how many people in Tecumseh remember the delightful little boy from Mexico City, who was a visitor in our former home on River Acres this past winter.

Alfonso Marin B.'s parents, Dr. and Mrs. Raul Marin E. were our house guests at Union Lake May 19 to 22. They arrived at Metropolitan airport via Aeronaves de Mexico.

They attended the Walled Lake elementary school's spring music program on Thursday evening. Susan participated in the tonette group. Joel is in the chorus. Mrs. Marin was pleased to find "Tortillas" and "Carmen Carmela" on the program. Carmela is her given name.

Friday they were brought to Lenawee County. They had lunch with my parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stuwe, in Clinton. They toured St. Joseph's Shrine, Camp Kanesatake and Hidden Lake Gardens. Our tulips were beautiful to them and the doctor took many pictures. Some of the greenhouse plants are yard plants to them.

The junior high Spanish teacher, Mrs. James Heimerdinger, and the senior high Spanish teacher, Mrs. Leslie Calhoun, were kind and gracious to the guests. They were interested in the Spanish language laboratory equipment, which Mrs. Calhoun demonstrated.

Perhaps Mrs. Heimerdinger would like to know that her name became familiar in our home. Any Spanish word that was difficult became a "Heimerdinger". Any Spanish word that was difficult was a "Tequesquitengo", the lake where Dr. and Mrs. Marin have a vacation home.

St. Elizabeth's Catholic Church, St. Peter Episcpal Church, the junior high school, and our old home, now occupied by Mr. and Mrs. James Bonar were other points of interest to them.

We took them to visit others in our family who had entertained Alfonso—Mr. Hardesty's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Healy in Toledo, also my brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Stuwe in Dundee.

Saturday was spent at Greenfield Village and Northland Shopping Center.

Sunday morning we toured downtown Detroit before entering Windsor by way of the tunnel.

I saw them off to Toronto on a Canadian plane. We received a card from them at Niagara Falls. They are touring Montreal and Quebec with a group from Mexico City. They will spend three days in New York City and fly home on June 1st.

Flip will be their house guest during July and August.

Sincerely,
Ferne Hardesty

P. S. Lou was not on any of this tour. He spent the entire time in bed and has since been transferred to Pontiac General Hospital with a possible ruptured disc. We don't know yet whether surgery is to be done.

TO THE READERS:

Please let the June 2 issue be the last sent us here this season. We plan to leave here on Tuesday, June 7. We want to be home in time to attend the THS graduation exercises June 12.

May, also April, are beautiful months here. It got too warm for our sweet peas and nasturtiums, so they are gone. Our magnolia tree is blooming beautifully and affords us much shade on the front lawn.

Thank you for sending us The Herald. We enjoy it so much.

BILL FILBER WITH WHITE HOUSE LETTER

White House Writes to Bill

Fifteen-year-old Bill Filber, 208 N. Maumee St., thinks that the manufacture of no-deposit bottles should be stopped.

Bill doesn't like to see that tossed about.

He knows that Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson is trying to beautify America.

So Bill dropped her a line in

A RESPONSE arrived from the White House Friday, penned by Bess Abell, social secretary to the president's wife.

"Mrs. Johnson asked me to thank you for your message," the note began.

"She appreciates your interest in the effort to make our Nation more attractive, and it was thoughtful of you to take time to write.

"Preservation of our land's scenic heritage is of great importance to Mrs. Johnson, and she welcomes the suggestions of interested citizens like you, for she well realizes that only through the thoughtful contribution of each and every American — in their homes, neighborhoods and communities — can the battle for attractive surroundings be won.

"With best wishes," she concluded.

Bill, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Filber, enters Tecumseh High School next fall as a freshman.

A double celebration was held by Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bailey and their son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Wiliam Bailey of Britton.

The occasion marked the silver wedding anniversary of the Edward Baileys and the first anniversary of the William Baileys.

A dinner party was arranged by the children of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bailey, daughter, San Dee of Ann Arbor and sons, William of Britton and Tom, at home.

The dinner table in the Golden Drumstick Restaurant in Monroe, was centered with a tiered wedding cake, decorated with pink roses and a miniature bride and groom.

Edward Bailey and Pauline Hile were married May 24, 1941 in the Presbyterian Church in Monroe, by the Rev. Frederick Bohner.

Besides the family, other guests for the dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Carl McClue of Britton and Don Teboe of Ypsilanti.

News from the Tecumseh Library

New books ready for you to borrow at your Public Library:

THE HARD WINNERS by John Quirk. A hard-hitting novel about the giants of the automotive industry and set, of course, in Detroit.

THE GOLD OF THE RIVER SEA by Charlton Ogburn. Here is a story in which the passion for gold is combined with a pursuit of an ideal love. Both are surrounded with the machinations of intrigue and political revolt, set in the heart of the inaccessible Amazonian wilderness.

ONCE A GREEK by Friedrich Duerrenmatt; an outlandish satire, very entertaining.

THE VIRGIN MARKET, a novel of modern Hong Kong by the author of FLOWER DRUM SONG, C. Y. Lee.

THE LAST RAIDER by Douglas Reeman. A dramatic story of the German commerce raider in a final desperate effort to turn the tide of war. A former merchant vessel, now heavily armed, her task was to break through the British blockade and then strike out to sink burn, and destroy every ship she encountered before their cargoes could be delivered to the Allies.

THE MAYOR OF NEW YORK by L. Barrett. Written by a political reporter who has covered the City Hall beat, this novel has the same immediate impact as today's newspaper.

THE KING'S ORCHARD by Agnes S. Turnbull. All the wonder of a young country, its scattered cities rimmed by the reckoning and dangerous wilderness, tempted James O'Hara to the great American adventure in 1772. An historically-based romantic novel.

THE THOUSAND DOORS by Abraham Rothberg; an unusual thriller of international intrigue.

Hog Producers to Start Early

The hog producer who thinks all he has to do is to watch or listen to the daily fluctuations of the hog market to sell his swine wisely, is badly mistaken, says Norman Bless, Lenawee County Extension Agent.

Hog marketing begins before the farmer breeds his sows or gilts. The decision must be reached then on the kind of hogs he hopes to market, how many he expects to sell and where the best outlet will be.

To be effective in marketing wisely, the hog producer must choose the breeding stock and plan a production system long before he herds his animals into the yards to complete the sale.

THE WISE HOG man must make a guess about the kinds of meat the retailers or consumers will prefer 8 to 12 months after he breeds his gilts or sows.

The good hog raiser must figure the premium that buyers will pay for quality hogs and determine whether or not his facilities, feed, sires and gilts or sows can produce the top quality.

Selection of meaty hogs is the first step. Michigan State University Extension swine specialist Ed Miller says there are "meaty type" swine in every breed. Most often there is more difference within breeds than there is between breeds.

Most swine men feel that crossbreeding produces more vigor, but few believe it improves carcass quality or meatiness.

A PLANNED program of gilt selection in a commercial swine operation is important. Among these steps:

- ► Ear-notch gilts in litters from which you expect to select replacements.
- ► Feed gilts in finishing pen and remove them from finishing ration at about 200 pounds. Weigh gilts at the time to check growth rate, select gilts for soundness, meatiness, substance, underline, length, feet and legs and general conformation.
- ► Select gilts with less than 1.25 inches back fat by using a robe.

In picking a boar you can make the biggest improvement. If you can buy a boar that is a littermate to pigs on test in the swine evaluation station, you will be money ahead even though it may cost you extra dollars.

A tested boar lets the producer know about the sire, which accounts for about three-fourths of the quality of the pigs.

"REMEMBER LENGTH of carcass is 60% heredity," says Mr. Bless.

"After boars and gilts or sows are selected, be sure you manage the animals through the gestation period to get the biggest, healthiest litters.

"But all of the management decisions after the pigs arrive are of little value if the proper precaution was not taken in selection of a top quality boar and good gilts or sows for breeding purpose," he concludes.

that was a low blow

Farmers got a low blow from the National Administration recently. And we don't deserve it. Read the facts and judge for yourself.

Late in March, the U.S. Department of Labor announced that the Cost of Living Index had increased one half of one percent (.005).

On March 31st, President Johnson said "food prices and three metals are responsible for 80% of inflation." He said farm prices must come down.

Now it is true that the retail price of food, after being stable for years, did increase 6% during the past year—more than in any recent year. But it was long overdue. In fact, during the past ten years food prices have been the only item in the Cost of Living Index that have not shown a substantial increase.

Here are the official U.S. Government figures for the past ten year period (ending February 28, 1966):

	INCREASED
COST OF LIVING INDEX	11.6%
Representative Items Include:
Cost of Services and Housing	20%
Cost of Medical and Health	25%
Cost of Recreation	16%
Cost of Food	.4%
U. S. PER FAMILY INCOME	40%
	DECREASED
PERCENT OF FAMILY INCOME SPENT FOR FOOD	5.7%

The facts speak for themselves. Food prices and farm prices are not responsible for inflation. Just the opposite is true. Increased farm efficiency has kept food prices down while other prices went up and up. During the past ten years, in fact, low food prices have been primarily responsible for keeping the overall cost of living from skyrocketing—because low food prices have offset the substantial increases in other cost of living items. But this situation cannot go on. Food prices cannot continue to bear the burden of inflation. Thousands of farmers—caught between rising costs and low prices—are going out of business.

The situation is critical. Farmers must get a fair return for their product—a return that is in line with their costs. There is no other way for them to stay in business. There is no other way for them to continue to produce the food your family needs every day.

Special Bill Seeking Help for Immigrant

Attorney John Zeigler, who was in Washington, D.C., last week, checked progress of a special bill in behalf of Evel Garrido, a native of Spain, seeking to remain in the United States.

Mr. Zeigler, who has been providing counsel to Mr. Garrido, reports a private bill H. R. 8165, which would grant permission to Mr. Garrido for permanent residence.

It is currently held in the House Judiciary Committee, where it may remain until Congress adjourns this fall. The bill was introduced by Rep. Wes Vivian.

At the same time, the Labor Department is considering granting some immigrant hair stylists and independent businessmen permission to remain in the country.

Mr. Garrido and Bill Dean Heimerdinger opened Exclusives EvelDean haute couture salon in Tecumseh recently.

Tax Board Cements Decision

As expected, Lenawee County gets the .8 mill.

At last Thursday's public hearing, the Tax Allocation Board maintained its opinion that the county should have an additional bite of the 15-mill winter tax.

The official breakdown:

- ► 8.8 mills for schools.
- ► 5 mills for county
- ► 1 mill for townships

One year ago, the Tax Board was persuaded by school officials to give an extra mill to education. The idea was approved, but now the county has taken back all but .2 mill.

The hearing attracted four school superintendents, a trio of supervisors and one citizen.

Nuclear Sub Tecumseh Patrols Beneath Ocean

(Editor's note — A fascinating article about the nuclear-powered and attack submarine USS Tecumseh recently appeared in Skyline, the magazine of North American Aviation, Inc., which loaned the pictures and story to The Herald.)

By KEN ALLEN

Bob Rodriguez commutes to and from work on a scale never dreamed of by his fellow citizens of Los Angeles — 4,000 miles requiring seven and one-half hours' flying time in a jet airliner.

As if that weren't enough, he often gets to work tomorrow and arrives home yesterday, thanks to the International Date Line.

Rodriguez, a Los Angeles native stationed in Hawaii where he is serving as an electronics technician in the Navy, is part of a new element not yet a year old which is helping to defend America — Polaris in the Pacific.

Last August, Rodriguez and his shipmates in Hawaii were preparing to leave home and make what is becoming a routine commuter run three-quarters of the way across the Pacific to Guam where they would meet the Big Indian.

LONGER THAN a football field, the 7,000-ton Big Indian — USS Tecumseh — is one of four Polaris submarines assigned to the Pacific within the past year.

She is the place Rodriguez and his shipmates who make up Tecumseh's Gold Crew work six months out of the year when they relieve the boat's Blue Crew.

She and her 16, 2,800-mile statute-mile-range A-3 missiles and the equal number packed by each of her three sister ships as they silently patrol the depths of the Western Pacific are the backbone of America's growing Polaris strength in the Pacific.

Since Christmas, 1964, when the first Pacific-based Fleet Ballistic Missile (FBM) submarine—USS Daniel Boone — departed from Guam on her initial operational patrol, crew shuttles have been on the increase.

The growing number of commuters are Polaris sailors serving Tecumseh, USS Stonewall Jackson, and USS Ulysses S. Grant — the three new FBM subs added to the Pacific in 1965 which have brought the deterrent strength of Polaris missiles to more than 60.

THREE MONTHS at home, three months at sea — the two phases that are a part of a Polaris sailors' life — meant the temporary drawing to a close of time at home with the family, an end to vacation, and the completion of brush-up courses before returning to Guam last summer for the Big Indian's Gold Crew.

For crews returning to their homes in Hawaii after patrol, the first month is kept as free from work as possible.

It's the time the golfer heads for the course, water-sport fans search out new beaches, and the bow and arrow hunter limbers up his arm before stalking wild boar in the Oahu hills.

During the remaining two months, the new FBM Training Center begins to require more of the crewmen's time. Located on Ford Island in the center of Pearl Harbor, the facility offers refresher courses for every major specialty required to operate the complex FBM subs.

Among these specialties is navigation, and to provide the realism of patrol conditions and problems, a Navigation Center Trainer designed and built by the Autonetics Division has been installed at Ford Island.

Each crew's navigation teams devote their last two weeks of study applying classroom-taught material to problems and conditions of a submarine at sea which are simulated by the NAVCENT.

In other similarly fully-equipped laboratories operated by the Training Center other "old hands" also complete refresher courses while new crewmen train on the same equipment.

Not all training takes place on Ford Island, however. Across the channel from the island — the channel known as "Battleship Row," the biggest prize in the Dec. 7, 1941, attack on Pearl Harbor — stands the Sub Training Facility's Escape Training Tank.

More than 130 feet high, it dominates the Pearl Harbor Sub Base. It is the place submariners complete refresher emergency escape training every 18 months with the Steinke Hood, a new underwater breathing device soon to be standard equipment on all U. S. submarines.

Submariners enter the water through a diving trunk built 50 feet below the tank's surface. One by one they make the eight-second ascension to the surface under the watchful eyes of three trained divers — one at an air

AN INFORMAL program permitting FBM sub officers to fill in on attack subs while they are home provides an opportunity to brush-up on ship handling.

Polaris subs are on the surface for such relatively short periods of time often many months may pass between times when an officer of the deck may be called on to moor the ship or take it out to sea.

Regardless of all the similarities in their training and work, no two Polaris crews are identical. Each has an individual personality and its own preferred ways of doing things. Says Capt. Arnett Taylor, the Big Indian's Blue Crew commander, "The differences between the two crews sharing the same boat often are more like the variations between two separate sister ships."

On one sub, for instance, the cigar-smoking captain of one crew doesn't mind fellow crewmen who also enjoy a panatella. But those on the ship's other crew must leave cigars ashore when they head out on patrol.

There are differences aboard Tecumseh, too. Many Blue Crewmen often return from two-month patrols in full beard, but the Gold Crew always comes in clean-shaven.

At meals, the Gold Crew prefers family-style serving with food brought to the table, while the Blue Crew sets up a cafeteria serving arrangement.

THE PREFERENCES of one crew were about to give way to those of the other last August as the Gold Crew packed up their remaining cruise boxes in the Tecumseh office on Ford Island in preparation of the flight to Guam.

Two days after they arrived on Guam, their forward operating base (the Big Indian raised her periscope to the surface of the Philippine Sea off the mouth of Apra Harbor.

Seconds later, shortly before nine in the already hot morning sun, she surfaced, marking the completion of a 58-day submerged patrol to maintain her Polaris missiles on station in the Western Pacific.

Two groups of interested people watched her as she headed for the harbor. One, aboard waiting tugs in the Outer Apra Harbor, included Commodore Robert Giffen, commander of Submarine Squadron 15, and his staff who are responsible for Polaris sub operations from Guam.

The other, five miles off-shore aboard a trawler plying the sea outside Guam's three-mile limit, were Soviet "oceanographers" who show great interest in Polaris subs entering and leaving Apra Harbor.

The trawler is one of several which have been on station off Guam since the autumn of 1964 when the sub tender USS Proteus arrived at Guam to start the Pacific Polaris program.

On a continuous schedule since then their only apparent duty for three-month periods until they are relieved by another trawler is to patrol the Guam coastline off the harbor.

MINUTES AFTER the Big Indian was tied along-side Proteus, crew change-over and the process of refitting the ship had begun.

On deck, Tecumseh was a scene of activity. At the top of the Big Indian's sail, scaffolding was being rigged in preparation of painting and maintenance of her masts.

On FBM subs, these traditional seafaring terms refer to what used to be known as the conning tower on earlier subs and to the periscopes, antennas, and snorkel.

Divers brought a small boat alongside and laid out their scuba gear before beginning an inspection of the sub's black hull extending more than 25 feet below the surface of Apra Harbor.

FOOD FOR EACH three-month patrol comes aboard in quantities that would stagger a housewife's imagination — 3,300 pounds of beef from steaks to hamburger plus 2,500 pounds of assorted meats and 600 pounds of cut chicken; 600 dozen eggs; canned and frozen vegetables, juices and fruits of all kinds; fresh produce; 5,000 ice cream cones, and more than 2,600 pounds of coffee are only part of the inventory for the 130-man crew.

Each sub is loaded out with food twice when it is in from patrol — once when it returns and a final time following the completion of sea trials when it is readied to return to the depths.

What sort of impact has Polaris created in the Pacific? R/Adm. Eugene B. Fluckey, commander of Submarine Forces, Pacific (SUBPAC), sums it up this way; the introduction of FBM subs has:

- ► Greatly increased the strike potential of the Pacific forces, strengthening the nation's defense.
- ► Freed aircraft carriers in the Pacific and made them available to support hot spots such as Vietnam.
- ► Built up the total number of men in SUBPAC as a result of the Polaris two-crew concept.
- ► Resulted in additional training — presently nearly 600 Polaris sailors are in training daily at Pearl Harbor's FBM Training Facility, by 1967 the figure will jump to 1,000.
- ► Meant the addition of a merchant ship constantly ferrying supplies from West Coast support facilities to Guam.
- ► Created such new operations as the Polaris Missile Facility, Pacific, at Bangor, Wash., which assembles, checks out and maintains A-3s for Pacific-based FBM subs.

A VETERAN of almost 30 years in submarines who was awarded the Congressional Medal of honor during World War II, Adm. Fluckey says of the Polaris system, "It is the greatest innovation in seapower in history."

"Prior to World War II," he recalls, "our mission was simply to gain and maintain control of the seas. In World War II, seapower was projected ashore by amphibious assaults and carrier strikes.

"Now with this new capability of far deeper projection, your effect spreads through every part of land mass on Earth."

In the Pacific that capability will continue to increase in coming years. By 1967, USS Benjamin Franklin, USS Kamehamcha and USS MARIANO Vellejo will bring the FBM sub force to a total of seven ships deploying more than 100 A-3s.

And the flexibility of the Pacific defenses would be increased even further if the new Poseidon C-3, now in development, joins the FBM sub force.

Added to this capability, seagoing watch dogs with ears large as an elephant and keen as a fox are helping guard America's defense from San Diego across the Pacific to waters off Asia. They are SUBPAC's attack subs.

Theirs is one of the biggest jobs in the world — maintaining the nation's anti-submarine counter-punch across the vast Pacific which covers nearly a third of the Earth's surface.

"NO OTHER weapon in the Navy has an anti-submarine warfare bag of tricks equal to that of the nuclear-powered attack sub," sys Capt. A. G. Newton, assistant chief of staff to Adm. Fluckey.

They run faster, deeper, and quieter than anything under the sea. Their eyes and ears are provided by some of the most advanced electronic equipment available, including Autonetics' SINS. Autonetics' N7B SINS serve SUBPAC's Halibut, Permit, Plunger, and Barb just as they do of the subs' sister ships in the Atlantic.

SUBPAC's nuclear and diesel attack ships, combined with Polaris and auxiliary subs, further increase America's undersea defense in the Pacific.

In addition to its strategic mission being met with Polaris subs and its tactical role filled by attack subs, SUBPAC uses 10 of its older ships for hydrographic surveys, research and development, amphibious personnel transport, cargo carrying, and services to the Navy's ASW forces and foreign countries.

"Our new FBM and attack subs have broken their bonds with the surface of the Earch," says Adm. Fluckey, "and for all practical purposes generate their atmosphere from the water around them.

"They have limitless high speed, and thicker hulls to operate at greater depths.

"They dominate inner space.

"Yet we must continue to increase our understanding of the waters we travel, the bottom contours we operate above, and the cause and effect of surface conditions such as hurricanes and typhoons which may affect our operations.

"In other words, we must Think Deep."

UNDER THE supervision of Stanford University, the program will allow for much experimentation by the faculty, Miss Thomas said.

Citizens Should Examine

CLINTON — "How can we make this day more hallowed?" the Rev. Donald Heacock asked in his Memorial Day address in Riverside Cemetery.

The Rev. Mr. Heacck suggested that each member of his audience should examine his life to determine "What kind of citizen am I? How long since I voted? Is my life worthwhile?"

In this way Memorial Day can have real meaning, he said, for those who remember the sacrifices made by soldiers who died for our country and our way of life.

The ceremony at graveside included the playing of Taps by Jerry Porter, echoed by David Hawkins across the river; the salute to those who gave their lives to their country, by the American Legion firing squad; and a selection by the Clinton High School band.

The American Legion color guard led the parade from the school to the cemetery with a pause at Memorial Park where Gold Star Mothers placed wreath.

American Legion Auxiliary members appeared in the parade followed by Cubs and Boy Scouts, Brownies and Girl Scouts and many youngsters on decorated bicycles.

Kids Tour Farm

Ridgeway and Macon school fifth-grade students presented reports of the annual Conservation Field Day at the Lloyd Ruesink farm on Knight Hwy. Resource specialists on the conservation of soil, water, woodland and wildlife from Michigan State University Extension Service and the USDA Conservation Service were present to tell the youngsters about the on-the-site observations. Don Gust, chairman of the SCD board, said this event first developed in Lenawee has been copied in a number of Soil Conservation Districts throughout the state and is an outstanding educational event in the field of resource conservation.

MACON FIFTH GRADE

The Macon Fifth Grade went to a conservation farm on May 19, 1966. We went to Mr. Ruesink's farm to learn a lot about soil, water, forest and wildlife.

We rode on a hay wagon, and had lots of fun. We saw displays and saw a deer.—Randy Phelps.

We learned about the farm. We learned about the soil, wildlife, water, forest. We rode on the hay wagon and sang songs. We saw a film on water conservation.—Sheryl F.

On our hayride we stopped at a place where they talked about soil. Then we stopped at a creek to learn about water. We stopped at a woodlot to talk about the wood. Then we stopped at a wildlife cover to talk about deer and how many got killed.
By Dan DeLeon

We stopped at four different stops. The first one a man talked about how plants help to keep the soil from washing away.

At the second stop a man talked about water conservation and what it does.

The third stop was about forestry and how it protects the animals.

The last stop two men talked about wildlife and how it helps the human beings. — By Penny Mueller.

When we got there a man showed us a movie. After the movie, a wagon came to pick us up. Then at the first a man told all about soil. At the next stop a man told about water. Then abou the woods. Then about wildlife.—Garry Agnew.

On this trip we saw a movie about conservation, we rode on a hay wagon and learned about deer. We learned how to preserve the soil, and why good soil is so important. But the most interesting thing was about water: Isn't it funny that there is no more water now that here was 1,000 years ago? — Jack McCarley.

We went there because we wanted to learn more about conservation. We rode on a hay wagon and did lots of other things, too. I thought it was very nice. — Connie Miller.

It was all because we wanted to learn about soil, water and wildlife. — Doug Sanders.

Our transportation on Mr. Reusink's farm were two hay wagons pulled by a tractor. We made four stops while we were going around Mr. Reusink's farm. At each stop there was a man who talked abotu one of four natural resources. The four natural resources were soil, water, forests and wildlife. Each man talked about how important and how to use each resource. — Allen D.

MAJESTIC OAK DWARFS NEW METHODIST CHURCH IN BACKGROUND

VOICE of THE HERALD

Protect This Tree

Usually new curb and gutter looks like a thing of beauty when installed to eliminate ugliness along the sides of roadways.

A good example of this is the change shaping up along N. Union St., by Herrick Park Dr., where a long-time blight is being ended with curbs.

However, there is one new curb in town disturbing some folks, including "A Concerned Methodist", who wrote in The Herald's "Our Readers Write" column last week that a giant tree in front of her congregation's new church was being endangered by a curb.

A Herald representative looked the situation over carefully and reports that a handsome Northern Red Oak, one of the community's most beautiful, is indeed imperiled by a new curb.

Bishop Reed Dr., the roadway being built in front of the church is boulevard style. The tree is slightly off center in the island. There is plenty of room from it to the north-bound lane, but it is right at the edge of the south-bound road.

Curb was run to within inches of the majestic trunk, then stopped and once more begun on the other side.

This is way too close for comfort as far as we're concerned.

As our letter writer pointed out, before it's too late, let's put a bubble into the road on one side, giving the church a half circle drive at its entrance.

Nature sometimes must be made to bend to the demands and needs of men.

But when it comes to a tree like this one, man should conform to nature.

Dignity of Man

(Editor's note — This year's Memorial Day address was given by the Rev. Blair Bashore, pastor of the First Baptist Church.)

MEMORIAL DAY 1966

This Nation was born in the travail of sweat, blood and tears. It was conceived in liberty and faith in God. Because of hardships and preservation from the practice of a personal faith and relationship in God the first people came to this country seeking "Under God" the freedom to worship according to the dictates of their conscience.

As a result the dignity of the human being was given a new birth. In order that the value of dignity may accrue to each of us we are called upon to give dignity and worth to every man in our County.

It was Lincoln who said "With Justice for all — with malice toward none!"

THE WRITERS of the Declaration of Independence avowed a "firm reliance on the protection of divine providence" and their claim to freedom had a religious basis. They felt that had "inalienable rights" with which they were "endowed by their Creator."

Our early traditions of public acknowledgement of God runs through our whole history. Bible reading and prayer — proclamations of Thanksgiving and prayer at public and civic functions are part of our tradition. In 1954, the Congress added the words "under God" to the Pledge of Allegiance to our Flag.

Justice to the viewpoints of minorities must always be maintained, while the conviction of the majority must rule. Religion has played a most important part in this belief.

I fear we would do an injustice to the memory of those whom we honor today if we permitted a total divorce of all civic and governmental interests from and religious expression.

I think you will agree that those who gave their lives in devotion to their country would want us to keep alive those symbols of religious expression so that the American people, as a whole, may always be reminded that we have been and want to continue to be a 'Nation under God."

OUR MEETING here today is a gesture on our part in recognition of the Heritage of Justice — liberty and freedom vouched safe to us by our fighting men of all wars — by members of our individual families — by people of every faith and creed and color who have found freedom and justice in this the greatest country in all the world.

By this meeting today we the living pay our undying gratitude to those who gave the full measure of life to make our living pleasant and free.

We therefore thank God for our Fathers and Brothers. The torch of freedom needs to be re-lit by our devotion to the principles of democracy. It would be well for all of us to take a look into the mirror of life and ask, "by the original standards of this beloved country, what kind of an American am I."

Long and Short

By TOM RIORDAN

War stories are fascinating.

There was one told last week by Buzz Lewis, Dundee High School Principal. It unexpectedly brings out food for thought today.

The yarn dates back to 1945, as the long battle against Japan ended. Bus had been assigned as a liaison officer to a Nationalist Chinese artillery unit.

For two years, the Chinese had been training in India — fully equipped with American howitzers and GI trucks.

Buzz and a couple of others were ordered to join the group when Japan quit and guide it over the Burma Road, back to China.

It was an adventure, one that Bus could well have done without. But in those weeks he lived with the Chinese, he certainly got a good insight into the oriental mind — and this is what prompts me to say, the experience has a lesson for us right now.

WELL, BACK to that trip. Buzz has been assigned a Chinese interpreter. Only problem was the youth couldn't speak much English and the dialect spoken by the Chinese the artillerymen was a mystery to him.

So it was a series of hand and arm signals, shouts and probably gentle cursing by the normally mild-mannered Mr. Lewis.

To begin with, the Chinese didn't care about returning to China. They were living better than ever before in India.

But they did finally move out, the GI vehicles supplemented with an odd assortment of trucks, cars and weapons carriers that the Chinese had scrounged or found.

One ancient captured Japanese truck fell out of the line of march with a battered radiator gasping in death throes.

Buzz managed to get through to the boys on it that they had 30 minutes to make repairs. With time running out, he gave a final warning, to which one of the Chinese answered with a friendly wave and motioned that he had an idea and promptly headed into the bush. In a few minutes, he returned, carrying a radiator. Where he got it from, Bus hadn't the slightest idea.

When the convoy reached the mountainous roads, things really went goofy. The 6x6 drivers had been told for two years to use low gears in going down inclines.

Many ignored the training and before the trip was over, half a dozen vehicles had run out of control and their drivers killed.

BUT THERE were other items to chill the blood of the Americans.

Early each morning, the Chinese colonel would call out his troops and hold a punishment session. Any infraction in discipline during the previous 24 hours would be punished — the guilty beaten with chains.

Once when the convoy stopped near a small village, the Chinese commanding officer discovered that some hustlers there were running gambling dens.

The colonel paid a visit and said if any of his men were permitted to gamble, he'd level the town by fire.

Three of the Chinese artillerymen were caught at the gaming tables. They were brought to the colonel's tent. He stepped outside, pulled out his pistol and shot them all.

Then the village was destroyed.

As the group pulled into China, the nightmare really began. The Red Chinese were the greeting party and the shooting started. The three Americans were caught in the middle, as the civil war began.

Buzz and his two GI companions were delighted to exit with their lives.

THAT WAS more than 20 years ago, but does this remembrance sound like a story in miniature of what the United States finds itself enmeshed in as you read this?

Remember, we outfitted and trained those Chinese Nationalists. Their interest and respect for Uncle Sam was solely in what he'd do for them. Democracy, free elections and the like probably never entered those Chinese minds.

Can Vietnam now be substituted for China?

I think so.

I figure that the Johnson Administration must come up with something concrete and realistic before the summer ends or face an irate citizenry.

Robber Vanishes

Grabs Branch Bank Cash, Makes Fast Dash

Mrs. Nina Wright can smile now that the bandit didn't like her company and put her out at the corner of Black Hwy. and Sutton Rd.

There's no trace of the young man who robbed the Sutton Road Branch of the United Savings Bank Thursday.

In his early 20's, the thief and $3,183 vanished shortly after noon.

The stolen car he used was found about 2:30 p.m. near Wisner Hwy. and Hunt Rd., about four miles from the branch.

It was noon, closing time for Thursday. Mrs. Wright, with her two tellers, Mrs. Evelyn Hawkins and Mrs. Barbara Young, had just checked out their cash.

IN STROLLED the youth, a patch about six inches long on his right jaw line.

"This is a stickup," [illegible] announced.

Mrs. Wright, sizing up the situation, rose from her desk and responsed, "I'm the manager, may I help you?"

"Don't touch the alarm."

"You must be kidding."

He said he wasn't and ordered Mrs. Young to put ones, fives, 10s and 20s into a white pillow case he tossed to her.

Mrs. Wright told Mrs. Young to give him the money.

"Whose big red car is that out front?" the man inquired.

When Mrs. Wright said it was her's and that the key was under the sun visor, he said, "You're coming with me."

"I'll have to get my coat," the manager responded, stalling for time as she spied a customer pulling up in his car.

"You don't need it."

"But it's chilly."

Finally giving approval to the request, the robber then saw the approaching customer.

He handed the sack of cash to Mrs. Wright and told her to carry it under her coat and head through the front door.

SHE WALKED out as the customer, Allan Bauman, a laboratory technician at Stauffer Chemical Co., held the door.

The thief dropped his pistol, quickly scooped it up and told the startled Mr. Bauman to give him the keys to the Bauman 1963 Chevrolet Nova.

With Mrs. Wright as his hostage, the robber drove west on Sutton Rd. She suggested that he go right to the sheriff's office and give himself up because he was heading for considerable trouble.

He politely refused the idea.

As the escape car reached Black Hwy., about a minute drive, he stopped and said, "You get out here."

Mrs. Wright thanked him for not injuring anyone.

From that point, the robber vanished.

Road blocks and intensive searches in the area of the abandoned Bauman auto produced nothing.

As soon as she was alone Mrs. Wright ran to the nearby home of Valley Holland, 1766 Sutton Rd., and made three fast phone calls — first to the sheriff's office, then the girls at the branch and finally to the home office,, reporting the theft.

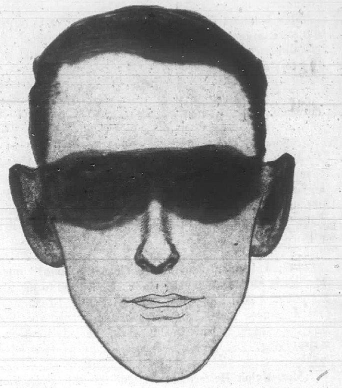
IN REVIEWING the incident, Mrs. Wright noted that the youth was extremely polite.

She had high praise for her two tellers, especially Mrs. Young, who had been on the job for less than 10 days.

Sheriff Dick Germond reports an ironic twist. One of his deputies, Maynard Westgate, was rushing blood from Bixby Hospital to Herrick Memorial Hospital for a surgery patient.

The car passed the branch on Occidental, either while the robber was inside or a minute or two before he got there.

The Sheriff said that the FBI is investigating the case in cooperation with his officers.



HAVE YOU SEEN HIM? Based on descriptions of branch bank employees, this is what Thursday's robber looked like in a a sketch made by Sgt. Ray Woodruff of the Ann Arbor Police Dept. The yegg was about 5'8", wore sun glasses. Prior to the robbery, he was seen walking along Sutton Rd. Sheriff Dick Germond theorizes that the robber may have been dropped off by an accomplice in a dip along Sutton, later picked up on Wisner Hwy. A "yellow car" was seen cruising slowly in that area about 12:15.

Saline Caravan Coming Saturday

A caravan of costumed Saline men, women and children will arrive in Tecumseh Saturday evening at 7:30 to point up their Centennial celebration.

It was in 1866 that Michigan Legislature gave a charter to Saline.

As part of Saturday evening's fun, the Saline Fire Department has challenged smoke eaters to a rope-pulling contest.

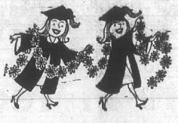
Fire Chief Wallace MacGeorge countered with a water ball contest to be held on the same ground at the Tecumseh Scout Cabin.

The Tecumseh firemen with their truck will meet the caravan at the city limits north on Evans St. and escort them through the business district.

Permission was given by Mayor Harold Easton for the Saline group to use the parking area behind the Fire Hall for a dance, bringing with them their own orchestra.

The public is invited to take part.

The Saline group numbered nearly 600 when they visited Chelsea three weeks ago. They were in Clinton and Bridgewater last Saturday.



Pictures of Tecumseh High School's graduating seniors appear in this issue, Section B, pages 1, 2, 3 and 4.

Tecumseh will probably have two one-way streets by August, Cal Zorn, city manager, told Council Monday night.

The one-way streets will be:

- ► Evans St. — southbound from N. Ottawa
- ► Ottawa St. — northbound from Kilbuck to N. Evans

A traffic light will be installed at E. Chicago Blvd and Ottawa St.

City Engineer, Lynn Nobles, already has plans on the drawing board for the changes.

Distribution to Cottages Will Begin on June 30

"Yes, sir, the Herald is to be delivered in the Irish Hills area again this summer," was the answer given the resorter at Wamplers Lake.

Beginning June 30, a pair of Herald delivery wagons, loaded with 1,000 papers, will hie themselves off to the lake region every Thursday morning for 10 weeks.

Summer residents on Sand, Evans, Kelly, Kilarney and Wamplers will receive the latest edition hot off the press and free of charge.

Two full pages of recreation features and attractions of the Hills are printed each week including a map of the area.

Both Tecumseh merchants and those in the Hills look forward to the distribution each year, which brings an influx of visitors to the trading areas.

4-Mill Proposition Faces School Voters

By JIM LINCOLN

Voters in the Tecumseh School District will go to the polls Monday with school board seats and a millage issue on the ballot.

Orville Bishop and Dr. Donald Phelan are the only candidates for the two four-term board posts, but Dr. Harold Ocamb, Ronald Coleman and Graham Fleming are seeking the sole one-year term.

All voting for the election will be done at the high school cafeteria, with the polls open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

An attempt to raise salaries in the schools to a competitive level with other schools involves a proposal of four mills for two years.

Teaching salaries in the local schools are below other nearby districts — in some cases, up to a $1,000 a year.

Although school officials have taken no action as to what will happen if the millage is turned down, another vote yet this summer is a possibility.

Another course of action would be to trim the schools' curriculum and teaching staff. This undoubtedly would result in half-day sessions in the elementary grades, as there would not be enough teachers to properly staff the classrooms.

Some courses at the junior and high school levels also would be deleted if the schools were to operate within their budget.

A special board session is planned for next Monday night, after the results of the election are known.

Bloodmobile Seeks Donors

The Red Cross Bloodmobile will be at the Tecumseh Community Center on Wednesday, June 15, from noon until 6 p.m.

All donors will be welcome.

Volunteers may sign up at the school election Monday, or by calling 423-2136.

Mrs. Merton Boss is the chairman of the volunteer workers. Dr. Robert Murray of Tecumseh and Lester Proctor of Clinton are the general co-chairmen.

Red Cross has been requested by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara to collect at least 80,000 units of blood by June 30.

All American servicemen in Viet Nam are being given increased health protection in the form of injections of gamma globulin, a blood derivative used to fight hepatitis, as well as other diseases.

In addition to gamma globulin, serum albumin, another blood derivative is used for treating shock, also is provided to the Department of Defense by the American Red Cross.

Secretary McNamara praised the efforts of students in 186 colleges and universities, plus other Americans, who have donated blood for servicemen in South Viet Nam.

He also stressed the need for additional donations.

"To date, the American Red Cross has collected over 58,000 units of whole blood for these vitally needed fractions."

"There is still a need for increased supplies of the blood components the Red Cross is supplying.

"While there has been no shortage of these vital components, the increased numbers of American servicemen in Southeast Asia have reduced existing stockpiles.

"Continued efforts must be made to enlarge the supply back up to meet emergencies and the ever-growing need," he noted.

Lenawee County participates in the Red Cross Blood Program, serving 36 counties in the mid-Michigan area, with headquarters in Lansing.

Through bloodmobile visits in these counties, blood and blood derivatives are provided for all residents.

SPECIAL AWARD — Bertha La Pointe was given a certificate by the First Methodist Church for service as a teacher and willing worker for 50 years. Mrs. Tracey Lord received recognition also for the completion of five years of teaching in the primary department. Harry Stanifer, church school superintendent, made the presentations.

$750,000 Gift Has No Taker

Central Lake is where Ray W. Herrick, 76-year-old Tecumseh industrialist and philanthropist, spent his boyhood and attended grade school.

He offered a $750,000 gift to the Emmet-Charlevoix School District to build a school in Central Lake for mentally handicapped children, similar to the Lenawee Institute, which his generous gifts made possible.

But the town is reluctantly refusing.

The school board based its decision on the belief that Central Lake is too far from the center of the district, which stretches 70 miles from the Straits of Mackinaw.

Special education classes are divided between several schools, and Central Lake does not want to administer the entire special ed program.

Mr. Herrick, who has donated about $25 million, mostly to churches and universities, already has given a $250,000 school addition and other gifts to Central Lake.

Last summer he provided townspeople with paint for many of the residents to paint their homes.

You Told Us

By DOROTHY GRIGG
Herald Society Editor

"I think; therefore, I am."

That's the motto chosen by the graduating class of 1966 at Tecumseh High School. This fine group of young people seems to be tossing out a challenge that many adults would do well to accept stopping for a minute in the scurry of life to really "think."

Tuesday is Flag Day and running up the Stars and Stripes affords an ideal opportunity for contemplation of just what America means to her citizens and just what is the responsibility of each one of us.

Certainly we can't leave it all to the boys in Vietnam or the cap-and-gown set.

The Ray Bandemers flew to Indianapolis Sunday and back Monday for the 500 mile race.

A five-pound boy, David Michael, was born June 1 to Mr. and Mrs. Michael Walter, (nee Penny Davis) of Dearborn. The little boy's father is presently employed as an architect in the Argonaut Realty Division of General Motores Corp.

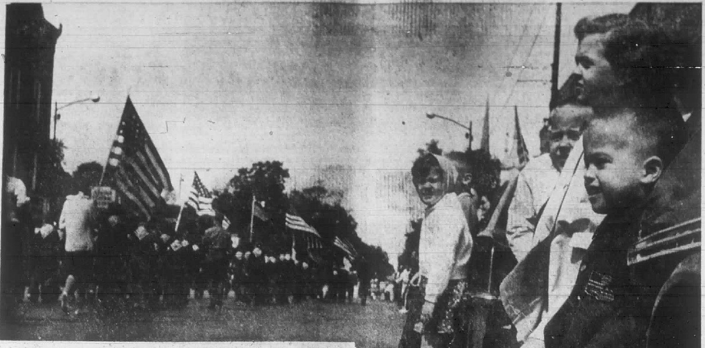
Another new baby, Tecumseh friends lay some claim to, is the little girl, Ellen Maria, born recently to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Rice, (nee Clara Rebottaro), formerly of Tecumseh now of Peebles, Ohio.



Tecumseh's outstanding Memorial Day parade again brought thousands of viewers along the line of march. Boy Scouts in the upper left picture were among the 46 units with gayly decorated two and three-wheeler bicycles at the rear. Donald Woods was the parade marshal.

Dependable Keeps Contract

Dependable Garbage Service of Napoleon, present collector of trash and garbage here, was given a three-year contract by Council Monday night.

Councilman Donald Sunderland and Mayor Harold Easton questioned Phillip Duckham, owner, about poor service.

Residents are supposed to get twice-a-week pickup. Both Mr. Sunderland and Mayor Easton pointed out that it was often once-a-week — sometimes not even that often.

Mr. Sunderland told Mr. Duckham that it wasn't right to charge people for something they weren't getting. The Napoleon owner agreed.

Although numerous complaints have been made about Dependable, the city was unable to interest other bidders. Only one other, Schodewald's of Deerfield, responded. It was 30% higher than Dependable's bid.

Dependable will continue to charge $1.75 per month for one can and $2.50 for two.

City Manager Cal Zorn asked that consideration be given paper bag pickup as soon as additional information is received.

The bus is valued at $7,000.

Several Chapters brought additional gifts of appliances and cash for the Villa.

Villa children presented a musical program.

Primary purpose is to provide teen-agers with activities in a religiously-created environment. Program activities are focused on the total personality and interests of the teenagers.

Through a four-fold program, members are shown how to apply what they are learning in school, religious instructions and the pulpit.

Thus, the club can be viewed as a practical "workshop" to learn how to apply Catholic principles in daily life.

St. Elizabeth pastor, the Rev. Fr. Thomas J. Collins serves as moderator.

Administration and management of the club's activities are the responsibility of the teens themselves, with adult guidance. Bill Holmes is adult general chairman.

The club and its adult advisors are especially grateful to Ted Peters of the Monroe County Catholic Youth Organization for his invaluable assistance in getting the club organized.

Piano Students Play in Recital

BRITTON — Mrs. Clyde Brown will present her piano students in a spring recital Sunday afternoon at 4 in the Fellowship Center of the Congregational Christian Church.

Meader Will Run

ANN ARBOR — George Meader, Ann Arbor Republican, and former seven-term Congressman from the Second Congressional District, will attempt to regain the seat he lost in 1964.

Out of 154,000 votes cast, Mr. Meader fell by 1,526 while President Johnson carried the district by over 42,000 votes.

Since March of last year, Meader has served as Counsel to the Joint Committee on Organization of Congress — a special committee established to study congressional reform.

"Both internationally and domestically, America is in danger," he said.

"We are confronted with serious and complex problems which affect both our national security and our two-party system of representative government .

GEORGE MEADER

"We are not a well-informed nation. The current struggle — which we somehow refuse to call a war although our young men are being killed — has not been explained to the satisfaction of the American citizen. "Our policies, our strategies, and our objectives in Viet Nam, in Cuba, in Korea, and in other trouble spots around the globe need a thorough and realistic examination," the candidate noted.

Frankenmuth Has Festival

The story of Frankenmuth's beginnings will be portrayed in a drama again this year as part of the German city's annual Bavarian Festival June 12-18.

Local talent in a cast of more than 50 is building on last year's success with "The Spirit of Frankenmuth," a historical pageant about the founding of the community written by the Rev. Robert H. Clausen of Chicago.

The play recreates events and situations leading up to the founding of Frankenmuth as a Lutheran missionary colony among the Indians.

The pageant emphasizes traditions which may be seen today in Frankenmuth, which still is deeply involved in practicing Christianity at home and spreading it abroad.

Some key roles are those of Friedrich Craemer, who led a small group of pioneers to Frankenmuth more than 100 years ago and Johann Loehe, the man who organized the group which started its journey in Germany and ended in the new world.

Many of the settlers are portrayed by direct descendants. Such names as Loesel, Zehnder, List, Kern, Bierlein, Bruns, Hildner and Beyerlein have been known since the community's early history.

"The Spirit of Frankenmuth" will be presented on the evenings of June 12, 15, and 17 at Frankenmuth High School. Those who saw it last year acclaimed it as "deeply moving" and "done with professional finesse."

GI Hears from Folks

(Editor's note — Mrs. Jens Touborg came across this interesting story in The Muskegon Chronicle, telling of former Tecumseh residents Mr. and Mrs. Carl F. Cederquist and son, Bill. The family lived here until the mid 1950's.

By BRUCE D. McCREA

The machines at S. D. Warren's Central Mills were strangely quiet Thursday.

They shut down for one of the most unusual . . . and dramatic . . . reasons in the long history of the paper-making firm.

The plant went quiet so a mother could talk to her son in Okinawa!

Airman 1.C. William F. (Billy) Cederquist had been in the Air Force six years and plans to make the military his career. Ten months ago he was assigned to Okinawa.

At home, his mother, Mrs. Carl F. Cederquist, is employed at the Central Mill while his father is confined to his home at 2292 Miner Ave. with illness which forcel his early retirement. Because of that illness, Mr. Cederquist has become an amateur radio enthusiast.

Thursday morning another widely known Muskegon "ham" operator, Nils Jansson, of North Muskegon, was "working" Okinawa and it was coming in loud and clear. On impulse, he called Mr. Cederquist and asked for the airman's full name and location.

In a mattar of minutes, through the magic of short wave and what the hams know as a "phone patch," Nils had made contact. An amateur operator in Okinawa called Billy by phone: "patched" him into the radio. In North Muskegon, Nils called the Cederquist home and "patched" the phone into his set.

For the next 15 or 20 minutes, father and son talked.

Then Mr. Cederquist said, "What a shame Bill's mother isn't here to talk to him too."

"What's her number at the mill?" asked Nils.

Carl gave it to him . . . and that's when the machines went quiet.

Management of the company, alerted to what was going on, wanted no noise to interrupt a mother's talk with her son. And for 20 minutes the mill was silent except for a mothers' voice.

It was 11:15 a.m., May 19 in Muskegon. It was 1:15 a.m., May 20 in Okinawa.

At that hour of the morning, it was quiet in Okinawa.

And in the middle of a busy work day at S. D. Warren Co., it was equally . . . poignantly . . . quiet.

Tipton School Notes

FIRST GRADE

A number writing contest was held to see who could go the fartherest by ones. The winners were:

First — Gary Allen, who wrote from 1 to 1,200.

Second — Robert LeFerriere, Raymond Jackson and Shelley Thompson, who wrote from 1 to 1,099.

Third — Beth Tuckerman who wrote from 1 to 1,029.

During Pet Show week, Bradley Becker brought his kitten, "Peanuts" and Sharon Jones her kitten, "Felix" to show fellow students.

Eric Travis had his rabbit, "Snoop."

For language, the students are bringing books from home to read to the group. Many interesting stories, especially those from Book Clubs, to which the pupils are members, have been heard.

Bouquets of tulips, wild flowers, lilacs and narcissus, brought by the children each day, brighten the room.

SECOND GRADE

We went to the Jackson Fire Station with Miss Bertha LaPointe because Mrs. Tonneberger was not able to go.

Mrs. Griffin, our Student teacher, and 10 mothers went. The fun ended with a picnic at Frontier City.

Mrs. Tonneberger is now back for half days, after a hospital stay with pneumonia.

We're drawing pictures of birds and learning to write sentences.

FIFTH GRADE

The fifth grade will go to Henry Ford Museum this week.

We took a conservation tour of the Lloyd Ruesink farm May 19, seeing live animals and hearing talks on soil, woods, water and wild life.

Our science projects include life cycles of insects, land or water animals.

SIXTH GRADE

We took a trip to the Junior High School, also went to the library, got our new cards, and met Mrs. Fosbender.

In science we have been doing experiments in plant propagation with cuttings or leaves from plants around our home, some in water and some in soil. Charts we're keeping will tell us which plants rooted first.

A class trip took us to the Capitol, also the Michigan State University Museum. When you got inside the Capitol and look up it makes you dizzy it goes up so far. The grounds around the Capitol were beautiful.

New books that just came last week are called American Heritage and are about travels, people, science and wars.

We have a new custodian at our school. His name is Fay Kempf taking the place of Kenneth Frost.

Card of Thanks

CARD OF THANKS — I wish to thank all the friends that sent me cards and flowers at the hospital. A special thanks to the friends and neighbors who have been awfully nice to me after I got home. Mrs. Don Blesing. J. 9, p

We wish to express our sincere thanks to our friends and neighbors for the kindness shown us at the time of the death of our loved one. Special thanks to Dave Criss and Lester Proctor of Proctor Funeral Home and the Rev. Laszlo Gero.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Hoffman
Mr. and Mrs. Frank O'Shea and family.

Memoriam

In loving memory of Charles McCarbery who passed away three years ago, June 5, 1963.

God took him home, it was His will,
But in our hearts we love
him still;
His memory is as dear today
As in the hour he passed away.
We often sit and think of him
When we are all alone;
For memory is the only friend
That grief can call its own.
Sadly missed by wife, children and grandchildren

Whiffs 12 in 3-2 Win

Rick Calzada was the hero as VFW edged Eagles, 3-2, in the season's first Pony League game.

Pitching for the winners, Rick struck out 12 and allowed five hits.

He scored the winning run, triling and then coming in on a wild pitch.

Rick's mound opponent, Alex Gibson, also looked sharp, fanning 10 and also permitting five hits.

John Wall was Rick's battery mate and Gordon Girbach handled Alex.

Scott Dalton's pair of singles paced the VFW hitting attack, while Bill Puffer had two base knocks for the losers.

Tom Aiuto, VFW second baseman, started a pair of double plays, scoring one out and then flipping to first baseman Jim Feight, then to shortstop Jack Greenfield on the other.

G&J Wood Products posted a 10-6 victory over the Indians in Tuesday evening Pony League action.

Steve Tilton and Mike Cote shared hurling chores for G&J, holding the Indians to one hit.

The winners' Bob Reed collected three safeties, Ken Pieh and David Gramling both had two.

Defensive gem of the night was an infield double play by Manager Ken Hinkleman's Woodmen. Shortstop Tim McVay scooped up a grounder, tossed to second sacker Pieh, who relayed to Paul Randall at first.

SCHOOLS FOR A BOOMING TECUMSEH

Issue of the June 13 Election Is Clear

You selected your School Board of Trustees to run your schools. To do this properly, the trustees have decided four additional mills are needed. The board is united. All agree that the school, its operation and its end product — your children — must progress with our fast-moving society. Your decision is whether to provide the funds with which the trustees, school administration and faculty can prepare your child for his life's work.

On June 13 ☛ You Decide . . .

Whether a well-rounded curriculum, taught by qualified and experienced teachers, shall be available to your young people

Or . . .

Reduce the programs and school days, meaning hardships for children which, perhaps, they may never be able to make up in future years.

Which Shall It Be?

Will You Give $20 More, Mr. and Mrs. Average Citizen, to Better Educate Your Children?

Funds, If Available

Salaries	$115,768	66%
Maintenance (West Branch, drives)	5,500	3%
Capital Outlay (hoods, incinerator)	12,000	7%
.8 Mill Lost To County	34,925	20%
Contingency	6,433	4%

VOTING PLACE

All Tecumseh Public School District voters, regardless of where they live, must vote at the high school cafeteria. Voting will be done on voting machines.

WHO CAN VOTE

All persons voting must be registered in the township or city in which they live. School district registrations are made up from the township and city registrations.

ABSENTEE BALLOTS

Absentee ballots are available at the Board of Education office on West Chicago Blvd., Tecumseh.

WHEN TO VOTE

June 13 — 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Why Should I Vote For Good Schools?

PROPERTY OWNERS: All children need a good education in these changing times. An educated child is not as apt to be on our welfare rolls, in our jails, without hope of a good life. Remember the early 1960's . . . half-day classes, reduced services, property values dipped, owners unable to sell property for what it was worth. Today, evaluations and sales are high. Good schools contributed, don't let them deteriorate.

LABOR: Job opportunities will not continue to be available if we cannot produce well trained young men and women to fill them.

COMMERCE: A community cannot continue to prosper and grow unless its young people have good learning experiences, stay in the community, and encourage others to move here.

INDUSTRY: Young people need a broad education and skills. Specialized and skilled personnel, needed by industry in Tecumseh, will not move here unless they are assured their children will get an above average education.

SENIOR CITIZENS: Under the new tax exemption program, a senior citizen owning a $10,000 home will save $98 in taxes next year; therefore, he could spend only $10 more for schools next year.

PAROCHIAL PARENTS: Your children have the same health services, summer school, special education, remedial reading and Head Start programs, driver education and bus transportation. Your children also attend the public high school. You have given freely to support the schools in the past, and your continued support will be greatly appreciated.

Why Should The Property Owners Pay?

Property tax is the only LEGAL levy for a school district. It may not be the equitable way, but at the present, it is the only way. The School Board recognizes the problem of the property owners, they're property owners, too. If you want more equity in your taxation procedures, we urge you to talk to your legislators. In the meantime, let's not short change the children.

Your Tecumseh Schools Boast A Fine Record

For example, last year 78, or 42%, of 186 graduates enrolled in colleges. Of these, 15% received an average of A; 25% received average of B; 46%, an average of C; and only 14% below straight C's. This is an excellent record.

Why Tecumseh Schools Need Additional Funds

School personnel here — some 200 — have been given the right by state law to negotiate with the Board of Education. Our people have been very reasonable in their salary requests. An additional $20 bill from the average citizen will cover the necessary cost for raising salaries, allow some much needed repairs on some of our buildings, and for a small capital outlay.

Please consider:

(a) It has cost a teacher at least $28,000 in lost earnings and in college expenses in the four years he spent preparing to be a teacher. He starts here at $4,900, less than the beginning sweeper earns in our industries. More than 20% of our professional staff attend summer schools to become better prepared to provide better services for the children. Most starting salaries in the state range from $5,400 to $6,000. We can't compete now. We still lack nine teachers for next year, and more will resign if salaries are not raised. Experienced teachers can secure positions elsewhere from $500 to $1,500 more.

(b) Bus drivers, custodians, maintenance men and secretaries receive salaries which need to be increased, due to cost of living increases. We're two custodians short now, and have been unable to replace them.

(c) Cost of teaching supplies, furniture, repairs, text books, etc., have increased. Maintenance of buildings is more costly.

Professional Staff

Average teacher here has the equivalent of 7.39 years and 4.57 years experience in other schools. All teachers have a Bachelors Degree, or equivalent, and 42 hold Masters Degrees. One has an advanced professional degree, and eight have at least 15 hours of credit beyond a Master's Degree, towards a Doctorate or Education Specialist Degree. All nine full time administrators have Masters Degrees, and two have over 15 hours beyond the Masters Degree. We need higher salaries to hold and replace this staff.

Seeking Federal Money

A request for Federal money to help pay off purchase of the Pit was made Friday.

Don Moffat, director of city parks and recreation, and Cal Zorn, city manager, conferred with state officials.

They met with the Michigan Conservation Department's Recreation Research Planning Division representatives, hoping to get $17,500, which is one-half of the $35,000 cost.

The money would come from the Department of Interior's land and water fund.

The Pit is presently owned by citizens through the Tecumseh Community Fund Fundation.

Weeds Steal Water, Light from Crops

Weeds reduce crop values for the United States an estimated 4 to 5 billion dollars each year.

This is greater than the losses caused by diseases and insects combined.

Weeds compete with crop plants for water, nutrients and light. They also harbor insects and diseases, and generally reduce yields and crop quality.

According to John W. Comstock, Lenawee County Extension Agricultural Agent, a recently-revised bulletin brings up-to-date the measures now being used for chemical weed control in horticultural in Michigan.

THE SAFE usage and the limitations of the chemicals are discussed with the same application and storage practices.

The grower should take special care and read directions to prevent possible injury to persons, crop plants and animals.

Further information is available in the MSU Extension Bulletin 433 "Chemical Weed Control for Horticultural Crops."

This publication can be obtained from the Lenawee County Extension Office at the Courthouse in Adrian.

Among the bearded men and vintage costumed families was the cleverly costumed Bridgewater Bar Belles Chapter, all dressed in matching red-checked gingham and riding on an antique truck.

An old-time band led the procession around Clinton's main street and stopped traffic while the procession marched to the Community Center parking lot for an evening of hilarity and lively square-dancing.

Many Clinton folks, who remembered their own recent 125th anniversary celebration, came out to join in the fun.

School District Voters Consider 2 Proposals

CLINTON — Voters in the Clinton School District will go to the polls Monday from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. in the Township Library.

A four-mill operation proposal and a two-mill levy for a building and site fund highlight the ballot.

A comparison of the present 1965-66 levy and the proposed levy for 1966-67 follows:

	1965-66	1966-67
Operation millage allocated	11.22	11.22
Operation millage voted	2.00	4.00
Bond debt retirement	3.50	2.50
Building-site sinking fund	None	2.00
Total	16.72	19.72

The net increase as shown is only three mills, or $3 per $1,000 on state equalized valuation.

Thus, a house in Clinton village with a valuation of $3,500 would have an increase of $17.75 over the present levy.

Farm property in Clinton township valued at $7,000 would have a tax increase of $35.49.

To be elected are two trustees of the board of education for three-year terms. Candidates are incumbents Charles Knight and Lester Proctor and Donald Geiger.

Subdivision Has 168 Lots

CLINTON — Representatives of River Raisin Clinton Corp., Donald Thomas and Kathy Thomas, with their professional engineer, Norman Deitrich of Ann Arbor and Professor John Hyde of University of Michigan, presented sketches of their proposed subdivision for consideration by the Clinton Village Council Wednesday.

The proposed development, in the northeast quarter of Clinton, will comprise a total of 168 lots. The first stage is a plat of 35 lots.

A special meeting was scheduled for Tuesday by the council to consider the first plot.

AT THE special session consultants were to report on the pension plan for village employees and bids were to be opened for the purchase of a tractor.

The council announced that chronic offenders, who habitually are late with payment of utilities, will be cut off without special notice. There have been some 50 delinquent accounts.

City ordinance which forbids dumping of debris and refuse in village gutters will be enforced. The dog ordinance was reviewed and it will be enforced.

VILLAGE STREETS which have been receiving more than a normal amount of wear will be scheduled for seal coating.

Permission was granted to the Clinton Band Boosters to have a chicken barbecue in Memorial Park on Sunday, July 3.

Vacationland Artist

By TOM RIORDAN

Whenever friends tell her she's crazy, Gwen Frostic must feel as though she's about to make another correct decision.

Back in 1941, at the start of World War II, when Gwen unfolded a slightly radical plan, it prompted friends to tell her she was out of her mind.

At the time, Gwen was comfortably situated in Wyandotte, with a tiny trinkets-in-copper shop, selling bric-a-brack she made herself. With Pearl Harbor her supply of metal quickly was disappearing.

So Gwen announced she was going into the printing business, opening a shop at Frankfort, 150 miles away in northern Michigan's resortland. The uproar of disbelief to such an insane plan was deafening.

BUT THE NEXT THING folks knew, Gwen was majestically overseeing her lone press, which was turning out stationary items, all featuring original Gwen Frostic artwork. And people were buying it.

Gwen's Presscraft Papers began to thrive and gradually she built up a list of stores in Michigan and other states to which she wholesaled her products, keeping things humming during the off-tourist months.

The years rolled pleasantly by and one day Gwen spied a lonely, 80-acre plot a half dozen miles east of Frankfort, not far from the villages of Benzonia and Buelah. The Betsie River sliced through the land, which was nearly all virgin. It was a haven of wildlife — perfect for bird-watching and communing with nature.

There ~~were a few~~ raised eyebrows when Gwen bought "the farm." They were nothing compared with the confusion ignited by Gwen's revelation shortly afterwards that she would build a spacious printing plant and sales room there. Gwen just grinned when the prophets of doom painted their pictures of bankruptcy.

THE BUILDING PLAN was unusual, one might say another original by Frostic, sort of a sketch on the bare ground with a handy twig. There were no blueprints, just an understanding contractor and Gwen's casual instructions.

Implanted into a gentle hillside and built on three levels, it turned out to be 100'x60', rustic and north woodsish. Like the concrete floor in the spacious sales section. As it dried, footprints of rabbits, bears and 'coons were carefully drawn onto the surface.

Hand-hewed beams formed large openings on one wall of the sales area, through which visitors can look down into the pressroom, about four feet below, and watch the stationary being printed on seven high-speed, German-built presses.

Driftwood and section of trees help form display counters, stuffed birds peer out at customers.

Gwen's studio, loaded with drawings and bits of flowers, is located at one corner of the shop, has glass from floor to ceiling on two sides. Miss Frostic never wants to be far from nature — and inspiration.

Her spacious apartment is over the plant. The location of her bedroom was dictated by a grove of poplar trees, ideal for visiting birds, flocks of which sometimes number in the hundreds.

Gwen told her builder: "Don't cut down a single tree." He didn't.

SHE SUGGESTED a field-stone chimney, he wanted to know what sort of design, she said just mortar the stones in place as they fit comfortably. Drillers discovered a flowing well next to what would be the sales room's entrance, delighting Gwen, who promptly decided a fountain just inside the main door would look grand and that's where visitors find it now.

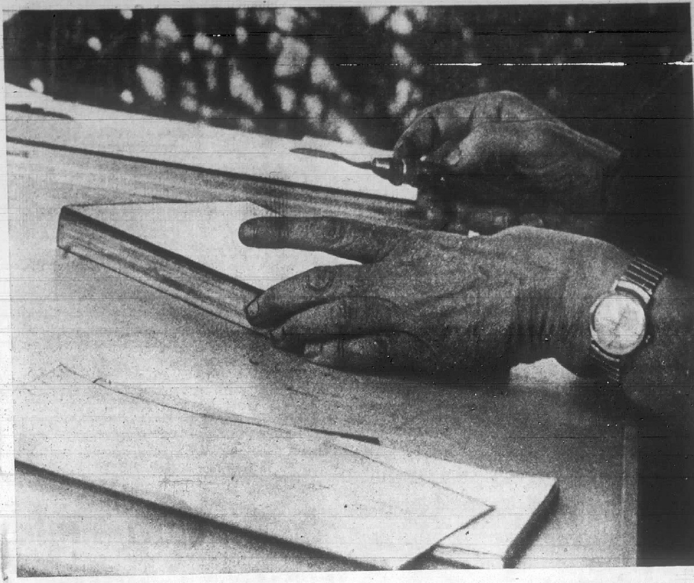
Things had hardly been all moved in when the customers began to arrive. By the end of the first summer, week days were producing as many visitors as invaded her Frankfort location on weekends.

But this over-the-counter business is just a spot on accounts receivable, which annually total more than $500,000. Gwen's real action comes from the nearly 1,000 stores she now supplies all across the nation — Bangor, Maine to Port Townsend, Wash.

Note papers and cards produced at Gwen's plant are all works of art. Take the "Response to Spring" collection of informals, as described by Gwen in her order catalog:

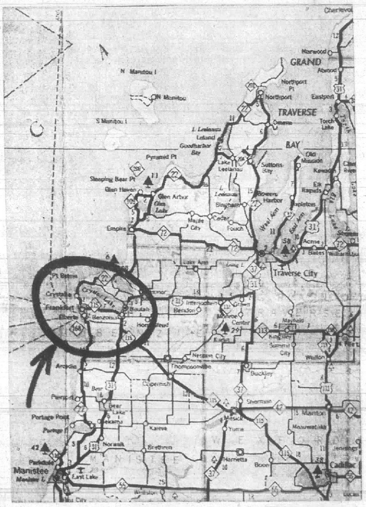
"As the sun warms the earth, the earth warms the air, the cycle of growth begins anew. Jack-in-the-pulpits push to the right. Coral Root orchids with little striped balls, tiny blue Forget-me-nots, great Blue Iris and Lady's Slippers in delicate pinks. Each in its own time and place shall rise and blossom to loveliness."

This is just one in dozens and dozens of selections available.



TALENTED HANDS OF GWEN FROSTIC POISED ABOVE LINOLEUM BLOCK, READY TO BEGIN ANOTHER NATURE CUT

FRIENDLY, OUT-GOING GWEN LOVES TO CHAT ABOUT GOD'S CREATURES



Gwen's operation is located near Benzonia and Beulah in Benzie County. It's close to the Hill an' Dale Resort, owned and operated by the Charles Bigelow family of Macon. The Riordans met Miss Frostic last summer while vacationing at the Bigelows' place.

AMONGST TREES AND UNDERGROWTH SITS THE AMAZING PRESSCRAFT PAPERS PLANT

Gwen 'Writes' with Type

GWEN'S TECHNIQUE IN PRODUCING illustrations for her printed pieces is fascinating — and pretty unconventional. In most instances, it all starts in Gwen's tiny, screen-in hut, located deep in the woods, along the banks of the Betsie River. From this hide-away she watches nature, studies the birds, bushes, animals, even the blades of wild grass and weeds gently swaying in the soft northern Michigan breezes.

Pencil drawings begin to fill her sketch pad.

Back in her studio, Gwen will get out a block of linoleum and her set of carving tools. Using a drawing for a guide, she'll begin to cut lines and groves into the soft surface.

Gradually, a delicate Dragonfly, a summer Birch or a Red-Wing calling from the marshland will take form.

Then choosing a paper stock and colors of ink most suitable for that particular picture, another Frostic original will be started through the shop. Initial print is 10,000 pieces, neatly folded and stored in narrow, five-foot high cabinets, ready to be included with a future folder.

GWEN'S A POLISHED WRITER as well as being an artist. Her order booklets, entitled "Because you appreciate loveliness . ." are fascinating reading. It was no surprise in 1957 when Gwen decided to write and publish a book.

She never forgets her shop janitor's questions one weekend as she was struggling around huge stacks of printed section waiting to be gathered and bound into that initial volume, "My, Michigan."

"Have you got any of those sold, Miss Gwen?"

When she confessed there wasn't a single order, the fellow shook his head in pity. How well Gwen recognized the sign.

Not long after "My Michigan's" original printing of 8,000, the book was selling. Four other volumes have followed, including "A Place on Earth," "These Things Are Ours," "To Those Who See" and "A Walk with Me."

They're all brief, but the passages are meant to be savored, not rushed over. Gwen's illustrations and delicately-tinted, deckle-edged stock in a variety of colors give added excitement.

SHE COMPOSES HER WORKS not with a typewriter, but before a California type case, setting the lines by hand. If a word or phrase is too long to maintain the typographical balance, she'll use something else. Here's the way a segment of "A Place on Earth" reads, just as Gwen composed and set it in type:

Each frog - - - and insect bird - - - and tree and everything that lives and breathes somehow creates its place on earth - - - .

The plants need water to survive in turn give water to the sky - - -
a blue jay feeds upon the nuts of trees that jays have planted - - - the moth that pollinates the flowers once ate the leave - - before it flew

As each thing ever fosters
the thing that fosters it
- - - - - and in return must ever give as much as it receives - - - - - -
That all things shall keep a perfect balance and earn a place on earth . . . . . .

Camera Bugs Can Photograph Tiger Players

Second annual "Camera Day" photography contest will be Saturday at Tiger Stadium.

Jointly sponsored by the Detroit Baseball Club and Gold Seal Photo Service, "Camera Day" will feature a special pregame snapshot session in which prizes for best photos of Tiger players will be awarded in two separate age categories.

Not only will fans be permitted on the field to shoot black and white or color pictures of their favorite players, but they will also have a chance to see the Tigers in action against the New York Yankees.

The photo session will start at 12:15 p.m. and last 30 minutes. Close-up picture-taking will be limited to those purchasing box, reserved or grandstand seats for that day's game.

Last year, "Camera Day" drew thousands of fans to the stadium for this once-a-year opportunity to photograph and see the Tigers at close range.

Snapshots taken on "Camera Day" will be eligible for over 50 prizes awarded by Gold Seal Photo and the Detroit Tigers. Separate prizes will be presented for pictures submitted by adults and those entered by youngsters under age 16.

TO HELP TIGER fans with their picture-taking, the following tips have been compiled by the Detroit Baseball Club:

- For better close-ups of individual team members, shoot from about five feet away from your subjects as they are warming up for the game. Keep your camera clicking and seek different angles for candid, revealing studies of each player.
- After the game starts and you're seated, remain on guard for sudden, unexpected action that can flare up on the field as well as in the stands. If you're sitting close to first or third base, watch for opportunities to snap putouts or dramatic sliding shots, complete with flying dust.
- If you're in the stands and without a telephoto lens, try to picture the color and atmosphere of the bleachers; a closeup of an excited fan leaping from his seat at a surprise play, for example. Another high-impact, human interest shot might show spectators reaching wildly for a foul ball that has popped into the stands.
- Try also to picture the panorama. Aim the camera out toward the field, including a portion of the crowd, and try to catch the profile of a spectator attentively watching the game. Shoot with the spectator five to ten feet from the camera. The effect: a deep, sweeping view of the ball park.

Entry blanks for "Camera Day" participants are available at Ken-Ray Drugs in Tecumseh.

$5 Bills in Field

A good corn handling system is important to Michigan farmers. Corn has become Michigan's major grain crop and as planting nears completion many farmers are thinking — and hoping — about harvests this fall.

Harvest losses range from 5 to 25 bushels an acre based on a 100-bushel-an-acre yield. That means leaving from one to five $5 bills in the field and a good corn handling system will keep this loss at a minimum.

Farmers are showing great interest in improving their corn harvesting storage system. A number are building new grain centers this year.

Agricultural engineering specialists at Michigan State University say there will be more shelled corn harvested this year as a greater number of corn growers are selling their corn rather than feeding it on the farm.

THE AGRICULTURAL agent lists three basic systems.

- Ear corn harvest with natural air drying through ventilated cribs.
- Shelled corn harvest either using a sheller-picker in the field or shelling corn at the storage bin with some type of a drying system.
- Harvesting high moisture corn either as ear or shelled corn and storing it in a silo ready to feed livestock.

There are some keys or anchor points that farmers should recognize in planning storages. These involve both the volume and the moisture at which corn is harvested.

Storage up to 10,000 bushels can easily be handled as ear corn storage. However, some farmers find that when they have more than 7,000 bushels storing as shelled corn has some advantages.

The County Extension Office would be pleased to consult with farmers considering changes in their storage program and suggest that several alternatives be considered to get the most suitable system for the type of farming being done at the present time.

THE LANSING REPORT FROM senator GIL BURSLEY

The summer tourist season is almost with us — a big business for Michigan. It not only generates thousands of jobs but it brings many millions of dollars into the state coffers.

Tourist spending in 1964 was $857 million. Projected, but still unfinalized figures for 1965 show a $960 million figure.

Now what is this tourist business worth to the state? For one thing more service-type jobs are created. Total personal incomes go up and more consumer spending results.

IMPORTANT TOO is the effect upon Michigan tax revenues. Last year this figure was set at $65,000,000 by the Michigan Tourist Council.

The average vacationer is estimated to spend his dollar as follows: 28c for food, 20c for retail purchases, 19c for gasoline and oil, 3c for tires and parts, 22c for lodging and 8c for entertainment and recreation.

On the basis of that breakdown total spending subject to Michigan's 4% sales tax would bring in $19,584,000. State gasoline tax would net $32,832,000 and the 4% use tax on room accommodations another $3,086,000.

Hunting and fishing license fees and camping fees bring in $8,482,000 and an estimated share of liquor and cigarette tax receipts accounts for $1,600,000.

These figures together amount to some $65,000,000.

MICHIGAN HAS nearly 1700 new campsites opening in 1966. The State now offers 17,331 prepared campsites in 65 state parks and recreation areas; in 139 state forest campgrounds; in 86 national forest campgrounds; and in 60 county, township and city parks.

Write me if you would like a 1966 Official State Highway Map.

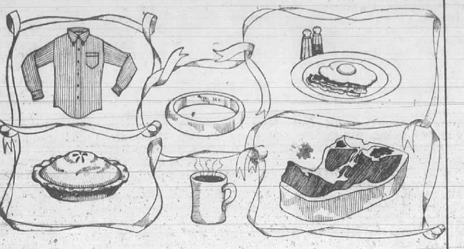
A&P What every new bride should know!



Let's see!
His shirts...starch or no starch?
His eggs...sunnyside up or over lightly?
His coffee...a bit on the strong side?
His steak...medium-rare or rare-rare?
His favorite pie...apple or cherry?

Knowing these things is important.
Knowing this is important, too: A&P is a store you can trust.
Brides have been doing it for over a century.
As a matter of fact, nobody has ever had more brides walk down their aisle than A&P.

We think it's important for brides,
new or old, to find a store they can trust,
to know that everything they buy is totally guaranteed.

That's A&P Policy.
No matter who makes it, if A&P sells it, A&P guarantees it.

Is this a good reason for shopping A&P? It's one of many.

Township Government Era Ending

"The end of an era has come to township government."

So said Joseph Parisi, Jr., Executive Director of Michigan Townships Association, who released an advance copy of the June Polling Place.

The regular June issue could not be released in sufficient time to reach township officials prior to the June 14 deadline for filing nominating petitions.

Principle reason for this is that House Bill No. 3698 has not yet been signed by Governor Romney, who is expected to do this early next week. The bill establishes two year terms of office and also extends the terms of incumbent JP's until the office is abolished.

Old fashioned township caucus, where friends and neighbors gathered to verbally nominate township officials, is no longer legal.

In addition, in the polling place it is indicated that small minor parties such as "Citizens," "People's," "Liberty," etc., are no longer permitted. Township officials must now declare whether they choose to run as Democrats or Republicans.

This is to Certify that LIFE-TIME MEMBER — Mrs. Albert Tonneberger was presented a plaque by the Tipton PTA, certifying that she and Mr. Tonneberger are life-time members of organization. Party Time for Jasper Jasper Murphy's 80th birthday anniversary was celebrated with a family party Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Murphy, 809 S. Union St.

The outdoor barbecue dinner was arranged by the couple's three sons, one stepson and four daughters: Mrs. Lawrence Murphy of Adrian; Carmon Murphy and Herman Murphy of Tecumseh; Mrs. Cecil Goforth of Pittsford; Mrs. Jay Randolph of Wichita, Kans.; Mrs. Levi Carter and Mrs. John Rickets of Adrian.

There were 39 present for the occasion, including Mr. Murphy's sister, Mrs. Jess Lonis of Clayton, Henry Hendricks of Adrian, several nieces and nephews and 15 grandchildren.

The Murphys moved to their present address a year ago, when the Palm Sunday tornado destroyed their home at Manitou Beach. Mr. Murphy was a poultry wholesaler until his retirement several years ago.

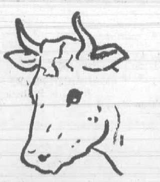
YELLOWED CORN PLANTS could mean you need extra nitrogen. Waterlogged or sandy soils pelted with heavy rains this spring could have lost nitrogen through denitrification or leaching. Up to 80% of the nitrogen can be lost where water stood for four days. Sidedress soon because the nitrogen needs of corn increase sharply until the third month of growth. Also, you'll keep root pruning to a minimum by early application.

FREEZE BRANDING CATTLE and hogs may be the coming thing in gaining better but painless animal identification. There's no hide damage either. A copper branding iron, cooled in dry ice and denatured alcohol, is applied to the animal's clipped hide for 30 seconds. This method destroys the hair pigment to produce white hair in the form of the number or brand at a cost of 5c per head.



HOT WEATHER CUTS DAIRY PRODUCTION, but there are some things you can do to beat the heat. Don't rely too heavily on pastures. Supplement with green chop or concentrates if pastures become over-mature. Minimize the distance cows have to travel for feed, water and shade. Provide plenty of shade, unpolluted water and keep insects under control. It also helps to graze cattle only during cooler hours of the day and to rotate pastures.

HAYLAGE FIRES from spontaneous combustion can occur in your silo. To avoid danger fill silos at 50% to 60% moisture and as short as possible. Cut too long and filled too dry, haylage does not pack well, yet there's enough air and moisture to cause excessive heating.

'Investment in Our Youth'

TO THE EDITORS:

An affirmative vote for the millage increase on the June 13 ballot will take little time. But those few moments it will take to say "YES" will be significant ones! We will be making an investment in our youth, their future and in our school property.

As parents, we hope to give our children the best education possible. We want our youth to have a school program which is equivalent to or better than that offered in other areas.

We want to prepare our youth for the competitive world awaiting them. We want to provide our youth with a curriculum which will be of equal benefit to the vocational student as well as the prospective college student.

As property owners we attempt to maintain our homes in the most practical manner. We make repairs frequently and thoroughly. Let's give our school board the same opportunity. With proper and effective repairs now, we will save tax dollars later.

Perhaps a negative vote would save each of us a few pennies a day. But this shortsightedness could bring unwanted cut-backs. Our school board has made no threats! However, it is obvious that, as in our own homes, when the budget will not balance even basic expenditures must be curbed.

In recent years a shortage in the school budget deprived some of our elementary children of full-day sessions. This could be repeated. We cannot conceive that pupils can learn as much in half-a-day as they can learn in a full day's program.

Too, our high school students could face staggered school hours or short sessions. If this situation developed, the young people would have more time to loiter on the streets, thus presenting an additional burden to our local merchants and to our police force.

SUCH A BUDGET shortage might result in the hiring of less desirable teachers. Our administration will have to accept less qualified candidates or those already rejected by other school systems.

A budget shortage could result in departmental curtailment, such as in sports, physical education, or chorus. These activities, important in the life of the student, offer social growth and success that might not be attained in other areas.

A negative approach to this millage request effects the children of our community. The students will be the loser—not our pocketbooks — if the proposal fails.

We are firm in our decision to vote "YES" on Monday because:

► We know our school board, who we elected, has studied these problems and recommends this increase as the only effective answer.

► We want our children to have the best education that's available—not one of lesser quality or limited curriculum.

► We are willing to invest an additional 40c a week—based on a home's cash value of $10,000—as an investment in the children of Tecumseh.

Won't you join us and vote "YES"?

Concerned Parents

VOICE of THE HERALD

We're Voting 'Yes'

Next Monday's millage issue seems clearly defined.

► Four mills for 1966 and 1967.

► Or, a below-standard school system.

Property owners are fed up with taxes. We don't blame them. Some of the older and retired folks are scraping along now and have little opportunity of improving their finances.

Parents want their youngsters to get the best education possible, but they're also faced with higher taxes.

On the assumption that the millage is turned down, your School Board and administration will be faced with having another vote in July or trimming the teaching staff and curriculum.

Teachers here, earning several hundred dollars a year less than teachers in nearby communities, may save the Board the trouble of trimming the staff. They may simply move to locales where more money is available.

A short teaching staff, in turn, will force the administration to drop courses from the curriculum, which then will fall short of meeting accreditdation standards. Graduates, one year-hence, may even find it difficult in getting into college.

The elementary grades undoubtedly will feel the effect — half-day sessions again. Tecumseh's entire school system will be affected.

The answer to the tax problem is not in turning down the millage, but at a later date another form of taxation. Perhaps, an income tax is the answer.

In the meantime, the schools must continue to operate and provide the best education possible. We have the responsibility of educating our children.

We're voting "yes" next Monday, and hope that you do likewise.

Show Your Colors

On Flag Day, June 14, Americans everywhere will have an opportunity to express pride in their flag, their nation, and the lofty principle which is its ideal.

As a part of its continuing campaign called "Operation Show Your Colors", The American Legion urges all citizens to display flags on Flag Day.

For the 13th consecutive year, a special program — "New Glory for Old Glory" — is being co-sponsored by The American Legion and the National Institute of Drycleaning which represents some 36,000 firms in the United States.

Under this program, member firms of NID are asked to encourage the display of flags of presentable appearance on Flag Day and other appropriate occasions, by offering to dry clean, free of charge, United States Flags during the period of June 1-12.

Marda Gene Duncan's

Through My Window

FROM THE DUNCAN'S LOG

Monday, May 9 — Departure Day! We are still excited about the marvelous 'spread" in yesterday's Detroit Free Press. Imagine — Marda making the Free Press — wow! What a wonderful way to start a vacation!

Gertrude, Elizabeth and Jenny are here to help us get away, or perhaps it is to make sure we get away. As if things aren't exciting enough, another "packer" has joined the crowd.

Cassius Clay, Clara's black squirrel, is on the feeder. It is our first close-up look at him and what a character. He truly is black.

BUT FINALLY the packing is finished, the squirrel watching ends and we point the head of station wagon west. A beautiful day, bright sunshine and a crisp, blue sky accented by big puffy, white clouds. The wind is cold, though, and oh, so very strong.

Tuesday. Surprise! Returning from breakfast, Dad asks, "Guess who I just had coffee and toast with?"

Mom and I are more than amazed at his answer, Florence and George Adamson. They, too, are Holiday Inn guests — weren't we fortunate to run into each other.

Homeward bound from a winter in Arizona, they both looked marvelous. Such a thrill to see them.

WEDNESDAY. Oh, no! That steady pitter-pat on the roof can only be one thing, rain. And a cold, wind-blown one at that.

Ugh, what an unpleasant task it is to load the car in this kind of weather. I must look like a creature from another world.

My braces and the wheelchair present a strange picture anytime, but this morning, to keep warm and reasonably dry, I am really garbed up.

A bright red plaid wool poncho is zipped up tight and the hood is tied snugly, a large plastic bag — the kind which protects clothes coming from the cleaners — is draped around my shoulders and a plastic rain hat is tied over my hood.

Thank goodness the trip from the motel to the car is just a few steps. Also, thank goodness it is too dark for picture-taking.

THE RAIN shows no inclination of letting up. In fact, just the opposite is true. As we drive away from Des Moines, Iowa, the storm hits full force.

The clouds are so black and low that it looks like night, the rain and hail are beating down faster than the windshield wipers can even begin to handle, the wind is a regular gale, thunder and lightning crash all around.

Quite an experience to drive while not seeing a thing and yet, there is no place to stop.

Such miserable weather can't last forever and at last things are brightening up a little.

PARTS OF Iowa are truly lovely. As our route remains due west, we are constantly reminded of the Irish Hills. The one startling difference is the roads —instead of twisting and turning as they do in Michigan, here in Iowa they are straight.

It is a peculiar sensation to go up and down but seldom turn.

Thursday. Another dark, gloomy morning but at least we are not battling a heavy rain. Snow today — just a few flurries, but that is more than enough.

Interstate 80 continues to be a joy. It is good driving and we are greatly impressed by the "plantings."

All along the roadway trees and bushes have been set out, in many places the trees are of a flowering variety. They are in full bloom and, even though small, what a pretty sight they are. Also, what a good food source for the birds.

FRIDAY. Well, well, sunshine and at last I am out of the wool poncho and into a sweater.

The drive from Cheyenne, Wyo., to Boulder, Colo., is interesting, but quite frankly, our main interest involves our destination. Once into the motel, we call Dr. and Marjorie Marsh. After a short rest and a change of clothes, we are on our way to their home.

And now it is my pleasure to tell their many friends that the Marshes are fine. They send greetings to all. Duke, too, is thriving in the fresh mountain air.

Mexico Slides Are Praised

TO THE EDITORS:

On May 23 the Raisin Cane 4-H'ers were guests of the Ridgeway 4-H'ers to hear Larry Gould of Morenci tell of his trip to Mexico.

I was thrilled with his presentation. He held the group spellbound as we traveled to Mexico with him via his slides.

With so many younger 4-H members in the audience I was impressed with the way he held their attention. He is certainly to be congratulated on his fine presentation.

We all learned so much about Mexico and the IFYE Program. I hope I have an opportunity to hear Larry again.

I felt compelled to write this letter because as a 4-H leader of Lenawee County, I am proud of Larry and feel we in Lenawee are very fortunate in having him represent us."

(Editor's note — Groups interested in scheduling Larry Gould for a program of slides on Mexico may do so by calling him or the 4-H office for details and dates. He is farming and schedules about two nights a week.)

Interest Is Limited

Tecumseh schools will offer summer school programs in three areas—beginning algebra, driver training and remedial reading.

Postal cards offering summer classes were sent to each parent of elementary children.

In order for the board to offer a class it is necessary to enroll 15 pupils.

Cards returned indicated that only eight pupils were available for the second grade; seven for the third; 12 for the fourth; four for the fifth; and six for the sixth so there were not enough for any grade and there will be no summer classes offered.

Junior High parents and pupils had opportunities to enroll in many classes, but none had an enrollment of over 10, meaning no Junior High summer school.

In the Senior High pupils and parents indicated a need for only beginning algebra and a class will be offered for those who have enrolled. Driver education courses will be offered as in the past.

Mrs. Juanita Becker and Mrs. Betty Trickey, remedial reading instructors, will operate the two mobile reading laboratories this summer for children already enrolled. This is a Federal program and there will be no fees charged.

Parents of children enrolled will be notified. If there are not enough to fill the program requirements other children will be admitted to the classes. Parents who have already signed up for these classes via our summer school request cards will be given first consideration.

Youths Welcome at Bible School

Long and Short

By TOM RIORDAN

How about this one?

What happens to the schooling of youngsters who are confined for months and years in University Hospital?

Folks not immediately affected probably haven't the foggiest idea — like me, until last Thursday.

As part of the Tecumseh Kiwanis Club's 10th anniversary celebration, the program focused on the Forney Clement Foundation and what it does.

Started 42 years ago by the Ann Arbor Kiwanis Club, the idea originally was simple — help youngsters pass away the time while in University Hospital.

Gradually the program grew and expanded into a full-fledged system of educating kids suffering with burns, paralyzed bodies and all sort of serious malfunctions.

Dean Lidgard, who heads up the University Hospital education system, and Sue Henderson, one of the teachers, told about their work and showed a series of inspiring color slides of the school in action.

Animals play a major role in the schooling and rehabilitation of the littler patients, Dean explained. The school has seen about every species — rabbits, hampsters, lambs, horses and cows — yes, horses and cows — on the 13th floor of University Hospital.

Some small children are so withdrawn they refuse to speak to adults. But they'll tell their troubles to a friendly rabbit, with teachers listening nearby and getting an insight into the psychological problems of the kids.

CLASSES ARE held daily for pre-schoolers through high school, mostly on the 13th floor. Students arrive in wheelchairs, even in beds. For youths who can't leave their wards — like those in the serious burn section — the teachers go to the students

Dean and Sue said that there were hundreds of human interest stories entwined with the hospital school program. In one instance, an Upper Peninsula youth fractured his spine in a diving accident just before the start of his senior year.

His body was paralyzed. This didn't hinder his progress with the books as teachers in the hospitals kept him abreast of his classmates.

Then came the school's commencement program the next spring.

Dean's staff made sure the young man would be on hand for his graduation.

To the amazement of his classmates, who hadn't seen him all year, when the youngster's name was called off, out he rolled onto the stage in a wheelchair to accept his diploma.

TIM DICKINSON SUGGESTS TO CLASS OF 1966

Aim for Excellence

By TOM RIORDAN

"We must examine our goals in life," Valedictorian Tim Dickinson advised his fellow Class of 1966 members at Tecumseh High School's commencement Sunday.

He pointed out that their lives must be "directed along lines of excellence."

"We have thought, reasoned, learned. Now we must go out and seek to meet life," Tim said.

Stan Lewis, in his salutatory address, noted: "We must be able to make decisions.

"We must preserve our personal freedoms."

In closing, Tim expressed thanks to teachers and parents, "who opened the doors and lighted the lamps for us."

THE REV. Blair Bashore was poignant as he pointed out that God wasn't dead, only that people were asleep to Him or just too preoccupied to hear His message.

"God gives us the right to assume responsibility and to live our own lives. He fills the sky with beauty, but He doesn't make us look at it," the Baptist minister said.

It's mankind's job to be alert, awake and aware.

"God speaks quietly — through the flowers, the youth, through a tear," he continued.

He told of attending a concert in Ann Arbor, featuring one of the world's great violinists. But some in the audience slept as the man played.

The music wasn't dead, just the people asleep."

Only to the neutral observer is God dead, he said, because they have only seen God in the way people acted.

"Now people don't act so well."

Telling the graduates that "you are responsible for what you do. Get off the backs of your mothers and fathers and be responsible for your own life."

LOOKING INTO their future, he counseled:

"Every time something goes wrong, don't rush to a psychiatrist. Turn to yourself, get on your knees. Maybe you'll get the answer."

4-Mill Project Passes

By JIM LINCOLN

Voters—less than 20% of those registered—approved four mills for the Tecumseh schools Monday and elected three candidates to terms on the School Board.

Despite pre-election pessimism the electorate passed the millage 661-424, a three-to-two majority. The millage is basically for salary raises in the schools.

Dr. Harold Ocamb, running against Ronald Coleman and Graham Fleming for a one-year term on the board, polled 608 votes to 195 each for the other two candidates.

Orville Bishop and Dr. Donald Phelan were unopposed for four-year terms. Mr. Bishop tallied 919 votes and Dr. Phelan, 834.

Total vote was 1,105 with two of the 36 absentee ballots voided. The district has a registration of 5,246 eligible voters.

THE NEW MILLAGE allows the schools to provide salary hikes of approximately 10% to all school personnel, including a raise in base salaries for teachers from $4,900 to $5,300.

Teachers' salary scale, minimums, is:

Bachelor degree — $5,300 to $7,300

Master's degree — $5,800 to $7,800

Master's degree and additional 15 hours — $6,050 to $8,050

Doctor's degree — $6,300 to $8,300

MONDAY NIGHT at a special session, the School Board tentatively approved a master contract with the teachers. Allowing:

- $120 a year for medical or life insurance but not be received as cash.
- $10 a day of unused leave with pay-days — similar to sick leave — for teachers with tenure, who terminate their contracts and are leaving the system.
- Accumulation of leave with pay days at the rate of 10 days a school year with no restriction as to total days which may be accumulated.
- $200 every five years after teachers reach maximum salary.

Salary hikes for administrators, ranging from seven to 14%, were also approved by the board.

Clinton OKs Its 4-Mill Proposition

CLINTON — A four mill proposal was passed 222-84 by voters of the Clinton School district Monday.

A total of 324 votes were cast.

Proposal Two, granting permission to go above the tax limitation for a two-mill building and site fund, was OKed, 200-77.

Proposal Three passed, 204-81, levying the two-mill building and site tax.

Donald Geiger upset incumbent Charles Knight, 194-161.

Lester Proctor, incumbent on the school board, was re-elected with 288 votes.

Services Held in Basement at Grace Bible

TIPTON — Services of the Grace Bible Church will be held in the church's newly-constructed basement for the first time Sunday.

The former church building, previously known as the Pink School, was extensively damaged in the Palm Sunday tornado in 1965.

Since that time the congregation has been meeting in the Sunday School building, which was erected in 1963.

This building escaped damage by the tornado.

Sunday also marks the seventh anniversary of the beginning of the church.

The pastor, the Rev. David M. Holly, extends a welcome to attend the services.

Sunday School at 10 a.m., morning Worship at 11 a.m. and the evening service at 7:30 p.m.

Board Offers Jim McDowell 3-Year Pact

Supt. James McDowell, top school administrator here for the past 15 years, was offered a three-year contract by the School Board Monday night.

He neither accepted nor rejected it, but agreed to let the board know his decision prior to the July 18 meeting.

Supt. McDowell announced his retirement about a year ago, but was persuaded by the board to serve through the 1966-67 school year.

Fireman Needed

"Due to the fact that Michigan has cut the maximum number of hours for a full-time fireman, Tecumseh must hire another one," said Fire Chief Wallace MacGeorge Tuesday.

A few prospects have been interviewed but anyone interested may contact the chief after 5:30 p.m. at his home by calling 423-7101.

Long & Short

"They love to wear hats, so we always have them," Sue explained.

Picnics on the roof also go big.

Like every school, there are some reluctant students, mostly among teen-age boys.

The staff has developed a solution for this though. These boys usually like to play pool in the recreation room.

"No school, no pool," is the order and it usually flushes out the back-sliding scholars.

WHAT HAS really got the instructors excited now is the new Mott Children's Hospital, an eight-story structure soon to go up by University Hospital.

There will be classrooms on each floor, plus a fabulous eighth level, which is a story in itself.

When the Mott Foundation offered about $9 million to build this special unit, each department was told to put its dreams on paper. The school folks sought a combination class and recreation area on the top floor, with an outside deck all the way around.

It was estimated to cost $300,000 — and got a preliminary OK. Then the plans went out for bids, which exceeded cash available. Out came the eighth floor.

The teachers were crushed.

Then a miracle happened. In stepped a wealthy pediatrician, who knew what a vital role the education system was in helping kids recovery from serious illnesses and fractured bones.

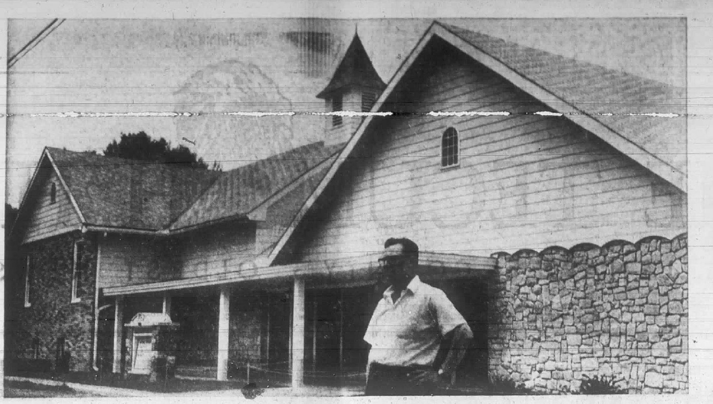
He made a personal gift of the $300,000.

That secured the floor.

Furnishings, which will run another $50,000, are another thing.

But Kiwanians of the Clement Foundation board agreed to handle this.

So if you wonder what's going on when you hear about the Mott Tot Pot, don't get the wrong idea. It's a fund to which Kiwanis Clubs around Michigan will be contributing to furnish the new eighth school.



NEW CHURCH — Dedication ceremonies for the new Ridgeway Church of the Nazarene will be held Sunday. The Rev. Wade Roberts is shown standing in front of the new church. Dr. Kenneth Armstrong, pastor of the First Church of the Nazarene in Detroit, will present the keys to a representative from the local board of trustees.

Campers Receive Donations

Mrs. Llewelyn Sisson presented a program concerning the formation of circles at the meeting of the First Baptist Church Women's Society Monday evening.

Two Adrian guests, Mrs. William F. Schultz and Mrs. Harley E. Aldrich, led in a question-and-answer discussion.

Mrs. Eddie Kirkland was hospitality chairman and Mrs. C. O. Baily gave devotions with Bert Updike assisting at the piano.

It was announced that the Women's State Conference will be held at the Michigan Baptist Assembly at Grass Lake June 22-24.

A love gift of $19.50 was dedicated by Mrs. George French, president.

Members voted to allow $50 to help young people going to camp and an additional $10 donation was made.

Nellie Wilson and Mrs. Baily presided at the tea table.

Mrs. Roscoe Hewlett, Mrs. Floyd Bryan, Mrs. Kirkland and Mrs. Claude Sebring were the hostesses.

Nazarenes Plan Church Dedication

The presentation of the building will be made by William Miller, general contractor, to Dr. Kenneth Armstrong, pastor of the First Church of the Nazarene in Detroit.

Dr. Armstrong will present the keys to Arlin Lidster, representing the local Board of Trustees, and he will also deliver the dedicatory sermon.

It's Esch vs Meader in Primary

State Rep. Marvin L. Esch of Ann Arbor has filed for the Republican primary for Congress from the Second District.

In entering the race, Rep. Esch said, "I believe there are ample pressing issues on which to wage a good campaign."

Rep. Esch will face George Meader in the Aug. 2 primary for the chance to face Democratic Rep. Wes Vivian, who unseated Mr. Meader two years ago.

Mr. Esch has been a state representative from Ann Arbor since 1964 and last year was named "Outstanding Republican Freshman Legislator" by the Capital Press Corps.

His ties with Governor George Romney have been close, serving with a group composed of House and Senate leadership and the governor's staff.

Rep. Esch co-sponsored a bill, which set a new standard for school aid, and he was also co-sponsor of the original tax reform package presented by the Republicans.

Grain Mills Need Youths for Training

Grain and farm supply firms desperately need young men.

Michigan State's Elevator and Farm Supply Short Course has been training young men for industry since 1947.

It is 18 months in length, combines four terms of classroom instruction on the Michigan State campus and six months of on-the-job training in an elevator or farm supply firm.

Scholarships are available to qualified young men interested in a career in this field.

High school graduates who would like a career closely associated with farming, can obtain additional information from John Sisson at the Hayden Flour Mills in Tecumseh. The Short Course Department, 120 Agriculture Hall, Michigan State University, East Lansing, Michigan 48823, also will furnish details.

Younger Scouts earned the Wakazoo Badge by taking the hike without packs.

All boys had to identify 10 trees along the trail and to write a 300-word report on their trip.

EARNING THE medal were Bill Berry, Bob McKee, Greg Burns, Jack Curtiss, Peter Grua and Bob Laidlaw.

Badges were earned by Ed Rapin, Joe Schneider, Tim Wanzeck, Dan Maringa, Mike Aten, Buff Beardsley, Tom Laidlaw, Dave Henning, John Frayer and John Merz.

The theme is "Destination — Understanding."

Understanding — by being involved, through better communications with parents and other teens, by better human relations — will occupy the young people from all over Michigan

"Delegates are selected for their outstanding contribution to 4-H in their home counties," said Sue Taylor, Lenawee County 4-H Agent for the Michigan Cooperative Extension Service.

Most of the programs are conducted by closed circuit television. The 4-H'ers will be divided into groups of 1.

The program is planned by the 4-H'ers themselves, most of whom are chosen from last year's delegates.

Volunteer adult leaders will be used for the first time this year, instead of professional leaders.

They will be selected from all over Michigan, and will serve in advisory capacities.

Waterfight Fails To Dampen Spirits

Between 400 and 500 people from Saline arrived Saturday evening in Tecumseh to tell the city about the Centennial celebration taking place in the nearby village.

Firemen couldn't decide and didn't care who won the water ball contest between the two Fire Departments.

"It was all in fun. Everybody cheated but they got wet," was one comment.

FIRE CHIEF MacGeorge said there was no question abut the tug-of-war. Saline definitely defeated Tecumseh "cause I got drowned. I went through it twice."

There were 125 cars and trucks, most of them parked on Kilbuck and Ottawa Sts and on the Scout Cabin lawn.

Bringing their own orchestra, which was set up on a truck loaned by Moore Lumber Co., the Saliners and Tecumsehites danced until midnight behind the Fire Station.

Bad Month

June's been a sorry month for Don Purke[illegible] dealer. About 10 days ago at Big Manistique Lake, he discovered that he "left" his fishing license at home. Tuesday morning, while pumping oil at the William Powell farm on Occidental Rd., a horse pulled the hose unnoticed from a large tank, allowing the oil to flood a small area.

Youths Quizzed About Vandalism

Two suspects, both juvenils, were caught by Tecumseh police Tuesday night and are being questioned about the break-in at the Party Shop Monday night and the smashing of the rear door glass of Larry's Grill Tuesday evening.

They were nabbed loitering in the ally behind the downtown restaurant.

Although Larry's Grill was not entered, entry was gained at the Party Shop where a small amount of money was taken.

Laura Wright, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Wright, is a 1966 graduate of St. Joseph's Academy in Adrian. She plans to enroll at Ferris State in Big Rapids this fall.

The Bishop's Company, internationally known touring group, has presented over 7,000 productions in a 14-year touring record of 23 national tours covering over a million miles.

Attend Boys State

American Legion Wolverine Boys State is a program for the young citizens of America.

Its purpose is to develop the responsibility of leadership, to prove the advantages of citizenship and to promote the art of clean sportsmanship.

Boys State is not a schoolroom activity, but is designed as a practical experience in the problems of self-government as operated in Michigan.

It is structured so that boys can put theories of American government into actual practice as they are taught in the classroom.

Boys of high moral character, good clean sportsmanship and potential leadership ability are the ones especially desired for the Boys State program.

Boys who will be seniors next fall in high school are selected and Tecumseh has 19 on the Michigan State campus this week where the program is held each year.

The youths and their sponsors are:

Terry Bates — American Legion Memorial Home

Robert Brown — Post 84 American Legion

Scouts Help Cubs Learn New Skills

Bill Frownfelder took his Boy Scout Troop 73 to Camp Kanesatake Saturday and Sunday and to help make the Cub Scout Camp Day a big success Sunday.

"Richard Roost, Jr. and David Frownfelder of Troop 73 did an excellent job of showing the Cub Scouts how to make arrows and how to shoot a bow and arrow," said Leonard W. Gamber, District Scout Executive.

Approximately 400 Cubs, leaders and their families from Lenawee County attended.

Eagles 4, G & J 2

Gerald Girbach's timely single drove in Bob Merz and Pat Murphy to give the Eagles a 4-2 win over G&J Wood Products.

Up until that fifth-frame action, the game had been air-tight.

Coach Ken Hinkleman's lads twice took the lead, but Kn Humphries' triple tied it once, then Paul Burns banged out a single to score Marvin Maynard to knot it once more.

Bill Puffer struck out 12 and allowed but one hit, a double to his mound opponent, Mike Cote.

Mike fanned 11.

Girbach's two singles paced Eagle hitters.

Standout defensive gem was made by Eagle outfielder Bob Merz, who made a running catch in right field to rob Bob Reed of a hit in the sixth inning.

In a big third inning, Jack Greenfield and Jim Curtis hit back-to-back homers as VFW slaughtered the Indians, 25-3.

Jack's came with Scott Dalton and John Wall on base. He also had a single.

Jim pounded out a triple and single in addition to his four-ply blow and Scott contributed three singles.

Three-base hits were nailed by Mike Morse and Rick Calzada.

Mike Kurowocki provided the only bright spot for the Indians with two singles.

Rick Schuyler was the winning hurler with five strikeouts in four innings, while Rick Calzada nipped six straight on strikes in two innings on the hill.

VFW posted a double play when third sacker Greenfield scooped up a grounder, tagging the base to force an Indian, then pegging to first baseman Jim Feight to nip the batsman.

Brit. 23, Indians 2

Jim Lister whacked out 4-for-6 and Gary Judkins got 3-for-3 as Britton scored a 23-2 win over the Indians.

Judkins was on the hill for the winners, striking out 14 and permitting only three hits.

Britton's left fielder, Dick Schroeder, banged a home run in the fifth frame.

Adults Swim Class Starts

Don Moffatt is "calling the bluff" of some 50 adult Tecumsehites to whom he talked during the past year.

Arrangements have been made for adult swim classes.

Mr. Moffatt, superintendent of parks and recreation, said this is a golden opportunity.

LESSONS WILL start Tuesday, June 21, and be held each Tuesday and Thursday evening from 8:30 - 10 p.m. for six weeks.

Cost is $5 per adult.

"Instructors are well qualified," said Mr. Moffatt, "They all have water safety licenses."

Mr. Moffatt said that the offer for lessons will be made only once.

"There are plenty of people going out in boats regularly who do not swim. If the boat overturns I'm sure what will happen is that their children will save them," concluded the recreation director.

ALL YOUTH classes at the pool have been filled and the first open swim Monday afternoon brought out 164 youngsters.

Family swimming is reserved for Tuesday and Thursday from 7 - 8:30 p.m. when the admission for the whole family is only 50c.

Family season passes at The Pit may be purchased from Ted Todd for $25. The family name and all members of the family must be registered in person.

Valerie enjoys the usual interests of teen agers including the Beatles, Girl Scouting, cooking, fishing and teaching her dog, Sandy, obedience commands. Girls Love 4-H Projects in Clothing

Today's 4-H'ers are a well-dressed group.

State officials indicate that 60 per cent of all 4-H'ers enrolled in the home economics program have clothing as one of their projects.

Why is the 4-H clothing project so popular?

Have you ever known a young girl that didn't want to enlarge her wardrobe economically? This is exactly what nearly 27,000 Michigan project members are doing — learning to create, design and make their own clothes.

These clothing skills will last a lifetime.

The most outstanding clothing project member in each state receives a trip to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago and a chance to compete for one of 12 national $500 educational scholarships.

Medals of honor are awarded county clothing winners.

Mrs. Florence Maynard, Mrs. Harry Creger and Mrs. Zola Rufner were remembered with corsages for their June birthday anniversaries.

Mrs. Naomi Sallows presided at the session where the treasurer, Mrs. Sheldon Chase, reported that over $[illegible] by the class at monthly meetings and used for projects.

Mrs. Charles Manley presented devotions starting familiar scripture verses with the members completing them from memory.

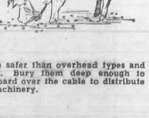
DOLLAR and SENSE FARMING®

HAYLAGE vs. CORN SILAGE as a roughage for beef cattle was tested at Purdue University. Those fed a full feed of corn silage plus limited corn (2.3 pounds of 25.4% moisture) and 2 pounds of Purdue supplement A gained 2.4 pounds per day. To get comparable gains on a full feed of haylage cattle were fed from 7.1 to 11.1 pounds of high-moisture corn as the only supplement, to supply the energy haylage lacks.

RESISTANT CORN ROOTWORMS are showing up in major corn growing areas. If you used aldrin or hepachlor this spring you'll want to inspect your fields for signs of resistance, particularly if corn followed corn. If root feeding is evident you may want to sidedress one of the organic phosphates. Special cultivator attachments can be adapted to apply granules at the base of the plant. Use disk hillers to cover granules.

EXPECT HOG PRICES to peak this month with weekly averages in the mid-$20's unless a possible backlog of hogs delays this. Forecasters suspect this could happen since live weights in Corn Belt markets are the highest since 1949. Rate of kill will be above year-ago levels and will show an increasing margin through the summer. Downtrending prices will become evident by August and will continue through the rest of the year. Markets may dip to $18 by year's end.



UNDERGROUND WIRING CIRCUITS are safer than overhead types and improve the appearance of a farmstead. Bury them deep enough to avoid contact from machinery. Place a board over the cable to distribute the load where in the path of passing machinery.

Youths Build Lamps, Fix Cords in 4-H Projects

In this electronic age, Michigan 4-H Club members keep up-to-date on advanced electrical information and practical usage as well.

State 4-H officials report younger members make trouble lights, lamps and repair extension cords.

The more experienced youth build hi-fi's, robots and other electronic gadgetry.

The 4-H Electric program has been sponsored by the Westinghouse Electric Corp. for over 30 years.

CO-VALEDICTORIANS TELL CLASS OF 1966

'Do Your Own Thinking'

CLINTON — The 89th Commencement of Clinton High School was attended by a capacity audience Thursday night, as a record 77 seniors received diplomas.

The high school band played "Pomp and Circumstance" for the processional as seniors in royal blue caps and gowns were led by juniors, Melissa Mattis and Jim Gray.

The invocation was given by the Rev. Paul McKenna.

Salutatorian Laura Hulett, in her welcoming address, noted as Americans, "We are fortunate in having time to think, since two-thirds of the world's people must use all their time and energy to sustain their lives."

"Think of ways to contribute to your country and world," she told her fellow graduates.

"God of Our Fathers," was sung by the choir accompanied by the band.

"These Changing Times," was the subject of the commencement address by Judd Arnett, Detroit Free Press columnist, whose travels since his graduation 37 years ago in Ohio, have taken him to many foreign countries.

Mr. Arnett pinpointed areas which need thoughtful consideration.

"In education we must find new ways of supporting our schools," he said, "since the property tax as a source is almost exhausted."

Mr. Arnett suggested that some portion of the Federal income tax should be left in the local communities for schools and be administered locally.

Turning to slums in urban areas, he predicted that some 80% of the seniors present would eventually live in urban areas and the need to rehabilitate the cities will be a problem facing them.

He urged each senior to assume an individual responsibility for solving the problems of the United States, and ended, "Go get 'em!"

SUPERINTENDENT Richard Wegner called the roll of seniors as they received their diplomas from Rex Winchell, president of the board of education.

Co-valedictorians LuAnn Rhoades and Dianna Lauer cooperated in giving the farewell address alternately.

They told their fellow seniors, "What we achieve will depend upon ourselves."

Three guidelines presented by the girls were:

"Do your own thinking."

"Work diligently at your jobs."

"Never let the urge for success surpass the need to serve your country."

The recessional march, "Pomp and Chivalry" was played as numerous cameras were clicked by proud parents and a few tears were brushed aside by the departing seniors.

Dianne Lauer, co-valedictorian at Clinton High School, was awarded the $3,600 four-year Sage Foundation Scholarship at Clinton High School. Miss Lauer is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Lauer, 106 Gibson St. She also won a scholarship from Michigan State University, where she plans to study nursing. The other Sage Foundation Scholarship winner, Edison Vogel, was announced last week.

CLINTON — "Bud" Guest provided an entertaining evening for Clinton High School Alumni at their 89th reunion Saturday.

Delving into his vast collection of amusing anecdotes, the radio commentator kept his audience chuckling all evening.

His comments were interspersed with verse by his late father, the famed Detroit poet, Edgar A. Guest.

The Rev. Floyd Vaughn, pastor of the Clinton Baptist Church, gave the invocation.

George Heimerdinger, president of the Alumni Association, gave the welcome to the class of 1966.

Roger Proctor responded and introduced his fellow class members, who then sang, "Climb Every Mountain."

Greenfield Village Drama Festival Opening July 1

DEARBORN — The American Drama Festival summer theatre season opens Friday, July 1, at Greenfield Village with nightly performances, except Sunday, through Sept. 10.

"Shenandoah" will open July 11. It's a heart-tearing romance of a gallant Union officer and a glamorous southern spy. A comic satire helps to stir the excitement of the production.

"Our American Cousin" will hit the state on July 25. Known as Abraham Lincoln's favorite comedy, itis the play he was watching at Ford's theater in Washington when assassinated by John Wilkes Booth.

America's great children's classic, "Rip Van Winkle," opens in the theater on Aug. 8.

The four plays will alternate in repertory fashion throughout the remainder of the summer season.

Tickets for any of the four American Drama Festival plays are $1 and are available at the door. No seats are reserved.

Curtain time is 8:30 p.m. each evening except Sunday in the Henry Ford Museum theater.

Marda Gene Duncan's

Through My Window

PART 2 — FROM THE DUNCANS' LOG

Saturday. After a marvelous evening with Doctor and Marge — an evening just like old times with much good food and good talk — today we are ready for some mountain looking.

Boulder is nestled against the foot of the Rockies and, of course, the Marshes have done enough driving around to know where the prettiest mountain scenery is.

Up Left Hand Canyon, past the little mining town of Wade, a little oohing and ahing at Red Rock Lake and we arrive at Brainard Lake. Wow — what a spot!

The lake, still partially frozen over, is surrounded by tall, rugged, snow-covered mountains. It is absolutely beautiful.

A PICNIC in the car, high snow banks and a chilly wind discourage outdoor eating, but anyway we are soon on our way. Winding along an interesting back mountain road to Gold Hill, another old mining town, we see our first and second bird thrill.

A round bird with a short tail and just a trace of a crown on its little head — a ruffed grouse; next we saw the first of many bluebirds. They are the most vivid blue imaginable.

Arriving back in Boulder, there is still time for a drive to the top of Flagstaff Mountain. Rising 1,600 feet above the city, the views from various lookouts are most impressive.

We must not stay long, however, because Marshes have invited a guest for cocktails.

THEIR NEXT door neighbor, Forest Crossen, is a most interesting person. An authority on the legends and lore of the old west, he has written many books and articles about these "rip-roaring times."

We enjoyed meeting him — thanks to Doctor and Marge for arranging it.

SUNDAY. A beautiful day to go exploring. Driving through Boulder Canyon keeps us exclaiming, each twist and turn presents a new and thrilling sight.

Mother, Dad and Doctor trudge up to Boulder Falls but Marge and I stay in the car talking and watching people. There are places in the mountains just not made for wheelchairs.

A bit of inquring in Nederland and we learn that the road to Caribou is "rough but passable". We are off!

Caribou is an old ghost town (Marda, aren't most of them old?) After much twisting and turning, much bouncing and bumping, we make it. The town, absolutely deserted now, is a mere handful of tumble down buildings.

While Dad and Doctor are off searching for the cemetery, Mother, Marge and I content ourselves with what can be seen from the parked car. Ghost town is an apt name — there is a peculiar feeling about it, a sadness over the hopes and dreams now tumbling down and rotting away.

MONDAY. More sunshine — hooray! Today we are doing something, which in all the years that we have taken vacations, we have wanted to do, but have somehow just never gotten around to.

We are parked beside a sparkling mountain stream and over a bed of hot coals, thick juicy hamburgers are sizzling. Cookouts at home are fun but nothing can top this.

Our sightseeing today, once we have torn ourselves away from the picnic site in Boulder Canyon, is along a gravel road unaccountably named Magnolia Trail. Beautiful mountain scenes and a most interesting beaver dam are highlights.

AFTER ANOTHER typically-good Marjorie-cooked dinner, we head back to the motel. Tonight there is a sense of sadness though.

We have had a marvelous time here with Marshes and it has been great to once again be with the good friends, who for so many years were our across-the-street neighbors, but — this is goodbye.

The time has gone quickly but tomorrow we must be on to other places.

THE LANSING REPORT

FROM senator

GIL BURSLEY

The Legislature is in a 10-day recess during which some 50 "conference committees" are working out compromise legislation to take back to the Senate and House for acceptance or rejection when the Legislature reconvenes for two days on June 21.

If any of these reports are rejected a second conference is possible. If that fails the legislative item is then dead.

Appropriation bills presently call for some $960 to 965 mililon for the General Fund budget. Each bill is in conference and points of difference between the House and Senate are still subject to change.

It is my guess that the budget may ultimately approach $980 million, but this would be over $50 million less than was projected some three weeks ago.

I WOULD remind readers that a bill does not become law until it has passed both the Senate and the House, in identical form, and has been signed by the Governor.

Many of the bills about which you may have read in recent months may have been discussed in connection with action taken by only one house.

The final version of the bill is sometimes very different, if indeed it passes at all.

I am preparing a legislative summary covering all key legislation passed during the 1966 session. This will be ready within a few weeks and will be mailed anyone writing me for it at the State Capitol in Lansing.

THE SENATE voted again on a suggested legislative pay raise as an amendment to the General Government appropriation bill last week.

I abstained because I could not support a pay raise until the Legislature has taken other steps toward self-improvement as suggested in the report of the Governor's Committee on Legislative Compensation.

Not voting has the same practical effeet as voting "no" since 19 "yes" votes are required to pass a bill, irrespective of whether the other 18 senators vote "no" or do not vote at all.

My position was that I did not want to vote against the General Government budget bill since eventually it must be passed or the wheels of government would grind to a halt after the beginning of the new fiscal year on July 1.

Youths Can Get Tennis Instructions

Cost for students of all ages is $1.

The instruction will be given in the morning at the tennis courts by the library through July and the first two weeks in August.

An open house Sunday afternoon in Schoolcraft, near Kalamazoo, will honor Mr. and Mrs. J. Richard Gates, 9716 Tecumseh-Clinton Rd., on their 25th anniversary. Friends and relatives are invited to the event at the home of their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Lyons, 641 Osterhout St. The [illegible] planned by their three children, Mrs. Lyons, Barbara, a junior at MSU; and Jim. Justine Lahrman and J. Richard Gates were married in Fort Wayne, Ind. on June 21, 1941. Mr. Gates has worked for International Harvester Co. since 1936.

Watch Food Temperatures

Cook-outs, picnics and prepared lunches eaten in cars are now a way of life with most citizens.

But high temperatures that are so enjoyable also post a threat to food unless the rule is adopted which says:

Keep hot foods hot and cold foods cold.

At this time of the year, there is always an increase of food poisoning cases reported to the Michigan Department of Agriculture. Many of these stem from meals being exposed to summer temperatures without proper refrigeration after the food is prepared.

Foods containing cream and eggs are particularly susceptible to food poisoning organisms when improperly handled. Heading the list are mayonnaise, cream fillings, potato salad, cream sauces, puddings and salad dressings.

MANUFACTURERS usually handle such products properly as do most retailers, but often consumers are negligent because they are unaware of the hazard involved, says J. L. Littlefield, chief of the Food Inspection Division of the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

Michobiologists at the department's laboratory frequently detect bacterial contaminants in food samples submitted by Mr. Littlefield's men during warm weather.

To avoid danger of food poisoning, they advise keeping foods that are to be eaten hot well heated during the time between preparation and eating. Similar precautions apply with cold foods.

Chilling and good refrigeration are suggested. Keeping food at room temperature is dangerous in either case.

Maintain hot foods at 140° F. or higher and cold foods at 45° F. or colder, is Mr. Littlefield's suggestion.

READERS WRITE

TO THE EDITORS:

What is wrong with the parents of our band members, or even the band members themselves?

At the Band Booster meetings held this year, the average number of parents there was about eight. Sure, I realize some parents work and others have similar difficulties (they can't get a sitter, etc.), but what I don't see is that we only had eight out of about 400 parents.

Because no one turns up for the meetings, we must rely on the same parents for everything. Instead of one parent doing one job, there is one parent heading two committees at a time and probably working on the third at the same time.

For example, I'm sure many remember the band calendar. Well, because we were unable to get a chairman, we now don't have a calendar to sell this year. (Without the money from the calendars, we'll have even more difficulty next year than we had this year. For instance, we had three bandsmen on the sidelines many times this year because we couldn't afford to get them a uniform.

We have one girl playing a baritone saxophone this year that must have been made about 1920. It is so old that when we sent it into the company to be fixed, they said don't send it again, scrap it instead. We can't, for there is nothing to replace it with.

Most everyone likes to see the band at football games and in parades, but if we took part in those as much as the parents took part in Band Boosters, imagine what would happen.

You'd be on the sideline of a parade and someone would shout, "Here comes the parade, I think," as 10 or 12 bandsmen come marching down the street.

We spend about $300 a year on music, let alone anything else. How about some support next year? Without it we may not have a band in the future years. We'll feel no one is interested so why bother?

Sincerely yours,
An interested bandsman.

TO THE EDITORS:

I have read the ad in The Herald of June 9 which is entitled "Schools For A Booming Tecumseh." I notice that this is an unsigned ad and to me this raises many questions. Some of these questions follow:

Who are these "interested citizens"? Are they in positions of employment to ascertain that the statements they have made are true?

Are they connected with the school system so that they will financially benefit if the millage issue passes? Are they actually members of Tecumseh School District?

Are they property owners? Do they have children in school? Are these people from above average income families, and thus more able to afford the extra taxes they advocate?

Until I know who has published the facts in question I give no credence to them.

Perhaps the authors were afraid to sign their names because they might lose friends, or if they were businessmen they might lose business.

I might also add that I have the same sort of feelings about the advertisements endorsing political candidates and signed by "friends of the candidate".

Sincerely,
W. H. Rodgers,
301 Maple St.,
Tecumseh.

Long and Short

By TOM RIORDAN

"I can't get anyone out for a board of directors meeting anymore. I just sit down there and run the thing myself."

So reports Jack Osburn on the slumbering Tecumseh Chamber of Commerce.

Times are good, cash registers are jingling merrily, new houses are shooting up, customers are coming from all directions.

What happens? Well, when Chamber of Commerce is mentioned, nothing. Business and professional people just shrug their shoulders and plead "too busy."

Actually, this is probably the time when a strong Chamber should be in the building stage so that when needed, the organization is primed and ready.

Jack is toying with the idea of proposing a merger with the Adrian Area Chamber — and what would you think of that?

Adrian has a going concern with a sparkplug, full-time secretary in Chuck Wise, a fine guy, but obviously Adrian oriented.

If Tecumseh and Adrian merged, it should be easy to predict which community would soon be sitting in second chair and struggling for a little recognition.

The fellows at Adrian are great, but from a business standpoint — just like in football — they're the guys wearing the black hats.

IN DAYS of yore — to be specific, 1958 to 1961 — Tecumseh had a full-time Chamber secretary and an annual budget of $10,000.

The question is: Couldn't city leaders return to that type of setup?

There are so many things a Chamber secretary could be doing that would benefit the entire community and I don't mean just retail sales promotions.

There are many rows which need cultivation.

Civic and industrial projects, downtown planning for the next five to 10 years, free off-street parking.

A dozen more could be added.

Tecumseh is blessed with exceptional manufacturing concerns and the future holds even greater potential.

It has been said that when General Motors builds a plant, a city soon follows. In Tecumseh's case, that means more new housing subdivisions and businesses popping up like spring flowers, all along Occidental Hwy., from here to Adrian.

Actually, the growth pattern is well underway.

FREE DOWNTOWN parking is much more crucial at this moment than most folks believe. Ditto the need to study the future of Business Row.

If there are any two words that shake an independent store operator, they're "shopping center."

To meet and slug it out with one takes careful planning, intense cooperation and promotion by a shopping area, such as our downtown.

Working through an active Chamber of Commerce is one of the best bets.

Ted Blaska Is Injured in Accident

Ted Blaska, 13, of Tipton, was injured Monday afternoon when his bicycle was struck by a car on M-50 east of Elton Hwy.

The boy was treated at Bixby Hospital and transferred to the University Hospital in Ann Arbor for treatment of a fractured right leg.

Ted is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Blaska of 5584 Monroe Rd., Tipton.

The driver of the car, Robert A. Earls, 17, of Adrian, and other witnesses told Clinton State Police that the boy was traveling on the side of the road and turned into the path of the Earls car.

Two Gal Riders Sleep in Saloon

By BILL WHITING

Two adventurous girls, taking their summer vacation yesteryear style, found Lenawee County folks friendly and helpful.

Nancy Morrison, 18, and Carol Walker, 20, both riding enthusiasts from Livonia, are on a marathon horseback jaunt to Hazard, Neb.

Miss Walker's horse, Copper Penny, pulled up lame in Jonesville just a few days after their departure on June 5.

It wasn't a particularly enjoyable way to begin a trip, but the girl's spirits were lifted when a crew of [illegible] from Frontier City arrived on the scene to lend a hand.

So Nancy, Carol and the horses were transported to Frontier City. The girls were generously given a corner of the local saloon in which to sleep and the animals bedded down in the corral.

Nancy remarked, "It really makes a person feel good to be treated like that."

For 12 days, Frontier City was used as a base of operations while Carol procurred a new horse to continue the trip.

She came up with a Tennessee Walker named Diamond's Daredevil, whom everyone nicknamed "Joe" to make Carol mad.

The two girls set out again Monday, being driven back to Jonesville to take up where they left off.

They were hoping within 45 days to reach Hazard, where Carol has relatives and a gala celebration is planned for their arrival.

Fero Reports Peace Corps Operations

(Editor's Note: This is the first in a series of articles by Mike Fero, a former Tecumseh resident who is now in the Peace Corps. Fero is stationed in Varzea Algegre, South America. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Barnard Fero, are living in Cordoba, Argentina, in South America.)

By MIKE FERO

VARZEA ALGEGRE, Brazil — Letters seem to be few and far between and filled with not much of interest.

Nothing is new to me anymore and so I don't think to write about it, or if it is, I'm really so busy that I just don't write as often as I should.

School is reversed here — I guess simply because the seasons are reversed.

We are in what should be termed "fall" and so, schools are in session.

Varzea Alegre is pretty well endowed as Brazilian interior communities go so far as schools are concerned.

There are two primary schools, enrolling about 450 students in both; a "ginasio" which is our equivalent to a junior high school, except that there are four grades, with an enrollment of some 150 students; an "Escola Domestica" which offers courses in cooking, sewing and embroidery, hygiene, baby care, etc. — with about 50 girls enrolled; an industrial arts school with about 50 students and five private primary schools which consist of one room, one teacher situations, enrolling another 150 primary students.

IN ADDITION, we are expecting the completion of a new building which is supposed to hold the junior high and a normal school to prepare young girls for teaching.

At present the junior high and both state primary schools hold classes in one building.

The one thing we lack here is a high school — "colegio" or "scientifico" course, which is a two-year preparatory course for entering the university.

With all these schools, only about 50 per cent of school-age children are attending school.

In many cases it is impossible for them to buy a pencil and a notebook, let alone the required uniforms.

I am kept busy carrying my own full load of teaching, plus that of my partner, Madaline, who is in the capital undergoing treatment for a mild case of hepatitis.

All of this implies five English classes in the "ginasio, 14 classes of health and hygiene in the two primary schools, three spe-

VACATIONLAND ACTIVITIES INCREASE — Wamplers and its sister lakes throughout the Irish Hills are beginning to feel the increased tempo of vacation-time activities. Beginning next week, 1,000 complimentary copies of The Herald will be distributed by two delivery teams to cottages throughout the Irish Hills. This program continues through Labor Day. The free Heralds serve as invitations to resorters to visit Tecumseh for special events and to shop.

Mrs. Douglas Osworth explains that the Kool-Aid project of the Jaycee Auxiliary for boys in Vietnam calls for pre-sweetened Kool-Aid, since sugar would be hard to come by over there. The drink powder may be left at The Herald office by folks wanting to help this idea along. The cost of mailing is 88c a pound.

A letter to Howard Wilson, 203 E. Kilbuck, reached him even though it read Ticumpach.

Jim Sherman of The Oxford Leader had out the needle last week, to-wit:

"A visitor to the Upper Peninsula the same day I was there, Memorial weekend, was former Michigan Governor, Soapy. The Newberry radio station announcer interviewed him.

"Question: How do you find economic conditions in the Upper? Soapy's answer: 'I'm happy to say the Upper Peninsula is coming back.' The click you might have heard was my turning off the radio.

"Coming back from where or what, Soapy? Come to think of it, the former governor could say the same about the entire state. Remember the payless payday? The red ink on the state's books? Yes, Michigan is coming back . . . in spite of what happened from 1949 to 1960."

A salesman will work awfully hard to close a deal, witness the gentleman from Friden, who wants The Herald to swing from Linotype to his strike-on style and print the paper offset. (That's the method we have used with picture supplements, i.e., tornado issue, Fisher Body specials and recently the Hospital Week supplement.)

Well, this chap took our 22-page issue of April 14 and counted every line of type, in order to make a comparison on composition costs. His statistics prove interesting.

There were 5,767 lines, at an average of six words per line, meaning that edition contained 34,602 words.

A property-line feud is blossoming just north of town, where one fellow strung out a wire with waving banners to show the demarcation. His neighbor countered with a sign, which reads "E. Berlin — W. Berlin".

Mrs. Mabel Duncan received a penny in change the other day with the date 1863 on the liberty head side and an advertisement on the backside reading C. T. Ketcham, Newsdfaller Book Seller, Tecumseh, Mich.

For Story Hour at the library, last week, 96 youngsters turned out. The fun is every Wednesday at 1:30 p.m. Mrs. Murray Day is The Story Lady.

Texas Instruments Inc., parked its technological display Innovan on Ottawa St., near Tecumseh Products Company, Tuesday. Visitors saw a highly technical exhibit of the company's latest electronic devices which are used in the U.S. space program. Industrial transistors and controls and thermostats which are used in air conditioners and refrigerators, such as those produced by Tecumseh Products, were part of the display. The company is the world's largest producer of transistors and lately began producing material for the new compressed quarters used by the U.S. Mint.

Turns out that Guy Boss, a 1965 grad of Tecumseh High, is also a "graduate" of the University Hospital School, having attended classes there about two months of each school year while recovering from recurring bouts with hemophilia. Guy now is employed in adult recreation at U Hospital. His brother, Merton, a victim of the same disease, also is a student for an average of one month a year at the Hospital School. He is employed at Mystery Hill.

Driving along Brown St., is slightly confusing these days. There's a fork in the road and nary a sign to tell people what to do. So they go every which way. Great fun.

If this week's Long & Short got you thinking about the good or bad of a Chamber and you have some definite comments, Jack Osburn would love to hear from you.

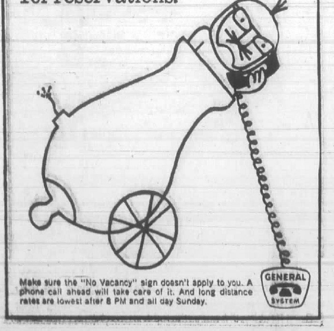
Wedding bells were supposed to ring Saturday for Kay Benedict and Ron Mastie of Britton, but Uncle Sam had other ideas and Pvt. Mastie is basking in the sun around Ft. Polk, La., instead of dodging rice.

Phone ahead long distance for reservations.



Make sure the "No Vacancy" sign doesn't apply to you. A phone call ahead will take care of it. And long distance rates are lowest after 8 PM and all day Sunday.

cial make-up English classes at night, two private tutoring sessions at night and a nightly health class (highly informal) with the neighborhood children.

I would like to, if time permits, begin a night class for adults soon covering any subject of interest.

I am also going to attempt to start an extensive literacy program, as soon as I learn the method I'm going to use. It is a "teach one to teach another to teach another, etc."

A missionary family has donated all the materials and in this way, I hope to leave enough people with knowledge of the technique to continue after I've left.

This has been leaving me pretty well drained at the end of the day, since my health is presently impaired by the presence of an amoeba and a protozoa in my intestinal track.

It is nothing serious, however, as I am currently taking the prescribed medicine — nine pills a day for 40 days.

It appears certain that I'm going to leave in June to make site surveys for the new group of volunteers coming in July.

It will be in the neighboring state of Rio Grande de Norte.

There has never been much Peace Corps work done in that state for several reasons, one being that the current Governor isn't — or wasn't — predisposed to offer an invitation.

I don't know if you understand how the Peace Corps works in this area, so I will explain.

Peace Corps never enters any country without an invitation from the Federal Government.

Then, it must wait for individual invitations from state governments.

When that happens, Peace Corps moves in to survey individual communities.

Two main reasons for this: to get an idea of the local conditions and whether a Volunteer would be able to find means of helping, and to feel out the local people as to desire to have a PCV come and live and work side-by-side with them.

You know there are a lot of isolated voices raising the fear that Peace Corps may become an institution like the other government departments.

This, of course, would be self-defeating.

After all, the organization was founded with the idea of being self-eliminating—that is to say, its goals are such that if the Peace Corps is successful, there will come a time when the need for its existence will not exist.

I SUPPOSE that these fears are justifiable to some extent. It would seem that Peace Corps is projecting its existence further into the future than it has assurance of its continued necessity.

On the other hand, it is also very probable that the need will exist in many parts of the world for many years to come.

Therefore, I would concede the necessity for programming and planning, etc., on a limited basis.

One thing that programming and planning tend to do in government is to institutionalize. That seems to be what those voices are warning against.

Annual census report, recently completed, shows that the Tecumseh schools could have a total enrollment growth of 147 pupils for the 1966-67 term.

Board of Appeals Makes Exception for Funeral Home

Tecumseh's Board of Appeals made an exception in the city's zoning ordinance at a hearing for expanding the Proctor Funeral Home.

Lester Proctor, director, asked the Board to allow for an addition for the purpose of displaying caskets. Under the zoning law, the funeral home had to provide for adequate off-street parking.

Rev. B. O. Bashore, of the Baptist Church, told the Board that the church's parking lot was available to the funeral home.

The Board's opinion insisted on a contract for the dual parking arrangement between the church and the funeral home, and one acceptable to the city manager.

THE LANSING REPORT

FROM

senator

GIL BURSLEY

It has been my pleasure this week to host the 95 student musicians in Musical Youth International for a public concert at the State Capitol in Lansing.

Many of you are familiar with this outstanding group of high school students from southern Michigan and neighboring Ohio. They have diligently rehearsed and perfected their musical abilities each Saturday afternoon for many months.

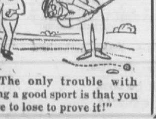
This has all been done under the direction of Lester McCoy, conductor of the University of Michigan Musical Society and the director and founder of Musical Youth International.

These talented young musicians are departing Thursday for a musical tour of several western European countries, where they will give a series of concerts.

We arranged for a band concert on the front steps of the Michigan State Capitol and then for some singing by the Chorus in the Capitol rotunda under the great dome.

Legislators, administrators, supreme court justices, secretaries and capitol employees alike all appreciated the opportunity to hear Musical Youth International in action.

I am offering a special trophy to be given this fall to that student who writes the best essay describing how the Musical Youth International serve as Ambassadors of Good Will for the United States of America in whatever country they may be visiting.



"The only trouble with being a good sport is that you have to lose to prove it!"

Cub Major Game Action

CREDIT UNION 9, UNION 1

Craig Brown and Bob Beevers combined to strike out 13 as Credit Union topped Union, 9-1.

Craig also figured in the go-ahead run as he grounded to third and when the ball was bobbled David Hall scampered home.

Jeff Parker went 2-for-3 at the plate for the winners.

BRAVES 26, DODGERS 3

Rodney Cole pitched a no-hit game as the Braves defeated the Dodgers, 26-3.

The losers' runs came on six walks.

Rodney was a hitting star along with Kenny Cole, both of whom had 5-for-5.

Jeff Berry handled catching chores for the winners while Dan Dermeyer and Ellis Johnson made up the losing battery.

Products Workers Win 3 Pony League Games

TPW 3, BRITTON 2

Butch Quinn stole the spotlight as Products Workers edged Britton, 3-2, in one of the season's most exciting games.

With the bases loaded in the fifth, Butch send a sharp single to center to bring in Mike Kennedy and Dennis Puffer with the tying and winning markers.

In the last frame, Butch went to the relief of David Ward, who had allowed only two hits, but was tiring fast.

Britton had men on second and third with two out and Gary Judkins at bat when the suicide squeeze was called.

Gary missed the pitch by Butch, but catcher Tony Nykodym didn't and he put the tag on sliding Rick Masta to end the game.

Ward struck out 11 and Ric Brown of Britton fanned six.

EAGLES 7, BRITTON 4

A clutch single by Marvin Maynard brought Gerald Girbach and Ken Humphries over the plate with the winning runs as the Eagles stopped Britton, 7-4.

Two insurance markers were posted in the sixth frame when Bill Puffer rifled out a double, bringing home Art Lewis and Alex Gibson.

Gibson helped save his pitching win by an alert defensive play. With Phil Servose on third, Alex uncorked a wild pitch and Phil broke for home. Catcher Girbach raced after the ball, flipped it to Alex, who was covering home and tagged out Phil.

Robin Hatch also had a gem, a back-hand catch off his shoe tops, robbing Jim Lister of a hit.

Puffer and Maynard both had two hits for the winners while Rick Maska and Rick Brown nailed a pair each for Britton.

TWP 5, EAGUES 3

Dave Ward got seven on strike-outs for the winners, while Mike Matteson whiffed five for the Eagles.

Dave also had a pair of singles, while Haeussler contributed a triple and Tony Nykodym a double.

Gerald Girbach pounded out two singles for the losers.

TWP 11, INDIANS 0

Butch Quinn tripled and singled to pace Products Workers in their 11-0 rout of the Indians.

Bill Tuberville, losing hurler, and Mark Hetrick combined to fan 10.

The Union lads had a neat double play with Indians on first and second. Third baseman Tony Nykodym scooped up a grounder, stepped on third to force a runner, then fired to first to nip the batter.

Accidents in Water Are Many

Michigan's 108 water accidents have claimed 79 lives so far this year, according to information received up to June 15 by the State Police. At least 21 others have been injured.

Compared with the same period last year, this was a decrease of four in drownings and an increase of four in accidents.

The breakdown on the 59 deaths on which official reports have been received included 10 boat operators, eight boat passengers, eight swimmers or waders, 16 who fell through ice and 17 who fell from bridges, banks, docks or piers.

WITH OUTDOOR water activity increasing, the State Police suggest these safety precautions:

Swimming and Wading: Patronize authorized, supervized areas; keep alert watch over youngsters; don't overestimate swimming or diving ability; make provision for rescue and resuscitation in event of mishap.

Boating: Operate watercraft according to safety rules; have life jackets for passengers; avoid standing in boats; don't overload or overpower your craft; respect the rights of other water users; and have rescue equipment aboard for emergencies.

Sack Refuse Collection in Experiment Stage

Collection of trash and garbage in paper sacks for Tecumseh residents took another step towards reality Monday night when Council approved a six-months experiment.

Residents of Seminole Dr., will be given the first opportunity of trying the sacks. Other areas around town will follow.

For the experiment, the city will buy 25 upright holders for the sacks and Dependable, Inc., of Napoleon will buy the sacks.

If the residents involved in the experiment approve of the sacks, it is likely that they will become uniform throughout the community for refuse collection in the future.

The bags are specially treated — water repellent, etc. — and will hold nearly half as much as the ordinary trash can.

Glen Work, 711 S. Adrian St., asked Council for [illegible]nday night to provide a ball diamond for boys ages 14 through 18.

He will serve again as service officer.

FFA Officers Attend Leadership Program

Officers of the Tecumseh Future Farmer Chapter attended Region II Leadership Training Camp, June 11 and 12, at Camp Palmer near Fayette, Ohio.

Chapter officers from 22 schools gathered to discuss chapter operations and ideas to improve their units.

Edwin St. John, State FFA adviser, commented that officers are recognized for their leadership by business and industrial leaders on a local, state and national level.

Mr. St. John also stated that he was concerned about the need for teachers of vocational agriculture and hoped that some of these young men would consider it as a career.

ANOTHER highlight of the conference was a trip with Larry Gould, an IFYE student, of Morenci, to Mexico via slides with narration.

Officers from Tecumseh who attended the FFA training camp were:

President — John Spreeman
Vice-president — Mike Jackson
Assistant secretary — Larry Ries
Treasurer — Joel Schafer
Reporter — Bob Haines
Sentinel — Doug Haines

Still Time for Soybeans

Time is still left for planting soybeans, one of the newer but important cash crops of Michigan.

This year, because of poor weather conditions and the necessity of late planting, farmers may want to consider earlier maturing varieties. Hawkeye and Lindarin are varieties with longer maturing periods and should be used in southern Michigan.

John Comstock, Lenawee County Agricultural Agent, also believes farmers may plant Chippewa variety as late as mid-June and under normal first frost conditions get a mature crop.

EACH YEAR the production of soybeans has increased. From 1960-64, according to Federal-State Crop Reporting Service, Michigan averaged 313,000 acres.

In 1965, a total of 471,000 acres were grown and a crop of 485,000 acres is anticipated for 1966.

Soybeans are best adapted to well-drained soils, but adapt fairly well to soils of variable drainage. Sandy, silt, clay-loam or muck soils are also well suited to soybeans.

When preparing the land, tillage should be kept at a minimum between plowing and planting. Tests in Illinois and Michigan have shown a smoothing implement behind the plow, and planting immediately have given best results.

Moisture conditions may dictate some variations to this method.

The agent suggests farmers fertilize according to soil test. The expected yield of 30 bushels per acre will take 135 pounds of nitrogen, 34 pounds of phosphorus and 60 pounds of potash. Special care should be taken to keep the seed from contact with fertilizer.

The agent advises farmers to use certified seed and innoculate the seed just before planting with the proper nitrogen bacteria.

HOW THEY LOVE IT — With the weather sun ny and hot, youngsters are finding the city pool an ideal place to spend afternoons and evenings. They're up and down — even upsidedown — in the refreshing water. Many are learning to swim for the first time in morning classes.

Rock Hound's Swap

"Rock hounds are the nicest people," remarked Lottie Stone of Fort Wayne, Ind. at the State Line Gem and Mineral. Rock Swap at Frontier City recently.

"Crazy but nice," agreed her husband as he sank into a chair under the protecting tent in the center of a large field, equipped for the event by Ivan Hunt, park owner.

The tent provided an oasis from the blistering sun and baked goods and cold beverages were served there.

DOZENS OF DISPLAYS were exhibited on card tables, in trunks of autos, on the ground and just any place feasible.

Mrs. Stone has been pursuing the "rock" hobby with her husband for the past three years.

Her next remark was, "When I'm this tired, I've had a good time."

Words like mozarkite, pyrite, calcite, Thompsonite and Mexican coconuts come tripping from the tongues of the minerals collectors at an astonishing rate, both from the youngsters and adults alike.

All were busily looking for "anything I haven't got" at the annual exchange.

NOTHING IS sold except at the silent auction table, where bids are made by writing them on a piece of paper beneath the item.

Members on the host committee for the weekend event attended by members from the three states in the Society, Indiana, Ohio and Michigan, were Mr. and Mrs. Roy Dahlke, Mr. and Mrs. Clare Handy, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lasky, Mr. and Mrs. Sylvan Echelbarger and Ira Montague.

Driver Rolls Car Four Times

By JUDY BAXTER

Ed Hage of Ypsilanti broke the Manchester Speedway track record Friday with a 19:16.

Then in the third lap of the first heat, Hage ran into some bad luck, and rolled his car four times.

Ed is now the third driver to join the Upside-Down Club this season.

Duane Valentine of Whitmore Lake captured the first heat with Louie J. Stemen of Hillsdale, as close behind as they come.

Jim Martin of Manchester, took the second heat, when he passed Jerry Evilsizer of Chelsea on the last lap.

JOHN BURT of Adrian won the third heat with Howard Pifer of Adrian placing second.

Jack Berkshire of Hudson put on a good show to take the fourth heat. Paul Whitaker of Tecumseh placed second.

Howard Pifer won the 20-lap semi with Dean Mackey of Adrian coming in second.

The Pursuit was won by Louie J. Stemen, with his brother Jim, also of Hillsdale, right behind. The funny thing was, that Louie J. was using Jim's engine.

Then Louie J. came back to take the 25-lap feature. Don Taylor of Brooklyn ran second.

John Mooneyham of Manchester won the first heat in the super-stock class. Jerry Pannone of Taylor took second.

Roy Turay of Monroe captured the second heat with Earl Delemater of Jackson right behind.

Al Leeke of Jackson was the big winner of the feature with Ron Finney coming in second.

News from the Tecumseh Library

New books ready for you to borrow at your Public Library:

MONK'S COURT by Katherine Eyre. Margaret Collier, a young, attractive, recently-widowed American girl, stands at her hotel window looking out over London on a sultry night and is inadvertantly caught up in the intricacies of a murder that involves a distinguished looking, coldly remote Englishman.

CISSY PATTERSON, the life of Eleanor Medill Patterson, publisher and editor of the Washington Times-Herald, by Alice Hoge. Cisy, as a human being and as a journalist, was unique. She had so many assets that only her liabilities matched them. Flavored by genius and madness, as barbaric as she was exquisite, she was of the consistency of feathers and the strength of absinthe.

RUNAWAY TO HEAVEN, the story of Harriet Beecher Stowe and her era, by Johanna Johnston.

BILLY GRAHAM, an authorized biography by John Pollock. It is not only the life of Billy Graham that the author tells here, but also the dramatic and skillful working of his associates on the "Team"; the methods tested over and over again that are followed to lay the groundwork for successful crusades and to help those that become converted to persist in their new Christian lives.

THE POLITE AMERICANS, a wide angle view of our more or less good manner over 300 years, by Gerald Carson. From Pilgrim to Post, from the piano in the parlor to the cookout on the patio, here is a lively history of our private and public behavior.

PAINTING CHINA FOR PLEASURE AND PROFIT by Ruth Little; some new slants on china painting that will be of inestimable value to beginners and accomplished artists alike.

BOAT CARPENTRY; the skills, materials, and tools, both hand and power, employed in working with wood and fiberglass on boats, clearly explained and illustrated.

Uniform Sale Set for Fall

Two Brownie Troops held fly-up ceremonies recently.

Troop 167, led by Mrs. Don Escott and Mrs. Jerry O'Brien, graduated to Juniors, assisted by Junior Troop 73, May 24.

Troop 202, led by Mrs. Ed Pistole and Mrs. Paul Henning, participated in fly-up ceremonies May 31 at Herrick Park School, assisted by Junior Troop 92.

Yellow chrysanthemums outlined the horseshoe centerpiece at both ceremonies representing scout law and the promise.

Mrs. Barton Christman, retiring Girl Scout Neighborhood chairman, recently announced that a uniform sale and exchange will be held at the scout cabin in the fall.

She stated that mothers of girls going to a different level of scouting who wish to sell or exchange their daughter's uniform may do so by laundering them and pinning accessories, name, phone number and size of the uniform to it as well as the price they desire.

Attention Farmers! Price Support Loan Deadline June 30

Farmers are reminded by Mr. Roland Russell of the Lenawee County ASCS Office, that they have less than a month to take out price support loans on any 1965-crop corn or soybeans they may still own.

To be eligible for price support loans on 1965-crop corn, the producer must have participated in the 1965 Feed Grain Program, last year.

There are no special requirements for eligibility for price support on the 1965-crop soybeans.

Mr. Russell, chairman of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee, said that improvements in the operations of the Commodity Loan Programs have made it possible for farmers to obtain a loan on an eligible crop up until one month before the loan maturity date.

For 1965-crop corn and soybeans the loan maturity date is July 31, so loan price support applications may be obtained through June 30, 1966.

Mr. Russell added that producers may receive price support on their corn and soybeans through warehouse-stored loans, farm-stored loans or purchases.

Board Accepts Two Resignations

CLINTON — The board of education accepted two teacher resignations:

- James Curth, who has accepted a teaching position at Milan High School.
- Richard Steudle, high school principal, who has accepted a position as superintendent of the Capac Community Schools.

Mr. Steudle will be leaving the system June 30.

A contract was signed for Mrs. Philip Bareis to teach physical education in the high school. She has been teaching in Manchester schools.

Superintendent Richard Wegner told the board that increased enrollments will require at least three, and possibly four, additional rooms for next year.

The 1966 School Census report indicates a total of 379 children four years and under, and 1,239 children between 5 and 19.

The board discussed the cost breakdown for the improvement of the Underwood Subdivision, which had been submitted by the American Engineering Company of Ann Arbor.

GOVERNOR ROMNEY SWEARS IN CHARLES TRICK EY OF TECUMSEH AS HIS SON, KEVIN WATCHES

Story Prompts Notes

A recent Free Press feature, and picture, on Marda Gene Duncan, Tecumseh Herald columnist, has caused a deluge of mail from all over the country.

Mrs. Frank Swinkey of Monroe — "You see more through your window than others who have traveled all over the world. Your story of courage should be a beacon of light to others who are shut in."

MRS. WILLIAM A. POLTER of Milan—"How you would love the song of the mocking bird outside our patio door!

"Sometimes I step out and 'talk' to them and they sing back to me in their lovely musical tones. They are at their singing best in January and February, and we always look forward to their coming to entertain us.

"Our dining area is just inside the patioway and we can eat our breakfast and watch our 'guests' come to have their breakfast of wild bird seed with us.

"We especially enjoyed the antics of some mourning doves this past winter.

"I am sending your article to a friend of mine who is a bird-lover, and incidentally quite an authority on our feathered friends, and like you, she writes a column for my home paper, The Moline (Illinois) Dispatch."

MRS. JANE FALK of Port Huron — "When I began raising a family in 1947, I found myself pretty well confined to home and yard, and thereby found shopping trips and bridge clubs no longer interesting.

"Instead, a latent interest in nature and her many wonders began to stir.

"You who have found this contentment probably feel also that God's gifts are there for all of us but too many are too busy to think about it."

FAYE DORRELL of Ludington — "Read your story in Sunday's Free Press. I, too, am a bird lover.

"Right now there are grosbeaks (I fed at least 50 of them or more all winter). There were times I would gladly have loaned you some. They are such gluttons. They even frighten off the bluejays A pair of towhees, half dozen purple finches, song sparrows, bluejays, a cardinal, two fox squirrels and in the distance a brown thrasher is building a nest.

"A little while ago a red-headed woodpecker, some nuthatchers and a brown creeper were here, also."

From the International Association of Broken Necks — "Our fraternal-sorority is never happy to receive a new member.

"But we manage to curb our empathies just long enough to shorten the ritual and say, 'Doggone. We've discovered another one!'

"There are no dues. Membership cards are forbidden. If prima facie evidence isn't enough to qualify a new but unwanted member, then our judgment has become decubitus.

"Too many of us suffer from attacks of sore headedness as it is. Naturally, those members most prized are those able to teach the unlaughing ones how to laugh.

"Our organization will be publishing a small but mighty monthly newspaper, beginning in July. The title, "P's & Q's" Monthly News.

"Its embryonic conception restricts it to four pages, Sunday magazine supplement size.

"Later, we hope, ambitiously, its pages will be as numerous as the Manhattan phone book.

"Of course, it is not our humble intention of allowing our ambitions to overcome our common sense.

"Now, would you LIKE to submit one of your bird columns per each issue? You may merely send us a carbon of one that is to be used in The Tecumseh Herald."

R. STANLEY GEX, dean of the College of Education at Eastern Michigan University, Miss Duncan's Alma Mater — "It seems to me that since you are an alumna of Eastern Michigan University you deserve some recognition from your Alma Mater.

"Because of your interest in wildlife and particularly birds, I would like to share experiences that I was fortunate enough to have during the past two years in the Somali Republic (east coast of Africa).

"Eastern Michigan University has a contract with the Agency for International Development to assist in teacher education in Somalia.

"As a part of the team my family and I lived out in the bush at a teacher-training institution, and every morning at 6 a.m. we could look out our kitchen and dining room window and watch the beautiful, African birds come to our bird baths for a drink.

"Most striking for their songs were the bush robin, the spotted morning warbler and the francolin; and the most highly colored were the cordon blue, the purple grenadier and (believe it or not) the starlings."

MRS. KATHALENE WARNER of Kalkaska — "Isn't it a pity that more people don't have the time or take the time to enjoy what is so truly beautiful and ours just for the taking?

"My husband and I have resided the past 14 years in our beautiful Northern Michigan, 13 miles east of Kalkaska, where we just love the peace and quiet of a tranquil life on the shore of Manistee Lake.

"We are both nature lovers and discover something nearly every day that makes us more aware of God's wonderful creations.

"We, too, have made the many native birds our friends. Bless them for the cheer they have brought to our windows. We appreciate what a delight they must be to you.

"Just this last winter I read a most beautiful book, 'Wings at my window.'

"If you haven't read it, I recommend that you make it a 'must'.

"It was written by a woman, Ada Clapham Goven, and was published by McMillan in 1947.

"A dear friend of mine loaned it to me and I have encouraged the store in Traverse City to have it on their list to purchase, as I am sure it will be a good seller when the word gets around that they have it.

"There are books and books on nature, birds, etc., but I highly recommend 'Wings at my Window'."

JEAN (a new friend) of Birmingham — "Good luck and may the Lord continue to keep you in good spirits."

Sebewaing Holds Sugar Beet Festival

By WALT RUMMEL
Special to The Herald

SEBEWAING — The sugar beet industry of the Thumb area will be recognized at the second annual Sebewaing Sugar Beet Festival, to be held Friday and Saturday, July 1 and 2.

This farming season will mark the 66th year of the industry in this area.

The Festival will emphasize the importance of the sugar industry to the economy of the Thumb — not only as a multi-million dollar farm crop, but also as employment for hundreds of men and women in sugar beet processing.

Herb Gettel, Sebewaing implement dealer, is general chairman of the event.

He also guided the Festival in its first year in 1965, which turned out to be so successful that it was decided to stage it on an annual basis.

More than 15 committees have been working with Mr. Gettel's administrative board and with officials of the Michigan Sugar Co. of Saginaw, who are helping sponsor the event.

THERE WILL be a Sugar Queen — The Sweetest Girl in the World — who will be crowned following the stage show in Village Park Friday evening, July 1.

She and her court will reign over the Festival, including the big parade that will step off at 10 a.m. Saturday morning.

Many floats will feature a variety of themes, but most will stress the sugar beet industry from beginning to the present.

Sixteen girls are competing for the Queen title, and the stakes are high — a four-day trip for her and her mother to San Francisco, including tours of Muirwood, a cruise on San Francisco Bay, and side trips to Carmel and Monterey.

They will be accompanied by a representative of the sugar industry and his wife.

THERE WILL be a different stage show in the Park both nights, followed by the Queen's Ball Friday evening and a giant fireworks display Saturday evening.

Festival events are free except for the Queen's Ball Friday evening and the beef barbeque Saturday noon following the parade. The beef barbecue will be held in the Village Park.

"We hope everyone will come to Sebewaing over this long holiday weekend and see how we regard the sugar beet industry," said Mr. Gettel.

AMERICAN LEGION
WOLVERINE BOYS STATE

TECUMSEH YOUTHS AS THEY PREPARED TO LEAVE FOR BOYS STATE ACTIVITIES

VOICE of THE HERALD

'Rewarding Experience'

For the past seven days, 19 young men from Tecumseh attended Boys State on the campus of Michigan State University.

Taking part in this American Legion-sponsored event is always rated as one of the "most rewarding experiences" of a participant's life.

Tecumseh can take special pride in Boys State since this city has always ranked high among communities sending the most fellows. This year Northville is tops and Tecumseh second.

Much of the success for Boys State is due to the efforts of the late Louis S. Schneider, who served for nine years as State Child Welfare chairman for the American Legion.

In 1949 he was transferred to State Youth Activities chairmanship for the veterans' organization which included Boys State.

He interested the local post, Underwood-Orr Unit No. 34 and in 1939 the first boys to attend the event were George Lewis, now a medical doctor in Grand Rapids, and Louis L. Schneider.

Over the years, members of the post have kept up efforts toward sending more and more boys until in 1965 there were 23 attending from Tecumseh, highest number ever.

Mr. Schneider's name appears on two trophies at the Post Home, for three consecutive years when Tecumseh sent the most boys to the self-government operation.

Many Tecumseh young men have had the opportunity to find out more about their government through efforts of Legionaires and the sponsoring groups who underwrite the costs.

Not Many Came

Eligible voters in the Tecumseh School District number 5,246.

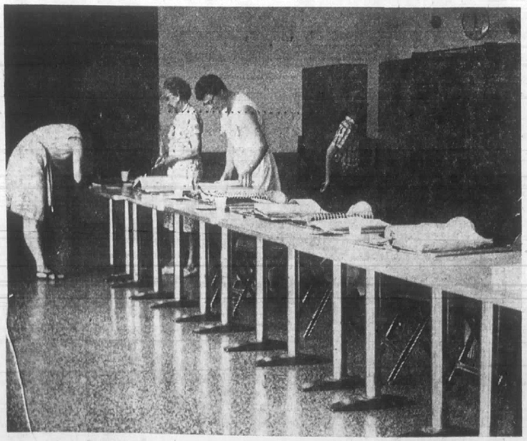
Only 1,105 checked in for last week's vote, which gave the schools another four mills and saw three men elected to the board.

This figured out less than a 20% voted turnout.

It appears that many of those folks who usually oppose more property taxes didn't mind the schools getting additional millage for two years. The "no vote" runs about 600, but this time the negative side dropped to 424.

There is the theory that people remember the mess when the schools were forced to adopt half-day and split schedules a few years back. This may have heled to convert ex-"no" people, or convinced them not to vote.

In any event, the issue passed handily, the teacher salary dilemma is resolved and everyone is happy.



MORE WORKERS THAN VOTERS SEEMED TO BE THE RULE

Camp Kanesatake Ready to Receive Scouts, Explorers

Dan Rodehaver and Rondal Disbrow will be on the staff at Camp Kanesatake where 500 Boy Scouts and Explorers are registered for summer camp beginning June 26.

Operated by the Wolverine Council, the camp is located east of Cambridge Junction on Washington Lake.

Some improvements initiated for the 1966 camping season include a newly remodeled lodge, a new campsite called Dan Beard, with latrine and water, remodeled rifle range shelter, a new chapel and a new camp truck.

Troops 73 and 4 of Tecumseh and Troop 5 of Clinton are signed up to participate in the camp program which continues to August 6.

Muzzle Loaders Staging Festival at Greenfield

DEARBORN — Modern rifles and pistols take a back seat to antique firearms at Greenfield Village on June 25-26 when the Muzzle Loaders Festival holds forth.

Minie balls, percussion caps and old-fashioned black powder are the ingredients used in this colorful pageant. The participants are dressed in period costumes.

On Saturday, many of the shooters will be in the garb of frontiersmen, Indian scouts and militiamen.

Sunday's program will be complete with military units of both union and rebel companies of the Civil War era.

The entire Muzzle Loaders Festival program is included in the regular admission charge to Greenfield Village, adults $1.50 and children 50c. Special family rates also are available.

Rep. Conlin To Have Lots of Company

- ► Virgil Eisenmann of Blissfield

The winner faces off with Hugo Flippo of Adrian, lone Democrat to enter the primary.

In the 51st District, which includes Franklin Township, Republican Rep. Thomas Sharp of Howell will meet Lloyd Hendee of Pinckney in the finals.

Eastern Star Confers Four

Chapter No. 51 of the Eastern Star conferred the degree of the Order on the Misses Linda Janeway and Lucinda Miller, Marvin G. Rumpf and Charles Manley as pro-tem, Thursday.

They were presented their rituals by Mrs. Melvin Ruettinger, worthy matron.

The Lenawee-Monroe Association Picnic will be at the Villa July 17 and the officers' picnic will be at the Kempf cottage at Vineyard Lake July 19.

TO THE EDITORS:

We have just experienced "the greatest" of our lives.

Seated in the middle of Red Rock Theatre, 10 miles out of Denver, in the Rockies surrounded by thousands of Rotarians from all over the world, with the city of Denver as a back drop, we witnessed a once-in-a-lifetime experience—tingles up and down our spines—listening to operatic stars — Dallas Rotary Glee Club and finally, the famous Boy Scout Koshare Indian Dancers.

If only the poor misguided of this troubled world could see and hear these friendly people at work in friendly Rotary.

Through My Window

FROM THE DUNCANS' LOG — PART 3

Tuesday. With rather mixed emotions we start out — there is sadness at leaving Boulder and the good times we have had with Marshes but, on the other hand, there is more to see and more to do in both Colorado and New Mexico.

A few brief showers, but the sun shines in between and so we really don't call it a stormy day. Apparently any mountain driving out of Boulder takes one through gorgeous scenery.

Film is spinning through the cameras at a great rate.

A large bird swoops by the car — his red tail names him. It must be a red-tailed hawk. His glide ends on the top of a fence post and so our look is double. We see him in flight and also at rest on a perch. What a thrill!

AS THE ROAD climbs to cross the Continental Divide at Loveland Pass — elevation 11,992 ft. — we drive into snow showers.

Of course, at the pass itelf the world is all white. Most breathtaking. Turning south at Dillon, but continuing the high mountain driving, we arrive at Leadville.

A most interesting town, full of old mining lore, it deserves much more time than we have on this trip. Maybe next year.

As the road drops into a lovely valley and we press on towards Salida, our supply of adjectives becomes exhausted. The Presidential Range of mountains rises on our right, a fast-flowing, rather wide Arkansas River rushes along on the left and above all is a blue sky partially full of dark storm clouds.

The rays of the late afternoon sun turn the whole scene into a magical fairyland.

WEDNESDAY — a good day for some sideroading. From Salida we go east to Texas Creek and then head south on Colorado 69. An interesting road, partially blacktopped, but with some rather bumpy gravel sections, it takes us through rich grazing land and into several small Indian towns.

Birds are everywhere — outstanding are the meadow larks, the bluebirds — both mountain and western — and the lark buntings. These pretty things look much like red wing blackbirds except that their shoulder patches are white instead of red.

From Walsenburg we find another back road. Even though our sunny day is quickly becoming heavily overcast, away we go. Past most intriguing geological formations — I must write and ask Doctor to explain the great outcroppings of upright rocks which seem to form gigantic stone walls — we are now climbing rapidly and going through incredibly thick stands of aspen trees.

Oh what a sight this would be in the fall!

SPRINGTIME is lovely though. The many greens, the carpets of wild flowers and the little streams all full of sparkling snow water are just three of the blessings.

Oh, my — a deer! Standing on the ridge is a big mule deer — wow!

By the time the road snakes its way into Trinidad, we have counted nine deer. Just imagine!

Quite unlike our Michigan white tails, these deer are larger, have huge mule-like ears and white rump patches. Unfortunately, it is much too dark to even try for any pictures. Actually, not only is it cloudy, but the rain is falling quite hard.

From Trinidad, I-25 whisks us to Raton, New Mexico. What a tremendous day it has been — breathtakingly beautiful scenery, birds everywhere and nine deer!

A Herd of Buffalo
Was Like Money in the Bank to the Indians

To the Indians of the Old West, a herd of buffalo brought provision for the present . . . meat and hides for food and clothing to take care of immediate needs. And for those Indians who planned wisely, the buffalo meant "money in the bank" for the future, too. A stock of surplus hides was precious . . . a means of "buying," from other tribes, more of the things that make life better.

Are things different now? Not so very! True, you use money, not hides, to buy the things you want today . . . but, for your future, you need money in the bank, too. Which prompts us to ask: What are you doing with your extra "buffalo hides"? Set aside some money every payday, in an interest-bearing Savings Account here . . . and soon, you'll have more of the things that make life better. Start now!

Long and Short

By TOM RIORDAN

Hey, would you believe ice skating on an outdoor rink Saturday night?

So help me, that was my fate, gliding over the frozen surface, with 80-degrees of muggy weather engulfing the evening.

Up at Boyne Mountain Lodge there is an artificial rink, which is kept covered during the day with quaint, quilted blankets of styrofoam.

After dark, off they come and on jump the skaters.

Last weekend the Michigan Press Association's summer meeting was at Boyne and the weather there was almost as bad as here.

But the skating session helped erase all concern over humidity and baking sun.

MPA's vacation session was at Boyne four years ago and remembering the cute golf course on the front lawn, I brought along my clubs — as well as ice skates.

But there was a shock on the golf scene.

Boyne has altered its links layout. Now, instead of nine holes on level ground, No. 1, 2 and 3 are along ski slopes.

From the first tee, the golfer stares up 150 yards to a plateau. That's the green, up an incline of about 40 degrees.

Puffing from there to No. 2, the climb sharpens to roughly 45 degrees and another 160 yards.

Oxygen is the only answer at this point.

The 300-yard third hole goes straight down next to 1 and 2. A mild tap off the tee and the ball rolls almost to the green.

But a fellow can hardly enjoy the feat — not after the climb, which leaves one's lungs burning like hot charcoal in an outdoor grill.

It takes the balance of the six holes "on the flat" to recover enough strength for the night's skating fun.

AS OFTEN happens on these get-away-from-it-all jaunts, there was a mishap. A temple of my glasses snapped off the first night.

With fingers crossed, we drove into Gaylord and visited with Dr. R. E. Bentz, who said the pieces couldn't be put back together, but the lenses might be transferred to new frames — in a few minutes.

That was heavenly news and as the job was done by Dr. Bentz we chatted about his hometown business district. The local optometrist was high in praise of merchants now altering the face of downtown.

In case you haven't visited Gaylord in some years, you might not recognize the place.

Business Row is being transformed into an Alpine Village and store front after store front is getting the treatment.

When the job is complete, the effect should dazzle — and be a real attraction for summer and winter tourists.

We knew it was time to head back from Boyne Sunday morning. There were about two bucks in my pockets.

ROLLING INTO Lansing, the gas gauge showed almost empty and we swung into Jack's Standard Service.

Five attendants rushed out, washing windows, pumping fuel, checking water and oil. It was marvelous. I was glad to be able to say I carried a Standard credit card.

Only it seemed I didn't.

It was no place to be found.

With a bill for $5.60, I chuckled to Jack that I guess I'd have to write a check, only we'd forgotten to bring any, but the owner of Marshall's Motel in Grayling had kindly given me some blanks and would one of these be OK?

As I nervously penned in "United Savings Bank of Tecumseh" on the top, Jack and his entire gang crowded around me—just as they had surrounded the car when we drove up.

I assured Jack the check would clear and he nodded.

But I couldn't help feel a little uncomfortable without that credit card.

It's like not having sharp skates for summer skating.

2 Teen Agers Save Man from Drowning

By MAXINE CALHOUN

CLINTON — Two teen age boys saved 37-year-old Kenneth Geiger from drowning in Evans Lake Sunday.

Heroes are Dennis Kime, 14, and Terry Schuler, 15, who are employed by Mr. Geiger on his farm.

Following a hot afternoon of hay baling, the three went for a swim.

There was a lot of joking, when suddenly Mr. Geiger called for help.

Thinking it was another gag, Dennis replied, "I won't help until you give me a raise."

When Mr. Geiger sank from sight into a 10-foot drop-off, the boys realized it was no joke — and they promptly dived, finding him lying on the bottom.

Unable to bring the man to the surface, the boys dived a second time and pulled him along the sand until they reached shallow water, where they raised him from the water.

They dragged Mr. Geiger to shore and fell exhausted. A bystander, Mrs. Virginia Lewis of Warren, instantly began mouth-to-mouth resuscitation. The victim was then turning blue.

Sheriff's deputy Robert Howard reported his pulse rate slow at first, but responding as the Sand Lake rescue unit arrived to give oxygen.

$734,000 YMCA Hopes To Open Free of Mortgage

When Lenawee County's new $734,000 YMCA opens in December, there should be no debt.

That is, if Jim Gerity has his way.

The peppery owner of WABJ has guided fund-raising efforts for the "Y" and has all but $150,000 of costs "in the bag."

Now comes the last step and Mr. Gerity figures this phase of the money campaign should be all settled before mid-July.

"Every donation will help," says the finance chairman.

He explains that if cash concerns are licked now, when the "Y" gets going this winter, directors can proceed with full programs and not worry about mortgage payments.

The new facility will be a mecca for 3,000 youngsters from all over Lenawee County—plus untold adults.

Besides the full youth program, there will be a Businessman's Club and extensive programs for women, too,

FANCY DIVER — No matter what technique is used in entering the water at the Pit, the results are the same, a refreshing and cooling respite from torrid temperatures. Sunday's mid-90 readings brought out the greatest number of people—1,082—ever to use Pit facilities, according to Ted Todd, beach chief. If the Fourth of July weekend is as hot, this mark might be broken. Ted says The Pit opens daily, 9 a.m., closing between 7 and 9 p.m., depending on the weather.

Men Avert Death as Trench Caves In

A near-disaster was narrowly averted here just before noon Saturday when a six-foot deep trench on Burt St. caved in on John Kopke, 62, city water superintendent.

Nearly three tons of dirt fell in on the city official burying him to his waist and causing a double-fracture of the left ankle.

He was rushed to Herrick Memorial Hospital and is still confined there. Mrs. Kopke said Wednesday morning that she expects her husband to be released later this week.

MR. KOPKE and three other city employees were working on a water lead and sewer tap-in when the mishap occurred.

Raymond Shaw was in the trench with Kopke when the sides started to cave in. Shaw was warned by Kopke and escaped, and Kopke himself just missed getting out of the way before being trapped.

Wes Haeussler, city street superintendent, and Don Ellis also shouted warnings to the men. If Shaw had not moved when he did, observers believe he might have been completely covered — and probably killed.

This was the water department's first major accident in over six years. Last mishap occured on Occidential Rd., when Don Davis was trapped in a cave-in and suffered a fractured pelvis and back injuries.

Mr. Kopke has been with the city for over 18 years and this was his first accident recorded on his personal record.

City Manager Cal Zorn has temporarily taken over Kopke's duties until he can return to work. If he's given a walking cast, city officials expect him to return for supervision work of the department.

Computor Takes Over

If folks at the Tecumseh branch office of Adrian Federal Savings and Loan Association were a bit puzzled Friday morning, they had a right to be.

Much of their work was being done in Chicago, some 225 miles to the west.

No more scurrying around for cards, thumbing through files for records, double-checking, odds and ends — the teller's usual jobs.

FRIDAY'S milestone for Adrian Federal was adoption of a new bookkeeping system — it's a first in Michigan—and one which involves a complex of office equipment and a direct hookup via telephone lines with a computer in Chicago.

The computer, developed by National Cash Register, adds and subtracts, records dates, entries, withdrawals and even determines interest.

It is instantaneous and foolproof, say Savings and Loan officials.

At present, all savings accounts are being handled by the computer. According to John Surratt, local branch manager, September is the target date for including mortgages.

Patrons will realize quicker service—it takes just seconds to record, make a deposit or withdrawal—and the company expects considerable savings by eliminating many bookkeeping chores.

SINCE THE computer works solely on numbers, no names are sent to Chicago. Patrons will also be able to do business at either the Adrian home office or the branch here.

The entire system has been studied by company officials for nearly two years. Last year a contract with NCR was signed.

Others joined, including Savings and Loan Associations at Muskegon, Three Rivers, Niles and Dowagiac, and all were hooked up with the computer Friday.

Chicago's NCR computer is set up to handle six other states besides Michigan.

Big Thrill for Jaycees

"One of the biggest thrills of my life, certainly of my Jaycee lifetime, came Sunday evening when Claire and I went to the charter night of the Jaycee Chapter at the Federal Correctional Institution at Milan," said Dyke Helms Monday.

Of some 30 odd penal and correctional institutions, Milan is the second in the nation to form a Jaycee Chapter.

Others from Tecumseh who were among the 400 attending the banquet were JCI Senator Ray Shelton, District Vice-president David Schoonover and his wife and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Johnson.

Wendell Smith, president of the Michigan Jaycees, made the charter presentation accepted by Michael Huntington, president of the new chapter.

U.S. Senator Robert P. Griffin was the principal speaker.

M. EDWIN Prud'homme of Texarkana, Texas was present and has made many trips to Milan to lend a guiding hand in getting the chapter organized.

President Huntington, in accepting the charter, remarked that "a road has been opened. A chance for many things — a hope that gives one a special silver thread to hang on to and a light that peeks into the very inside of a man."

One of the initiatory projects of the FCI Chapter is blood for Vietnam troops. There are 213 men registered for the project.

There are 94 members in the new chapter, an extension of the Milan Jaycees.

Warden Paul P. Starwell extended a welcome to the guests and Wade Markley, associate commissioner of Federal Prison Industries was given recognition.

You Told Us

By DOROTHY GRIGG

Deep in the woods, or so it seems, off Brook Hwy., southwest of Onsted is a delightful home and business called Fox Run. Operated by Earl and Joyce Collom from their fabulous 60 foot trailer home, Fox Run could be in the heart of the woods of northern Michigan.

Not only fox are there but rabbits, deer, coon and many birds. Seemingly unafraid, the animals, coon and rabbits especially, play at the side of the swimming pool even when occupied by bathers.

What a setting for a conference, retreat or reunion.

'Good Example of Cooperation'

TO THE EDITORS:

It sure would be nice if some of our city officials could find the time. If they do, run out to the Legion ball park on Burt St. There is a good example of what a little cooperation between a few people can do.

Thanks to Dick Whelan of the implement store and Rod Brown of Schneider's Garage, plus a few fellows from our Sunday slo-pitch league, we are pretty close to having another ball park.

This writer went to a council meeting last Monday asking for a little help. Knowing that it would be a waste of time, I made an appointment with another man there for Tuesday.

After cooling my heels for 45 minutes in the outer hall at the city offices, I figured we could do it ourselves and somehow, at least, get started before the snow fell.

The main reason for the cold reception, I believe, was that we were informed Monday that the city had enough fields for their program.

It sure seems odd that I have received seven phone calls from coaches asking if they could use our field.

Maybe the small percentage of people around who are always willing to lend a hand for nothing should follow Jack Osburn's idea and combine efforts with Adrian.

After taking our boys to play in towns around here, they have asked me why we couldn't play in someone's corn field which would be better than what we have.

After all, you wouldn't have to spend half your time hunting for lost balls in the jungle of bushes which surrounds what we have here.

It is about time this city or village awakens to the fact that after a person is 14 years old they are not salted away till they are 60.

Glen Work,
711 Adrian St.

Compliments

TO THE EDITORS:

I wish to extend my sincere compliments to you and The Tecumseh Herald for the very fine article in the Long and Short column for June 16.

Kiwanis, as you have seen, is very proud of its work in the Forney Clement Foundation. I purchased 20 copies of the paper and mailed one to each club in Division 7 and also copies to our Governor, Lt. Governor, Board President and the respective secretaries.

I have been exceptionally honored by Kiwanis to be asked to serve on this board. I wish to extend my personal invitation for you to visit Ann Arbor.

Yours truly,
Fred Nash.

Thank You

TO THE EDITORS:

On behalf of the Lenawee County Unit Board of Directors, American Cancer Society, I wish to thank you sincerely for your assistance in our recent Cancer Crusade.

We are pleased to enclose the crusade report which shows that we reached our $15,000 quota. This is more money than ever before raised in Lenawee County for cancer.

Due to the many dedicated volunteers like yourself who worked so diligently, this was made possible.

With funds available for our three-fold program of research, education and service, one of these days in the near future, we will be able to say that in a small way we each helped in the crusade to conquer cancer.

Sincerely,
Richard M. Kingsbury,
1966 Cancer Crusade Chairman

SUN BATHERS FOUND THE PIT'S BEACH PERFECT FOR RELAXING IN PAST WEEK

New Addition Takes Shape

Dorothy Osborne, owner of Osborne's Department Store, has purchased the Allison building recently vacated by Lawson TV.

An extensive remodeling program is in progress and Mrs. Osborne plans to move the shoes and men's wear department from the building owned by Mrs. Duaine Service to the newly acquired property.

A new dropped ceiling and tile floor as well as flouerescent lighting to match the other half of the store has been installed. The new part will be completely repainted.

Mrs. Osborne said Wednesday, "We are fortunate indeed. When the partition was removed the floor and ceiling level of the two buildings were exactly the same."

Tecumseh Floor Covering installed the floor tile, Clauda Plumbing did the plumbing and heating and Wilbur Shadley of Manchester is the contractor.

New carpeting will be installed in the entire length of the display windows and a new porcelain and brick front with an aluminum awning to cover the entire length of the store will be installed soon.

Club Has Picnic

Through My Window

FROM THE DUNCAN'S LOG — PART 4

Thursday. Warm and sunny with just enough wind to allow sunburning without realizing what is happening.

Tucked in the northeast corner of New Mexico is Mt. Capulin National Monument. The approach is through high plateau, desert-like country. All around us are outcroppings of black lava, the remains of eruptions which took place 7,000 or more years ago. As we drive to the top of the extinct volcano, the surrounding area is strange and unreal, it looks more like a moonscape than a landscape.

Back down in the picnic area the fun continues. While Dad roams about with his camera, Mom and I are busy with the bird book. No need for binoculars, everything is coming close. Bluebirds and gorgeous black headed grosbeaks are everywhere.

But with more to do and see we head for Taos, New Mexico. Wow — what a ride! Coming into the mountains, the road follows a splashing, fast-moving stream. Oh, to be a fisherman. The mountains themselves, although not as high and rugged as those in Colorado, are a breathtaking blend of tall tree-covered slopes and sheer rocky cliffs.

FRIDAY. WE can hardly believe our good fortune weatherwise, another sunny, warm, blue-sky day.

A tour of missions is on the agenda. First, the Mission of St. Francis is a twin belfry, adobe wall church built in 1710-1755.

Over twisting and turning mountain roads that, once we run out of blacktop, are rough and dusty, we bounce from one little town to another.

Adobe houses, nowhere a tree-lined street as we know and Spanish spoken instead of English. This is most definitely another world.

In Las Trampas is the church of the Twelve Apostles. Its history goes back to early Spanish times when 12 men worked 12 years to build it. A small unpretentious structure but realizing the way it was built and why gives it stature and importance.

SATURDAY. A difficult decision — should we spend the day soaking up sunshine, enjoying the lovely grounds of our Kachina Lodge and writing post cards or should we do a little more sight-seeing?

We are sight-seeing! Just north and east of Taos, a shiny new bridge spans the Rio Grande and its deep canyon. Supposedly the second highest in the world, it is a magnificent bridge. Quite a thrill. Now we have pictures of the highest bridge, the one at the Royal Gorge in Colorado, and its closest competitor.

And now we are ready for one of the most interesting stops on the trip. Pueblo de Taos is the highest pueblo building in the southwest — in places it is five stories high. The flat-topped adobe houses must shelter several thousand Indians.

SUNDAY. THIS is the day we shall start heading home, but there is still a side road which must be investigated. Immediately upon leaving the mountains we are greeted by a small type sand storm. Just out of Las Vegas, New Mexico, the road takes us through high mesa country, cattle grazing land — windy but less sand blowing here. As the road switch-backs down the face of the last mesa, we look out on a world of red. A painted desert type of thing where only the most brilliant of the reds has been used.

In Tucumcari we encounter Route 66 and are homeward bound in earnest.

THURSDAY. MICHIGAN is truly putting her best foot forward and saying, "Welcome Home!"

Along our western coast some of the fruit trees are still in blossom. Everywhere we seem to encounter dogwood. Yes, we have had a marvelous vacation—we have seen magnificent things but the old cliche still holds. One of the nicest things about taking a trip is coming home.

County Gets Fund, Thanks to 1965 Bill

A left-over bill from the 1965 session will provide nearly $12,870 for the general fund of Lenawee County, according to Senator Gilbert Bursley.

"The bill would levy a tax of 1.10 per thousand dollars on real estate transfers. It would return all the money collected from affixing transfer stamps to deeds and other instruments of conveyance to the county where the tax is collected," Senator Bursley said.

He further stated that this could amount to about four million a year among Michigan's 83 counties.

The bill will go into effect as soon as a similar federal excise tax is repealed on January 1, 1968.

Offers Customers Carry-Out Service

"We can send anything out that we can serve in our restaurant," said Pearl Myers Friday as she made the decision to operate a carry-out service for customers.

This decision came about in compliance with many requests of people "who just can't get enough" of Pearl's cooking.

"Can I get enough of your potato salad for supper," said the customer and Pearl replies, "Sure, anytime."

"Most of the time we can have it ready for the road in 20 minutes, only in rush times does it take a bit longer."

Griffin Wants To Aid Teachers on Extra Training

School teachers and college professors who broaden their education by investing in additional academic training would be eligible for more liberal tax deductions under a bill introduced by Senator Robert P. Griffin.

Michigan's new senator said his bill would encourage and assist full-time and part-time teachers attending classes "on their own initiative" by permitting tax deductions for expenses of tuition and fees, travel away from home and up to $100 a year for books and related materials.

Under current Internal Revenue Service rulings, Senator Griffin explained, a teacher who attends summer school or college on a part-time basis can deduct such expenses only if the training is specifically required in order to keep his job.

But, Senator Griffin pointed out, "if a teacher takes the initiative and returns to college voluntarily for the purpose of becoming a better qualified teacher, the tax deduction is denied."

'Look Unto Me'

"Look unto me, and be ye saved, all the ends of the earth: for I am God, and there is none else."

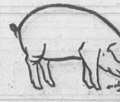
This will be the Golden Text for a Lesson-Sermon on the subject "God," to be read at all Christian Science church services this Sunday.

DOLLAR and SENSE FARMING.

RAKE HAY when the top leaves in the swath or windrow are dry enough to crumble, which is about 50% moisture. In good drying weather, hay dries from 50% to 40% moisture in about two hours. Below 40% shattering losses are severe. If windrows need turning to expose the wet underside, try turning the hay by using just the last one-third or one-half of the side delivery rake so that hay will be moved as little as possible.

EARN AN EXTRA $10 PER HEAD on beef cattle you feed this summer. You can do it by controlling flies, says Illinois entomologists. Steers protected from horse fly attack over a 38-day period gained 20 to 39 pounds more than those unprotected. At 26c a pound, 39 extra pounds is worth $10.14. Spray around buildings and drylots with Cygon, diazinon or Korlan. Control face flies with toxaphene treated oilers. For pasture control of flies, use a water-diluted toxaphene spray.

FLOOR FEEDING MARKET HOGS can save you as much as 10% to 15% in feed compared with self-feeding systems with no appreciable difference in gain. Fed on the floor, hogs eat about 5% less feed than when self-fed. Feed wastage and improperly adjusted self-feeders can easily add another 10% to feed lost. Iowa tests show it takes about 3.56 pounds of feed per pound of gain with self-feds.



CLEARING LAND on your farm may be one way to get more crop acreage. Contract clearing usually costs $50 to $60 an acre depending upon whether it's brush or timber. Figure another $50 to bring it up to crop fertility level. If you don't own land clearing equipment, consider leasing.

Good drivers have shifty eyes. Especially over the Fourth.

There's something more to safe driving than just obeying the law. It's called "defensive driving." And it begins by keeping your eyes on the move, scanning the road, watching traffic around you. Just in case someone makes a mistake.

Here are six situations that can result in a two-car accident. For each, there's a simple defensive preparation. Study and remember them. They work. (Our test drivers have proved it in over 339,000,000 miles of driving since 1924 at the GM Proving Grounds.)

The driver ahead of you brakes suddenly. Defense: Keep more distance than you think you need between you and the car ahead of you. At 60 mph, for instance, with good tires and on a dry road you need at least 300 feet to stop your car. (Most people think it's a lot less.) On wet or slippery roads, give yourself even greater leeway.

The driver in back of you is tailgating. Defense: Never speed up. Slow down gradually and encourage the tailgater to pass. If you're going to turn or stop, signal your intentions well in advance.

An oncoming car drifts over the center line. Defense: Warn the oncoming driver with your lights or horn. Always keep well to the right, away from the center line.

The car passing you cuts in sharply. Defense: As you're being passed, stay to the right and slow down, if necessary. By helping the other driver to pass, you protect yourself.

Another driver wants to pass when you do. Defense: Let him pass, then check the traffic before you pull out. Use your horn or lights to warn the driver in front. Pass quickly and return to your lane only when you see him in your rear-view mirror.

Another car approaches from a side road. Defense: As you approach the intersection, take your foot off the accelerator and poise it over the brake, ready to yield the right of way.

One thing more. If you feel fatigue coming on, try sitting in another position. Or tune to another radio station. Or pop a piece of candy into your mouth. If that doesn't work, pull off the road and rest a while.

By keeping alert, you can enjoy your trip a lot more. And you can save yourself and the other fellow from his mistakes. Over the Fourth. Or any time, for that matter.

One of the most important things we've learned about safety over the last 58 years is this:

Safe driving depends on three things. THE CAR THE ROAD AND YOU Pass it on.

Stagecoach Stop Adds Antique Auto Treasures

By DOROTHY GRIGG

Interesting features and attractions at the fabulous Stagecoach Stop on US-12 in the Irish Hills have more than doubled since last year, when the project was first opened by Dorothy and Fred Bahlau of Jackson.

An antique auto museum featuring classic old cars — Cadillacs, LaSalles, Packards, Dusenbergs, Fords, Chevrolets — all beautifully restored, is one new feature.

Carriages, hearses, hack, casket wagon, overland coach and all the others that make up one of the finest collections in the country today, are shown in a new building erected this spring.

Visitors at Stagecoach Stop can savor ice cream at its tastiest best in the new old-time ice cream parlor, a collector's dream of antiques with Tiffany glass back bar, antique dispensers, chairs and tables. The Parlor specializes in hot chocolate sundaes.

Immediately next to the Parlor, is a gift shop, 1890 style. Mrs. Bahlau has given this project her special attention and a rare collection of reproduced glass ware, gifts and souvenir items has been assembled for re-sale.

A ride on a rubber-tired reproduction of the old steam train is another new attraction this year. A train company "detective" posing as the conductor issues rifles to "prospective sheriffs" to help against "attack".

A real caboose, or way has been fashioned into an ant gift shop and is in front of St ach

Non-College Youths Need School Aid

Marvin L. Esch of Ann Arbor called for a "comprehensive federal and state program" to provide advanced education for young people not intending to pursue university work.

Holding a PhD himself, State Rep. Esch said that it was unforgiveable for the United States to neglect specialized needs of the 60% of the high school graduates who do not go to college.

He said he was calling for more and better programs in business, electronics, agriculture, office and business machines and construction crafts.

"The majority of our young people do not enter our universities and do not go into science or the professions. In too many areas of the country these youngsters are still not provided with educational facilities with which to advance themselves," Rep. Esch said.

"A college system offering six months, one, two and three-year programs is badly needed," he said.

Representative Esch praised the growing number of junior colleges in Michigan and in the nation as a whole.

Band Boosters Serve Chicken

CLINTON — There'll be 800 chicken halves broiling on an open charcoal fire beginning early Sunday in Clinton's Memorial Park. In case of rain it will be held Monday.

The sponsoring Clinton Band Boosters will use the proceeds from this year's event to send the 76-member marching band to band camp for a week at the end of August.

Rotarians are assisting with the project which will be held in Memorial Park on W. Michigan Ave.

Paul Hawkins, the new president of the Band Boosters, is chairman and all band parents are asked to assist.

The serving will begin at 11 a.m. The meal includes ½ barbecued chicken, cole slaw, chips, roll and beverage for $1.50, and may be eaten at picnic tables in the park.

Boxed carry-outs are also available.

Mary Ann Manchester Weds Richard Brown

MRS. RICHARD BROWN

CLINTON — Nuptial vows were spoken by Mary Ann Manchester and Richard Brown in the Clinton Methodist Church Friday evening.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Manchester of 4579 Kehoe Rd., and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Brugger of 4235 Clinton-Macon Rd.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. George Miller, pastor of the church, assisted by the Rev. Paul Brantingham, pastor of the Tecumseh Friends Church.

The altar was flanked by lighted tapers in candelabra decorated with sprays of white gladioli and chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Larry Brown, sister-in-law of the groom, played a prelude of organ music and accompanied the soloist, LuAnn Rhoades.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white imported organza gown with a basque bodice of Chantilly lace over taffeta styled with long sleeves. Lace inserts accented the bouffant skirt which ended in a chapel train.

A crown of organza petals held the bride's veil of illusion. She carried a bouquet of white roses centered with a white orchid.

Mrs. Charles Knight II, sister of the bride, was the matron of honor.

The bridesmaids were Sandra Poore of Evans Lake and Josephine Abshire of Jackson.

The attendants wore street-length dresses with pastel green, yellow or pink peau de soie skirts and white embroidered bodices. Their circlet veils were held with matching silk roses.

The attendants carried bouquets of tinted Fuji chrysanthemums.

Bradley Brown was the ring bearer.

James Brown was his brother's best man.

The guests were seated by Larry Brown, brother of the groom, John Hayden of Tecumseh, Charles Knight II and Rick Knight.

A reception for 150 guests was held in the Bridgewater Townhall. Mrs. James Brown, sister-in-law of the groom, cut the wedding cake.

Pastel streamers of pink, yellow and green formed a background for the pink-net skirted bride's table.

The bride is a 1966 graduate of Clinton High School.

The bridegroom is a 1964 graduate of Clinton High School. He is a tool design apprentice at Budd Company and attends Jackson Junior College.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown will reside in Clinton when they return from a two-week wedding trip to Florida.

The bridegroom's parents were hosts for a rehearsal dinner at their home Thursday evening.

Workshop Delegates Return Home

CLINTON — Mrs. Guy Hoover and two students, Nancy Bellmore and Bonnie Hoover, have returned from the Leadership Training Workshop at Northern Michigan University, Marquette.

What causes accidents?
Ask an expert

He sees them every day, in the traffic congestion of large cities, on the quiet streets of small towns and on the open road. He spends most of every day behind the wheels and he knows what the dangers are on our streets and highways. His driving record shows that he is well trained because Mr. "Average Truck Driver" drives hundreds of thousands of miles without a chargeable accident.

Discuss accidents with him. He won't talk about nuts and bolts. He knows that most accidents are the result of poor driving practices.

The excellent safety record of professional truck drivers is no accident; it is the result of proper driver training and a continuing campaign to emphasize safe driving techniques. As a result, truck drivers obey the law, are courteous, alert and always drive, aware of the dangers which are present.

If you ask an expert what causes accidents, he'll tell you it's the driver behind the wheel that makes the difference.

Gilligan's Island Discovered Near City by Girl Scouts

By DENICE ANDERSON

Under the leadership of "The Skipper," "Gilligan," and "The Professor," 73 Clinton-Tecumseh Brownies and Junior Girl Scouts enjoyed a week of day camp in the Jack Osburn Woods.

The girls, ranging in age from 7-15, learned handicrafts and the art of living comfortably in the woods.

Aside from the young campers, there were six nursery children, six leaders plus a counselor, a business manager and five helpers or program aides.

The girls were divided into units with each unit having a leader and a tent. They set up their own wash stands and a password was required for admittance into the unit area.

At the camp, which met from 8:30 a.m.-3 p.m., the girls made name tags, incense burners and candle holders.

There was a first-aid center located at the camp and Mrs. Lloyd Slagh was the camp "physician".

Mrs. John Hoelzer and Mrs. Lloyd Slagh were camp co-directors.

The girls were taught to recognize poisonous plants and all the paths were cleared before the camp began.

Since the state requires fly-tight latrines, specially-built latrines were constructed that had lids that automatically closed when not in use.

Expression of gratitude was given to Carol Riordan, who taught the girls to sing and who led them on hikes.

The seven tents were supplied by the Irish Hills Girl Scout Council.

The tents, plus $2,000 worth of equipment, travel on a circuit of day camps.

This is the sixth year the camp has been in Tecumseh.

The girls were given physicals opening day by Dr. Archie O'Connor and Mrs. Thomas Young, a registered nurse.

They spent Wednesday at the camp, with 46 girls and six adults attending the overnight

Leaders were Mrs. Fred Robinson, field director, Mrs. William Allen, Mrs. Don Escott, Mrs. Ken Kitson, business director, Mrs. Gerald Rendel, Mrs. William Norris, Mrs. Charles Voll and Mrs. Richard Egli.

SING ALONG WITH . . . GILLIGAN? — Young voices rise in chorus to the songs Day Campers learned last week as they prepared to end this year's session in fine style. Just as the members of "Gilligan's Island," the girls adjusted to outdoor living and made the best advantage of their situation by naming their counselors after the popular television personalities. In spite of the torrid 95-degree temperatures, the girls played it cool in the Jack Osburn Woods. The thick growth of high trees provided plenty of shade and the Woods had been sprayed to prevent bugs from bothering the campers.

Greenfield Is Featured

The Henry Ford Museum and Greenfield Village is the subject of a feature article in the July issue of Reader's Digest.

The world-famous indoor-outdoor museum complex just outside Detroit was founded in 1929 by the late Henry Ford as a general museum of Americana.

The eight-page Reader's Digest story by senior editor William A. H. Birnie explains the objectives of Mr. Ford in founding the institution and the programs carried on there today.

In the Museum are outstanding collections of American decorative arts ranging from glass, pewter and china to silver crafted by Paul Revere and furniture attributed to Thomas Affleck.

A Street of Early American Shops represents the commerce of the nation in its early days. A section is devoted to agriculture, home arts, communications, electricity, industrial and early printing equipment.

Transportation includes horse-drawn vehicles, airplanes, locomotives and a collection of 200 restored antique automobiles.

In the Village are nearly 100 famous buildings moved from all parts of the country. These include Thomas Edison's laboratory, the shop where Orville and Wilbur Wright built their first airplane and the home of dictionary writer Noah Webster.

Both the Museum and Village are open seven days a week the year around.

80% of Jobs Don't Require College Work

Eighty percent of the people in Lenawee County work in a job requiring no higher education.

Yet 80% of high school students take college preparatory courses.

This was one of the points made by John Comstock, Lenawee County agricultural agent and member of the Vocational Education Survey Committee, as he showed slides to the Jolly Farmers Farm Bureau group.

The meeting was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. Willmott.

Other points brought out by Mr. Comstock:

► Three out of 10 first graders do not finish high school.

► Rural non-farmers have the biggest drop-out rate—33%.

► 62.2% of job applicants have less than a high school education.

► There will be an anticipated 58% increase in the labor force under 25 years by 1970.

HE STATED that a vocational education facility would provide an opportunity for trade training. The survey was conducted to determine the extent of need of such a facility in this area.

In 1963, the Federal government passed the Vocational Education Act, which allotted states funds to expand or build new facilities.

Fifty percent of all expenses would be paid by the government.

Michigan has been alloted $3 million this year with seven facilities in the state receiving funds.

Mr. Comstock said that by the last of July the committee should know the decision of the state reviewing board regarding prospects here for such a facility and if favorable it will be sent to the Federal reviewing board.

Thirty-four other surveys of this nature are also being conducted at this time.

THE LANSING REPORT FROM senator GIL BURSLEY

The 1966 Legislature is just barely finishing its work before the end of the fiscal year.

This Legislature has done much that is good, but it is nonetheless open to some just criticism.

Repeated failure to meet deadlines is indicative of a lack of organization and leadership. Originally the session was supposed to recess April 15. Subsequent dates have been June 3, 10, 22, 23, 24 and 29.

There has been a lack of communication between the House and Senate. Legislation passed by one body would be rejected in its entirety by the other and substitute legislation offered. This confused even the Capitol press corps and that's going some.

THERE HAS been a record tendency to "legislate by conference committee".

By this I mean that disagreements on legislation between the House and Senate were sometimes deliberately engineered by the majority party leadership in order to throw the bill into a conference committee where four legislators out of 148 could write a bill that would be offered on a take it or leave it basis.

The Senate also continued this year its practice of discussing a bill in committee of the whole and then having a final vote on it a few minutes or hours later the same day. This would be done by suspending the rules.

More responsible legislation can be attained by handling these legislative processes on different days which was the intent of the legislative rule-makers.

The House follows this practice and it is better than in the Senate.

IN THE FISCAL area the Legislature has shown responsibility. The General Fund budget is ending up at about $975 million down over $50 from projected spending a few weeks ago. The budget exceeds by about $3 million the governor's proposals, but revenue exceeded the governor's estimate by some $20 million. So we still end up the year in the black and with a surplus to take into the next fiscal year.

The Legislature received a lot of criticism over its efforts to obtain a pay raise. I voted against the pay raise that has just been passed because I believe the Legislature should take steps to improve itself before considering the pay question.

These other actions could include a meaningful bill on conflict of interest for public officials, lobbying regulations, an ethics committee and improved legislative procedures and staff support.

IT WAS MY feeling that premature action on a pay raise would remove the incentive to take these steps. You might eat the frosting off the cake and then not want to eat the cake itself.

The pay raise was pushed and promoted by the Democratic Party, but a few Republican senators and representatives voted for it. I was one of seven Republican senators voting against.

Quartermaster Second Class Fred R. Hartwig, Jr., USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred R. Hartwig, Sr., is serving aboard the Auxiliary ocean tug USS Tillamook, which provided towing target services in waters off Manila Bay during the training phase of SEATO (South East Asia Treaty Organization) exercise "Sea Imp". Warships from Australia, Great Britain, New Zealand, Republic of the Philippines and the United States left Manila Bay May 25 to participate in the 30th SEATO exercise since the Mutual Alliance Organization was formed in 1954. More than 40 warships took part in the exercise.

Methodists Plan Picnic for July 31

MACON — The annual Macon Methodist Church picnic will be July 31 in the Britton Park with dinner at 1:30 p.m., it was decided at the meeting of the Church Board of Education.

The Board will meet the second Monday of each month at 8 p.m. with the Commission on Mission meeting preceding at 7 p.m.

Ranks May Swell to 1,000

(Editor's Note: This is the second in a series of articles by Mike Fero, a former Tecumseh resident who is now in the Peace Corps. Fero is stationed in Varzea Algegre, South America. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Barnard Fero, are living in Cordoba, Argentina, in South America.)

By MIKE FERO

VARZEA ALGEGRE, Brazil—Right now there are 56 Peace Corps Volunteers working here, soon to be raised to 86.

I saw some five-year projection figures during conference for Peace Corps Brazil. It is projected for 1,000 Volunteers by the end of this year. Currently there are about 600.

However, by October, almost every group here will have terminated and left. As a matter of fact, my group will then become the oldest group in terms of service in Brazil.

In view of this, there are about five or six training programs scheduled for this spring and summer.

By 1970, it is projected for 2,800 Volunteers to be working in this country — a figure that I feel is unattainable and unrealistic.

Perhaps a capsule summary of a day in my life as a Peace Corps Volunteer would be interesting to you.

I sleep in a hammock so the first chore is to force myself to get out of it about 6 a.m.

Then, because I'm living in a pension-type hotel, the next duty is to take down my mosquito netting and hammock — called a "Rede".

Next chore is to walk out back to the bathroom which is nothing more than what we refer to as an "outhouse". After that, I draw a basin of water and begin the daily shaving routine.

There is no such thing as hot water from taps in this part of the country, so I have to shave in cold water. That took some adjusting, I can assure you.

More often than not, I emerge nicked and scraped.

I could use an electric razor but for two things: I didn't bring one with me, and the electricity usually doesn't come on until noon.

By this time it is 7 a.m. and time for "cafe de manha" — or breakfast.

This consists of a cup of hot chocolate (milk being unpasteurized, it must be boiled twice), a piece of bread, sometimes a fried egg and a cup of good, strong Brazilian coffee.

After a year and several weeks here in Varzea Algegre, my coffee drinking habits are an amazement to the people. It never fails that I draw a crowd to watch me drink my coffee.

Here the custom is to drink a medium-sized cup of half milk, half coffee, spiced with a great quantity of sugar.

What amazes them is that I drink a large cup of coffee (sometimes two or three cups) without milk and without sugar.

After breakfast, I have to hurry over to the junior high school for my morning English class with the fourth year.

They are in their second year of studying English so we study such things as the words for color, number, objects and simple verb tenses.

We don't have a decent book to study from so everything must be written out on the blackboard.

There are only 11 students this year so we are able to have a lot of group discussion, exercises, sessions with the tape recorder and lots of verb practice on the board.

They enjoy this diversity immensely because the accepted method of teaching here is still dictation and memorization.

After class, I am always kept for another hour answering questions about the United States and the American people in general.

These people, and particularly the younger ones, never tire of hearing about our nation.

I return to the hotel by way of several homes where I try to visit student's parents to chat about school, etc.

The rest of the morning is taken preparing the afternoon lessons in the two primary schools.

This usually brings me to lunch.

Lunch at noon consists of a plate of boiled spaghetti covered with boiled rice, fried eggs, black beans called "feijao," all of which is sprinkled with mandioc flour, grated cheese or an occasional green tomato or pepper.

There is no variance in diet here, so I never have to worry about what I want to eat.

7 Hikers Reunite To See Old Films of Past Travels

A reunion of hikers of 25 years ago was held at the River Acres home of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Cornell over the weekend.

Seven guests from Shreveport, La., Independence, Ohio and Detroit gathered to reminisce and see pictures of their Wilderness Trail trips in Montana taken years ago.

The group had not been together in the intervening time and the weekend was filled with activity including worship at the Methodist Church on Sunday, watching sky divers, visiting the Detroit Zoo and Belle Isle and having luncheon in Windsor, Canada.

They toured the Irish Hills.

VFW Nine Takes Three

● VFW 11, G&J WOOD 10

Things started easy for VFW in its 11-10 win over G&J.

There were eight runs in the first frame but then the Woodsmen started getting tough.

A wild pitch in the fifth permitted Jim Curtis to score and that proved the difference.

Tom Aiuto's three singles in four bats paced VFW, with Jack Greenfield adding a home run and single.

Lamar Rufner was the winning pitcher, taking over for Rick Calzada in the second inning and striking out nine.

Mike Cote was charged with the loss.

● VFW 8, TPW 7

A walk and two straight throwing errors allowed Lamar Rufner to get across the plate and give VFW an 8-7 decision over Products Workers.

Rufner was the winning hurler [illegible] strike outs.

Mike Kennedy of TPW was the only player to get more than one hit, having a pair of singles.

TPW had one double killing and VFW got two.

Butch Quinn, the losing pitcher, and Dave Ward shared mound duties and between them set down 10 on strikes.

● VFW 6, G&J 1

Bob Reed of G&J blew third strikes past 17 VFW batters, but still lost 6-1.

His mates could muster only four hits and one run off Rick Calzada, who fanned seven.

A double play aided Rick's cause when shortstop Scott Dalton caught a pop-up, then threw to Rich Schyler at first, nipping a runner there.

Dalton had two singles and Jack Greenfield smashed out a triple and single for the winners.

Luckless Bob Reed had a triple and a single.

John Wall's double in the third inning scored what proved to be the winning marker.

● EAGLES 8, INDIANS 0

Allowing one hit and striking out 11, Mike Matteson of the Eagles tossed an 8-0 shut-out at the Indians.

He also had two hits as did his mates John Roberts, Bill Puffer and Gerald Girbach.

Mike Hetrick took the loss, being relieved by Rod Taylor in the fifth frame.

"Mattison in allowing only one hit, was also credited with three put-outs," noted Jack Puffer, Eagles mentor.

● BRITON 5, G&J 0

An unassisted double play helped as Britton took G&J, 5-0.

First baseman Mark Vallie turned the trick when he caught a fly and doubled off a Woodsman.

"It stopped a threat," explained the scorer, Mrs. Neal Judkins, "as the next two men got hits but did not score."

Jim Lister with a home run, Vallie with a triple and Gary Judkins a double led the Britton attack.

Ken Pieh of G&J went 2-for-3.

Tim McVay was the losing pitcher.

● BRITTON 2, TPW 1

Rick Maska bested Butch Quinn in a pitching battle when Britton eased past Products Workers, 2-1.

Rick struck out nine and Butch eight.

At the plate, Quinn led all batters with 2-for-3.

● EAGLES 20, INDIANS 4

Bill Puffer had a hot hand as the Eagles defeated the Indians, 20-4.

Facing 29 batters in seven innings, Bill fanned 17 and gave up two hits.

At the plate, Mike Mattison of the Eagles hammered a home run and three singles. Alex Gibson and Marv Maynard each contributed a double and single. Puffer chipped in with a pair of one-ply blows.

Harold Jeffries was the losing hurler, striking out six.

The special event for this week will be decorating bikes for the 4th of July. Next week will be the checker tournament.

HERRICK PARK

Last week was Physical Fitness Week for all playgrounds. At this particular playground, the week started out with everyone doing exercises and ended on Friday with a track meet in which there were two events.

These events were the 660 yard run and the shot put.

In the 660 yard run, first place was taken by Grac Graf, second place by Jack VanRiper and third place by Ike Smith.

In the shot put, first place was taken by Jack VanRiper, second place by Grac Graf and third place by Jeff Langham.

Fifteen boys and girls took part in the track meet.

The kids at Herrick Park would like to thank Mrs. Hunter, who furnished kool-ade last week.

TECUMSEH ACRES

The children enjoyed crafts, checker and bingo. All playgrounds enjoyed new equipment which was equally distributed among each.

On Friday, 15 children enjoyed a picnic at Tecumseh Acres which is held every Friday at each playground.

SHADY LANE

This playground concentrated on games and sports. Checkers, softball, croquet and pick-up sticks were all enjoyed. Because of no shelter, this playground becomes very hot causing less children to attend.

PATTERSON

The children competed in exercise tournaments. The three main exercises were windmills, jumping jacks and toe touches.

In windmills, first place was taken by Chris Stanifer with 250 and second place by Randy Macham with 200.

In jumping jacks, first was taken by Lana Stanifer with 200.

In toe touches, first was also taken by Chris Stanifer with 301 and second by Randy Macham with 300.

GIRLS JUNIOR SOFTBALL

"Charlie Brown's All-Stars" was the first team knocked down by "Manwaring's Duds". Going into the final fourth inning, the All-Stars held a 16-7 lead.

Feeling too confident, the All-Stars lost the game with a 17-16 score by walking 10 "Dud" batters.

The leading hitter for the "Duds" was Chris Koeplin with a three-run homer and a single.

Jan Felton was the winning pitcher with an assist from Darlene Smith and Mary Jo Nykodym. The losing pitcher was Nancy Hamilton.

GIRLS PEEWEE SOFTBALL

The "Minniehoho's" overran the "Minniehaha's" on a sweating Tuesday afternoon by a score of 18-5. Michelle Tate and Teri Fetty were the leading batters.

Julie Murphy, a shortstop, caught a line drive and threw to second for a double play and six-year-old Nena Murphy was three-for-three at bat.

MOM'S SOFTBALL

About ten Moms came out at our last game.

Dee Coulson, Gloria Barrett and Sharleen Williams made spectacular catches.

Come on Moms, let's get out and play some softball every Wednesday night at 6:30 at the Herrick Park Softball diamond.

TENNIS TOURNEY

Everyone interested in playing in the tennis tournament is to sign up at the City Hall.

Entry deadline is Tuesday.

● TIGERS 19, GIANTS 18

An 11-run rally after two were out in the last inning helped the Tigers top the Giants, 19-18.

John Getz scampered over with the winning marker when a Giant hurler uncorked a wild pitch.

Getz, Mark Withrow and Joe Burns hurled for the Tigers with Mike Feight and Paul Lemanski doing the catching.

Working on the hill for the losers were Kent Jacoby, Dave McLaughlin and Dean Forsyth. Jim Martin was behind the bat.

● BRAVES 28, CUBS 8

Sam Racey got the Braves first home run of the year as they marched past the Cubs, 28-8.

Other Brave hitting stars were Arlon Bozeman, 3-for-5, and Rodney and Kenny Cole, both 2-for-2.

Rodney teamed with Jeff Berry as the winning battery, while Gordon Whelan and Doug Rappin went for the Cubs.

GIANTS 2, BRAVES 1

A throwing error allowed David McLoughlin to tally the winning marker as the Giants beat the Braves, 2-1.

James Sessoms, who allowed one hit and fanned 10, went the routs to post the win with Jim Martin as his catcher.

Rodney Cole came to the relief of Sam Racey of the Braves in the first inning after the two runs had been scored, finishing the game without allowing a safe blow.

Giant manager Harry Stanifer reported the game to be a fine pitcher's battle.

Interlochen Music Camp Starts Series

Popular works by Tschaikowsky and Wagner will highlight the first weekend of concerts as the National Music Camp kicks off its 39th season.

The first in a series of eight Sunday night Symphony Under the Stars concerts will be held at 8 p.m. in the rustic Interlochen Bowl.

Dr. George C. Wilson, vice president and director of the National Music Camp, will conduct the 300-player combined high school orchestras.

CUB LEAGUE MAJORS

Exchange Wins Five Straight

● KIWANIS 7, CREDIT 6

Kiwanis needed one extra inning to take Credit Union, 7-6.

Pitcher Albert Flores won his own game by singling home Tom Prichard in the seventh frame.

James Freshcorn hurled the first five and one-third innings, giving way to Flores.

Craig Brown went the initial six innings for Credit Union and that's the limit a youngster can work on the mound. Bobby Beevers took over the hill chores and was charged with the defeat.

LENAWEE 1, JAYCEES 0

With one out in the bottom half of the sixth inning, Mark King of Lenawee Fuels doubled, then scored when Rick Bunch also doubled giving their team a 1-0 decision over the Jaycees.

This gave Steve Camfield the win, as he allowed a lone hit, a double by Steve Kampmuller.

JC hurler Steve Hollenbeck also hurled an outstanding game, giving up but two blows, the last-inning doubles.

"Both pitchers had no-hitters going into the sixth inning," Herb Camfield, Lenawee Fuels manager, said.

"The Jaycees stopped scoring threats in the second, third and fourth innings by turning hard-hit balls into well-executed double plays," the pilot added in his report of the game.

UNION 8, KIWANIS 3

Brian DesErmia and Mike Murphy formed the winning battery as Union edged Kiwanis, 8-3.

Gregg Hoffman was the game's standout at the plate with two hits, including a home run while two mates were on base.

"They all played heads-up ball," Union manager Duane Murphy noted after the game.

● EXCHANGE 6, JAYCEES 1

Racking up its fifth straight victory, Exchange stepped past Jaycees, 6-1.

Tony Lisenbee and Craig Smith shared the mound duties, striking out 13 between them.

Craig took over in the bottom of the third with the Jaycees leading, 1-0, and the bases loaded, promptly setting the side down on strikes.

Craig had a home run to tie the score, then added a double to drive in two more runs.

In the season's opener, Craig hurled a no-hitter as Exchange stopped Union, 8-0. In that one he fanned 17 out of 19 batters.

Tony had a four-hitter when the club topped Lenawee Fuels, 6-0, in a "fine team effort," reports manager Buck Smith.

In the 3-0 victory over Credit Union, Tony hit a home run and Craig allowed but one hit, a single by Craig Brown.

● ROTARY 16, POLICE 4

A nine-run rally in the second inning eased Rotary past Police, 16-4.

Scott Durkee came in with what was the winning run on a double by Dan Gunder, who got a trio of two-ply blows in four trips to the plate.

Durkee, Gary Alcock and Vern Bennett of Rotary, all had two hits.

"Vern made several outstanding plays at shortstop to stave-off Police rallies in late innings," stated his manager, Melvin Murphy.

● ROTARY 2, JAYCEES 0

Dan Gunder stole home in the fourth inning to break up a pitcher's duel and start Rotary on its way to a 2-0 victory over the Jaycees.

John Merz drove in Gary Alcock with a timely single for an insurance marker.

Rotary's Vern Bennett hurled almost flawless ball, giving up one hit, a single by Tom Huber, and setting down 13 on strikes.

David Gurtzweiler, JC moundsman was almost as stingy with the base knocks, giving up just three and striking out 11.

● KIWANIS 6, POLICE 5

Albert Flores got 11 strikeouts as his Kiwanis crew nipped Police, 6-5.

His mound opponent, Glen Poskey, fanned six.

Wow, they'll soon need a new home plate for the Tipton diamond if Ruhl's Citgo plays there much more.

In winning a twin bill from Kemp-Murphy Sunday, Citgo piled up 21-16 and 40-4 margins.

That's 61 stomps on the poor platter.

On the Tecumseh diamond Sunday, A&W-Bailey took a pair from Police, but by more civilized scores, 10-3 and 14-9.

Saturday evening, Corrugated Box whizzed by Bob and Roger's Bar, 21-5.

TWINS 28, DODGERS 8

Al Schafer hit a homer with two on as the Twins topped the Dodgers, 28-8.

Jim Yoder also was a hitting star for the Twins.

Kris Egglescton and Pat Murphy shared the pitching duties with Ross Fisher behind the bat.

Twin manager R. T. Lovett says that Ross is fast developing into one of the league's best catchers.

BRAVES 10, INDIANS 0

Rodney Cole led off with a single and then Kenny Cole blasted a home run as the Braves took the Indians, 10-0.

"That was all the Braves needed to win the game," said Mrs. Betty Locker, scorekeeper and wife of the manager, Clyde Locker.

But Brave batters kept right on blasting away. Three of them, the two Cole brothers and Shawn Dalton, all had 3-for-4 at the plate.

Jeff Berry posted 13 strikeouts as winning pitcher while limiting the Indians to two hits.

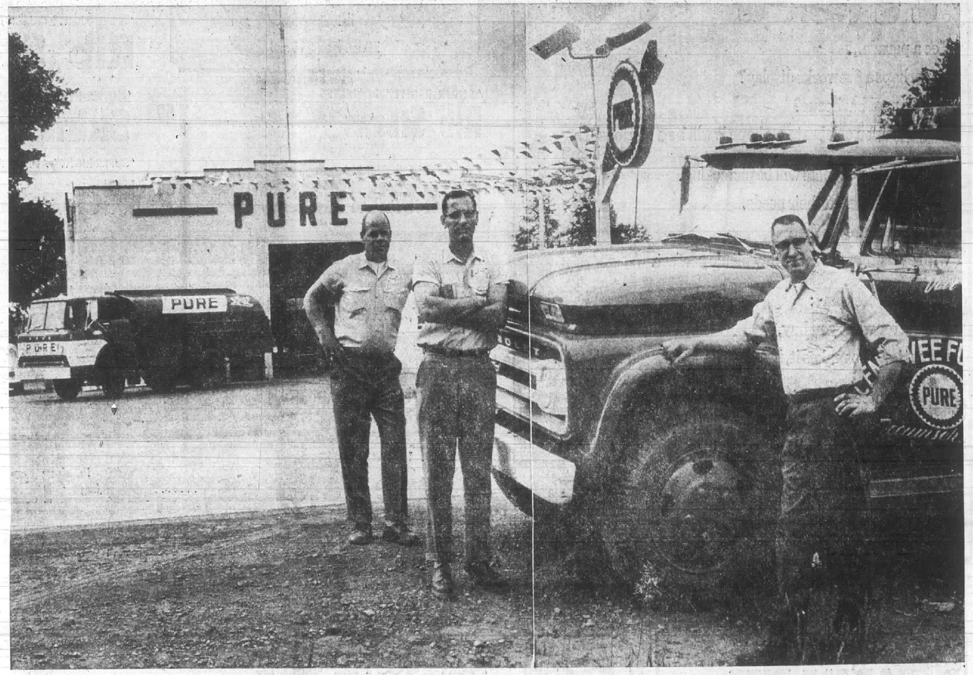
"OUR 1st ANNIVERSARY"

It was just one year ago on July 1, 1965, that we incorporated and started a new business. As far as the large, company-owned distributors are concerned, we're still only a youngster — in age only, however. It's our first birthday and we're proud of it, proud enough to let you and everyone else know about it.

THANK YOU

Just a year ago we started a venture, one which we had confidence in, but still uncertain as to business, growth and prosperity. Although both of us were veterans and experienced in petroleum products, a new and unestablished business certainly has its drawbacks and question marks. Thanks to you — in and around Tecumseh, Clinton, Britton, Adrian, Tipton, Manchester and the lake area — for solving many of our problems and answering our questions. Business has been wonderful and your patronage, whether an old customer or a new one, is sincerely appreciated. Your faith in our service and the fact that we could provide you with the finest petroleum products gave us the confidence that Lenawee Fuels could, and would, be one of the largest distributors in this area. You, our customers, made this possible — and for this we're very, very appreciative. Although our first year laurels are over, we're not resting. We will strive to continue to provide you with the finest Pure Oil products and the finest delivery service — all from Lenawee Fuels, Inc.



DURING THE FIRST YEAR, SEVERAL SERVICE STATIONS SWITCHED COMPANIES TO JOIN LENAWEE FUELS. ONE OF THEM WAS LEE PURKEY & SONS GARAGE ON WEST CHICAGO BOULEVARD IN TECUMSEH. OTHER STATIONS DEPENDING ON LENAWEE FUELS ARE O & M SERVICE IN BRITTON; COUNTRY MARKET, CORNER OF RUSSELL RD. AND OCCIDENTAL; AUTO MIST CAR WASH, W. CHICAGO BLVD.; AND HORN'S PURE OIL SERVICE, ADRIAN. DAVE FALING AND DON PURKEY, OWNERS OF LENAWEE FUELS, ARE SHOWN HERE WITH DICK PURKEY, OPERATOR OF PURKEY'S GARAGE.

Long and Short

By TOM RIORDAN

Can you add the seventh line to this corny little jingle?

WITHIN THIS VALE
OF TOIL
AND SIN
YOUR HEAD GROWS BALD
BUT NOT YOUR CHIN
????-????

If you couldn't get that one, try another model:

HE HAD THE RING
HE HAD THE FLAT
BUT SHE FELT HIS CHIN
AND THAT WAS THAT
????-????

Have you made a connection? For those with short memories, one more try and that's it:

THESE SIGNS ARE NOT FOR LAUGHS ALONE
THE FACE THEY SAVE
MAY BE YOUR OWN
????-????

In each case, the final line is the same — Burma-Shave.

These and about 600 other similar verses of wry humor dotted the edges of roadways all across the United States, from the mid-1920's until 1963.

In its heyday, the sign idea proved to be among the best-loved and most successful advertising gimmicks of this century.

American motorists, putting on Seven League boots and making unheard-of 100- and 200-mile trips in the '20's and '30's, eagerly watched for the intriguing sets of signs, exhorting men to shave the brushless way.

How well they succeeded is explained by the fact that at Burma-Shave's peak years, more than 7 million men were using the product.

The signs weren't oriented strictly to selling. Much emphasis was placed on driving safety, with many going like this:

SPEED WAS HIGH
WEATHER WAS HOT
TIRES WERE THIN
X MARKS THE SPOT

Here's another neat one:

TWINKLE, TWINKLE
ONE-EYED CAR
WE ALL WONDER WHERE YOU ARE

With Pearl Harbor, B-S went to war:

SHAVING BRUSH
IN ARMY PACK
WAS STRAW THAT BROKE
THE ROOKIE'S BACK
USE BRUSHLESS

All these memories from a tiny book, "Verse by the Side of the Road," put together by Frank Rowsome, Jr.

In a way, the brushless shave cream evolved from a liniment concocted by a Minneapolis attorney. His son, Clinton Odell, tried to market it as burn ointment after an aunt had jammed her hand into a vat of the stuff following an accident. The liniment was soothing.

But sales were few. A tube of gooey brushless shave cream from England turned up and the family — sons Leonard and Allan — with the help of a chemist, conjured up one they could manufacture.

It took something over 300 formulations before the group hit — with No. 143, which had been left on the shelf for several months when someone off-handedly pulled it down and shaved with it.

ALLAN HIT the road, trying to market their new product. Sales were few.

Earn-a-Bike Drive Opens This Week

Sixth annual Tecumseh Herald Earn-A-Bike or Transistor Radio circulation campaign begins this week.

By selling 15 new subscriptions to The Herald, a youngster will be given a $50 full-size bicycle. Ten new stops are good for a transistor.

Last summer, area junior salesmen turned in 480 new subscriptions as 22 earned bikes and two took transistors. If the kids don't have enough sales for a top prize, they are paid $1 for each new subscription and 25c for renewals. In this way, $153 was given in commissions in the '65 drive.

ONLY WAY TO GO — As the mercury hit three figures Sunday, one gal had the answer. Christa Lynn Goodacre, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chuck Goodacre, 721 Seneca St., took the plunge in her swim pool, sans suit. Not so fortunate were Gloria Sanchez and Estaella Herrera, who eyed the thermometer on the United Savings Bank as it gave the ominous report.

Football Lights May Be Up By Autumn

If plans progress as anticipated, bids will be let within the next few days for installation of new lights for the Tecumseh High School athletic field. An appropriation of $5,000 for the new football lights by the School Board Tuesday night cleared most of the remaining obstacles. Construction could be started in two weeks.

Dr. Robert Laidlaw, local dentist who has spearheaded the drive along with the Jaycees, told board members that sufficient progress had been made and hopes were high for new lights by this fall.

Total lighting cost is an estimated $20,000.

Industrial Electric Co. of Adrian has been working with Consumers Power Co. on the plans and expects to submit a bid within a week.

Tecumseh's present football lighting is the poorest in the Huron League — probably in southern Michigan. Maintenance of the lights has been a problem for several years as Consumers forbids any of its employees to climb the present poles.

The proposed lighting — quartz lights on wood poles — will be the brightest in intensity in this area, even better than the new Adrian College lights.

Although the School Board informally approved a $5,000 appropriation last fall, not all board members were in favor Monday night.

Dr. Harold Ocamb questioned the expenditure, recalling that the board did not have sufficient monies just two weeks ago for some educational facilities.

Both he and Dr. Donald Phelan voted against the appropriation, while William Brown, Mrs. Catherine Cobb, Fred Freeman and Orville Bishop voted for it.

THE BOARD re-elected three of its four officers at the annual organizational meeting Tuesday night.

Aden Mead was returned as president, William Brown as vice-president and Orville Bishop, secretary.

Dr. Fred Freeman was selected as the new treasurer, succeeding Robert H. Moore, who did not seek re-election

Flying Pop Bottle Shatters Window, Injuring Family

A flying pop bottle shattered the windshield of a car driven by Clifford C. Bigley, 34, of Minneapolis, Minn., injuring the driver and his family, Irene Bigley, 35, and Kim, 7, and Pamela, 11.

All four were treated for cuts on the face and arms at Herrick Memorial Hospital.

The mishap occurred on Pentecost Hwy., south of Pawson Rd., at 10:15 p.m. Bigley told Clinton State Police he thought the bottle was thrown from a passing car.

City Blasted on New Code

City officials came under heavy criticism Tuesday night at the public hearing for adoption of a new subdivision regulation ordinance.

Dr. Robert Laidlaw, who owns nearly three acres along Evans Creek, leveled the blast.

Dr. Laidlaw had been refused permission to build on his land. New regulations call for a public right of way to property before construction can start.

James McDowell, superintendent of schools and a resident in the same area, has similar problems with the city and is taking his case to the Board of Appeals.

In a prepared statement, Dr. Laidlaw asked officials numerous questions about the regulations, wondering if they felt justified in restricting development of small areas.

He told officials more construction is going up in Tecumseh and Raisin Townships than Tecumseh and wondered why.

He cited the poor public relations from the city engineer's office and troubles encountered by city officials, builders and real estate firms.

Council, along with the city's planning consultant, discussed the ordinances with Dr. Laidlaw and then adopted the subdivision ordinance.

A letter supporting the new ordinance from Dean Cunningham was read.

Arrangement Class Starts

The Little Garden Club will sponsor a workshop in line flower arrangement instructed by John Kukini Prible of Kukini Flowers, Clinton, Tuesday at 8:30 p.m. in the Community Center.

He has a degree in landscape architecture from Michigan State University.

All participants in the workshop will make an arrangement from material Mr. Prible will provide. Each member of the club will bring a line arrangement for Mr. Prible to evaluate before the workshop participants.

Top Athletes Show 'How'

BRITTON — Ray Vershum and Larry Ash returned home Saturday night after attending a weekend conference, "Letterman's Days," at Grace College in Winona Lake, Ill.

Coach Lee Pfund of Wheaton College was coordinator of activities.

About 100 high school athletes attended the camp, where they met star athletes Bill Glass, Clyde Lee and Cazzie Russell.

These men gave demonstrations on their sports.

The boys had an opportunity to learn the playing habits of these outstanding athletes and learned that a living personal faith makes them great athletes.

The men also conducted a question-and-answer session. The weekend was concluded with a banquet on Saturday night.

The conference was sponsored by Youth for Christ International.

Long & Short

While rolling down the road between Aurora and Joliet, Ill., Allan idly read a set of small serial signs, hawking a service station — Gas, Oil, Restrooms and eight or nine more, finally an arrow pointing to the place.

An idea popped. There was at first reluctant agreement to start a Burma-Shave sign campaign. The brothers fashioned a dozen sets, "Shave the modern way/ Fine for the skin/Druggists have it/Burma Shave."

Leonard recalled, "We put them on two roads out of Minneapolis. By the start of the year we were getting the first repeat orders we'd ever had in the history of the company—all from druggists serving people who traveled on those roads."

"As he watched those repeat orders rolling in, dad began to feel that maybe the boys were thinking all right, after all. He called us in and said, 'Allan I believe you've got a real idea here. It's tremendous. The only trouble is, we're broke.'

"With this, Dad did one of the greatest sales jobs I've ever heard of. He had a busted company, he had a product that most people had never heard of, much less believed in and he had an advertising idea that ad men said wouldn't work.

"With these three things going for him, he incorporated and then went out and sold 49% of the stock in less than three weeks."

THE FIRST sign shop was set up in 1926.

"Using slogans and selling lines that Dad and Al thought up, we made a pile of silk-screen signs that weren't quite as crude as those first stenciled ones.

"Al went out ahead and bought the locations and I came along behind and dug the holes and tamped in the posts. Boy, did I learn this business starting from three feet underground."

The signs were funny. Humor in advertising was practically unheard of and the motorists loved those kookie jingles.

During the bitterly cold Minneapolis winters, the sign shop buzzed as new models were prepared.

In February and March, crews fanned out into the southern states and began the job of digging post holes—exactly three-feet deep — and planting new signs. They worked north through the summer months.

Almost exclusively located on farms, the spots were rented for from $5 to $25.

In next week's episode, I'll tell about the enterprising fellow who won a fabulous trip from Burma-shave by taking the company up on a tongue-in-cheek offer made in this one zany set:

Mrs. Dale Mitchell was the soloist accompanied by Mrs. James Frye.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of Chantilly lace and net over acetate taffeta. Seed pearls and French sequins enhanced the neckline and she wore a single strand of pearls, the gift of the groom.

Her silk bridal veil was secured to a handmade crown of lace trimmed with crystals and simulated pearls.

She carried a lace covered Bible topped with a white orchid.

They will make their home in Palmyra.

Accidents Few Over Weekend, Thank Heavens

Tecumseh enjoyed a quiet July 4th weekend with local police investigating only three accidents.

A resume is:

June 29 — Douglas C. Cook, 16, Clinton, was cited for failure to yield the right of way after an accident at W. Kilbuck St. and S. Union with Gordon D. Barth, 26, of 900 Murray Dr.

July 1 — Ralph G. Alban, 66, Clinton, was cited for failure to yield right of way after a mishap with Bonnie Sue Brown, 18, Toledo. The accident occurred on E. Chicago Blvd., at Ottawa St.

Board Approves Pickup Purchase

Purchase of a new Chevrolet pickup from Schneider Chevrolet-Buick was approved Tuesday night by Council.

Schneider's bid of $1,584.60, including a trade-in, was below Tecumseh Motor's bid of $1,616.

Contract Approval Gets Compromise As Resulting Act

A two-hour review of a master contract with the Tecumseh Teachers Association by the School Board Tuesday night finally resulted in a compromise between the board and teachers.

Approval of the contract was given, subject to negotiation of proposed changes.

Teachers present — Don Berkley, Harrison Gonzer, Frank Graham and Mrs. Doris Jones — wrangled with school officials over changes of the contract. Their attorney had prepared the contract.

Supt. James McDowell pointed out to the teachers that the contract had to be reviewed by school attorneys in Lansing and changes discussed were recommended by the Lansing lawyers.

Drivers Injured As Car and Cycle Meet at Dead-End

Both drivers were injured when a car and motorcycle tangled at the dead-end intersection of Monagan and Pawson Rds., Sunday at 8:40 p.m.

Smith Hurls 2nd No Hitter

● EXCHANGE 4, ROTARY 0

Craig Smith hurled his second no-hit game of the season as Exchange topped Rotary, 4-0.

Striking out 13, Craig didn't allow anyone to reach first base.

Smith's double sent Greg Burns across the plate with the first Exchange run, all that was needed.

Joe Starkey caught the no-hitter and made two alert defensive moves in front of the plate, grabbing swinging bunts and throwing out the runners.

Burns and Tony Lisenbee both were 2-for-3.

This gives Exchange a 7-0 record so far this year.

———o———

● EXCHANGE 7, KIWANIS 3

Tom Burns stole home on a passed ball to break a tie and spark Exchange past Kiwanis, 7-3.

Tom Decker collected 3-for-3 to grab batting honors for Exchange.

Ten strike outs were notched by winning hurler Tony Lisenbee and Albert Flores of Kiwanis got nine.

———o———

ROTARY 7, UNION 2

Dan Gunder struck out 15 Union men as Rotary won a 7-2 victory.

Rotary catcher Scott Durkee scored on his teammate Gary Alcock's single.

Ron Randall of Union made several outstanding plays at second base to stave-off Rotary rallies, said Union manager Mel Murphy.

Union singles were made by Mike Muphy and Jack Van Ripper. The losing battery was pitcher Dave Ryan and catcher Mike Murphy.

Gary Alcock hit two singles for Rotary and Vern Bennett and Dan Gunder each hit a single.

John Merz hit a double for Rotary.

Junior Golf Is Being Promoted at Country Club

A program to promote golf activities for Junior members, 10 years old and up has been started at the Tecumseh Country Club.

Each Tuesday morning at 9 a.m., a competition round will be held to stimulate interest and establish scores for handicaps so that flights may be set up by Aug. 1.

Scores for any other rounds played should be turned into a box marked "Junior Golfers Scores" in the Pro Shop according to the committee made up by Art Geisenhaver, chairman, Austin Miller, Robert Hoekstra, Val Spangler, Len Purdy, Mike Hill and Bill Peterson.

August 1 flights will be set based on handicap and an elimination tournament will be started.

Finals of the Junior Flight Matches will be held on the same day as the regular flight matches. The finals will be 18-hole events.

Five scores (18 holes) or an equivalent of nine hole scores will be necessary to establish handicaps.

Boys and girls each will have their own flights.

Inter Club and district associations activities and competitions are being investigated.

For boys and girls who have never played, group instructions will be available from Mike Hill.

It will be up to the discretion of the Pro when the Juniors are ready to play the course.

Sudden-Death Win Gives Mrs. Kelso the Smith Trophy

In a sudden-death playoff, Mrs. Hal Kelso defeated Mrs. Bill Hanna to win the annual Tecumseh Country Club Frank Smith Trophy Monday.

At the end of nine holes, the pair were tied at 45.

The men's 18-hole Smith tournament was washed out before the field had gotten around the first nine.

NEW PRO IS SLAMMER — Tecumseh Country Club has a new golf professional, Mike Hill of Jackson, who has already posted a 65 at the par-72 layout. A graduate of Jackson's St. Mary's, Mike attended Arizona State University and became a member of the Professional Golfers Association two years ago. He has been affiliated with Deer Run Golf Club at Jackson. This fall he plans to attend the PGA Approved Players School in Florida, hoping to qualify for circuit play, thus joining his brother, Dave, who has been performing in PGA tournaments for nine summers. Dave currently ranks as 26th money-winner on the PGA tour.

Tigers Win Seventh

● TIGERS 28, RED SOX 3

Dale Beagle's six hits in six trips to the plate led the barrage as the Tigers dumped the Red Sox; 28-3.

It was their sixth straight victory.

Tigers Mike Feight and Mike Randolph both went 3-for-3, reports their manager Don Withrow.

John Getz and Randy Butler shared pitching duties and struck out 10. Losing hurler Greg Williams posted five strikeouts.

———o———

● BRAVES 8, TWINS 7

Darrell Bozeman, Jeff Berry and Shawn Dalton were heroes as the Braves edged the Twins, 8-7.

Left fielder Bozeman scored the deciding run after being hit by one of Pat Murphy's pitches, then advancing all the way around on steals and a wild pitch.

Berry pitched a one-hitter, fanning the final two Twins in a thrill-packed inning, which started with Murphy's long fly being hauled in with a dashing catch by center fielder Dalton.

Braves catcher Rodney Cole led the hitters with 2-for-4.

———o———

● BRAVES 19, RED SOX 3

Jeff Berry spun a one-hitter as the Braves breezed by the Red Sox, 19-3.

All Jeff needed was a big first inning rally which produced five runs.

Rodney Cole singled, Berry doubled and Arlon Bozeman walked to load the bases. Sam Racey promptly tripled, then scored on a single by Kevin Osburn.

Racey was 5-for-5, Kenny Cole 4-for5 and Berry 3-for4.

Greg Williams and Mark Cheevers were the losing battery.

———o———

● GIANTS 17, TWINS 5

Jim Sessoms, Dale Clark, Jim Martin and David McLoughlin were the hitting stars as the Giants took the Twins, 17-5.

The Twins were limited to two safe hits by Jim Sessoms, while his mound opponent, Chris Eggleston struck out 11 and gave up eight base knocks in a losing cause.

● TIGERS, 14, CUBS 6

Gary Agnew fanned 10 as he hurled the Tigers to their fifth straight win, besting the Cubs, 14-6.

Paul Lemanski and Mike Feight were behind the plate.

Gordon Whelan and Dave Williams pitched and John Burns and Ed Rapan caught for the Cubs, getting seven Tigers on strikes.

A home run and single were notched by John Getz, while Agnew and Dale Beagle also produced two hits for the Tigers.

———o———

● INDIANS 19, TWINS 4

Joe Mitchell banged out five hits and Richard Brooks had four as the Indians beat the Twins, 19-4.

The same two shared pitching duties, striking out nine between them, with Gary Barrett doing the catching.

Allen Shaffer was the losing hurler, being caught by Ross Fisher.

"Jim Yoder of the Twins made an outstanding catch of a fly ball at third base," Indian manager R. S. Rutherford said.

———o———

● GIANTS 27, DODGERS 7

Three walks and then hits by Jim Martin and James Sessoms in the second inning produced six runs and started the Giants on their 37-7 rout of the Dodgers.

Both Sessoms and Martin had four hits and made up the winning battery. Denny Kaechele had three.

VFW Holds Lead

● VFW 2, TPW 0

"A very well played ball game by both teams," is the way VFW manager K. Wise described his team's 2-0 win over Products Workers.

John Wall's single brought in Jim Curtis in the third frame and Chuck Albaugh drove in another in the fifth for all the scoring.

Other than that the tilt was a pitcher's duel — Lamar Rufner besting David Ward and Butch Quinn.

Rufner hurled a two-hitter and got 13 on strikes as his hill opponents nipped 12.

Ward and Tony Nykodym got TPW's two base knocks. Jack Greenfield had the third VFW blow.

———o———

● VFW 15, INDIANS 2

A bunt single in the second inning by Tom Aiuto scored John Wall and proved the winning marker as VFW rolled past the Indians, 15-2.

From then on VFW hitters rattled the ball to every field.

► Jack Greenfield had two triples and a double.
► Rick Calzada, triple and single.
► Wall, triple and single.
► Aiuto and Rich Schuyler, two singles each.
► Mike Morse, two doubles.

All this, while Schuyler was allowing but three base blows to the Indians and striking out 10. Mark Hettrick seemed the only Indian able to solve Rich's slants, nailing a triple and single.

VFW had a double play when Aiuto raced into the outfield from his second base post to snag Hank Hettrick's short fly, then threw to Calzada at first base to double off an Indian.

———o———

● TPW 11, INDIANS 7

A fast double play abruptly ended the game and all hopes for the Indians as they lost an 11-7 decision to Products Workers.

Butch Quinn earned the victory, coming on in relief of David Kelly, who moved to first. Both figured in the twin killing.

Quinn scooped up a grounder, fired to David Ward at second, who relayed the peg to Kelly at first, ending the game.

Ward and Kelly contributed two of TPW's seven hits. Jack Baker's double was the lone extra-base hit.

———o———

● EAGLES 5, G & J 3

A triple by Ken Humphries with the bases loaded proved the difference as the Eagles edged G&J Wood Products, 5-3.

Alex Gibson hurled a three-hitter and struck out 10, but he needed a brilliant defensive play by shortstop Martin Maynard to save the victory.

G&J had men on second and third in the bottom half of the seventh inning with two out.

Gibson got a 3-and-2 count on batter Tim Lasky, who then pickled the next pitch in what seemed a sure base knock.

Maynard scooped it up and threw out Lasky by one step to end the battle.

● EAGLES 4, BRITTON 1

Dave Vaillencourt singled home home Art Lewis to break up a tie and start the Eagles on a 4-1 decision over Britton.

Insurance runs came when Bill Puffer's sacrifice fly brought in Vaillencourt and then Gerald Girbach scored on a base hit by Alex Gibson.

Gibson was the game's batting star with two singles and a double.

Bill Puffer fanned 12 and allowed five hits.

"I can't remember seeing a game where there were no free passes to first base—no walks, no one hit bp pitcher," reported John Boldon, Eagles manager.

Two defensive gems were noted.

"In the sixth, Craig VanCamp came in from right under a full head of steam to rob Chuck Moore of a Texas leaguer.

"In the third, Pat Murphy fielded Moore's single and fired the ball home on a perfect throw to Girbach to cut down Mark Vallie at the plate," Mr. Boldon concluded his game summary.

Girls Take Britton

In recent action, the Tecumseh Senior Girls Softball Team has won one and lost two.

The first defeat was to Clinton with a score of 4-2. Ruth Auten was the winning pitcher, walking only one batter.

Jane Hause and Pam Sweet hit homers for Clinton and the Redskins committed no errors in the field.

Emily Manwaring hit two and five girls were thrown out at second base.

In the second game, Tecumseh lost 11-9 to Monroe, the team that was runner-up in the world tournament last year.

Tecumseh had a four run lead in the third but pitcher Beth O'Neil walked three straight in the fourth along with two singles.

Tecumseh again got four runs in the fifth, with Emily Manwaring hitting a home run, but Monroe caught up in the sixth and added two more runs in the seventh.

In the final inning, three singles were made but Tecumseh still lost 11-9.

The girls broke their four game losing streak Thursday by beating Britton 22-1.

The game was called in Tecumseh's half of the fifth inning according to a league rule that says the game may be called in the fifth if one team is 20 runs ahead.

Tecumseh opened with five hits in the second and added one run in the third.

Britton finally scored when Stephanie McMann walked and then stole around base, coming in on a bad throw.

Officials then called the game.

Adrian Federal officials here at the Tecumseh branch are pleased with their new "on-line" accounting. It has simplified and made their tasks easier. Here, left to right, are tellers Mrs. Bonnie Covell and Mrs. Opal Dickinson; Harold Near, company comptroller; John Surratt, branch manager and vice president of the company; and Charles Gorton, assistant branch manager. The NCR sign depicts the process in handling transactions.

We're First
We're "On-Line"

ADRIAN AND TECUMSEH TO CHICAGO

An innovation in the field of bookkeeping now lets Adrian Federal process all of your savings accounts records through a computer located in Chicago. It adds, subtracts, compiles earned interest, and records dates of all transactions. To do this, the computer takes just seconds. Accurate? It even double checks itself. There's no room for errors. National Cash Register has fully developed the "on-line" system, and more and more financial institutions will soon be relying on NCR computer for its bookkeeping. Adrian Federal? Well, we're first!

We've long recognized the need for updating our bookkeeping system. The old, commonly-used system not only took too much of our time, but yours, too. How many times did you wish the teller would hurry up and complete your transaction? No more, we've eliminated this delay. All savings accounts records will now be processed almost instantaneously. In about 60 days, mortgages will be handled the same way. Adrian Federal's adoption of the computer for bookkeeping is important, of course, but more significant is the step taken, the principle upon which the Association works: provide our patrons with the finest service possible by keeping up the latest developments for which today's business demands. Yes, we're first in this area with the computer-bookkeeping system, but others will soon adopt it. There will be more developments, and they'll be adopted. You can depend on Adrian Federal to be among the leaders, perhaps not always first, but a leader in offering the best to folks of Lenawee County.

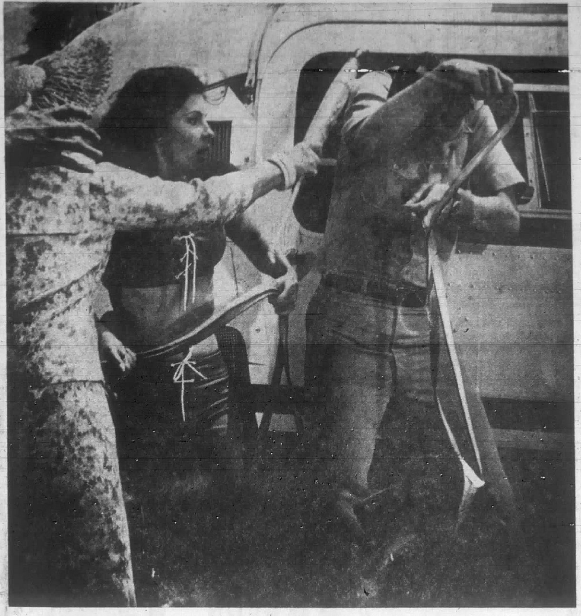
Tecumseh's Julie Parrish in a Paramount Pictures publicity photo for "Paradise, Hawaiian Style". The Elvis Presley film was shot on location and one reviewer raved about the tremendous color shots of the island, although he dubbed it a typical Presley epic.



Elvis Presley gets umbrella whacking as Julie Parrish looks on after the pair had been in a wild helicopter ride, which shook up a couple of dogs owned by irate lady at left.

Two Julie Parrish Films Being Shown

By DENICE ANDERSON

June busted out all over. And so did movie actress Julie Parrish—nee Joyce Wilbar of Tecumseh.

Miss Parrish can currently be seen in two new releases, "Paradise, Hawaiian Style," with Elvis Presley and "Fireball 500," with Frankie Avalon.

In the Presley film, Julie plays the part of Joanna, one of Elvis' many loves. She accompanies him on a helicopter flight with four dogs which break loose.

Elvis loses control of the 'copter, but manages to bring it safely to ground where they are immediately criticized for delivering the dogs in a slightly battered condition.

They then go to dinner where Julie is hit in the face with a fruit salad meant for Elvis. She storms out.

IN "FIREBALL 500," JULIE was cast with Avalon, Annette and Fabian.

It's a stock car racing epic and the Tecumseh girl gets Avalon to drive in a cross country night race, where he discovers that he is transporting illegal liquor and evading federal law officers.

But, it turns out that she was being double-crossed by Avalon's racing promoter.

Both films are currently being screened, "Fireball 500" now at the Lenawee Auto Theatre through July 12.

Julie, who lives in Beverly Hills, has appeared in several Jerry Lewis films, "The Nutty Professor," "Boeing, Boeing," and "It's Only Money."

TV stints have included "The Dobie Gillis Show," "My Three Sons," "Gunsmoke" and "Ben Casey."

Julie toured with Hans Conreid in the stage production, "Absence of a Cello," and was Michael Conner's wife in Joseph E. Levine's "Harlow."

In one scene of "Paradise", Julie discovered herself being pelted by a fruit salad intended for Elvis. In the shot below, the Tecumseh actress looks a trifle unhappy as the crooner tr ies to explain. This film is being screened in Detroit.

Julie gives a warm hug to Frankie Avalon in "Fireball 500," a story about stock racing in which she portrays a divorcee who owns a night club. According to Julie's brother, Jim Wilbar, she sported a blonde wig over her jet-black hair for "Fireball," now playing at the Lenawee Auto Theatre.

No Variety in Daily Life of PC Worker

(Editor's note — This is the third in a series of articles by Mike Fero, a former Tecumseh resident who is now in the Peace Corps. Fero is stationed in Varzea Algegre, South America. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Barnard Fero, are living in Cordoba, Argentina.)

By MIKE FERO

VARZEA ALGEGRE, Brazil — After lunch I take part in a wonderful local custom of snoozing for an hour. Between noon and 1 p.m., nothing moves outside.

After I finally force myself out of my hammock, I have time enough to shower in cold water, change clothes, grab my lessons and get over to the primary schools where I teach health habits and personal hygiene to the six grades.

At 5 p.m., school lets out and I walk back to the hotel for another shower and dinner.

Dinner is the same menu with the additional choice of pork, chicken or beef plus a dessert-in-a-can called "doce" — which is merely crystalized sugar with various flavors of fruit added.

Sometimes some nice person will send over a cake or some cookies for the "Americano."

From then until 7 p.m., I usually sit on the sidewalk in a rocking chair conversing with various salesmen, neighbors, etc.

At 7 p.m., I collect my English material and walk up to the city library (550 volumes) where I have two night classes, one for my junior high pupils and the other for interested adults.

AT 9 P.M., I usually go down to the central plaza to "passear" — an interesting nightly occurence which consists of sitting on a bench talking to men while the women walk around and around the plaza.

An hour or so later, when people start heading for home, I wander over to someone's home for a cup of coffee and talk about community needs and happenings.

Politics is a favorite topic of discussion most of the time. I am usually called upon to explain the American position in the Dominican Republic, Vietnam and Latin America.

MORE OFTEN, I am called upon to discuss the assassination of Kennedy or the execution of Carl Chessman — all of which is in a friendly interchanges of ideas.

One finds that one learns a great deal about his own country when he has to defend its actions.

Shortly before 11 p.m., I take my leave and head back to the hotel to listen to the Voice of America broadcast to Latin America. Aside from my weekly "Time" magazine, this is my only source of news.

Sometimes I catch the Armed Forces Radio broadcasts of baseball games — perhaps the one thing I miss most.

Afterwards, I put up my hammock netting apparatus, climb in and read a book from the Peace Corps booklocker consisting of a wide selection of paperback novels, biographies, classics and autobiographies.

About midnight, I am sufficiently unwound to retire for the night.

Sometimes I go up to the community health post to help with injections, sterilization, etc., or I go over to the mayor's office and spend a couple of hours just talking with him about ideas for improvements.

So far, we have succeeded in getting semi-regular medication supplies for the health post, daily street cleaning (cobblestone and dirt streets are filthy after a day of horse and donkey travel), public bathrooms for men and women in the city hall, restoration of an unused school building and a promise of a branch of the Bank of Brazil by the end of the year.

These were not my doings, I hasten to add. I only helped push through the decisions. In most cases, the ideas were present, but the initiative lacking.

Twice a week I go over to the post office to receive mail. Mail is only delivered on Sundays and Wednesdays.

The personnel in the post office is a special project of mine. It is widely said that they are Communists (which is probably not exactly true in that they don't really know what communism is) and so I stop in and talk with them about all sorts of topics designed to inform them about democracy, etc.

I feel certain that they are nowhere close to being what they are called, but the fear of Communism is tremendous here and anyone who has an idea outside the normal realm will be considered Communist.

THE LIVELIEST times are always when I have just gotten a new issue of "Playboy," which my brother, Pat, graciously sends from time to time. Although none of them read English, they thoroughly enjoy glancing through it.

By Peace Corps standards, this is probably not very acceptable since we are trying to be strictly non-political. However, I enjoy talking to them and exchanging ideas.

Other times, I like to stop in at the main Catholic Church to chat with Padre Otavio, who is one of the most interesting personalities in town.

Today he celebrated his 80th birthday.

He has lived here for almost all of those years and is a wealth of special knowledge. Add to that the fact that he has been married twice, has seven children living and 25 grandchildren and you have an interesting personality indeed.

The 4 "H's" stand for Head, Heart, Hands and Health.

Richard Fritz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Fritz of R No. 1, Tecumseh, won the Lenawee County 4-H public speaking contest with his speech, "Why We Must Stay in Viet Nam." Richard was selected last week at the Lenawee County Fairgrounds to represent Lenawee County at the 4-H State Show to be held in August at Michigan State University. Richard is a senior at Tecumseh High School and is active in the Round Top 4-H Club.

Home Ec 4-H Projects Always Bring Improvement

"Whether a 4-H girl learns a lot or a little about home economics in her club," observed a 4-H leader, "she'll improve herself, her home and her family in some manner."

Using this premise, it is safe to assume that the 1.3 million members participating in a home economics project today are making as many improvements.

The youngsters are between 9 and 19 years of age.

Individual projects vary according to needs and a desire to learn, but the main categories are foods, clothing, interior decorating, home management, child care and consumer education.

The young homemakers are encouraged "to make the best better" by the program awards sponsor, Montgomery Ward, which has supported 4-H since 1922.

As in previous years, younger members have a chance to compete for county medals of honor, while the teen-ager is eligible for the state award and a trip to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago.

From the 50 state award winners, the Cooperative Extension Service will select six of the most outstanding home economics members for national honors.

They will receive $500 scholarships to be presented by a Ward's official during the Chicago 4-H Congress.

It has been learned that former scholarship winners have been graduated with some economics degrees leading to successful careers. The young women credit their early 4-H projects with opening the door and stimulating their interest in the field.

For more information about the 4-H home economics program, call the county extension office or contact a local 4-H Club leader.

Conlin Hopes To Help Solve Revenue Problem

State Rep. Rollo G. Conlin states, "Because of the misinformation that has been circulated in my district relative to my return to the Ann Arbor medical center, I feel it is essential that we set the record straight.

"Some time ago, I underwent corrective eye surgery. I have returned to the hospital for further examination and treatment. There is every indication that the operation has been and will continue to be a complete success."

"My doctors tell me that to insure complete success, I will have to limit my activity for a short period of time. It is my conviction that the people of this district are more concerned that I return to Lansing in excellent physical condition than they are in my visiting them before it is safe for me to do so," he added.

"The events of the past two years have convinced me that we face a real crisis in state government.

"The voters of this district, and the members of the House of Representatives have entrusted me with the difficult task of developing a reasonable revenue program that will solve the long-standing problems of the state," he concluded.

Frontier City Expands with Stable for Riders

By DOROTHY GRIGG

Frontier Stables has been added to the attractive things-to-do in the Irish Hills area this year. A string of 16 gentle mounts, handled by Bill Bastito and Ron Van Doren, await riders at the Stables across from Frontier City on M-50, just west of the Onsted Hwy. corner.

Experienced stable operators, Bill and Ron conduct riders along the picturesque trail, over the hills and through the wooded areas. At one high point in the trail, those on horseback may see the city of Brooklyn as well as several lakes in the area.

Some have seen wild deer as they saunter along the ride which takes almost an hour.

"Shelter has been constructed for the people and one is in progress for the horses," said Ivan Hunt, owner of the Stables and the Frontier City.

Summer headquarters for Michigan for the Grand Ole Opry has been established at the City with shows twice each Sunday and on holidays.

Usually from an hour and one-half to two hours in length, the shows feature popular singers like Tex Ritter and Roy Acuff at 2 and 5 p.m. LeRoy VanDyke will be there July 10.

Mr. Hunt plans to have shelter from sun and rain constructed in July over the bleachers in front of the opera house, which includes a 450-sq.-ft. stage, a control room and two dressing rooms.

Outstanding for family entertainment, dad, mom and the kids can bring a picnic lunch and enjoy all day in the Frontier City with Old Ma Donald's farm, paddlewheel bo rides, train and stage coach rides, th Indian shows with bandits and co boys and the six exciting gunfi shows.

The tame deer herd is always clar oring for tid-bits from fingers of vi tors, as well as the baby animals McDonald's farm.

Through My Window

A WREN MOTHER'S DIARY

For goodness sakes, the first sight that greeted us that morning was a tiny wren. As soon as the drapes were open, we saw her inspecting the bluebird house.

And what an inspection it was. In and out of the round door she popped; upon the roof, over the back and sides she went; she even peered under the house to see how it looked from that angle.

Everything was A-OK., apparently. The lease was signed and immediately she started moving in. She moved in and our hopes of accomplishing anything went right out the window. It was a most interesting "operation" to watch. For the first two days the pace of the building can only be described as frantic.

Our bird books present a highly romantic version of the wren's family life. The male supposedly selects the home site, builds the nest and then brings in a wife; she promptly throws his collection of sticks and twigs out and builds her own nest. That is the way it happens in books and probably elsewhere — it is not, however, what happened here. At least, it is not what we saw.

A surprising amount of nesting material was carried into the house but there was no throwing-out act right from the first day, we saw two wrens most of the time. The male and female look alike and so we are not sure who did the work and who did the singing. Actually, I am not sure they shared the jobs but undoubtedly, she did most of the work and he did most of the singing.

THE STUFF which was lugged into the house was amazing. The first few days were devoted to finding and carrying up fairly large twigs. Large, that is, in comparison to the bird's tiny size. Often it was quite a problem to get the twig into the house but persistence was this girl's middle name. She would work and work until finally success was hers — only a few twigs fell to the ground and most of these were quickly retrieved.

Once the rough work was done, the job of filling in started. Long, dried stems of grass or weeds and stringy pieces of bark seemed to be the main materials used. The work was still being done at a feverish pace, but, at least, it looked easier. There was no struggling to get an awkward load inside and, because we sometimes saw both birds with bills full of material, we knew he was helping.

It was interesting to speculate about what was happening inside the house, how the nest was taking shape.

Sometimes the bird would dash into the house and right back out, other times the stay would be several minutes.

When one thinks of the weaving in and out, the tucking into place, and the shaping that a bird can do with his bill and his feet, Mother Nature's world is truly full of marvels.

THIS MORNING, HOWEVER, we were not too happy with one of these marvels. The wren's loud, bubbling song and their sassy, scolding chatter are usually fun; in fact, one of the reasons were overjoyed at seeing the birds was the prospect of hearing them.

Very early this morning, though, I had second thoughts on the matter. It had been a rather sleepless night and when finally, just at daybreak, I was beginning to doze off, guess who started sounding off. None other than our loud mouth friend — what a racket!

So it is that as the birds build and sing — sing? — this phase nears an end and we anxiously wait for the events which will make up the next entry in our wren watcher's diary.

OUR READERS WRITE

TO THE EDITORS:

So many citizens of the Second District have written me about the proposed damming of the Grand Canyon that I would like to take this opportunity to express my position on this important subject.

As I have informed those constituents who have written me on the subject, I find little to justify this proposed project. First and foremost, it will waste, rather than save, water in an area where water is the most precious commodity. This loss will result from evaporation off the surface of the vast lakes created by the power dams.

Secondly, it will aggravate relations between ourselves and the people of Mexico because it will increase the salt content of the portion of the Colorado River which, by International agreement, is reserved for Mexico. The salt content is already so high as to be a serious problem.

The principal purpose of the dam is to generate electric power. This can apparently be done at comparable cost by using an atomic reactor generator such as is presently being built in southeastern Michigan.

One of the principal objectives is to irrigate land to produce more cotton at a time when we already have a large cotton surplus.

But finally, and certainly as important as any other consideraton, I am strongly adverse to any destruction of the natural beauty of the Grand Canyon.

Sincerely,
Weston E. Vivian, M. C.

Long and Short

By TOM RIORDAN

As a gag, Allan Odells, one of the brains behind the Burma-Shave highway advertising idea, came up with this set.

FREE — FREE
A TRIP TO MARS
FOR 900
EMPTY JARS

Of all the zany roadside lyrics, this one probably caused more happy concern for the firm — and brought the greatest deluge of priceless publicity.

When Allan released the seemingly harmless lines one summer in the early 1940s, he hadn't reckoned with one Arliss French, manager of a Red Owl chain supermarket in Appleton, Wis.

A real gunner when it came to promotion, Frenchy, as he was called, wired Burma-Shave that he was accepting the offer and where should he send the 900 empty jars.

Allan was moved but not shaken. He quickly replied by telegram: "If a trip to Mars you'd earn, remember, friend, there's no return."

THAT JUST whetted Frenchy's appetite for adventure and he fired back: "Let's not quibble, let's not fret, gather your forces, I'm all set."

The Odells knew they had a tiger by the tail. Allan succumbed: "Our rockets are ready; we're not splitting hairs; just send the jars — and arrange your affairs."

Ralph Getchman, general manager of Burma-Shave, was dispatched to Appleton to meet Frenchy and produce an on-the-spot report.

It quickly came by phone.

"This boy is serious. He's got reproductions of our signs running the full length of his store. He's putting full-page ads in the local paper saying, 'Send Frenchy to Mars!'

"In the store he's got jars heaped up in a huge pile. Any time people buy Burma-Shave he empties the cream into an ice-cream carton and keeps the jar.

"He's got some kind of rocket plane in the store that kids are swarming all over and he's got little green men on the roof firing toy rocket gliders out over the parking lot."

Obviously, Frenchy was determined to get every modicum of fun and selling power from the bonanza.

Officials of the Red Owl chain were delighted — especially with the way the volume of sales at Frenchy's outlet was shooting up. They hired Jim Moran, a New York publicity genius, to help exploit it from their side of the good-natured controversy.

AS IT TURNED out, Mr. Moran came up with the answer.

He dropped in on the Odells and said there was a tiny town in Germany named "Mars" — actually, that was the pronunciation. The spelling was Moers. Mr. Moran said if Burma-Shave would pay the plane fares, he'd take it from there.

This was great, as far as the Odells were concerned.

"We decided to send Mrs. French along, too, figuring that

Cottagers Fight for Water Rights at Sand Lake

Don Mitchell, Lenawee County Drain Commissioner, has promised that the obstruction placed in the drain connecting Iron Lake with Sand Lake some time last winter will be removed.

Property owners have kept the channel open but think that the water level would have been perhaps four inches higher had the obstruction not been placed in the drain.

Wayne Hizer, vice president and secretary of the Sand Lake Association, said that the well owned by the property owners is working real well, producing about an inch of water a month, but cottagers want all the legal water that they may obtain.

This refers to access water from swamp around Sand Lake and also that which comes from Iron and Wamplers Lakes.

A plate has been welded to the drain pipe.

Attorney Mike Watts of Adrian is handling the situation for Sand Lake Association.

Mr. Hizer is owner of Primier Industries on Dixie Hwy., Monroe.

With scores to match the torrid weather, Merlyn Downing and Dr. Robert Bowers captured Sunday's tournament at Tecumseh Country Club.

In the best ball event, the pair posted a red-hot 62, which is 10 strokes under par.

Four teams were deadlocked in second place at 63:

- ► Buck Miller and Ed Schwartz
- ► Ralph Dabe and John Thoss
- ► Bill Koster and Roger Linger
- ► Val Spangler and Earl Baldwin

Tied for sixth with 65s were:

- ► Bob French and Vern Manwaring

Suggestion Reward— $1,000 Savings Bond

Gary Hanna is a $1,000 winner!

Because of his cost-saving suggestion to the Tecumseh Plant of Fisher Body Division, Gary is $1,000 richer and the balance of his award will be paid when it is earned in accordance with the provisions of the employees' suggestion plan.

Gary, 306½ Chippewa St., proposed a suggestion that resulted in a savings of material used for analysis in the plant's Quality Standards Laboratory.

This is the highest suggestion award thus far at the Tecumseh Plant, but the GM Suggestion Plan provides for awards ranging up to $6,000.

Suggestions result in safety improvements, better quality, improved manufacturing and handling methods or in material savings.

Attesting to the quality of GM employees' suggestions is the fact that since the establishment of the Suggestion Plan in 1942, GM employees have received in excess of $74,800,000 for more than 1,646,000 suggestions adopted by the corporation.

Exchange Club Grosses $700 at Dawn Patrol

One Flier Comes 135 Miles

When Ray Kussmaul of Clinton touched down his plane onto Meyers Airport Sunday at 5 a.m., the annual Exchange Club Dawn Patrol officially opened.

He was promptly presented a bottle of English Leather after-shave lotion, a gift of the club members.

First lady pilot was Nancy Koppenhafer of Bowling Green, Ohio, who arrived at 7:05 a.m. and was given an orchid corsage, courtesy of Tecumseh Greenhouses.

Among the 92 planes which logged in, the farthest came from Bad Axe — 135 miles — and was piloted by John Hewens, co-publisher of the Huron Daily Tribune.

More than 700 ate the traditional "husky breakfast" as served by the Exchange members. There were stagecoach rides for the children and airplane junkets for the young-in-heart.

The event grossed nearly $700, between the meal tickets, rides and advance prize chances, according to Orville Bishop, incoming club president. Final figures will be available for next week's edition.

Grand door prize, an outdoor grill, was won by Raynor Kerr, who also received a supply of charcoal donated by Marv's Market.

MR. AND MRS. JACK BREWER FLEW IN FROM JACKSON FOR THE DAWN PATROL

Dawn Patrol Pilot Hits Power Line

A near tragedy occurred about noon Sunday at Tecumseh's Dawn Patrol when a Lincoln Park pilot hit a power line at 710 N. Evans St.

Charles H. Menard, 24, said he was approaching the landing strip when some cowling came loose on his plane, causing him trouble in controlling it.

The left landing gear hit and snapped the power line — 60 feet in the air — at the home of Marion E. French. Residents in the area were without electricity until the line was repaired.

Pit Passes Are Honored at City Pool

The Park and Recreation Board met Monday and decided that family season passes to the Pit will also be honored at the city pool.

Children with Pit passes will be allowed only one afternoon session at the pool, either 1-3 p.m. or 3-5 p.m.

Since the season is one-third over, family season passes can be purchased for $17 instead of the original $25.

There are 16 cardholders so far.

NEXT THURSDAY

Candidates Appearing at Big Rally

An old fashioned political rally — featuring candidates of both parties — is being staged by the Tecumseh Kiwanis Club on Thursday, July 21.

Instead of long speeches, this session will be a meet-and-chat with office seekers on the lawn in back of the Community Center.

An informal program is planned.

- ► Marvin Esch and George Meader, Republicans seeking nomination for Congress.
- ► Congressman Wes Vivian (D).
- ► State Senator Gil Bursley (R).
- ► State Representative Rollo Conlin (R) and the four men who will oppose him in the Aug. 2 primary, Robert Stites, Dr. Wallace May, Virgil Eisenman and Walter Bohn.
- ► Hugh Flippo of Adrian, Democratic candidate for the Michigan House of Representives.
- ► George Sallade, Democratic hopeful for State Senate.

Tetnus Shots Being Given Aug. 12, 13

Tetanus (lockjaw) shots will be given at local drug stores Aug. 12 and 13 from noon - 6 p.m.

Treatment for the prevention of tetanus in the unimmunized patient requires skin-testing and then the use of an antitoxin. This delays treatment and can be hazardous.

If the injured person has had the primary series of three tetanus toxoid injections, he needs only a booster in addition to the treatment for the wound or other injury.

The germs of tetanus are everywhere, especially in the soil of farms, and along highways. These germs can be introduced by any injury, not just those of a rusty nail, the idea held by many people.

These protective tetanus toxoid injections will be given to adults at the local drug stores.

The nurses of Lenawee County District Nurses Association are donating their services and will give the injections.

For those who had the first two injections in January and March, the third injection should be given in August. Fair time is an excellent time.

Separate disposable syringes and needles will be used for each person so a small donation of 25c will be appreciated but not required.

Any adult who has had his primary injections, but not had a booster since military service or in the last five years should get a booster in August.

Injections will also be given at the Sheriff's Building at the Lenawee County Fair the week of Aug. 7.

Nelson Park Again Struck by Vandals

For the second time in about two weeks, vandals struck Nelson Park area on S. Union St.

Tuesday morning, John Oberlin, city recreation employee, reported the equipment box behind the baseball screen broken into and most of the contents taken.

Although a search of the area turned up most of the equipment — nine helmets, catcher's mask, shin guards, chest protector, three bases and one or two baseballs — one shin quard, five helmets and baseballs are still missing.

Vandals attempted first to break the padlock on the equipment box, but then pried it open.

Rinehart Radant, 79 S. Union St., previously reported vandals ruining two small trees in his yard. His residence is next to Nelson Park.

Bikes were earned by 22, with two taking transistors.

'A Funny Thing' Has Denny Bryan in Leading Role

Dennis Bryan is playing one of the lead roles in the current Clark Lake Players production, "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum."

The Jackson Citizen Patriot writer, Donna M. Barnes said of the Tecumseh Players veteran— "He does a nice job and he's one of the few in the cast who isn't supposed to be funny. He's been struck by that funny thing — love. He's a bachelor and his voice is delectable, girls."

Tecumseh area residents know of the "delectable voice." Many are hearing it in several churches in the area as the choirs have a summer recess.

Dennis also manages a pony ball team in addition to his work at the Ford Motor Co. plant in Saline.

Dennis tried out for a part in "Oklahoma," a play to be given later in the season at Clark Lake, but accepted the role of Hero in the current production when it was offered.

He was also offered a part in the next play but decided not to take that one since it does require much time for [illegible]

Keith Tucker, another of the Tecumseh Players, has a comic part in the current play at Eagle [illegible] said that he was the funniest thing in the entire play as Hysterium.

Gerry Blanchard is directing the play adapted from a book by Burt Shevelove and Larry Gelbart with music and lyrics by Stephen Sandheim.

since she had 11 or 12 children maybe she could use a little vacation," Leonard Odell recalled.

"So Frenchy showed up with a bubble on his head, dressed in a silvery space suit with a big red owl on the front.

"They rented a Brink's armored truck to deliver the jars. It had a big sign on it, 'Sending Frenchy to Mars.'

"We gave him some full jars that he could use on Mars to barter for goods and services. It made quite an affair for the TV and news photographers," Leonard chuckled happily in recounting the Arliss French caper.

Folks in the German village joined the fun — thanks to careful advance arrangements by Moran. They came up with a three-day festival, dancing in the streets and visitors coming to "Mars" from miles around.

All this, the result of the pixie sets of signs along the road.

AFTER 38 YEARS and a changing America, the selling magic of the Burma-Shave signs began to wane. Costs were going up in the sign shop as sales figures of the product tumbled.

When Burma-Shave was sold in 1963 to American Safety Razor Products, a subsidiary of Philip Morris, Inc., officials decided to drop the signs entirely.

That spring, Burma - Shave crews made their last swing across the nation — this time removing all sets of signs, nearly 40,000.

A fun-filled era of telling and selling had ended.

"Dolce far niente" is an Italian expression meaning it is sweet to do nothing. Opportunity for this activity is supposed to arrive in the good old summer time but this year there seems to be a noticeable lack of it.

Recommendation from this area is that one and all of our readers make time just because "dolce far niente." Also one might fly into bits and pieces from the pace he's going, too.

Lawrence Gray Awarded Medals for Vietnam Action

Capt. Lawrence C. Gray was recently awarded the distinguished Flying Cross and Bronze Star Medal for outstanding service while in Vietnam.

Capt. Gray is the grandson of Mrs. Guy T. Pocklington of Pocklington Rd., Britton, and spent many summers at the home of his grandparents.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Gray of Ypsilanti. Capt. Gray, his wife, Joan, and four children left last week for a three-year tour of duty at Ranestein Air Force Base in Germany.

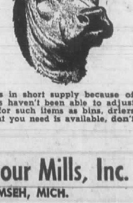
DOLLAR and SENSE FARMING.

HIGHER DAIRY PRICES for the remainder of 1966 are certain. USDA recently increased the support price of manufacturing milk from $3.50 to $4. Exact price increase will vary from one area to another, however. Watch for chances to buy high producing fall fresheners and make extra efforts to hold production up through hot summer months. If you like dairy farming and plan to stay with it, you might give expansion plans more weight in view of the improved outlook.

CONSIDER PLASTIC PIPE for underground water systems. The Plastic Pipe Institute recommends the polyethylene type. Plastic pipe is easy to install, has a long life and can be laid in curves. However, be certain to lay the pipe away from areas subject to seepage from gasoline and oil. They will deteriorate plastic and contaminate the water. Also remember to "snake" the pipe in the ditch by leaving 2 inches of slack per 100 feet of length to allow for contraction and expansion.

PROFITABLE BEEF FEEDING takes good management. Such information as amount of feed fed, cost and pounds of gain are essential to good management. Overfeeding is often a costly mistake. Heavy cattle not only run the risk of discounts at the market place — but those last pounds are the most expensive you'll put on the animal. Livestock scales are a must if you're going to market cattle at the right time.



SHELLED CORN DRYING EQUIPMENT is in short supply because of the high demand this year. Manufacturers haven't been able to adjust quickly enough to the increased demand for such items as bins, driers and elevators. If, by chance, the equipment you need is available, don't delay purchase.

Hills Offer Tent Show

By DOROTHY GRIGG

Some unique entertainment is available in the Irish Hills this year, presented by the Rosier Players, Inc.

An old time dramatic tent show is located at Stagecoach Stop on US-12, across from Hayes State Park.

As American as apple pie, because tent shows originated in the United States in 1855. They were strictly for entertainment and not meant to be thought provoking or deal with controversial issues.

The first one opened in Rock Island, Ill., the idea caught fire and soon many tent shows were trundling from town to town until they numbered over 500, playing in opera houses in 16,000 communities.

WITH THE advent of "talking pictures," tent shows became a less important means of entertainment until today there are only five in existence in the entire nation.

Unusual talent is presented in Michigan's only folk theatre including the wonderful singing voices of Ann and Milt Bailey of Adrian, who joined the Rosier Company this summer.

Both have appeared in the Tibbits Opera House at Coldwater and in Clark Lake productions.

Another familiar face to many here is Edward Spooner of Jackson, featured in the starring role of "Bye Bye Birdie" last summer at Clark Lake.

VAUDEVILLE and magician acts intersperse the acts of the plays each performance.

Jimmy Wear, a magician and escape artist, presents some outstanding shows using some equipment of the late Houdini.

The Rosiers, Harold and Waunetta, and Norman and Margaret Persing purchased the old time tent show with the thought in mind that sometimes it is well to remember that the past has had its great moments.

They bought the show in Illinois and have worked hard to restore it and again present a family type entertainment of old and new plays.

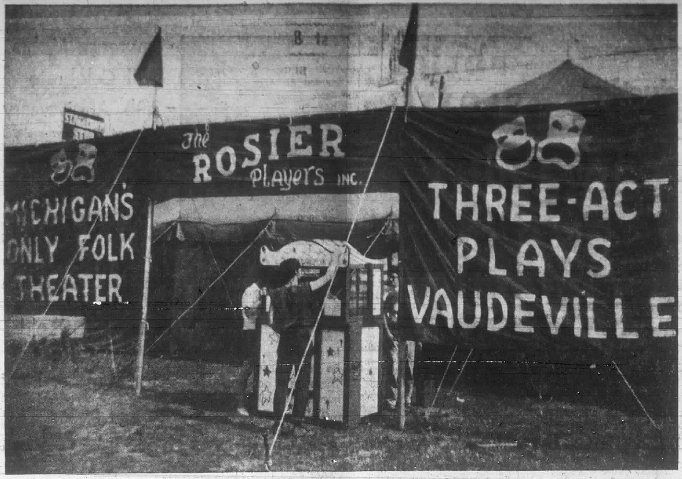
MR. ROSIER has remarked that probably the plays would not win prizes for literary content but are presented for their entertainment value for the entire family.

Dorothy Bahlau of Stagecoach Stop said of the show, "You don't fool the young people, when they sit through a show and enjoy it, it has to be good."

"High and Mighty," a romantic comedy is surrently playing at the tent theatre.



OLD-TIME TENT SHOW — This is the entrance to the Old-Time Dramatic Tent Show at Stagecoach Stop. Programs are presented each weekend by the Rosier Players, featuring drama and vaudeville.

Esch Picks DeYoung Chairman

A Marv Esch For Congress committee in Tecumseh has been formed.

Heading up activities will be Gerald DeYoung, 1020 River Acres Dr.

Mr. DeYoung will be working, along with a large number of local volunteers, in organizing and canvassing precints and townships in the Tecumseh area.

He will also work on district and county levels on the Livingston County Esch committee.

Other members of the county committee will be Mrs. Stella Hubbard of 213 N. Oneida St., Mrs. Alice Schneider, 115 S. Union St., Mrs. Helen Sisson, 200 Chippewa St., Mrs. Margaret Aebersold, 100 S. Union St. and Mrs. Billie Whelan, 501 Outer Dr.

COORDINATING efforts for the Esch county committee in Adrian will be Dr. Richard Wertsler, John Ver Beek and Ted Durst.

Mr. DeYoung said that volunteers had already completed a great deal of organizational work and had taken part, along with a number of Tecumseh Young Republicans last week, in the Adrian Fourth of July Parade.

Mr. DeYoung said that Rep. Esch had worked hard as a member of the Michigan House of Representatives for farmers and for highway safety and eudcational programs "which have and will contiuue to directly benefit the people of the Tecumseh area."

Meader Seeking Truth

George Meader, former seven-term U. S. Representative of the Second District, has outlined his three-point program for Vietnam.

- The U. S. Government should spell out its goals clearly, not only with respect to Vietnam, but the cold war generally and announce them in unmistakable terms, both to the American people and the world.
- That "news management" be abandoned and that Arthur Sylvester, Assistant Secretary of Defense for Public Affairs, who asserts the government's "inherent right to lie" be dismissed forthwith.
- That a special Congressional Committee be created to inquire into the conduct of the War in Vietnam.

"It is inconceivable to me," Mr. Meader said, "that a country with our resources and sophistication lacks the intellectual capacity to spell out unmistakably our commitment to free institutions and bring an end to the guerilla, jungle-war aggression launched by the Communists against South Vietnam.

"If I am sent back to the House of Representatives, the achievement of this program will be my prime objective," Mr. Meader concluded.

Mrs. Dunsmore Will Host Club at Her Cottage

Mrs. Dunsmore's address is 2679 Round Lake Hwy., Manitou Beach. Officers of the club will be the co-hostesses.

Horton Warrant Causing Officials Many Difficulties

City officials apparently had some difficulty getting together over a warrant served on Frank Horton Wednesday morning.

Police served the warrant on the N. Union St. resident over two weeks after it was signed by Ernest Oliver, local justice of the peace.

Justice Oliver has since disqualified himself and Horton is now scheduled to appear before Clinton Justice Leon Van Dusen this Thursday morning.

Lynn Noble, city engineer, is the complainant, charging Horton with partially constructing a front porch at his residence without a building permit and contrary to legal set-backs.

Ross Fisher Won Camera from Church

The two weeks Daily Vacation Bible School closed at the Grace Bible Church July 8. The boys and girls gave a demonstration program at 7:30 p.m. and then had their handwork and workbooks on display in their classrooms.

The enrollment for the two weeks was 117 children and 18 teachers and helpers. The average attendance was 89.

Ross Fisher was awarded first prize, a polaroid swinger camera, for bringing the most who attended at least five days.

Randy Pettit came in second winning a croquet set.

Sixty-six were awarded certificates and prizes for faithful attendance.

The Rev. David M. Holly is the pastor.

Retailers To Meet

A meeting of downtown retailers will be held next Tuesday morning at 9 at Pearl's Cafe.

Purpose of the meeting is to finalize plans for Sidewalk Sales day, scheduled for Aug. 12.

Harold Green and John Day have made preliminary plans.

Twins Are Fooled

● TIGERS 8, TWINS 5

Scoring four runs in the first inning, the Twins then saw the Tigers battle into the lead and finally post an 8-5 decision.

John Getz and Gary Agnew each hurled three innings for the Tigers. John's triple to the right field fence was the game's big hit.

Pat Murphy was the losing pitcher.

For the Tigers, Mike Randolph, Getz and Mark Spohr each tallied two runs.

—o—

● TIGERS 4, BRAVES 2

It was ding-dong battle as the Tigers edged the Braves, 4-2.

There were a raft of heroes as the league-leading Tigers racked up No. 8.

A single by John Getz was the Tigers' only safe hit and it helped produce the difference in the second inning as three runs came over.

Two walks, a hit batsman and an error combined with John's blow turned the tide.

John was the winning pitcher, but the mound star was Gary Agnew, who came to the rescue in the fifth with the bases loaded and no outs.

The runner on third, in an attempted steal of home, was tagged out. Then Gary struck out the next two hitters.

Jeff Berry's single was the lone Braves' blow. He started the game catching, then went to the relief of Rodney Cole. Jeff worked the final five innings and struck out seven.

Gets, in his four innings, whiffed 11.

Paul Lemanski and Mike Feight divided behind the-bat for the Tigers.

Giants 21, Cubs 6
Braves 15, Dodgers 1

● GIANTS 21, CUBS 6

Dean Forsyth's two home runs paced a hard-hitting Giants' attack in a 21-6 rout of the Cubs.

"The seven runs in the first inning were all that were needed," says Giant manager Harry Stanifer. "These were attained by two errors, three walks and three hits."

Manager Stanifer had plenty of plate power:

- Dale Clark and Denny Kaechele, both 3-for-3
- James Sessoms, 3-for-4

Kent Jacoby spun a two-hitter, with James Martin behind the bat. Dave Williams and Ed Rapin were the losing battery.

● BRAVES 4, DODGERS 0

Rodney Cole's lead-off triple in the first inning pointed the Braves toward their 4-0 victory over the Dodgers.

After Rodney's triple, walks were collected by Shawn Dalton, Jeff Berry and Darrell Bozeman. Then Arlon Bozeman came to the plate and belted out a double, unloading the bases.

In both the first and sixth ininings. Rodney hit triples to the fence.

Rodney Cole was leading hitter with 2 for 4 and Jeff Berry was second with 2 for 3. This winning combination also composed the winning battery for the Braves.

Kim Beard and Pete Dermyer were the losing pitcher and catcher.

—o—

● GIANTS 6, INDIANS 3

A big sixth inning gave the Giants a 6-3 win over the Indians.

With two outs, Dean Forsyth started the winning rally with his second hit, followed by a walk and a base blow by Denny Karchele.

Three more walks and heads-up base running were frosting on the cake as the Giants tallied four times.

"Both teams played good afield with good pitching," said Harry Stanifer, Giants' mentor.

Karchele, who allowed three hits, was the victorious hurler, besting Richard Brooks, who struck out nine.

SENIOR GIRLS

3 Gals Get Trio of Hits

● TECUMSEH 19, BLISSFIELD 9

The Senior girls softball action at Blissfield brought Tecumseh their fourth win of the season with a final score 19-9.

Tecumseh's top hitters were Beth O'Neil, Peg Martinus and Debbie Black, all batting 3-for-4.

Emily Manwaring knocked one into deep centerfield for the only homerun in the game.

The Royals top hitters were Robertson and Sinclair, both batting 4-for-5.

In the last inning of play Tecumseh players all switched positions and played ones they had never played before. In doing so, they allowed five runs to be scored.

—o—

● SAND CREEK 11, TECUMSEH 4

The Tecumseh girls lost to Sand Creek, 11-4.

The top hitter for Tecumseh was Emily Manwaring with 2-for-3.

Sand Creek's top hitter was Glisson with 4-for-5.

One thing to remember is good sportsmanship which seems to slip away from quite a few Tecumseh senior girls during a close game and after losing one.

—o—

● ADRIAN 15, TECUMSEH 5

The Tecumseh Senior softball team lost to Adrian, 15-5.

C. Glasgow and Sandy Bauschka were top hitters for Adrian with 3-for-5.

Emily Manwaring had 2-for4 for Tecumseh's best hitter.

Two of Tecumseh's runs were made when Beth O'Neil and Kathy Baugh stole home.

—o—

● TECUMSEH 21, DEERFIELD 5

In Tecumseh, the Senior girls took their third win, whipping Deerfield, 21-5.

The game got off to a good start when Linda Oberlin walked up to the plate and knocked a line-drive homeurn.

The top hitter for Tecumseh was Emily Manwaring, 5-for-5 with three homeruns.

Carolyn Purple and Kathy Baugh were both 3-for-4 and with Kathy Baugh hit two home runs.

PONY LEAGUE ACTION

29-Day Game

● TPW 2, EAGLES 1

Superb relief work by Butch Quinn preserved Products Workers' 2-1 decision over the Eagles.

Quinn came on in the sixth, taking over for Dave Ward, who had fanned nine, but loaded the bases with none out and allowed one run in.

The first man to face Quinn tapped the ball back to the mound, Butch fielded it and threw to Tony Nykodym to force out the man on third.

The next batsman also hit back to Quinn, who again fired to Tony and on this one there was time for a throw to first for a double play ending the Eagle threat.

Jack Baker drove in the winning run in the fourth frame with a single to drive in Dave Ward, who had reached first on an error, stole second and took third on a passed ball, reports The Rev. Kurt Koeplin, TPW manager. Tony Nykodym, Quinn and Jack Baker all had 2-for-3, while Gerald Girbach collected both Eagles' base hits.

"The game was a thriller," he noted.

"In the first inning, the Eagles loaded the bases on two walks and a fielder's choice. Ward pitched his way out of this jam by striking out the next two TPW batters.

"Mike Matteson turned the tables on TPW in the sixth when they loaded the bases on singles by Jack Baker and Guy Manwaring and a perfect bunt by Paul Hamilton."

Intended as a sacrifice, Paul's bunt went as a fielder's choice when the pitcher's throw to third base was too late to catch the speedy Baker.

"Matteson bore down and struck out the final two men," the coach adds.

"The oddity of the game was Quinn's relief work. He threw only eight balls in two complete innings. He faced five batters and had a hand in every out. Four of the five bounced it back to him.

"Ken Humphries, the last batter, sent a line drive at him, which Quinn speared for the last out of the game," the Rev. Mr. Koeplin concluded.

● Eagles 2, VFW 1

Eagles slid past VFW with a score of 2-1.

Marvin Maynard hit a double in the sixth inning for the Eagles and Scott Dalton got a single in the first for VFW.

Bill Puffer was the winning pitcher with 16 strikeouts. Gerald Girbach was the catcher.

VFW scored their lone score on a walk to Tom Aiuto, a stolen base and a wild pitch.

The VFW losing battery was Lamarr Ruffner and John Wall. Lamarr had 13 strikeouts.

The winning run was scored when Mike Mattison walked and then went to third when the catcher dropped a third strike on John Robert. His throw got by the first baseman and John moved to second.

They both scored on wild pitches.

---o---

● BRITTON 15, INDIANS 4

The Indians fought a losing battle to be beaten by Britton, 15-4.

Rick Brown of Britton hit 3 for 4 and both Gary Check and Mark Vallie of Britton hit 2 for 3.

Gary Judkins was the winning pitcher who struckout eight, walked six and had four runs. The catcher was Dick Schroeder.

Indian pitcher Billy Tubberville struckout two, walked three and six ran.

His relief, Mark Hetrick, struckout three, walked seven and ran nine.

Tom Drouillard was the Indian catcher.

---o---

● G&J 15, INDIANS 3

The Britton Indians were beaten by the G&J's 15-3.

Ken Peih, second baseman, made an unassisted double play for the G&Js.

Steve Tilton was the winning pitcher with 15 strikeouts. His catcher was Zig Zorn.

The losing battery was Harold Jefferies and Bill Tuberville. Combined Indian pitchers made nine strikeouts.

Bod Reed melted a homerun and two triples. Steve Tilton made a triple and two singles.

Don Belcher made a triple and Ken Peih had two singles.

● TPW 6, G&J 5

Did you ever hear of a baseball game that lasted four weeks?

Tecumseh Products Workers won the marathon contest, 6-5, over G&J Wood Products.

Going eight innings on June 10, darkness halted things at 5-5.

The tilt was resumed July 9, with three more frames needed before a screaming triple by Lee Dollison and clutch single by Dave Ward gave TPW the edge.

In the first portion of the game, TPW scored five runs without the benefit of a hit.

"The taint was removed Saturday by Dollison's ringing triple and Ward's clean drive," stated the Rev. Kurt Koeplin.

Butch Quinn of TPW struck out 12 as he went seven frames in the June 10 stanza, getting one inning of relief from Doug Haeussler, who nipped three. Dave Ward worked the July 9 finale and fanned eight.

For the losers, Bod Reed went 10 of the 11 innings, getting 16 via strikes. Tim McVay went one and fanned one.

Dave Ward's 2-for-4 paced the hitters as each team got but four in the month-long battle.

---o---

● EAGLES 5, VFW 2

The VFW was beaten 5-2 by the Eagles whose winning battery was composed of Bill Puffer and Gerald Girbach.

Robin Hatch turned an error into an out when he scooped up an error off Bill Puffer's glove and threw to first.

In the sixth inning, John Williams singled and then took second on a wild pitch and tied the score when Bill Puffer reached second on a wide throw to first.

Puffer went to third on a pass ball and scored the winning run on a wild pitch.

John Williams' double drove in Mike Mattison and John Robert with a couple of insurance runs.

There was a little comedy in the game when Williams had a triple reduced to a single because he didn't touch second. Then Greenfield had a homerun reduced to a double because he didn't touch third.

The losing battery was Rick Calzada and John Wall. Rick struckout nine.

● VFW 8, BRITTON 0

Exciting action was seen in the fourth inning as Britton lost to the VFW's, 8-0.

VFW got a double play in the fourth when Rick Brown hit a sharp grounder to shortstop Scott Dalton who threw to Tom Aiuto on second. Tom then threw to first where Rick Schuyler caught the ball for the second out.

Also in the fourth inning, VFW got seven of their eight runs.

Scott Dalton led off with a base hit. John Hall was hit by a pitched ball and Jack Greenfield walked with one out.

Rick Calzada hit a two base hit, driving in two runs. In total, 11 men batted and seven runs were scored in this inning.

Rick Calzada was the winning pitcher. He had nine strikeouts. John Wall was his catcher.

Rick Brown and Chuck Moore composed the losing battery. Rick struck out 10.

---o---

● TPW 6, G&J 3

The TPW gained victory over G&J, 6-3, with Butch Quinn and Tony Nykodym the winning battery and Tim McVey and Steve Tilton the losing battery.

Bob Reed and Ken Peih (G&J) played fine games, said Pastor Koeplin. Twice Reed made over-the-shoulder catches of little loopers over the infield robbing Mike Kennedy and Guy Manwaring of base hits.

Kennedy (TPW) played a smooth third base fielding flawlessly. The game was put away in the first inning when Mike Kennedy and David Kelly drew walks. Tony Nykodym singled, filling the bases.

Quinn's hit smash was bobbled, scoring two. David Ward singled, also scoring two and when the fielder let the ball get through him, Ward took third.

Doug Haeussler promptly singled and brought Ward home.

It looked like a slugfest was going to develop, said Pastor Koeplin. After the Products scored their five, G&J countered with three of their own in the bottom half of the first inning.

After one out, Dave Randall singled and Ken Peih reached base on the Products only fielding error. Bob Reed drove in both boys with a long triple down the right field line.

But then Quinn slammed the door, allowing no hits for the rest of the game.

Mixup Keeps Legion Out of Tournament

A mixup at American Legion District headquarters is keeping the Tecumseh team out of the annual state tournament.

"So we've had a short Legion season," states Glenn Work, the manager. "But we're still playing in the Adrian AABL."

Tecumseh topped the Jackson Legion team, 7-4, in the league finale, giving the locals a 4-and-3 record for the season.

Winning battery was Dean Hebb and Henry Mensing.

John Anderson went 2-for-3, with Bill Prochaska and Butch Hoelzer also looking good at the plate.

Roger Proctor was outstanding in the field.

Building To Cost $3 Million

Ground-breaking ceremonies for two new buildings — a Union-Residence and Art Center — were held Wednesday morning at Siena Heights College.

Lt.-Gov. William Milliken officiated.

The new structures will cost approximately $3,000,000 and be completed by August, 1967.

Meeting rooms and special facilities will be available for civic, community and government functions.

Requests for admission to Siena have exceeded current accommodations, according to Sister Mary Petronilla, O.P., President of Siena Heights.

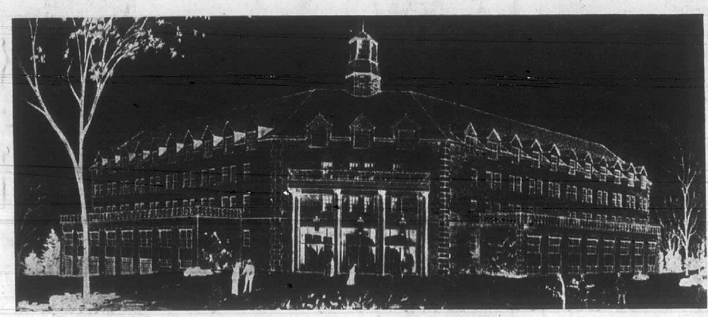
The new Union-Residence will provide housing for 175 students, allow the college to integrate academic, residential and social life of the students. The expanded facilities will enable the commuting students to participate in more of the College's activities.

The Art Center will have sufficient space and equipment to fully utilize the art department's potential, long recognized as one of the finest in the country.

A large gallery will enable the College to properly exhibit shows offered for the enjoyment and enrichment of the citizens of this area.

There will be separate studios for each art-form offered at Siena Heights — oil painting, water colors, drawing and design, textiles, calligraphy and ceramics.

Sister Petronilla said that contracts will be awarded within three weeks.



UNION-RESIDENCE WILL BE FIVE STORIES, HOUSE 175 STUDENTS, HAVE 500-SEAT MULTI-PURPOSE ROOM

JCs Hold Treasure Hunt

Public is invited to join the Jaycees for their second annual treasure hunt August 6.

Not to be confused with a scavenger hunt, wherein contestants go from door to door collecting an assortment of unusual objects, a treasure hunt sets its players off on a cross-country chase, challenging their ability to unearth and decipher coded clues that lead from one destination to another and finally to a pre-arranged rendezvous for a late dinner and dancing for the rest of the evening.

Time limits are set and any player who is hopelessly stuck at a certain hour has a phone number to call for directions to the party.

Ron Coleman, who arranged last year's hunt, is again in charge. His skillfully-composed clues — baffling but not incomprehensible — were principal topics of discussion later in the evening as treasure hunters compared notes on how and when each went astray.

"This year's hunt will be a little more difficult and we plan to run two separate searches concurrently to avoid the traffic jams that occurred at some points in the last course. Cash prizes will be awarded to winners in each group," Ron said.

Of the ultimate destination Ron says nothing — except that there'll be swimming and a buffet dinner and a Dixieland band will be on hand for dancing indoors or out at poolside.

During the evening a drawing will be held to determine the winner of a shiny new bicycle built for two.

Tickets are $10 a couple for the entire evening — including dinner, dancing and beer. Mixed drinks and pop also will be available.

Reservations are limited to 150 couples, 21 years and older. Additional information available by calling 423-2255, 3-7113, 4-4458 or 3-4314.

News from the Tecumseh Library

New books ready for you at your Public Library:

HERE COMES THE BRIDES by Geraldine Napier. Down the aisle she comes, veiled in white and a vision of loveliness; the new bride. The fact that a scant few days ago she may have been a bundle of hysterics only her bridal consultant knows, and she won't tell; or wouldn't until the appearance of this author's madcap romp, a behind-the-veil peek at what goes on in m'lady's sanctum sanctorum.

THE BLACKBOARD CAVALIER, a novel about a teacher who was nobody's pet, by John Morressy. This novel offers wry comment on the contemporary American scene, satire on entrenched educational institutions, and nimble parodies of numerous writers.

AMY by Katherine Eyre. To Amy, an eager seventeen, the shimmering domes and towers of Florence held romantic promise. To her mother, widowed but still dashing and ambitious, the city promised gaity, even a marriage that might solve her financial problems and restore her tarnished reputation. To Phillip, Amy was the reincarnation of a lovely Renaissance donna. None of them knew that behind the glamorous facade of the Italian capital there lurked a subtle threat.

HIS WEIGHT IN GOLD by Maurice Proctor. A thriller in which the procedure under inspection is all on the criminal side. High entertainment.

THE COMING WATER FAMINE by Congressman Jim Wright from Texas. He reveals the frightening facts about our national water shortage, how drought, waste and pollution have escalated it, and how we must deal with it. A book that should be widely and thoughtfully read.

COLLAGE, an art form, by Dona Meilach. Collage is one of the most delightful and rewarding picture-making methods practiced today. No other technique produces such a wide variety of beautiful results from such simple, inexpensive materials. Over 100 examples explore design, texture, and color using cut and torn colored papers, printed and patterned papers, magazine cutouts and prints, textiles, mixed media, and "found" objects (discards and fragments of all kinds.)

Hidden Lake Area Offers Tourists Beautiful Scenery

Hidden Lake Gardens is the scene of acres of plants, flowering shrubs, magnificent trees and rolling, well-kept lawns.

The Gardens, open to the public from sunrise to sunset, was a gift to Michigan State University from the late Harry Fee, an Adrian businessman.

A recent addition to the Gardens is the $250,000 Reception-Orientation Center donated by Ray Herrick of Tecumseh.

The Center has a 100-seat lecture hall, reference library, class rooms and exhibits.

Garden clubs, bird-watchers, youth groups, vacationers, horticulturists and landscape architects are all welcome. Picnicking is not allowed.

Woman's Club Has Last Meeting in Hidden Gardens

Fourteen members and one guest, Mrs. Irene Johnson, met at the Hidden Lake Gardens Center June 28 for the last meeting of the season of the Business and Professional Woman's Club.

The group was invited to go to the Sand Lake cottage of Mrs. Wilfred Waldron since rain interfered with the tour of the Gardens.

VADA PINSON OF REDS SHOWS HOW TO SLIDE IN MOVIE

Do It Correctly

Cincinnati Reds, the Babe Ruth League and an insurance organization have teamed up in an effort to keep youth league ballplayers on the field and off the disabled list.

In the color motion picture, "Play Ball, Play Safe," Vada Pinson, Jim Maloney, John Edwards and other Reds' stars give safety tips while a Babe Ruth team demonstrates diamond "don'ts."

"Play Ball" singles out these safety angles:

Sliding — Form a "4" with your legs by bending one under the other. Clench both fists and hold your arms high, away from your body. Always complete the slide you start.

Exercise — Players should arrive at a game in time to "warm up," an important safeguard against injuries.

Equipment — Team and player equipment should be of good quality and kept in sound condition.

Field condition — Members of the home team should police their field at least once a week, checking for hazards.

When injury strikes — Report an injury, no matter how minor, to your manager. Immediate attention to a minor injury can prevent more serious trouble later.

Aetna Life & Casualty points out that baseball is a relatively safe sport, but failure to heed these safety fundamentals increases chances of unnecessary injuries.

Schools, sport and community organizations can obttain "Play Ball, Play Safe" for showings on a free-loan basis by writing to the Information and Education Department, Aetna Life & Casualty, Hartford, Conn., 06115.

Couldn't Happen to a Nicer Guy

CLINTON — Ted Nastal is one happy fellow.

A one-time resident of Clinton, now living in Williamston, Ted and a fellow worker, Elsie Fretz, held an Irish Sweepstakes ticket which won $140,000.

The winners didn't learn of their good fortune until each had returned from Fourth of July weekend trips, although Mr. Nastal's many friends in the area had the good news before he did, having read it in Sunday's Free Press and News.

Ted, 45, and his wife, Jeanne, and son, Ted, Jr., 17, had spent the weekend in Chicago visiting Ted's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Casimer Nastal.

A daughter, Beverly, 20, was away for the weekend. Mrs. Fretz was vacationing in northern Michigan. None of them read the papers with the Sweepstakes story.

They were told of their good fortune by neighbors when they returned home Monday night.

AN ORPHAN, Ted Nastal grew up in the St. Vincent's Catholic Home in Detroit. During his high school years he lived here, with Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kehoe.

He and brothers, Casimer and Walter, who also lived with families in Clinton, all graduated from Clinton High School.

A sister, Mrs. Lawrence Bykowski, resided in Detroit.

AN EARLIER claim to fame was earned by Ted and his brothers, during World War II.

Ted, a staff sergeant in the Air Force, was a tail gunner in the famed B-57 bomber "The Thunderbird".

He was heralded in Detroit in July, 1943, upon his successful completion of 50 missions over north Africa and Italy, including a hair-raising return to base in the plane with two engines out of commission.

The war-time song "Wing and A Prayer," was written about the Thunderbird's feat.

Casimer was a member of the crew of the famed "Memphis Belle" bomber, whose exploits in North Africa were the basis of a movie.

Walter died from burns received in a tank explosion while serving with the Army in World War II.

TED TOLD Mrs. Kehoe in a telephone conversation last week that the money would certainly come in handy with a daughter in college and a son who will soon be going to college.

He seemed dazed, Mrs. Kehoe said, as though he couldn't believe his good fortune — but then, he hasn't seen the money yet!

Mr. and Mrs. Nastal lived in Adrian until 1957, while he was employed at Gerity Manufacturing Co.

When Hoover Ball and Bearing bought out the Gerity plant and moved it to Williamston, Mr. Nastal went along and is still employed there.

The couple lives at 208 E. Middle St., in Williamston.

James Gerity remembers Ted as a former employee and said of the good news, "It couldn't happen to a nicer guy!"

Florence Bauer and Glenn Randall Exchange Vows

CLINTON — Mrs. Florence Bauer and Glenn Randall were married at her home Tuesday afternoon in a ceremony performed by the Rev. George Miller.

They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Tirb. Afterwards, the two couple dined at Roumell's.

Mrs. Bauer, 74, and Mr. Randall, 77, who resided within a block of each other on Jackson St., had a little more difficulty than they had planned on Friday when they went to the courthouse to get the license.

They didn't know about the blood test. So they visited an Adrian physician and while waiting for results, walked about the city shopping until 3 p.m.

Probate Judge Maurice Spear waived the three-day waiting period to save them a return trip.

Now, Glenn will move from his home at 208 to her home at 307 Jackson St.

MRS. JOSEPH JOLET (NEE SANDRA DOWLING) OF DETROIT DRIVES CART AT AUTOWONDERLAND

Ride Through Wilds

Whee, and around you go on the beautiful wooded trail at Autowonderland, located in the heart of the Irish Hills about 800 feet east of the towers on US-12.

Driving a car of your own choice, you go as fast or as slow as you like, but the faster you go the more thrill you get from the hairpin curves, up hill and down.

The roller coaster-like trail is clearly marked for those unfamiliar with the ride.

Deep into the woods, one may look for shy creatures along the winding road, over the bridge and through the tunnel. It's fun for all ages in the shaded dells and passing by the log cabin.

Peter Jolet and his partner, Lloyd N. McGrath, operate the Autowonderland with the help of members of their families.

Mr. Jolet, his wife, Rose, and their son, Joe, and his wife, the former Sandra Dowling, live in Detroit until the summer season beckons them to come to the lake

With the McGraths, Lloyd, Rachel and their youngsters, Kathy, Joe, Robert, Paul and Pat, the Detroiters spend the summer at the tourist attraction and at the Irish Hills Restaurant and Motel, which they also co-own.

The Autowonderland was first opened to the public last July with Bob Seitz of Tecumseh the first one outside of the families to take the ride.

Plans are in progress for many additions and improvements to be featured so that families may enjoy longer time in the Lost Valley perhaps picnicking in the area at tables provided for their convenience.

While the men keep the cars going at Autowonderland, the wives are kept busy up the hill at the restaurant where delicious meals are prepared for taking out or to be eaten at the restaurant with the new Alpine look.

Country style fried chicken is the specialty of the house but one may also get delicious frog leg, Swiss steak, T-bone or veal T-bone dinners and don't forget to try the Italian spaghetti with luscious sauce.

Cleanliness and comfortable beds are emphasized at the 16-unit motel with accommodations for either singles or doubles.

Beer and wine are served at the restaurant, but children are always welcome and usually enjoy their visit due to the friendly hospitality of the McGraths and the Jolets.

Rifles, Records, Boats ---All Available Now at Parkview Market

By DOROTHY GRIGG

Rifles, records and boats have been added to the stock at Parkview Market, located at the entrance to Walter J. Hayes State Park on US-12 in the Irish Hills.

Owner Ray Shepherd has obtained the dealership for Winchester rifles and shotguns and his son, Dan, is handling the record department.

Long-playing stereo platters are available in a variety of popular music.

Rifles may be obtained through a lay-away plan, as well as for cash.

Smoker-Craft aluminum and fiberglas boats with both inboard and outboard motors are shown on runabouts from 10 to 18 feet in length.

Aluminum canoes, fishing boats, prams and other utility boats are now available at the Market, known throughout the Hills to have a line of merchandise to fit every need.

Tourists, campers, fishermen and the natives stop at the general store for a few groceries, a fishing or camping license, as well as the daily and Sunday papers.

A Leonard Service Station adds its many products to the lineup of merchandise including picnicking supplies, meats, ice and toys.

Ray and Danny are assisted in waiting on customers by Mrs. Dale Smith, Elva Swift and Mrs. Gerald Lewis (nee Evelyn Beland) formerly of Tecumseh.

Along with hospitality and information, the group also provides post office service for summer patrons.

During three summer months, the store is open seven days a week until 9 p.m. and much of the time until midnight.

Phone Firm Adds to Toll Circuits

Customers using Lenawee county's toll telephone center may be encountering delays in calls during peak call periods.

A. T. Jones, Eastern Division Manager for General Telephone, reports the problem will be helped by new circuits to be added in the immediate future.

The delays encountered are a result of the continued high usage of toll facilities.

Mr. Jones stated that the Extended Area Service — toll-free —routes established on April 1, 1966, were receiving a heavier usage than expected. This has resulted in occasions when customers calls are delayed because all circuits and equipment are in use.

General Telephone is studying all of these routes and is making indicated additions and revisions to these facilities where equipment, material and manpower are available.

Mr. Jones stated that as a result of studies, General Telephone and Michigan Bell are placing additional toll circuits between Lenawee County and Detroit in service within the next few days. This will relieve some of the congestion as this is a prime route for toll calling to and from this entire area of the state.

According to present manufacturers delivery schedules, additional automatic ticketing equipment will be added to the area toll center later in the summer. This will also relieve delays in direct distance dial calling.

The Country Look Moves Outdoors with This GARDEN PLAY BARN

A LITTLE RED BARN for your back yard, where it can be a delightful playhouse for children or a handy storage building for garden tools and supplies, can be built by the amateur craftsman.

A door at each end adds to its usefulness. The double door in back (shown) is wide enough to admit a riding mower or garden tractor; in front is a charming Dutch door and another window.

Good appearance and durability are assured by use of hardboard panel siding, which is dent resistant and easy to paint. Interior is lined with heavy duty peg-board for hanging equipment.

Rough sawn cedar shakes cover this roof, although asphalt shingles may be used instead. The lower roof is hinged to give access to the loft, a storage area out of the reach of children.

Sturdily constructed, the barn will give years of service and, in its playhouse role, be a center of happy activity for your children or grandchildren.

FREE PLANS FOR BUILDING AND DECORATING THIS HANDSOME ADDITION TO YOUR YARD MAY BE OBTAINED BY SENDING A POSTCARD TO THE MASONITE HOME SERVICE BUREAU, BOX B, DEPT. HL, CHICAGO, ILLINOIS 60690. PLEASE REQUEST PLAN AE-109.

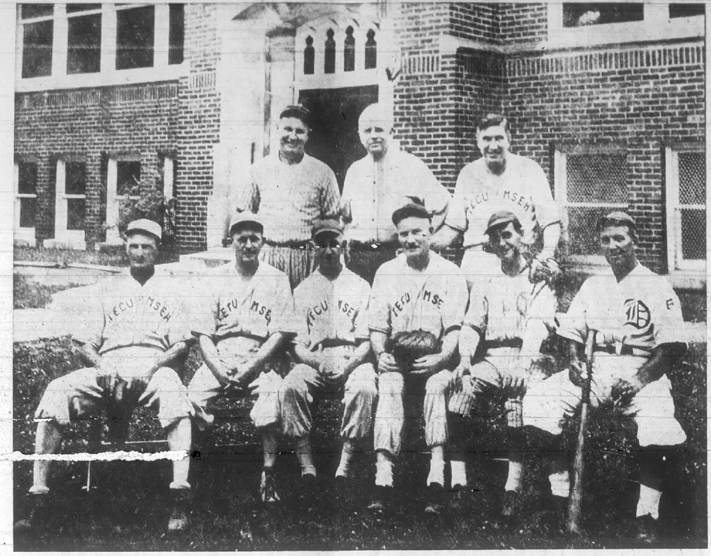
Southern Michigan has grown animals larger than elephants. Not in recent times, to be sure, but fossil remains of mammoths and mastadons tell us so.



WHO CAN IDENTIFY THESE OLD TIME TECUMSEH BALL PLAYERS AND TELL ABOUT THEM?

FARMERS, BEWARE!

Cereal Beetle Moves Closer

Cereal leaf beetle populations show an alarming increase in Michigan.

Small grain farmers in southwestern and south central counties should be prepared to treat their own properties to save crops in 1967, according to the Michigan Department of Agriculture Plant Industry Division.

OATS ARE heaviest hit. So far the possibility of economic loss in other grains is slight, but populations in these fields contribute to the insect's spread. Certain oat fields have already suffered heavy damage.

"Spraying or other control measures attempted this late in the season will be practically useless, since most beetles have completed the damaging larval feeding and moved into inaccessible locations under ground cover," said ag. officials.

The Michigan Department of Agriculture, in cooperation with the U. S. Department of Agriculture, has conducted a control program since the grain-destroying pest was first discovered in Berrien County in 1962.

About 850,000 acres were treated this spring. Treatment this year and in previous years has proved effective, but beetles have moved into new, untreated areas.

RESEARCH AT Michigan State University is exploring every avenue that holds promise in controlling the pest, and a parasitic wasp that kills only cereal leaf beetles looks hopeful, as well as certain beetle-resistant grain varieties. As yet, however, there is no full scale answer.

Spray controls are a holding a action, buying valuable time for more research.

Growers should make careful observations in grain fields now. If beetle infestations are discovered, plans may be made now for control measures early in 1967.

County agricultural agents will have information on signs to look for and control measures.

'LBJ Is Not Acting, But Reacting'

State Rep. Marvin L. Esch, candidate for the Republican nomination for Congress, praised Gov. George Romney and Gov. Mark Hatfield of Oregon for their refusal to endorse President Johnson's policy in Vietnam.

The two governors would not sign a blanket endorsement of the President's policies.

Rep. Esch said he believed the governors have done the correct thing for two reasons. "First, I do not believe the President currently has a clear-cut policy; and, second, I do not believe the President is exercising the leadership required to bring an end to the conflict.

"The President is not acting, he is reacting. He is not leading, he is following, and until he shows that he has formulated a policy for ending the conflict, I believe Gov. Romney, Gov. Hatfield and others should refrain from giving him blank check support."

Ivan 'Daughter' from Chili Returns to South America

By CHRISTINE FAIRBANKS

People of Britton in general and the Martin Ivan family in particular are going to miss the flashing smile and cheerful personality of Ana Carlota Gonzales who made a hit with everyone since her arrival here last February.

Ana, who refers to Mr. and Mrs. Ivan as "Mother" and "Dad," left Michigan by jet Tuesday for Miami and then home, in Rancagua, Chile.

The Ivans, with daughters, Dianne and Denise, operate a large farm just east of Britton.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan are also the parents of a daughter, Mrs. Jerry Benedict, and a son, Kenneth, who recently graduated from Michigan State University.

Ana was introduced to modern farm living and she stated when she arrived that she didn't want any special privileges, but wanted to be treated like the other girls.

So Ana took her turn at dishes, ironing, cleaning her room and even earned some spending money hoeing beans last month.

While Ana was here, the Ivans celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary and she attended the party. She also observed the Britton High School graduation and the open house held for daughter, Diane, following the ceremonies.

The Ivans gave a combination 16th birthday and farewell party for Ana and she spent some time with them at the lake cottage.

Ana stated that she has had to revise her ideas of Americans since she has been here and happily, her opinions are much more favorable than they were.

Americans work harder but shorter hours than the people at home, she believes.

Americans are friendly but Ana feels that people in Chile are more polite and more considerate of one another, even the young people, than they are here.

School is much easier here, stated Ana, who will be a senior when she returns to Chile. In fact, she will get back in the middle of the Chilean school term which runs from March to December.

Ana will graduate from a parochial school with about 500 girls in December.

Students take 15 subjects each year, including two foreign languages. Foreign languages are begun in the 7th grade or earlier in some schools.

Americans eat more snacks, Ana soon discovered, as no one snacks in Chile, although they do have four meals: breakfast of toast and coffee (no cereal, which she learned to like here) lunch, tea and dinner at 9 or 10 p.m.

"We have no hamburgers, no French fries, no A & W," she said rather sadly, probably at the thought of leaving these teenage delights!

Girls in Chile do not dress as informally as girls do here. Their clothes are not as colorful. Girls may occasionally appear on the streets in slacks, but never in shorts, reports Ana:

She wants to take back some patterns for sewing. Patterns are not available as they are here, one just cuts out a garment by "guess."

ANA CARLOTA GONZALES

Ana purchased a number of things to take back to Chile, including an umbrella, although it seldom rains in Rancagua. Shoes are better in Chile, she believes, being mostly hand-made.

It will come as no news to harassed American motorists that we have many more cars than Chileans. Families there seldom have more than one car and many families have none. The boys are not so impatient to drive a car as they are here.

In Chile, young people don't divide into cliques as much as here. Girls in Chile generally start dating about 15, but they generally have older boy friends of 19 or 20.

Ana, who is an only child of a widowed mother, says she is anxious to see her mother and friends but she is sure she will miss all her friends and new family in Britton and the Ivan's St. Bernard dog, Duke.

"I know I will miss Ana, as she has become like a daughter," said Mrs. Ivan.

Ana's parting statement was, "I had a really nice time here and everybody was so nice."

She invites her friends to write to her at this address:

Ana Carlota Gonzales Torres

Sunday Favorite Day

(Editor's note — This is the conclusion of a series of articles by Mike Fero, a former Tecumseh resident who is now in the Peace Corps. Gero is stationed in Varzea Algegre, South America. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Barnard Fero, are living in Cordoba, Argentina, in South America.)

By MIKE FERO

VARZEA ALGEGRE, Brazil— Sundays are my favorite day. I lounge in my hammock until 9 a.m., eat breakfast and patter around the rest of the morning.

Sometimes I go to 8 a.m. mass just to watch and listen to the sermon. This has always pleased the majority of people since they know I am not Catholic.

In the afternoon, if it isn't too sweltering in the sun, I usually like to walk out of town along the many paths for some peace and quiet.

Late afternoon is taken up with reading or listening to the baseball games. Often, when the mood strikes me, I will sit down and write, something I am not especially adept at, but which I like to do.

Infrequently, I may even take to composing poetry. More as a form of perfecting my knowledge of Portuguese than anything else.

Composing poetry in another language is a great way to add to the vocabulary.

When I am depressed I usually take to drawing or merely lounge in my hammock with the lights off, listening to folk music on my 25-year-old record player — a legacy from a departed Volunteer.

Sometimes I will attend the Saturday night dance held in the social club. This I do infrequently since it is strictly a segregated upper-class club, plus the fact that I don't really care much for dancing the Samba or Bolero.

Also, dancing with girls here is a dangerous thing. Two times in a row and everyone begins talking about a pending marriage.

Now I have this December to look forward to. I am hoping to travel by boat up the Amazon River to Manaus, where I hope to be able to go into the interior by canoe.

It will be like being inside a zoo with the animals outside. It will be my only opportunity to travel through the real Equatorial jungles, as the climate here is hot and dry and there is little vegetation.

With a year under my belt, I am looking forward to the final year of my services with mixed emotions. It will be hard to leave my life here and all the many friends I've made here.

How much I have helped them will probably never be determined in any solid measures.

How much effect they have on me will only be evident upon my return to the United States. I have no doubt that the wonderful memories and the wonderful qualities of the people will linger with me for the rest of my life.

I do know, even now, that they will have given me much more than I could ever give them.

Two years of their time, their interest, their friendship and their culture will count more than my two years of teaching, assistance and work with and for them.

I personally, and we as a nation, should count ourselves lucky to have a country like Brazil solidly in step with us in all respects.

Hustling Batman Drives on Friday

By JUDY BAXTER

An extra day of action — Trophy Night — was afforded Manchester Speedway fans over the Fourth of July weekend.

Don Earles of Hillsdale captured the first heat, with Larry Marowelli, also of Hillsdale, placing second.

Since Earles had not raced three times previously, Marowelli received the trophy.

The trophy for the second heat was won by John Porter of Jackson while Butch Moull of Jackson received his trophy for winning the third heat trophy. Dean Mackey of Adrian took home the fourth heat trophy.

Earles edged across the finish line just in the nick of time to win in the pursuit, but Chuck Winkle of Grass Lake got the trophy.

Danny Carr of Pitsford won the trophy for the Consi while John Bauer of Clinton took the semi trophy.

Ed Hage of Ypsilanti who was also the fastest qualifier of the night, won the feature and added two more trophies to his collection.

The super-stock heat was won by Al Leeke of Novi, who started his collection of trophies tonight. Lincoln Hall of Jackson won the feature, but Jerry Pannone of Jackson placed second and received the trophy.

TWO HILLSDALE drivers took the first heat and feature Friday.

Louie J. Stemen was first in the heat and Don Earles first in the feature.

Ed Hage of Ypsilanti, who was timed in the fasted, captured the pursuit.

Ted Mead of Adrian took the checkered flag in the second heat, while Paul Whitaker of Tecumseh had to do some mighty fancy driving to cross the finish line ahead of Uve Piplow of Adrian.

Bob Connin of Adrian won the semi, with Dan Finfrock of Manchester placing second.

Al Leeke of Novi captured the first heat in the super-stock class, with Bill Collins of Jackson coming in second.

Dick Kinch of Jackson won the second heat the hard way. Just line he hit the retainer wall and his car burst in flames.

Luckily, he was not injured.

Jerry Stanley of Jackson was the victor in the feature, with Al Leeke placing second.

Dr. Marsh Reports on Happy Retired Life in Colorado

OUR READERS WRITE

TO THE EDITORS:

It has been over a year since we moved to Boulder. We are now voting citizens of Boulder and Colorado. It does not seem like more than a year that we have been here, time really goes fast!

We always look forward to receiving The Herald, which usually arrives on Sat., and read it from front page to back, including advertising! It is always a long weekend, when we don't receive the paper on Saturday. I believe it is time that we renewed our subscription for The Herald. Will you please send us a notice?

We have seen the Chuck Butlers, Robert Moores and "Spec" Simmons and Mrs., along with their granddaughter, Kathy Karle. Chuck asked me if I knew what the best day of the week was after retirement. I told him they were all about alike. He said, "No, it is Tomorrow." He said if you want to play golf today and your wife wants the lawn mowed, he thinks "tomorrow" is a better day to do the mowing. I think he has the right idea!

We like it very much here. The city is full of friendly people. Our apartment building is full, in fact we have had only one vacant month and we used that time to have new carpet installed.

Three of our tenants work at the new I.B.M. factory. That company is the big push here at present.

We had a mild winter with not enough snow to fill the reservoirs. The water supply here depends on two sources. One is a glacier which melts through the summer and drains into a lake. The other source is the "run off" of melted snow in the mountains.

From a parking lot at a shopping center, we can see snow on the high mountains almost the year around.

This summer has been dry and warmer than usual. The other day the temperature was over 90 degrees but the humidity was less than 30%. Therefore we do not mind the high temperatures. Almost without fail, we get a cool breeze or wind from the mountains at night.

Mrs. Marsh and I have been in good health and also our faithful dog, Duke, who was 13 years old last May first.

I do quite a lot of walking, and have lost 30 pounds since last fall. Duke and I walk about 4 to 6 miles a week.

It took nearly 6 months for us to adjust to the altitude. Boulder is 5,354 ft. in altitude and Denver is 5,280 ft.

There are a great many mountain roads available from Boulder and we can have beautiful scenery to look at within a few minutes' drive from the City. Marda Gene Duncan has told you about that in her weekly column.

By the way, we have a new granddaughter, born 4th of June at St. Joseph Hospital in Denver. Her name is Bente (Bent'a) and she weighed 7 lbs., 3 oz. Robert and Nancy think that the name is Norwegian. Robert and his family still live in Aspen. Their son, David, will be 6 years old in September and Kamala is three years old.

Robert was chosen, along with others, to spend the summer, preparing a new curriculum for the Aspen school system. We feel that it was quite an honor to be chosen. He, as you may know, is the science teacher for the Aspen schools.

Well, I did not start out to write a book and, of course, my main object was to find out about keeping The Herald coming this way. We think you are putting out a fine paper!

Best regards to your Staff!

Sincerely,
R. G. B. Marsh, M.D.,
1938 Spruce St.
Boulder, Colo.

'I Feel Like Professor'

TO THE EDITORS:

After this weekend I feel like that Professor What's his name who taught the Cockney girl how to speak English. He went around hollering 'She's got it! By George, she's got it!"

I think I've got it too — a simple solution to some problems we've got around here.

Why don't we apply to the government for a POVERTY LOAN?? From the looks of some of the property the kids use for recreation around here, we could use it.

Probably the letter to Washington could be started out like so; "I am a poverty stricken official who only makes $8,000—$15,000 a year. I am writing for my poor, poverty stricken city for a "loan" so that our kids could have some recreation area."

On second thought, maybe we won't have to do this after all. If the rumors I hear are true, we won't have to worry about play areas.

If Ottawa St., is made into a one-way street, our kids will get plenty of exercise dodging cars.

I sure would like to know what some people in this town eat before going to bed. I can't believe anybody could think up such things while awake. Boy, we've had some beauts before, but this one-way street deal between the junior high and the library is a real nightmare!

I understand that a man in this town, one who has helped us financially a tremendous bit, gets very disgusted at times with the way things go around here.

Look around yourselves and I believe you can't really blame him for feeling that way.

He gives to help us help ourselves. He gives to beautify the city and it stops there.

The ones who should be doing something to add to it sit around and moan about the upkeep.

What gives around here?? We aren't broke! Everybody who wants to is working and making good wages. Unemployment is only a word to most of us; it isn't a hard life.

There's money in our city's treasury and recreation department. Let's use it now for our kids and for the future of their kids.

Maybe through my letter some people will get off their soft chairs and out of the air-conditioned offices and look around.

If you think I'm wrong, take some of our young people who have been off to school and are back for summer vacation. I've talked to some and they tell me that Tecumseh is "bush league." Nice place to work but sure wouldn't want to raise my kids there.

VOICE of THE HERALD

Grid Lights and Seats

Wouldn't it be wonderful if the new football lights and addition to permanent seating facilities at Recreation Field could be installed in time for this season's opener?

The lighting project got a big shot of hope last week when the board of education agreed to contribute $5,000 towards the $20,000 needed.

Members of the Jaycees and Community Fund Foundation, along with other interested folks, have been plugging along on replacing the 25-year-old, dim grid illumination system.

Things have gotten so bad at the field in recent years that Consumers Power Co. officials have forbid their linemen from climbing the ancient wooden poles. School maintenance men — to whom the chore has fallen — take their lives in their hands when they go up to make adjustments.

And if you wonder what we mean, drive by the field this week and take a look at one reflector, which has somehow jiggled around to a crazy angle. Could it be that bolts holding the unit finally have rusted completely through?

In the seat department, there long has been a need for more grandstand area. Exchange Club members have been working on this one for some years, building a fund with money earned on their annual Dawn Patrol.

This year's event, held last Sunday, was another success and it just may be that the club can get the seat order going this summer.

We hope so.

They Help One Another

A wag once described cooperation as a Jewish group holding a benefit program in Masonic Temple for Catholic relief.

Well, here's another example, close at hand, too.

It's the method folks in the Irish Hills operate attractions and theme parks. They've got a good thing going and they are fast to realize working as a team is the secret of continued success.

Hundreds of thousands of dollars have been invested by these people. It's pretty amazing how fast a theme park can go through $25,000 in making a few additions.

Even more astonishing is the way attractions consider themselves as a group — not one a series of units fighting to get customers and let the others go hang.

A struggling new entry, the Tent Show at Stagecoach Stop, is finding this out. With old-time dramas, singing and vaudeville acts being offered weekend nights, the Tent Show definitely has the makings of a winner. But it takes time and promotion for people to realize it's there and worth visiting.

That's where fellow attractions are helping. Like the barker at Mystery Hill, where there was a big crowd last weekend. He kept encouraging his customers, after they'd been "amazed" at his attraction, to take in the evening performance of the tent show.

As a result of just this one assist, many people decided to round out their day of fun with a couple hours of old fashioned, family theatre.

Other Irish Hillers have also given help and suggestion to the fledgling.

Cooperation like this is what makes everybody's cash register jingle.

'Up With People'

A lot of attention has been focused on Pat Boone's latest television effort, "Up With People."

It's well worth the viewing.

Entertainment for the entire family, the voices of some fine young Americans are featured.

Mr. Boone mentioned that these youths represent Moral Re-Armament and that's a story in itself, sometimes quite controversial.

First of all, did you realize that MRA is headquartered on Mackinac Island, in a campus-type setting? The movement was started about World War II with its goal being to bring understanding and love into the world.

MRA leaders said that as a starter, each individual must be able to get along with other members of his family. Then, with his next-door neighbor. Finally the people across town, the nation, the world.

Critics of MRA laughed and said the ideals were high, but unattainable. Twenty-five years later, the group still labors. "Up With People" gives you a quick peek at the kind of young people who believe in the movement.

Some churches have turned their official backs on MRA, saying it's really trying to be a religion. MRA says "No," members of all faiths can belong and they're stronger in the practice of their individual religions because of it.

Many prominent people have accepted and practice the philosophy of MRA. An English newpaperman, Peter Howard, was assigned in the 40s to do a probing feature story on MRA. He was going to cut it up into fine pieces, but after making a thorough investigation, he joined. Peter Howard now heads MRA's world-wide operations.

MRA places great emphasis on live entertainment in selling the ideal of pure love. "Up With People" on TV is an excellent example. Another is the long-play record of songs from the show.

Dozens of other productions have been created by MRA members, then offered on stages all around the world. The current television exposure should do an enormous amount of good for MRA — and the people who view it.

Senator Bursley's LANSING REPORT

As a member of the Senate Appropriations Committee, I helped in the preparation and passage of the $80,000,000 Capital Outlay bill which includes many projects of great importance to the Washtenaw-Lenawee area.

Let me describe some of these projects and the dollars involved.

To assist in obtaining the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission national accelerator laboratory in Northfield Township, $50,000 has been appropriated for use as necessary for site development studies and land options.

I might add that the Legislature by resolution has already committed itself to go as far as $10,000,000 for site acquisition and development if the AEC decision is favorable to this area.

After all we are talking about a $300,000,000 facility and a payroll of 2,000 scientists an dtechnicians.

For "remodeling and additions" Eastern Michigan University is to get $415,000 for its old library building and $500,000 towards beginning construction on the expansion of the central heating plant (total ultimate cost limited to $1,250,000).

ALSO IN THE "remodeling and additions" category the University of Michigan will receive $100,000 to continue remodeling the East medical building (total cost not to exceed $600,00of state money); $500,000 for construction on a $3,500,000 heating plant; $1,075,000 to continue airconditioning of the surgical wing of University hospital (total cost limited to $2,300,000); and $250,000 for elevator-additions and renovation — also at the University hospital.

For "special maintenance projects $49,000 goes to the Ypsilanti State Hospital; $35,000 goes to the Boys Training School at Whitmore Lake and $17,000 to the Girls Training School at Adrian.

For "new construction" Eastern Michigan University will receive $155,000 to complete its library building (the states total share not to exceed $1,930,000); $354,000 to complete construction on the steam and electrical distribution system (the states total share not to exceed $754,000); and $1,200,000 to continue construction on a new instructional facility (the states total share not to exceed $4,750,000).

THE UNIVERSITY of Michigan will receive $2,000,000 to continue construction of its Medical science building, unit II, (the state share ultimately not cost more than $9,400,000); and $1,500,000 to continue construction of the new dental building (the states share not to exceed $11,265,000).

The Ypsilanti State Hospital will receive $500,000 for heating plant rehabilitation. It will also receive $15,000 to start a recreation and activities center at the new children's unit at York Woods Center. More funds will be authorized here next year. Another $200,000 will be divided between the Ypsilanti and Pontiac state hospitals for conversion of childrens facilities.

The Girls Training School at Adrian will receive $300,000 to start construction on a new $1,500,000 school and services facility.

The Parks Division of the Conservation Department will receive for land acquisition $100,000 for the Waterloo recreation area; $100,000 for the Island Lake recreation area; and $200,000 for the Pinckney; $116,000 to Brighton and $100,000 to Cambridge in Lenawee County.

For purchase of Saline fish research facilities the Conservation Department is given $38,000,

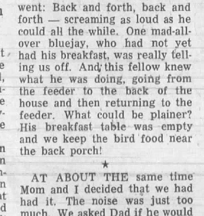
Through My Window



WHO NEEDS ENEMIES?

Sundays are very special to the Duncans. All week it is rush, rush, rush, but on Sunday we try to slip into a slower gear. With the folks both working, it is the one day we can sleep in a bit—no clangs of the alarm clocks!

We try to make breakfast a leisurely affair—Mom, Dad Gram and I agree that the ideal breakfast is made just that much more enjoyable when there is good bird activity to watch.

We try to insure good Sunday morning bird watching by "setting the banquet boards" late Saturday afternoon. In the winter, when the days are short, this works out fine. As the days lengthen, however, there is a slight problem.

An early rising sun means early-rising birds — if their breakfast is out, they gobble it down and we have slept through all the fun On the other hand, though, if we wait and fill the feeders after we are up, there is often the wrath of hungry birds with which to contend. Hungry birds are noisy birds!

SEVERAL WEEKS ago we tried a middle course. There was a little food left on the feeders at the end of a not-very-busy Saturday. Perhaps the birds would be satisfied with just a light breakfast and then settle for an early lunch. Well, we thought it a good idea but the birds disagreed.

Dad had planned on putting some scratch feed and sunflower heads out before we ate. But this was the morning we were trying a new coffee-cake and, what with one thing and another, the breakfast trays were brought into my room and everyone was settled down before we noticed the empty feeders.

Actually, the no-food situation was brought to our attention rather rudely. A bluejay screamed it at us. He swooped down to the feeding station, found that earlier free-loaders had cleaned it and oh, my, but he was mad! At the top of his lungs he screamed his displeasure. What a racket—shrill, loud, piercing!

Feet wide apart, he defiantly planted himself in the middle of the feeder, stood as straight as possible and hollered. We could not help laughing. Bluejays can put on such a marvelous show of temper and this character worked himself up into a regular tizzy. He was furious and he wanted the whole world to know how badly the Duncans were treating him.

When the squawking on the feeder produced no results, he launched the second phase of the protest. Dashing around the porch to the back of the house, he perched on the railing of the ramp. If possible, the screaming seemed louder than ever.

In a few minutes he was back at the feeder and this is how it went: Back and forth, back and forth — screaming as loud as he could all the while. One mad-all-over bluejay, who had not yet had his breakfast, was really telling us off. And this fellow knew what he was doing, going from the feeder to the back of the house and then returning to the feeder. What could be plainer? His breakfast table was empty and we keep the bird food near the back porch!

AT ABOUT THE same time Mom and I decided that we had had it. The noise was just too much. We asked Dad if he would please take some food out. Who wants a starving bluejay on his conscience? Also, who can stand the noise?

It worked; No sooner was the scratch feed dumped on the tray when in came Mr. Jay. He almost collided with Dad. It was fun watching him gobble, gulp and bolt the food. And, the peace and quiet was blessed.

So it is that although he didn't complain, I wonder if, as he ate his cold coffee-cake and drank his lukewarm coffee, Dad's thoughts weren't something like, "With friends like this — who needs enemies?"

He Wept When Soldier Screamed

Dear Mr. President:

I wept when I saw a young American soldier screaming with pain from battle wounds in Vietnam. The whole, rotten mess in that forlorn, backward nation is not worth the life of one of our boys.

But, forlorn and backward though it be, Vietnam is, nevertheless, a sovereign nation and as such, it must settle its own affairs. We cannot justify our intervention. It is a violation of International Law and common sense.

The doctrine of "containment of Communism" is quixotic and foolhardy. It will bankrupt us of blood and treasure. We have become global busybodies trying to remake others in our image, while our society sickens at home.

I seem to recall a wise American admonishing: "No foreign entanglements." Truly, he and others of our founding fathers were political giants, even though they had no color-TV nor roll-on deodorants. We would do well to heed their dearly bought wisdom of human nature. Common sense will never go out of style.

You will probably never see this letter, it has only the merit of its thought to recommend it. But, I am writing it and having a copy published in my local newspaper in the hope that it will help with others to wake up an apathetic citizenry to exercise its democratic prerogative and issue a clear mandate to its public servants to "get out of Vietnam."
